Extraordinary Suicide in New Orleans.

A MAN BURDES BIMSELY ACTIVE THE TAKES POISON

The New Orleans Crestent of the 24th gives the The Now Orleans Crescent of the 24th gives the following remarkable story of a huloide; "Sylvester Rapert, thirty seven years of age, an Englishman by histh; and by trade a chip carpents," thirty seven years of age, an Englishman by his wife and two shildren in a house on Perdito street. In October Inst the yellow fever, then prevailing, counted among its victims the Youngest child of, the Ruperia: their little girl Lizzle, about four years old, and the particular pet of the father. This was a how from which the father never recovered. Not able to buy a fomb, he had a the child buried in the ground. In Greenwood Concentery. The grief preved heavily out of his regular employments, de note that ment in his grief.

"Herbought is burial liot and some bricks and other material; and with his own hands, and all alone in the seemstery, built him a brick tomb.

He had not the means to buske the tomb a stylish one so is die ste mouth by chiranes he fitted alone in the semestery, built him, a brick; tomb. He had not the means to make the tomb a stylish one solidate mounts to make the tomb a stylish one solidate mounts of make the tomb a stylish one solidate mounts of the mean to come of the board, and secured it with servers in its four comers. On this board with which he indoured he yoult, (in lieu of the usual brick and mortar, or marble sleb), he had carved nicely, with his knifet had build insertiphion of his child. The tomb in this differ insertiphion of his child. The tomb in this differ in removing it when he felt like gasing upon the decaying, remains of his child. The wist the cemetery, open the tomb, and look at the corpse of his pet. He always carried a sorew-driver it his pocket, with which to remove and replace the board and also to remove and replace the blod the comm. Neither the haggard aspect of the shrinking little corpse, nor the foul odor of its decay, could "sole him his mobile grief. His visits were frequent, and sometimes his wife went with him. Alle frequently complained to her that has could not get, work; and this inability doubless fostered the despondency which was drawing him to death. He frequently some had be them in front of the tomb. On Thursday, when he left hims he told his wife that if he had no better look in finding work she would never see him again. He also said something about having a place in which to rest.

"That evening, or that night—for no one saw him in his gloomy proceedings—he visited the cometry, taking with him has served river, an iron trink handle, a small rod of the tomb, he three wawy the servery and a large vial of landarum. Unserwing the board of the tomb, he threw away the servery and a large vial of landarum. Unserver seed the solid his serve holes in the hoard with lary.

"With his new screws he then secured the trunk handle to the inside of the board. This work, of ourse, had to be done outside the tomb. Pushing his child's cofin aside be got in by its side, taking with him he poison and the other arti handle to the inside of the board. This work, of course, had to be doie outside the tomb. Prashing his child's coffin aside he got in by its side, taking with his poison and the other articles with which he had provided himself. His hat he pisced upon the coffin, his coat, which he had taken off he wrapped around a brick for a pillow. He shut himself in with the board, by means of the handle he had screwed to it; the board fitting outside the wooden frame. The iron bar, which was of the proper length, he placed actoes the frame inside. The thickness of the frame would not allow the bar to pass through the trank handle on the inside of the board; as he secured the handle and the bar by means of his wire, colling it through the one and around the other. He did not succeed in fitting the board squarely upon the frame. One corner of it caught upon the brickwork outside the frame; this hid did not discover work outside the frame; this hid did not discover, probably, owing to the darkness of the night; and but for this little droumstance his fate would probably have never been discovered, or not at least for many years. Having thus hid himself away, as he fannied, beyond mertal discovery, he drained off the contents of his landanum bottle, composed himself on his black, placed the brick and cont beneath his head, and went to sleep, and off into the sundown region of the suicides. The farmed and looked at their tomb, and was about to leave, when ashe happened to find her runsband. She went and looked at their tomb, and was about to leave, when ashe happened to find her runsband. She went and looked at their tomb, and was about to leave, when ashe happened to, notice that the board did not fit sungly inte the frame as usual. Looking, closer, the discovery the mud in the corew holes; and, putting her hand on the board, found it was stending loosely. She pulled it out a little, and the first thing the fear do not be that he board did not fit sungly inte the frame as usual. Looking, closer, the discovery the mud in the co

Matrimonial Infidelity and Suicide -- A

The Bellows Falls Times brings us the details of an unusual combination of serious crimes, which had its development and crisis in that yillage on Friday morning. A young man but nineteen, named William Hi Sanders, sloped from Springfield, Vermont, with his brother Daniel's wife, who, though instried for five years, was herself but nineteen years of age. William H. Sanders, cloped from Spring-Vermont, with his brother Daniel's wife, though married for five years, was herself fiction years of sge. "And the sand the sa who, though married for Me. Jears, was hersel-but injecten years of sge.

