Sensible Counsel. The South Carolinian, published at Columbia. South Carolina, and the official paper of the Legislature, in a recent article reviewing the elections in the Northern States, thus admonishes the South of the results to be naturally expected in all cases of a wilful departure from correct principles. It says: Forgetful of every rule laid down in the case California, with unanimity before unprecedent-"Forgelful of every rule laid down in the case of California, with unanimity before unpresedented in Southern action; we all railied to the support of the Lecompton Censtitution; and for the mere expediency of the moment, violently and persistently urged its acceptance, notwithstanding the absence of an enabling art, the deficiency of population, and the known multiplicity of the election frauds. What more could we expect than that our enemies at the North should make use of this glaring inconsistency, and should turn it against us with telling effect in their popular elections? I hey had told the people of the North that the South, in opposing the admission of California, was not actuated by principle; but by expediency; and these assertions we verified by voting for the Lecompton Constitution. The Administration wavered in its advocany of the Lecompton Constitution, and many Northern Democrats advised the South that it had nothing to gaio, that the proslavery feature was a mere dead letter, not worth, practically, the parchiment upon which it was written. But no, the warm blood of the South was up. This advice was mocked, and leading papers in the State and South denounced Mr. Buchanan as 's traitor."

"Madly we rushed on under the impulse of this ultra sentiment, which, for the time, seemed change as a traitor."
"Madly we rushed on under the impulse of this ultra sentiment, which, for the time, seemed to have inflamed the whole South, until finally we neve innamed, the whole south, until many we found ourselves arrayed against the vast majority of the people of Kansas, a majority of Congress a majority of States, and a vast majority of popular vote; and (what was of infinitely more consequence, and which led to the preceding majorities) we found ourselves butting with vice the controlled of the procedules. majorities) we found ourselves butting with violent collision against our own principles. In looking at the recent elections, we must not overlook these considerations; for the recent reverses are but retributions, which have befallen us in consequence of our abandonment of principles—and the only surprise is, that they have not been greater. To this cause we are disposed to attribute the increased vote of the Republican party." WM. B. THOMAS,

DR. BOYNTON'S LECTURES.—The second of the course of illustrated lectures on Geology, by Dr. Boynton, was delivered at Concert Hall, by that eminent scholar, last evening. There has not been a more deeply-interesting series of lectures delivered in this ity for many years. His second lecture, though not as largely attended, in consequence of the extreme incle mency of the weather, as its merits deserved, attracted a good audience, and we know that the most flattering a good acqueace, and we know that the most natural accomments we could offer upon it would be fully justified by the intelligence and judgment of all who were fortunate enough to hear it. This lecture may be said to have been the initial of his subject proper, and, as such, was ominous of a scientific treat, which those of our readers, who can conveniently do so, should not fail

When we have more space, at some future time, w shall refer to these lectures at greater length. REVIVAL OF BUSINESS .- We have had nothing of late to remind us more practically of the reviving ac-livity of trade than the immense number of customers who now daily throng the popular confections establishment of Messrs. D. G. Whitman & Co., Secon street, below Chestnut. In this class of delicacies fo the palate we can state, upon experience, that this house is unrivalled. Their new holiday candles are now being ordered from every section of the Union. "I'll never weave for thee a song, Several gentlemen suggested that wool, lead, and sugar, should be incl The Speaker declared the whole subject out of order, reminding the members, in a few general terms, of the importance of taking our advice, and buying their cloth-ing only at E. A Queen Fashion .- In the East, men occasion ally make fools of themselves by vowing to wear no clothes for a given period. When cold weather comes around, these fanatics rub themselves down with red pepper, and thus attempt a compromise between their yows and their inclinations. In this country the height of fanatical folly is for gentlemen to fancy that they can get along comfortably and respectably without obtheir garments at the Brown Stone Clothin Hall of Brokhill & Wilson, Nos, 603 and 605 Chesta street, above Sixth.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL. PRILADELPHIA, Dec. 7, 1858.

Stocks improved under the effect of the President's message, and considering the had weather, quite a lively business was transacted at the stock board. The money market is not changed, nor likely to be. The last quarterly statement of the New York banks shows the amount of loans to brokers to be $4,015,142. The New Yord Tribuse discredits the truth of the re-port, saying: "The comparatively small amount under the head of." Loans to Brokers, shows that bank manathe head of Loans to Brokers, nows that capt mana-gers have a wide latitude in defining the significance of the term. The amount actually loaned to Brokers," as that name was understood by the legislature which passed the Bank-law is probably nearer twenty than ur millions."
The New York Times comes to the defer

banks, publishes the items that make up the total as reported by the banks, and calls on the Tribune to point out the particular banks in the list that give a wide latitude to the construction of the law. The question now is does the Tribine know more than it has yet chosen to tell?

