The gentleman who presided over it has a son in office ; the chairman of the first committee also has a son in office; and the active members of the body were either dependants of the Federal Government in this city or in other parts of the State. It is said tended by this demonstration to prove that that the French troops have been althors in from the Charleston Convention is to be controlled me, but snother scoond says the report is pre- by the same influences; for if a public opinion so netorious and so well defined as that which surrounds us can be misrepresented, it will be an easy achievement to take possession of a national body, from which heretofore our principles and our candidates have been announced. This is the main purpose sought to be accomplished by the despotic and scanalous conduct of the adherents of the Administration on the sixteenth instant. The uestion now presents itself, whether the Democrats of Pennsylvania are ready to submit to this dictation. They have seen their intrepid Objet Magistrato, Gov. PACKER, traduced and proscribed because he could not desert the rinciple which elected JAMES BUCHAWAN, and which elected himself, notwithstanding his devotion to the interests and honor of Pennsylania, notwithstanding his consciontious and courageous hostility to odions special legislation, and notwithstanding the marked ability with which he has discharged his official dues.) They have seen this Convention of hirelings, intent upon degrading their noble old party into a more enlogist of JAMES BU-CHANAN and Senator BIGLER, with the cortainty that it is thereby destined to inevitable defeat: The Convention ignored the great national platform adopted at the Cincinnati Convention, and thus placed itself beyond Important Proposition in Reference to resisted by the Ropublicans, exactly as it is re-The Late State Convention. Passenger Railroads. We understand that the subjoined memorial will be laid before the two branches of the Legislature and the Governor of Pennsylvania his morning. It is signed by Joseph HARBI son, of Philadelphia, a citizen whose public spirit and unostentatious benevolence are almost universally well known and appreciated The franchises which have been bestowed upon corporations (we might almost say upon individuals), in reference to city passenger railways, have become so valuable that it is mazing that no step has been taken by the city authorities to secure to the general pub lis a share of the profits which, up to this time, have been distributed among a few." In the city of New York as much as half a million of dollars has been offered for the right of occupying a portion of Broadway with passenger railroad, and good authority ashave set an example to other States; but, sures us that two millions of dollars could be procured for this enviable privilege In the city of Baltimore enormous ad vantages are offered to the municipality in consideration of the right to occupy Baltimore street; and we have no doubt that when Congress finally agrees to allow Pennsylvania avenue to be traversed by a passonger railroad, it will exact a heavy compensa tion for the treasury of Washington city. Up, to this moment of time, however, our city finances have been alightly benefited, by our city railroads. On the contrary, individuals have assumed the control of our streets. They have proceeded to Harrisburg with their close corporations, and, with rare exceptions never thought of putting money into the public purse, while they were coining thousand themseives. Mr. HARRISON comes forward, at this opportune moment, and proposes s plan which cannot be objected to upon any casonable grounds. It is true he is largely interested in the Fifth and Sixth-street Passenger Railroad, but it is also 'true that he has equired an interest in that railroad by heavy expenditures, and that much of its present success and good management is to be attributed to his voice in its councils. But, as his memorial will show, he does not propose to take exclusive possession of the other projected railroads in this city ; he simply asks that the right to occupy certain streets should be put up at public sale, and that our municipality should divide the profits of the investment with those who obtain the charter from the Legislature. It others are willing to pay more than Mr. HARBISON offers, so be it. He will not object, and the public will be served It seems to us that his suggestion is one ominently worthy of the consideration of the Representatives of the people at Harrisburg, and of the most thoughtful reflection of the Executive himself; and we most earnestly commend his memorial to both. Let us have a general law embodying these views :

To the Honorable the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Penn-Representatives of the Commonwealth of renn-ylvania. The momorial of Joseph Harrison, Jr., respect-sisted by the Administration organs. But to the North such a change will presently become irre-sistibly necessary; and I cannet believe that the South will set, its face against it. Every con sideration ploads in its behalf-the most importan to the South being, (if we take Mr. Hunter, Mr Toombs, and Mr Mason for exemplars,) that such an innovation would immensely reduce the expenditures and expenses of the Federal Govern

OCCASIONAL. The Irish Exiles in America. priespondence of The Press.]

