The News. In the United States Senate yesterday, the Pacific Railroad bill was under consideration. A gratifying indication of the feeling of that body in regard to the iron interest was afforded, by the adoption of an amendment providing that American iron only should be used in its construction by a vote of 25 to 23. The House concurred in the proposition of the Senate to adjourn over from the 23d of December to the 4th of January.

The Vanderbilt steamship Ariel arrived a Halifax yesterday in twenty days from South-ampton. Her news has been anticipated. During a heavy gale on the 6th inst, her commander Captain Ludlow, was instantly killed by a heavy sea striking the ship. Her second officer and two of the seamen were severely injured by the same

The Senate of South Carolina has passed a bill trith as they are monstrous in speculative making an appropriation for the erection of the ment to the Signers of the Declaraproposed monument to the Signers or the Decisian-tion of Independence, in Independence Square. It will probably pass the House also. The other original twelve States have already made the necessary appropriations for this purpose. The total cost of the monument will be $125,000, and the allotment of the expense is as fellows: New Hampshire, $3,000; Massachusetts, $11,000; Rhode Island, $2,000; Connecticut, $4,000; New York, $33,000; New Jersey, $5,000; Pennsylvania $25.000: Delaware, $1,000; Maryland, $6,000; Vir-$8,000 ; South Carolina, $6,000.

Hon. John Slidell has written a letter denying that he ever had stated that Senator Douglas's slaves are hadly treated. He says:

"I have no recollection of ever having spoken of Mr. Douglas's slaves; it is possible that I may have been asked if he had any property of that description. It so, I could only have answered that they were employed in cotton-planting on the Mississippi-river, and were in possession of an old and 'valued friend, James A McHatton, than whom a more honorable man or a better master cannot be found in Louisiana." that he ever had stated that Senator Douglas's

"Under laws of great wisdom and forecast; all manufacturing countries, except the United States, now admit the raw material used in their productions free of duty, thereby giving constant and profitable employment to capital and labor, and enabling their factories to furnish a cheaper article, and better command both the home and foreign market, with beneficial employment to their tonnage, in making the exchanges.

"The United States, under the Foderal Constitution, enjoy perfect freedom of trade with each other, in all their agricultural, manufactured, mineral, and other productions. As to the raw material produced in the United States, and used in the factories of other countries, those countries, under their laws obtain the raw material freedom; thus failing to allow the same constant and profitable employment of our capital and labor; and the same beneficial cocupation of the home and foreign market with cheap articles, of our own manufacture, and the same beneficial employment of our capital and labor; and thosing beneficial cocupation of the home and foreign market with cheap articles, of our own manufacture, and the same beneficial employment of our capital and labor; and thosing beneficial making the avent of our toppage in making the e GUTHRIE'S REPORT OF 1855-6, p. 26.