We. propose an additional $500 for every safe of our make which has had its contents burned up in acciden-tal fires; and will give $500 to any other Safe-markers ose an additional $500 for every safe of our in this city who will make us the same offer. The subscribers do not warrant any of their ordinary counting-room Safes to be proof against ALL the attacks f Burglars under any circumstances, and never hav done so; but for money purposes, or where more than ordinary security is required, we have always recom-mended our commissin Burglar and Fire-Proof Bafe as protection against experienced and scientific thieves. We will guarantee to give better security against fire nd rogues, for the money, than any other manufac The Safeadvertised by a disappointed and envious op-position as having been blown up, at Norristown, was not one of our make, nor was it even a "Herring's Patent Champion Safe." The safe was one of "Wilder's Patent," made many years ago, and sold by Mr. Farrel when acting agent for a New York house. Yet, we do not hesitate to say, that there is no Fire-Pro Safe made in this market, (and sold ordinarily as such) which, with the tools left behind them by the rogues at Norristown, and the BAME OPPORTURITY, we will no agree to open in less less than one hour's time.

WAS BLOWN OPEN WITH POWDER, and $1,600 in cash taken out and carried away. This sa'e is now in front of Evans & Watson's store, No 26 South Fourth street, where we most respectfully invite the public to call, and examine how those New Yorkers make their safes. They screw their doors together with the smallest kind of cest fron screws, and from the sppearance of this safe, it could not have taken more than one musket load of powder to blow the above safe open. October 18th, 1858—Three thieves entered the Flouring Mill of Messrs. Dorrance & Doron, in Bris'ol, Pa., and tried all night to blow open their Safe with powder, which had $250 in cash, but did not succeed in getting it open. Their Salamander Safe was manufac-

Here art, triumphant, our attention claims;
Here life seems speaking from a hundred frames:
Men, women, children, throng the pictured walls, Reah form, each face, its living type recalls;
Features, complexion, attitude, attire,
Beauty's soft smile and manhood's glance of fire,
Truly reflected at a rapid rate,
To astonish life with its own duplicate.
Think not these photographs by aunlight made,
Shades though they are, will like a shadow fade;
No! when tee lips of flesh in dust shall lie,
And denth's gray flim o'erspread the beaming eye,
Then REIMER'S pictures, mocking at decay,
Will still be fresh and vivid as to-day.

JOHN MOFARLAN, the sole agent for Philadelphia, respectfully announces the publication of the 4th volume of this important work

This popular Dictionary of Universal Knowledge will be the first really American Cyclopedia that hag ever been published. From the American stand peliat it will contain a complete statement of all that is known now upon every important topic in NATURE, SOIENOR, ART, PHILAGENEY. AND HISTORY; give due prominence—aever yet done in any fireiga Cyclopedia—to American facts, institutions, inventions, industries, statistica, and, above all, to American blographies—of the living as well as of the dead

The Editors have the assistance of almost all the learned and the practical men of America, (and many out of it,) and of the best modern Encyclopedias and oters tandard works of reference in every European language. learned and the practical men of America, (and many out of it,) and of the bast modern Encyclopedias and oter standard works of reference in every European language.

Tro publishers have gone thoroughly into this great work; have largely embarked their means in its preparation; have piedged their reputation for its completion; have promptly brought out the first four volumes this year, as promised; and have been gratified with a subscription list of ten thousand names, and offers to translate the work into various European languages.

The latest Cyclopadia published in this country, thirty vears ago, was merely a translation of Brockhau's German Conversations Lexicon, slightly adapted to American wants Since that time we have doubled both our population and our area; peoplet the gold regions, discovered a new continent, gone through a war, buried our third generation of great statesmen, in Calhonn, Clay, Webster, and Benton; tult towns like Chicago, all our railways, our ocean steamers, our iron houses; invented the putotgraph, the electric telegraph, the lightning press, and the steam fire engine; introduced cheap postage, steel pens, gummed envelopes, friction matches, gutta-percha, loe, omnibuses, sesting machines, chloroorm, &c. These matters are sil dealt with in this work. Fuller in every department and for every period than its predecessor, it has a neit addition to it of the events of this period.

Many thousands of dollars would be required to buy book on all the subjects that are treated of in this work, no ordinary library would hold them, and no ordinary learned to consult them. The possessor of this Manual of Universal Reference has at once a complete portable library, alphabetically arranged, for a moderate price.

For are so poor that they do not speud twenty-five cents a week in papers and magazines, which they may not care even to bind at the end of the year; this same sum, put aside weekly for the time this work is appearing, will buy the whole of it.

Many are frightened from subscribing to s ASHER TAYLOR, Vice President. Insures on Buildings and Personal Property of every escription against Loss or Damage by Fire, on the most HENRY P. FREEMAN. Secretary INSURANCE IN THE ABOVE COMPANY CAN BE EFFECTED THROUGH
