ALCOHOL: STATE OF THE STATE OF warmly recommends that country as a promising field for missionary enterprises. He says: "Perhaps one half of the present population of the Ter-ritory now live like Atheists, whilst the remainder boat of a religion more hideous than the idola-trous beliefs of barbarous nations, and yet no effort is made to effect a change. Whilst thousands of dollars are spent annually in sending missions. ris to peoples of different races, tongues and na-tions, whilst here, in the midst of our own land, is a large population of our own countrymen en-tirely out off from the opportunities of enjoying any of the privileges of the Christian religion, for the want of teachers and guides. Here are 10,000 children growing up without a single Sunday school, and yet, our earnest entreaties to the Ohristian public have been made in vain in their behalf. No missionary, no minister of the Gospe haif. No missionary, no minister of the Copy can be found bold enough, self-sacrificing eneugh to take his Bible in his hand and come to this people and expound its truthful and simple doc-trines. No field for missionary labors over presented such an inviting aspect as this one, for the people now will listen—and yet the Mormon leads are allowed to boast that the 'priests' of and do not dare to combat against its doctrines.

CITY ITEMS.

LECTURES THIS EVENING -By an advertise nt elsewhere, it will be seen that the Hou. Anson rlingame; of Massachusetts, will deliver a lecture ore the Literary Congress of this city, at Musica and Hall this evening. Besides being an accomplished Fund Hall this evening. Besides being an accomplished speaker, Mr. Burlingame has the merit of being comparatively a new man to a Philadelphia audience. His subject—which is certainly more euphonious than explicit in its terms—will be "Now and Then". This evening, sico, the Rev. A A. Willits delivers hi celebrated lockure on "Mental Dyspepsia." This lec-ture is a id to be one of the most it gloal and instructive of that popular lecture-board orator) productions. He will doubtless be greated with a crowded audience. This evening also, at 8 o'clock, Professor Coppee will lecture at the University of Pennsylvania on Eng-lish Proce Fiction: DR. BOYNTON'S SCIENTIFIC LECTURES .- Dr

Boynton commences his course of scientific lectures to morrow evening, at Concert Hall. The same course will be given at Handel and Haydu Hall, commence go next Monday evening. From the enthusiasm which has attended these lectures in other cities, a rare treat may be expected. A fine display of paintings will ac

ANNIVERSARY -The first anniversary of the Young Men's Christian, Association of West Philadel-phia a to be held this evening, in the Baptist church, West Philadelphia. This is a young but thourishing bud, and we have no doubt, from the speakers engaged. (Meszes, Leyburn, Jeffrey, and Cookman,) that CREAMER'S CAR-BRAKE OPERATOR .- We have JUST EXAMINED A model of this rainable improvement to the safety of railroad cars, and it does seem as though symmon sense and ordinary prudence should prompt the nutrareal application. The plan is to alin over the present brake-shaft a drum, in which is colled a strong spiral sp ing o' edual power to the brakeman; each of these spring a is connected to the signal cord of the train by a short branch line The signal cord is familiar to every reader, and passes through each car to the engine, By means of this improvement, the engines roan, from his port, in an instant of time, have every brake aplied before the brakeman can turn himself around We do not see why the same idea is not applicable to our city cars, the numerous crossings and the frequent necess ty for quick stoppages demanding the use of the best possible sppliances. The momentum of a train of cars is a powerful element to destruction in case of danger, and railroad officers should not hesitate to make themselves as secure as possible. This improvement is extensively used elsewhere, and we shall be gratified to chronicle its adoption by some of the well-managed roads centring in Philadelphia.

REV. A. A. WILLITS will lecture on it Mental Dyspepela," at Concert Hall, to-night. Friends of church extension should attend. Admission 25 cents. SLEIGHING-From present indications, ere long or ears will jingle to the music of the merry sleigi ells. The flecoy clouds, as they hang apparently pend ant in the etherial rault above, seem pregonoù with the flaky material so essential to a good sleighing frolio. We advise our friends who hope to participate in the fun. to take time by the forelock, and pay a early visit to the fashionable Clothing Emporium of Granvide Stokes, No. 607 Chestnut street, and lay in a stock of apparel suitable for the season.

Housekeepens, and those preparing to com mence housekeeping, will find it to their advantage to sall and examine the extensive stock of Riusekeeping and examine the new store, S. W. corner of Second and Dock streets, near the Exchange.

A NEW STYLE OF DRESS HAT, recently appearing on the Boulevards and other fashionable pr of Paris, has attracted much attention, as well by its ter, as by its being diametricelly opposite in shape to the wide-spreading, bell-grown Hat of the Autumn. Several American gen-tlemen, of acknowledged taste in matters of dress, re-cently returned from Paris, having brought over this new style, are in cansequence, centres of attraction in

NOT WAR 'MAR THE HOOK FOR HEAR ARE MICASURES, BOT WAR 'MAR the candidate said when he entered the tailor shop. We look for both men and measures when we ent r the fashionable portain of the "Old Franklin Hall Clothing Emporium" of E. H. Eldridge, No. 821 Chesiani street. THE MORPHY TESTINONIAL. -The subscribers to the fund for getting up a testimonial to the great chess champion. Morphy, are much exercised to decide what shape the testimunial shall assume! Some talk about a mother-of-peari chess-board, inlaid with emeralds and rubi-s, and with these men made of diamonds, sapphires, and gold flagres work. Others egain go for something that will be at once elegant and practically useful, and with this object in view they suggest a first-class suit from the Brown Stone Clothing Hall of Rockhill & Wi-son, Nos 603 and 805 Chestant street, above Sixth.