A single example illustrates the case: Great Britain admits wool, a raw material; free of duty; and the United States impose upon it a duty of 30. per cent. This onables the English manufacturer to interfere with the American marketer, and to exclude him from the foreign market. It does more; it surrenders the markets of our plantions, producing the raw material, to the ecuntries who take it free of duty. Our manufacturing and commercial States enjoy the markets of our planting and provision States, because there exists no impeding duty, giving preference to foreign nations; but our manufacturing, commercial, and provision States do not enjoy the markets of Mexico, Central and South America, and the West In dies, nor of other natiens inhabiting the shores of the Pacific, because these nations do not manufacture, and have little else for commercial intercourse with them, we yield the trade to the European nations. It will be seen that Mr. GUTHRIE, who was by no means a high protectionist, but, on the contrary, a strenuous advocate for the reduc- Rents, first-class Bank Stocks, &c. tion of the duties upon imports to the lowest rates consistent with the requirements of the revenue, persistently recommended such a discrimination in levying the customs as would most contribute to the manufacturing prosperity of the nation, and through it to all the other interests involved in it. But Mr. Cobb's "theoretic principles. upon which he says a tariff act should be framed, can have no other operation in practice than the destruction of our manufactures, and an equally pernicious bearing upon our agricultural welfare, both directly and indirectly. He proposes "to tax in preference to other, such articles as are not produced in this country." Not to exempt from taxation E. His principles also discriminate most malignantly against the farmer. Guano, which he must import, for instance, must go into the highest list of duties, and every thing which he produces must be stripped of all defence against foreign competition. Those finer qualities of wool which are the common product of our climate, under the operation of the "theoretic principle" that among articles produced here, "those on which the home product bears the least proportion to the quantity imported: are the fittest for taxation," and those, therefore, which bear the greatest proportion to the imported article are to be taxed least. Our wool would be left unprotected, our ports would be opened to the foreign article, and the farmer must meet their competition at every neighbor's fireside. The me principle applies to his wheat, flour, pork, beef, flax, hemp, potatoes, and all the staples and stock which his industry produces. And all this for the sake of protecting th onsumer from such enhancement of price in commodities as a tax, as he calls it, upon imports must add to them. But every onsumer in an industrial community is also a producer, and he cannot be benefited as a consumer by such policy without being at the same time ruined as a producer. condence of The Press.j WASHINGTON, January 20, 1858. I am convinced that if the right steps were taken, there could be such a revenue measure adopted, at the present session, as would be satisfactory to all concerned. Those who take the other ground are, in my judgment, the worst enemies of the real welfare of the great interests of the country. I have seen enough of the South to feel that there is a very kindly disposition on this question, and that if prudent and statesmanilke councils are adopted the whole difficulty can be arranged. Mr. Buchanan is bold in his declarations against borrowing money, and the Union says it is not at all an impossibility to frame a tariff combining both ad valorems and specifics. Maryland is interested in the immediate adjustment of the question; so is Tonnessee, Virginia, Kentucky, Missouri. Two classes of politicians desire to push the matter over into the new Congress; one the extreme free-traders, and the other the high protection people, who take the tariff as a party hobby, and want to make it a national issue. Both these combinations are the enemies, intentional or otherwise, of any permanent system; the free-traders for their own sakes, the ultra prohibitionists because they expect to carry a tariff as a party measure. The President and Senate shall appeled for civil engineers, practically experienced in the laying out and construction of railroads, who within two years shall locate the route of a railroad from the Missouri river to San Francisco, through the region between the Stia and 43d parallels. If the President approves of their decision, the railroad, as located by them, shall be built by the Government, under the direction of a board, to consist of the Secretaries of War and the Interior, the Postmaster General and the Attorney General, who shall contract with the lowest bidders for its construction, in sections of not more than twenty-five miles in length. Money to build the road shall be raised by loan, as needed, in sums of not more than $10,009,000 annually. From the passage of the act till the location of the road, all public lands between the aforesaid parallels shall be withheld from sale, but shall be open to pre-emption by actual settlers. After the road is located, the proceeds of the sale of lands, for one hundred and fifty miles on each side, shall constitute a fund for the construction of the road, and the pyment of the debt incurred by it.

The report of the committee appointed at the last meeting was read. The various bids for leasing the roak had been examined by the committee, and the terms of the different proposals were referred to in the report. The report concluded as follows:

"But the completien of a lease, so far as the president and directors of the Chester Valley Railroad Company are concerned, renders it unnecessary for your committee to dwell further hereon, and the whole matter is referred to your consideration."

Mr. Taylor urged that after the bids had been sent in the Germantown Railroad Company were permitted to "explain the effect of their bid," which was in effect the offering of a new bid. The board had thought the Reading bid was the best, and they had therefore recommended the acceptance of their bid. They intended to act in perfect fairness, and they thought they had done so.

Another stockholder was of opinion that the board had acted in the matter without reference to the interests of the stockholders.

The johairman stred that the question before the meeting was simply the acceptance of the report.

Mr. Holstein, one of the executive committee, presented a written statement of his reasons for differing from the majority. He did not consider the guarantee of the Germantown Railroad a new bid. The Reading Railroad Company had been permitted to amend their bid.

Railroad Company had been permitted to amend their bid.

The vice president of the Reading Railroad Company explained a portion of the statement which referred to the bid of that company.

A gentleman urged that the contract should be read. Mr. Smith, superintendent of the Norristown Railroad, urged the adoption of the report.

The question being taken, the report was adopted almost nuanimously.

Mr. Corson submitted a preamble and resolutions.

The preamble sets forth that the preaisent and four of the directors of the Chester Valley Railroad, of the Chester Valley Railroad company had executed a lease of the road to the Reading Railroad, in direct violation of the request of a large majority of the stockholders, as they believed that the terms offered by the Norristown Railroad Company terms offered by the Norristown Railroad Company

The first resolution sets forth that the president and four members of the board have proved themselves unvorthy of the trust heretofore reposed in them.

The second resolution requests the secretary of the Chester Valley Railroad Company to notify the Reading Railroad Company that the lease is not deemed binding, and that the said Reading Railroad Company be notified not to take possession of the road.

The third resolution continues the committees, and instructs them to consult counsel, &c.

The fourth resolution instructs the secretary to enter the preamble and resolutions upon the minutes.

On motion, it was determined to consider the resolutions separately.

Mr. Charles Henry Fisher, having left the chair, made some remarks explanatory of the course of the board of directors, and stated that he had been informed that members of the board had been elected for the purpose of securing the lease to the Reading Railroad Company. He hoped that the president and board of directors of the Chester Valley Railroad Company would be censured in the very strongest terms.

