The Hon. Rulus Choate has a world-wide reputation for an eloquence of persuasive power, almost irresistible to juries. His command, of language, is so great that one of the judges of the Supreme Qoart of Mas-sachuretts femarked, when it was said that Worcester had published a new dictionary with ten thousan nore words in it, " For heaven's sake, don't let Choat get hold of it." But of all the feats of eloquence which he has accomplished, perhaps one achieved last week scels. He has been counsel before the Superior Court A Massachus the second and the secon in Europe, and went to Suyras. The learned counsel actually succeeded in persuiding the court and the jdry that Suyras was to be considered as a Euro-pean part, and obtained a verdicit for his client for $1.321.91. but the air was so foul that the light instantly went out. A large number of men worked all yestorday afternoon to recover the bod.es of the boys. They were raised several times to within eight or ten foot of the top, but the opening was so extremely small that they could not be pulled out, and fell violently back to the bottom. It was proposed to dig the well out to-day. "The hogs were agod seventeen and fourteen years respectively, and are described as smart and worthy boys. By special private despatch from Norwalk we learn that the bodies were recovered at twelve o'clock last night. Physicians state that the bys must have died from the four air in the well ra ther than from their fall Mr. McKieley is nearly insane with grief. The Contess street School. EDITOR OF THE PRESS: Will you, as an act of justice, correct the mis-statements of your report-er in this morning's paper, in regard to the ex-clioment in Contess-street school yesterday? A few minutes after 10 A M, the school on the jow-er floor was alarmed by hearing a rash of the girls from the school on the third floor down the front stateness of the building, and, almost simul-taneously, the boys from second floor came in con-fusion down the back statis, giving the alarm that the floor were failing in. In the midst of such sonfusion, it was impossible for the tenchers on first floor to keep their oblider seated. Before the doors could be cleased, almost the whole vehool was in the yard. On inquiry, it appeared that the sash over the door of one of the cleas rooms on the third floor in a failer in, and, that division taking fright, had given the alarm and caused the panic. The statement that one tonoher fainted, suid another jumped from the window, is a ridicu-to this distinctly understood. Before half past ton we had collected all our pupils who had remained in the neighborhood, and were quietly proceeding with sobool duties. On beahalf of the teachers on first floor. S. E.
