CITY ITEMS. PROP. GADDIS'S LECTURES. We have already directed attention to the course of lectures, commenced at Jame's Hall last evening by Pr. lessor M. P. Gaddis, of Chrismall, for the benefit of several of our most aiseworthy sharitable institutions. It is not often Phatom citizens have the opportunity of spending their quarters for as noble a work of benevolence, and at the sake time for so appreciable and intellectual evening's entertainment as is afforded in these lectures. As a entertainment as is afforded in these lectures. As a temperance lecturer, Mr. Gaidts is of the Gough and Obspin style, and commands the attention and the ap-plause even of those who, in the abstract, differ with him in opinion. His lecture last evening was given in behalf of the Hedford street Mission, Philaielphia So-ciety for the Employment and Instruction of the Poor, Union School and Ghidt: an's Home, Penn Asplum for Indigent Widows, Northern Home for Friendless Chil-dren, and Olerky Benedicial Association, and was in every respect a signal success. The second lecture of very respect a signal success. The second lecture of the course will be delivered this evening at 3 o'clock. clocks of admission, twenty-five cents each, can be ad o' the officers and members of any of the abovehad o' the officers and met amed associations; at the drug store of Dr. Jayne & m, and at the door of the hall. "EVERETT ON FRANKLIN."-This is now the seme among the admirers of Mr. Everett in this city. agi their name is legion. The demonstration at the dademy of Music, on Thursday evening of next week, ill doubtless be a brilliant affair. "THE SONS OF THE SIRES OF "76."-Their obil dren and their grandchildren continue, as heretofore, to patronise the great renowned and fashionable "Old Franklin Hall Clothing Emporium" of E. H. Eldridge, lo. 321 Chestnut street. The readers of The Press may rest assured that at no ther establishment in the city will they find more recognit fits, better fabrics, lower prices, more cour-seous salesmen or artistic outtors. Let those in want of elegant clothing look in and see! RLECTRIC CLOCKS .- In Marseilles, France, one hindred electric clocks have been placed in various platts of the city, and in the street lamps, so that the hours may be known from them by night as well as by day. Buch clocks have been on the street lamps in the city of Ghent, Reigium, for some years. It is proposed to put up a number of such time-pieces in this city, and place upon the Huminated face of each the follow ing inscription: "Buy all your garments at the Brown Stone Clothing Hall of Bockbill & Wilson, Nos. 608 and 605 Chestnut atreet above Bixth." BOL ILOQUISTIC .-501 ILOQUIBTIC.— To write, or not to write—that is the question; Whether 'tia better to take up the pen After the sleepless sweating of the night— To nip it—acratch your pate and feel for brains In vain 'til the lest hour, Or seize the scimors manfully. And clip—and clip—and clip The better thoughts of others, Advising all to buy their clothes Of Granville Stokes? "I was shown, at the Mission, the portrait of Mrs.
Holiman, the wife of a missionary who once was stationed there. She came out young, beautiful. and good, one of God's fairest and beat creatures, with the determination to devote her life to the improvement of these poor heathen. And so she did—and so she died.
Only a few years after ashe arrived she was seliced with the fever, and perished I atcod and gazed at her picture for an hour, and could read her history in lerlace. All that was feminine, delicate, refined, retiring, ture for an nour, and come read her history in her face. All that was feminine, delicate, refined, retiring, and lovely was expressed in her aweet, soft eyes; and about her mouth there was such an expression of will, firmners, and undying resolve, that you could not help thinking what a perfect character for a missionary to Africa."

TO THE PUBLIO.

With the Huguenots, Mr. Ullman hopes to establish his claims upon the u.divided patronage of the enlightened and music-loving citisens of Philadelphia. Familiar with what has been done before, in this city, he boldly challenges comparison with any similar undertaking. He means to produce "Grand Opera" as perfect as it can be possibly given, and he cose not dout that the public will award him the merit of having fulfilled his promise to the utmost of his ability.

He once more calls upon the public and the press for the most extensive support and patronage. A desp-pointment in this respect would be raisons to him, and discourage him from continuing his exertions, se he has done. The risk attending any operatic enterprise is proverbial. This risk is greater with him than with any other manager, for none had the courage to make such numberous and great engagements, and to transfer such an immense establishment from one ditract are brilliant beyond expectation.

As regards the Huguenots, Mr. Ullman particularly calls attention to the manner in which the opera is got up, and to the cast.

She was, at that time, at the very beginning of her career, and yet the future she are reasted still lives in the memory of opera-goers fince then, she has sung in the principal European Theatres, and istely concluded a dire years' sugagement at the Grand Opera House, for which MEXESHERE composed his great works.