They left home Thursday evening, came to Bel-lows Falls, and took adjoining rooms at the Bellows Falls House, registering only the name of the wo-man as "Miss Kendall, of Weathersfield." Torunaways immediately fook stryonnine, which the young man had provided in his pooket, apparently for such an omergency. He died soon after in great agony, but the woman recovered from the poison and was:carried back home on Saturday. The testimony of the husband at the corner's inquest gives the best account of the sad and shocking history:

Daniel Sanders. I am twenty-six years of ago; reside in Springfield; am a mechanic; had a brother by the name of William H. Sanders; he has worked with me for the last two or three months; have an aniseless of the sale of Christopha was a missean wars add; he has redden to Lowe on the problem of the sale of Christopha was a missean wars add; he has redden to Lowe on the world with the way and the hearded.

has worked with me for the last two or three months; he was nineteen years old; he boarde with me; he left my house last night about si o'clock; about eight o'clock in the evening I be came a little alarmed at his absence; and I wen to the livery stable to accordan whether he had got a team from there; found, he had got a team from the Hasking. to the livery stable to ascertain whether he had got a team from there; feund he had got a team from there; feund he had got a team from Mr. Haskins. Toom and found all his clothes were gone. Mr wite was gone. I rather thought she had gone with william, because her things were gone; the reason why I thought they had gone together was that they had been pretty thick talking together about the house. I went to Fred. Crain deputy she fift; I there got a team and drove to Bellows Falls, and stopped at the Falls hotel and I went up into the room and found my. wife and my brother william bett there. When she was dressed she came out into the first room; When she came out William hot the or on where he wist, when she went in there William handed her, something white out of his hand, and they both, that, the same instant, put it into their mouths, and my brother out of her hand before she had time to drink; they then came out into the first room, and he took up the plother and drank; and shouled it out of her hand before she had time to drink; they then came out into the first room, and he took up the plother and drank; and she dad to her, and she drank a little before I could get to her, and she drank a little before I could get to her, and she drank a little before I could get to her, and she drank a little before it was, in and my brother said they had both been taking stryoning, and wanted I should get the doctor, in, a hurry, in about five minutes my brother came in, and my brother said they had both been taking stryoning, and wanted I should get the doctor, in, a hurry, in about five minutes my brother said to my wife the said they had both been taking stryoning, and wanted I should get the doctor, in, a hurry, in about five minutes my brother said to my wife the said on the head on the bed, and he lay there towards an hour before he died; my wife there towards an hour before he died; my wife there towards the died; my wife's name is addaline.

The Bellows Falls Times, adds the following facts:

We learn that the strytchnine was procured some time since, and that an elopement was attempted about a week before: At this time W. H. Sandsrs proposed going with his brother's wife to Chester, to a ball, to which the husband consented, and inially concluded to go himself, and his presence firestrated the object in view.

Daniel Sanders, husband of the truant woman is said to be a wery steady, industrious, hardworking man; and exceedingly induspent to his wife, for whom he has been ready to make any sacrifice, and within a short period had purchased for her largely in dresses and jewelry. On the other hand, the is said to be rather prettylooking, giddy, and light-hearted, caring more for balls and transient pleasures than her own bouseheld. She has a young obild which she left at home sick when she ran gway On gramination of a trunk, which whe left looked up at home, she had taken out; her things and partly filled it with wood. She got mothey from her hashand, under pretence of buying a shawl on the evening of her desertion, but made no purchase. She is of french birth, and a native of Ganada.

Early History of Senator Hammond. Early History of Senator Hammond.

Barly History of Senator Hammond.

[From the Macon (Ga.) Journal and Messenger ]

The late speed of this gentleman, on the political relations of the North, and South, has elicited a good deal of comment, in every part of the country. It, has been discovered, since his sentiments became known; that he is, after all, only a Connecticut scholomister; only quite too ready, in emergencies, to give, up the "right of the South," 1 (that is, the wrongs of the niggers). The histery of Hammond, it seems, it quite a common one. Forty or filty years ago, his father, unigers of the South, Carolina, from Weatherfield Connecticut, taking with him a schooner head of onlone, a box of Webster's spelling books; bought "niggers," and stockeds plantation. The younger Hammond woon I carped the sister of Wade Hampton, the largest riavefielder in the ine of safe precedents, he became a member of Congress and Senator in This list he man who sneers at the laborars of the North-of whom his father was one—as "white slaves" and "mud sills."

