I will state that they work charmingly. and we are suifield that you have rendered them efficient and mostil. Heretofore they wore of no use to us, although put up at cconderable expense, and since overhauled without beodit, and they were abandoned, as they choked the empine and gave no heat: but now there seems to be no difficulty in that respect, our shop is well heated, and the work appears to be well done.
