Give will probably be sant to the position of degrading vassalage by the central nthority at Harrisburg. We should have the right of regulating our local institutions for ourselves, so far as that right can be exercis-ed without detriment to the citizens of other portions of the State. No railways should be laid down in Chestnut and Walnut streets at all, until it is well ascertained that our citizens desire them ; yet with this point still undetermined, an undignified, break-neck chase was com ced between two bodies, satarically termed "deliberative," for precedence in advancing the pecuniary interests of their respective favorite companies. The action of the Legislature was especially undignified and disgrace-ni. in its hot haste, and the repeal of the wholesome law requiring thirty days' notice of be time for the opening of subscription books register, the tenor parts in this open a troups are r the benefit of the new corporation, and educing it to three days, was a fitting climax filled by Mr. Trevor, so that the music remains filled by Mr. Trevor, so that the music remains intact, and with really less alteration than in are glad that in the midst of all this excite-

Convention at Harrisburg, on Wednesday, the 18th of April It only needed a beginning to set the prairie on fire. We did not hear a voice in approval of the course of the proceedings of the Officeholders' Convention; even the men in place were silent in regard to it, while every disinterested Demierst earnesity and instantity con-demned it. The would indicted upon the Democratic grganization by recreast public servants at Washington, and their creatures at ministration relies for its future operations against the Democratic sentiment of the country is that growing out of the appointment of deputy marshals to take the new census. It is suppresed that everybody wants office, and that all the local politicians will be running after these places. Promises are being made without number, and as the appointments will not be given out until the Inst hour, it is expected that a good deal of interest can be manufactured in this way. I would not be astonished if we had another investigation, something like that of the, anthraoite coal, growing out of this new source of patronage and OCCASIONAL. nlunder.