Now there are several errors of history in the foregoing. The father of Senator Hammond was from Massachusetts. "He never stocked a plantation with negroes for onlone, Whether he sold Webster's spelling books we are unad rised-cortain we are that he was well prepared to appreciate them. which is more than could probably be said of those who disparage his memory. Nor did his son marry a sister of Wade Hampton, but a Miss Ritseimmon, we believe a sister of Wade Hampton's wife. The alder Hammond, like many of the noblest men of this and other countries, was an accomplished and emergency which he legions of politicians and demangences which new affects the many did to be one of the said other countries, was an accomplished and emergence in the second contributes of position as and demanded in the land, dould, be transformed into good school masters. The father of Senator Hammond was for some time, a successful, leacher in this city, where he died greatly lamented.

Who was born in Massachusetts, October 1

send une trank; generous polite, he lived usefully send dred lamented.
It is a remarkable fath, that one of the grandsons of Slinka, Hammond, and son lof Senator Hammond, abould now, hold as professorable in a Georgia college, whilst another was recently married to a daughter of one of our worthy citizens.

SECOND. ETHEL'S LOVE-LIFE. New England Novel. By Mrs. M. J. M. Sweat,

[From the New York Eyening Post.]

"It is in form an autobiography, containing, in a series of love letters, the history of the growth of a scatchest and impetoous mind. The subject affords rar lopportunities for psychological analysis, the facult which the writer possesses in an eminent degree. She evidently thoroughly understands that fascinating mystery—a woman's heart."

THE LIVER INVIGORATOR PREPARED BY DR. SANFORD, COMPOUNDED ENTIRELY FROM GUMS,
Is one of the best Purgative and Liver Medicines now before the public, that acts as a Catharitic, easier, mider, and more effectual than any other medicine known. It is not only a Catharit, but a Liver remedy, acting first on the Liver to eject its morbid matter, then on the stomach and bowels to carry off that mat; ter, thus accomplishing two purposes effectually, without any of the painful feelings experienced in the operations of most Catharitics. It, strengthens the system at the same time that it purges it, and, when taken daily in moderate doses, will strengthen and build it up with unusual rapidity.

ETTE Liver is one of the SOLUTION. PATENTED JUNE 22, 1858.

WASHING AND SCOURING

This important discovery has just been patented b this important inscorpt and the same passes produced by the United States, and it is now confidently recommended Manufacturers, Housekeepers, and others. It is a bor-saving preparation, and costs less than half of any other article known for cleansing purposes. While it cleanses, whitens, and purides Cotton, Lineu, and Woollen goods of every description, it will not injure the most delicate fabric. Certificates of its value have been given by some of the leading manufacturers of the tizens.

ILT Fare always as low as any other Route.

The completion of the Western connections of the Pennsylvania Railroad to Chicayo, makes this the DIRECT LINE BETWERN THE RAST AND THE GREAT NORTHWEST.

The connecting of tracks by the Railroad Bridge at Pittaburg, avoiding all drayage or ferrings of Preight, together with the saving of time, are advantages readily appreciated by Shippers of Freight and the Travelling Fublic.

By this Route Freights of all descriptions can be forwarded from Philadelphia, New York, Boston, or Baltimare, to sny point en the Railroad of Ohio, Kentucky, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, Jowa, or Missouri, by Railroad direct,

The Pennsylvania Railroad also connects at Pitteburg with Steamers, by which Gouls can be forwarded to any port on the Ohio, Muskingum, Kentucky, Tennessee, Cumberland, Illinois, Mississippi, Wisconsin, Missouri, Kansas. Arkansas, and hed Rivers; and at Olevoland, Sanduky, and Chicago with Steamers to all ports out the Northwestern Lakes.

Merchante and Shippers entrusting the transportation of their Freight to this Company, can rely with confidence out as speedy transit.

Booth, Garreit, & Camae, of Philadelphia, provee, beyond all question, te be the most pure and consequently least injurious systims ever offered the American public.

OERTIFICATN OF DR JAS. R. OHILTON.
I have analyzed sample of Chestnut-Grove Whiskey, received from Mr. Ollarkes Wharton, Z. of Philadelphia, and having carefully tested it, I am pleased to state that it is entirely free from polsonous or deleterious substances. It is an unusually pure and the favored quality of Whiskey.

Mew York, Sept. 2, 1855.

Analytical Chemist.

DEAR SIR: We have carefully tested the sample of Chestnet-Grove Whiskey which you sent us, and find that it contains none of the poisonous substance known [as Fusic 01], which is the characteristic and injurious ingredient of the Whiskeys in general use.

Very respectfully, BOOTH, GARRETT, & CAMAO, Analytical Chemist Analytical Chemists.
