THE of P.ULBIT. Reported for The Press A 000 8 S. IA 4 805 sermon by Rev I. D'Williamson, D. D. A sermon on "Christmas" was preached on the last Sabbath of the old year, at the Church of the Messiah (Universalist), Locust street, east of Broad, by the pastor, Rev. I. D. Williamson, D.D. The following passage of Scripture was selected as the text for the occasion: Bigette. GOOD GROCERIES WILLIAM NEILBON, Sceretary

Dords a Saviour which is Ohrist the Lord of Luke 10, 118 117 117 117 117 For unto you is bord this day in the city of Davidia Sarjour; which is Ohrist the Lord. The speaker opened by saying that, according to common chronology, eighteen hundred and fifty-eight years had elapsed since the announcement of an event—the birth of the Saviouri-which shoot without a parallel in the history of human affairs. Then was born One who in many respects had stood out among men as unrivalled; the teactors, the Lord of lords. No lenlogy could, do: him justice, no calumny could detract from his pre-eminence. Among the many indications of his greatness and power, was the record of his miracles. It was true that some denied these miracles, as such; though, for his own part he preferred to take, the word in such a controversy with the disputers, adding that it even in such a controversy and in the single one of these miracles, it would be a matter of comparatively small importance, as it is the first of all miracles. There was the greatest of all miracles—the miracle of Ohrist himself deals of the subject of the early history of sound bessed Lord, the speaker said that; at the age of thirty years, he had commenced this ministrations of that new dispensation in which he was to be recognised as Prophet, Priest and King. Judging of this undertaking in a mere human light, we might well ask, could anything he more hopelessly Twenty-sixth Fall Bale, 18th January, at the Exbhangel

Judging of this undertaking in a mere human light, we might well ask, could anything he more hopelessly unpromising than were the humble efforts of the Saviour, to revolutionize the world in the face of that lighting opposition which was naturally inspired by popular, jealousy of any attempted innovations upon popular customs and opinions?

More mayerions still did this effort of Christ appears, when we come to consider his preparations to meet this opposing host. To do this, he had secured the co-operation of twelve, humble, fishermed. Having no bost of honor or influence himself, he had no such places to bestow upon others. It was even said that he had not where to lay his head.

But, again, this undertaking of Christ was no less marvellous when viewed in connection with the means employed to prosecute iff. The first thing that struck us, in this connection, was his lotgl want of systematic operation. How widely different in this respect was the procedure of Ohrist from that of Mahommed I. ern— Four mortgages from West Philadelphia Homestea association, to Daniel M. The manœuvrings...of, the latter were marked with the most consummate bagacity from beginning to end... Thus that great deceiver had shrewdly sought to chilist the sympathies and cooperation of the rich and the influential, and it the same time assigned a dity and work to each, which in its ultimate results we uld naturally attract the masses to his cause.

Ohrist, on the other hand, had proceeded with the most apparent disregard of any such auxiliary aids; so, much so that, looking at his course in a mere human light, no one could have inferred that he was about to accomplish, any extraordinary work. He had walked, and talked, and taught, but with all hid labors was blended the Sayiour's everyppermost and most absorbing thought, to, do good unto others. His entire progress had been that of humble obscurity. Hirindeed, we disputed the whole history of Christ; and regarded it as fiction, that, in the speaker's opinion, would not materially altor the case. Shakspeace, for example, could not have made Hamlet say what he did not know himself. It was the results which we must look at.

We ought not to forget, moreover, that the mission of Christ had hean no less beneficent day as a blessed epoch. This advent of Christ had, led 'himanity' to' a higher and nobler sphere. But, precious as was that history of the past, the prospect which raith opened to our vision of the future was still more glorious. Allying itself with intelligence, this faith had grown into a tree whose leaves were for the healing of the nations. Skepticism might smear, at the alow progress which Christianity, had made, in not having, in the course of eighteen centuries, embraced within its folds more than a quarter of the human family, yet, he would ask, what else had done as well. I'll Men had struck for liberty long before the Advent of Christianity, and yet, how few to day possessed it. We might grow jubilant on the Fourth of July over what we enjoyed of liberty in this country; but we must not forget that long before the Christian era, liberty had been fought for as bravely as by our forefathers; and yet, that with all the advantaged of additional time, liberty to day was (the possession of but comparatively a fragment of the human family. We might said, moreover, that hever, autil it had the religion of the Crucified for its ally, had liberty professed an existence, where Christianity was not it was but in name.

The mere fact that but a fourth of the human family had yet embraced Christianity was not. It was but in name.

The disparity of numbers was more than overcome by the superior efficiency of the Christian minority, and, in his judgment, a conflict to-day between the Christian and the heatien world; would result in the utter annihilation of the latter, and so because the resulted so margies of the intellectual and moral forces, were with the Christian world.

The last and grandest achievement in the catalogue of miracles growing out of Christianity, would be the victory of its Head over Death, the last denemy of man; and in view of all this, said the speaker, the in deal over Death, the last denemy of man; and in view of all this, said the speaker, the in the lot of the latter. The Peruvian Byrup does not profect to be a cure-all, but its range is cries aive, because many diseases, apparently unlike, are intimately related, and proceeding from co-cause, may be cured by one remedy.

The class of diseases for which the Byrup provides cure is precisely that which has so often haffled the highest order of medical skill. The facts are taugible the witnesses accessible, and the safety and efficacy of the Byrup incontrovertible.

Those persons who may wish for an opinion from dulinterested persons respecting the character of the Byrup cannot fall to be satisfied with the following, among na merous testimonials, in the hands of the Agents. THE LIVER INVIGORATOR,

TREPHARD BY DR. SARFORD.

COMPOUNDED ENTIRELY FROM GUMS,
Is one of the best Pargative and Liver Medicines now before the public, that acts as a Cathartic, easier, milder, and more effectual than any other medicine known. It is not only a Cathartic, but a Liver remedy, acting first on the Liver to eject its morbid matter, then on the atomach and bowels to carry off that mat; ter, thus accomplishing two purposes effectually, without any of the painful feelings experienced in the operations of most Cathartics. It strengthens the system at the same time that it purges it, and, when taken daily in moderate doses, will strengthen and build it up

CHESTNUT GROVE WHISKEY.—A dekine to lessen the consumption of impure spirits, knowing their injurious effects upon the constitution,
has induced the offering to the public of an article which the analyzation of Professor Chilton, Analytical Chemist. of New York, and Mesers. Booth, Garrett, & Camax, of Philadelphia, proves, beyond all question, to be the most pure and consequently least injurious spirits ever offered the American public.

CERTIFICATE OF DR. JAB. R. CHILTON.
I have analyzed a sample of Chechtul-Grove Whitkey, received from Mr. CHARLES WHARTON, Js. of Philadelphia, and having carefully tested it, I am pleased to atale that it is entirely free from poisonous or deleterious substances. It is an unanually pure and tine flavored quality of Whiskey.