CONSECRATION OF ST. MATTHEW'S UNURCH.—Bishop Bowman will consecrate the above church on Thursday next, services commencing at 11 A. M. This new church, which has lately been erected at Francis-ville, is under the pastoral care of the Rev. Dr. Hare. It has been constructed with a great deal of care, and in very excellent tasie. The editice is built of gray stone, furnished from Irving's quarry, and great credit is due the contractors, and all who were engaged in its construction, for the promptness and faithful manner in which they have fulfilled their contract.

ASSAULT AND BATTERY.—Two young men, named Thomas Gole and John Dunegan, had a hearing before Alderman Patchell, yesterday morning, on a charge of attacking officer Tothert. They were creating a great deal of disturbance in the neighborhood of Tenth and Spruce streets, and when the officer endeavored to quiet them they dealt him reveral blows over the head. He "caged" them, however, and they were both held to answer.

Assault on Officers.— Two brothers, named John and Francis Alurray, were held to bail, resterday morning, in the sum of $1,500, to answer the charge of attacking Officer Summers. They were arrested at the corner of Thirteenth and Federal streets, but before being arrested inflicted sundry plows upon the officer's head with a weapon commonly known as a black jack. ARLEST OF COUNTERFEITERS.—Yesterday morning two men, who gave the names of Startin Goodheart and John Oheseman, were charged before Alderman Snyder with passing a number of countrielt ires upon the Western Bank. A similar charge has been preferred against them at Pottstown. They were arrested at Broad and Vine streets, and were held to answer at ourt. They had upon them a large quantity of beggs bills, which they endeavored to destray. The arrest was made by Officer Gillmore.

THE RECENT FORGERIES.—Yesterday morning, George P. Peterman and William Myers, whose actionsive forgoties on the Kensington Bank recently stagled the community, were arraigned in the Court of Quarter Bessions, and plead guilty to the charges preferred against them. Peterman has experienced the change that even the commencement of a career of vice and crime is certain to bring. universary of the Ciceronian Literary Society, of Phi-adelphia, was held at Handel & Haydn Hali, on Friladelphis, was held at Handel & Haydn Hall, on Friday evening. In addition to the literary parts of the evening's entertainment, the Amateur Philharmonia was engaged to enliven the programme with very excellent music. The opening address, by the President. Mr. Gidson T. Todd, contained a brief history of the progress of the society, which was quite interesting. This address was followed with a declamation, entitled (The Ladys Deam.) by Mr. Legis T. Thompson. "The Lady's Dreum," by Mr. Lewis T. Thompson—a oreditable production; after which a declaration, by Mr. J. Wilmar Beidelman, the subject of which was a "Bollloquy on viewing a Picture of Venice," was given rith good effect. An essay on "Music" was next read by Mr. T. Morris Knight, in which pedantic critics were smartly dealt with. An oration—subject, "Re-publics"—was delivered by Mr. D. Wharton Stuart, the bject of which was to analyze, by comparison, the re-ative merits of ancient and modern democratic govern ments. One of the most difficult, and we may add, one of the most creditably executed, features of the pro-gramme, was the "Eulogy," by Mr. Oharles H. Adams, delivered towards the close. It was, in fact, no mean delivered towards the doos. It was, in fact, no mean parody on Gray's Elegr, and in effect created considerable merriment, by opportune hits at the "Ciceronian." The exercises were concluded with an Anniversary Address, by Mr. James G. Thompson, which was a production of considerable literary merit. The was a production of considerable literary merit. SENSIBLE CHRISTMAS PRESENTS.—Under this head we would call the attection of our readors to the extensive umbrella establishment of Mr. Simon Heiter, northwest corner of Third and Market streets. Mr. Heiter has had the sagacity to get up a stock of umbrellas in a style which will render them not only a most useful and acceptable gift to a friend, but also highly ornamental in point of taste. When we take into consideration the luckless uncertainty of the weather in the latitude and consideration the second. ther in this latitude, and especially at this season of the year, we are almost persuaded that the uppermost thought in the mind of every one about to make a present to a friend should be "an umbrella!" ANY SOCIETY OF THE CITY OF PHILADELPHIA" slaves dislike to make appeals in this way to their fellow citizens for aid to carry on the very important work of the Society they represent; but the treasury is almost ompt; there held only $4.57 in it on the 16th of this month, and very little collected since, and the poor, who are suffering from hunger and cold sil over our large city, are crying to this Bociety for relief. Yel it has not the means to meet these cries, and the hearts of its poor Missionaries sink within them when they tell the rick and suffering, the hungry and cold, "we are unable to do anything for you."

Shall they do so any longer? Will not the benevolent citizens of Philadelphia come forward promptly to the sid of this Association, which has served them well for these twenty-three years past, and contribute liberally of their means, that it may be able to meet the want and necessities of the poor and suffering?