WASHINGTON, March 17, 1859. St. Patrick's Day ! and in happy contrast to the isual dampness of that festival-it being, in the nomory of the oldest inhabitant, generally a gloomy, lowering, or wet day-we have a tolerably air sky and a bracing atmosphere. The clouds, o be sure, have a gray, misty expansivoness, like the Selicies sorrow and Celicies sorg; but betimes the Selicies sorrow and Celicies hope; heartiness, and joy upon these in whese hearts the uppermost thought is to give the "day we celebrate" that welcome which every goed eltizen (adopted or otherwise) should extend to the patron of so hardworking and useful a set of men as delight to honor him. The sun breaking out at fitful intervals through the gray clouds, forcibly reminds me of the revolutionary struggles and hopes which have at intervals illuminated the dim pages of Irish story. Yet we know that, as behind the clouds the sun, that only now and then breaks forth, beams consistently on, so has the heart of Ireland, all through its marvellous history, burned with a irm and a lefty faith. Talking of Ireland and St. Patrick's Day naturally calls to mind the visit of Mr. Smith O'Brien. He dines to-day with the Irishmen of Charleston than whom, I learn, no better men could celebrate the day a welcome one so inseparably united with the latter day history of the country of their nntivity ... Smith O'Brion was greatly delighted with his visit to the Federal Capital. Ho was waited on by the most eminent statesmen, prators, and workingmen of both branches of Congress, irworkingmen of both branches of Congress, ir-respective of party, and was the object of various attontions, on the part of numberless citizens and visiters, who requested introductions to him. His demeanor, dignified, observant, and with that polite eagerness for information on all subjects likely either to form or flow from the brain of one skilled n public affairs, made a most favorable impression on all who met Mr. O'Brien. He was a watchful bserver of the last throes of the Thirty-fifth Congress. You might see him passing down the corridor to or frem either house, up to two and three in the morning, entering with true parlia. mentary test into the routine of business, and catching the most important phases of the subject, which put weary Senators occasionally. asleep, or kept upresting Representatives noisily nwake.

BY MIDNIGHT MAIL. Letter from "Oversional."

Correspondence of The Press.] WASHINGTON, March 18, 1859.

The California stoamer which leaves New York Among the votes thrown against Governor on the 21st instant (Monday next) ought to take out some definitive intelligence as to the Extra PACKER, in the Convention of Wednesday ession, in order that preparations may be made last, we regret to see the name of GEORGE to elect Representatives Oregon will have her one momber also to elect in season for this seesion, should it be called. There has been the usual higgling and halting about this matter. As I M. WHARTON, Esq., of this city. Mr. WHAR-Ton is a highly respectable citizen, and a leading member of an honorable profession; and that he should have allowed himself to be conmice no decision is known, though the Cabinet is in session in regard to ft. Mr. Holt, with all his gonius and oratory, and order, cannot get on as Postmaster General without money. He is not trolled by a shameless set of sycophants and parasites, in making war upon an independent and conscientious public officer, will occasion willing either to run the risk of the fatal experi-ment of using the revenues without law, or of much surprise. Mr. WHARTON is a neophyte in the Democratic party, and he greatly mistopping postal facilities. This would be a very takes the voters who compose that party, and ing for Mr. Holt, and he has no tasto who remember his life-long hatred to its meafor it. I have heard from the best authority that an offer will be made at the next session of Congress ate their confidence or respect, by lending his by a company of capitalists, to undertake the businame to every proscription, that may be dicness of carrying the mails by contract, as a private enterprise. Why not? This is the age of railoads and of reform, and also of reduction of exconditures. It would dispense with thousands of fficials, and would save millions of money to the general Treasury. Harper's Weekly, in the issue of the 19th of March, already on sale here, has a riment upon the patience of our people was capital article on this question, which contains another foroible idea-as follows:

more manly, and consistent with his high position in seciety and at the bar, would an honorable resistance to the spites of the small men at Harrisburg on his part have been, than for him to second their animosities in committee. and in convention, and to seek to outvie them in their work of defamation upon a man

Solution structs on this question, which contains another foroible idea-as follows: "When our Government was first established it was suggested that the carrying of letters was not a proper function of Gavernment. The framers of the Constitution, however, had so many radical insovations to cooupy their mind that they ne-glected this one, and the Post Office Dapartment was loft in statu quo. It has now worked eighty years, to the infinite disadvantage both of the pub-lic and the Government. "It answers no useful purpose whatover. It indicis three decided injuries. Letters are not carried safely nor swiftly, and thus the public are injured. The annual deficit in the rovenue is enormous, and thus the Government is ombar-rassed. The appointment of postmaties outrens throughout the country, and thus it works mis-chief among the most active class of the people. Here are three arguments—canch of which is con-clusive-against the system. The subject may valuy be searched for a single solid argument in its favor. whose administration of our State Government meets the approval of all disinterested citizens, and who was a shining light in the Democratic party when Mr. WitABTON Was among its most unscrupulous and bigoted ad-

Academy of Music.

There will be a Matinée and Dramatic Reading at the Academy of Music to-day, a novelty which * the Academy of Music to-day, a novelty which Mini-Bowers introduces at the request of friends and the public. The advantage of this description of performance is that failes of a site of the factor out make scott. The play of "Lucresia Borgia" will be acted this evening. values the searched for a single solid argument in the favor. "If the postal service were thrown open to the public the express companies would at once un-dertake it. Letters could be carried at lonat as cheaply as at present; and in case of loss, the amount lost could be recovered from the carrier. Competition would secure speed in transmission and exactness in delivery. The Government--that is to say, the tax, phyore-would kavo five or eix millions a year. Express companies could serve, without loss, post routes which east the pre-sent Postal Department a large sum annually; then y would make enough on freight to reimburse them for any loss on letters "The arguments in favor of the change are, in fact, so over whelming that nothing can provent its speedy realisation but the base desire of poli-ticians to keep up the present patronage of the Department-- to which, more than to any other single canse, the demoralisation of our politios is due."

These are good thoughts, finely expressed. Will they make an impression? That is the ques-tion, siter all. The esger desire of both par-ties for place is manifest and painful. Mr. Senator Wilson, of Massachusatts, stated in the Senate, some days ngo, that he was called upon not to out down the corrupt post-office printing, because this job would help the Republicans when hey got into power.

The truth is, many of the leaders of the Reublican party look forward to success simply for the purpose of obtaining the spoils. The ex-berience of the unfortunate House of Representa-

The London Giobs ann unces that Viscount Harding has resigned the office of Vader Sector Vac persion of Congress, resided in this city, whither he has removed his family and journal, The Southern Citizen, from Knoxville, Tennemed. Men may differ as to the policy of Mitchell's expressed views touching Southern affairs, but none who know the man, can differ as to him. He com munds both high respect and deep affection from those who know him initimately. Surrounded by a charming family, the members of which revolve round him "as spokes round the axle," he being the centre of all, he has planted himself in the Federal Oity to the laborious life of a journalist; and let me tell you he is a first rate one. He is a splondid writer, keen, brilliant, direct, and very owerful at description. Whether discoursing an Irish history, or early or late times, or pictu ring the scenic glorles of the Southern woods or untains, he is equally delightful.

Thomas Francis Mugher, that hearty and ex aborant type of Irish intellect, is at present lo nted in New York, where he conducts the Irish a.3-16@ Kd. News. Besides his labor upon that journal, he is ow busily engaged writing and arranging for the press the result of his recent tour in Costa Rica In this work, to which the author's nature and genius fondly assimilate, wo shall have a happy blending of facts and statistics, with the desorip ions of manners, customs, and scenery, as viewer by the bright and sensitively receptive eyes of one ho looks on Nature as a lover.

If I mistake not, the very interesting "Autobiography of an Agitator," now being, published in the Irish American, is from his sharp and prolific pen. He also, I understand, in conjunction with John O'Mahony, conducts the Gaelic department of that journal. This is quite a feature. We have the original Gaolic, side by side with the English translation, and accompanied with such notes as the patient research and accumulated knowledge of Mahony can alone present. Within s year or so he has issued a work of exceeding value to all students-a translation of Gooffrey Keating's Ireland, with notes which make up the larger and better portions of the work.

Richard O'Gorman successfully pursues the Goddess of Fortune, dressed with briefs and ribonned with red tape, in New York. He has an aptitude rare with Irish and all other patriots for usiness, and deserves his success. He is a very complished orator, as all who heard him read his speech on Shakspeare at the Dramatic Fund linner two years ago will be glad to admit. To lay, as president of the Friendly Sons of St.

Patrick, in Now York, he will be " at home." Dr. Thomas Autisell resides in Washington, and holds an important post in the Patent Office; for which his solontific reputation fully fits him. O' extensive and varied culture his head, much as it arries, does not hold more than his heart. As a writer and locturer on solonce he has a well-carned epute. He is the author of the "Cyclopedia of the Useful Arts."

ANOTHER DESPATCH. ANOTHER DESPATCH. WASHINGTON, March 18 -- Notwithstanding the repar-CORRECTION .- We erroneously stated, in WASHINGTON, March 18 - Notwithstanding the report spat from here yeaterday in relation to a special session of Congress being ordered to the 23 of August, this matter has not yet here definitely satiled, though there can be no doubt that a special session will be called and that the proclamation of the President will go out and that the proclamation of the President w to California and Oregon by the next steamer Canadian Parliamont.

motion was looked on as a motion of wast of confidence in the Administration. It is now probable that the new tariff will be passed with slight modifications The Inspector Grears is strated that when in committee. He would be willing to consider the propriety of defarring the operation of the new tariff for such a time as would enable the Upper Canada morthasts to obtain their goods from the pise. of growth This snounce-ment, as well as the result of Mr. Buchanan's amend ment, was received with loud cheers.

The Extra Session Question.

: The Extra Session Question. Washiworan, March 18.—The Union of to-day con-tains the following article: " Ountrary to the givings out of rewspapers, an extra sension has not yet been determined upon by the Presi-dent. It is understood that the subject was under con-milaration in the Gabinet yesterday; but a Goal deter misation was not reached. If it were a question of more expediency, we are sure it might at conce be set down that there would be no extra session. It is only from the point of river of impearium practical beccessivy that the question is considered at all; and this involves a coracian ted palae-taking examination of fac's We are still in hopes that some way will be ound of avoid-ling an extra session. A few hours, however, will da-termine the case." ANOTHER DESPATCH.
