WABHINGTON, March 31, 1859. I have lorg been heunted with a desire to fathom the mysteries of the Union newspaper, and the news the other day of its sale put me into a perfest faver to discover the whole transaction have at lask successful in which transaction 1 have at lask successful ing stellag from a lasky, but perfectly reliable quarter, the facts. As you stated in The Press several days age, the Union his really been main over by Wendell to Gen. Bowman, who has officially announced himself in its columns as the purchaser and future proprietor, and has promised in a short time to tell the world what editorial course he intends to pursue. Of course, the whole world and the rest of mankind are anxious to know what he will do and I will therefore iry to throw a little light on the subject before he dispels the darkness and mystery which at present enshrouds the future of on Union. Nothing will go into the Union her:after that does not hear the personal imprimatur of the President, James the First. Therefore. you need expost no more attacks on the Herald, the one which appeared the other day being a Parthian arrow shot into the camp of the enemy of the Democracy by Mr. Hughes, of Virginia, the Inte editor, as he was driven forth from under the shadow of the Federal Administration. . The Presi ient will speak through Mr. Bowman to the public on the 11th of April next, When asked the other day what General Bowman , would do for editorial articles for the organ under the new management, Mr. Buchasan is reported to have said complecently, "we will write them our selves," meaning by "ourselves," himself, Judge Black, and Bowman.

The sale was an odd enough arrangement Wondell has been suffering terribly for months under the load of debt which the publication of the Union octailed upon him, the President, who suspected him of worshipping after false gods and of heing opposed to his renomination at Charlecton, having refused to allow him the usual print-ing patronage heretofore enjoyed by that paper. This patronage consists, I am told and believe, of upwards of $150,000 per annum, including the post office blanks and the binding of executiv ments. The profit on this work is from twenty. five to thirty per cent for some forty or fifty thou sand dollars a year. The sale, as I understand from a person who obtained it from the fountain head, was simply this: allows Bowman to assume possession of the Union establishmont without prying any purchase monoy, and in consideration thereof, the President stepulates to give the contract for the post office blanks and the executive printing to Wendell, or some one he may designat Wendell agrees in turn to pay $20,000 of the profits of these jobs, in monthly instalments of $1,603 The residue of these profits, amount-S1 663 ing to $20,000 or $25,000 per annum, he is to re tain as the purchase money of the Union, and 15 also to discharge some political debts incurred by James I, chicily in Pennsylvania. in forcing Le compton through the House of Representatives and in the election of Ostober last. If, however the contracts should ever be taken from Wendel by Mr. Buchanan, then the sale of the Union be comes void, and of no effect. Bowman dissolving Independence, in Independence square, should from the public view, as proprietor and editor act suthorizing its appropriation repealed. paper property as the real owner. You will see therefore, that there is really no sale of the pro-perty of the Union, but that it has only been rented to Mr. Buchanan, through General Bow man, by Mr. Wendell, Mr. Buchanan having stipulated to pay the rent (twenty or twenty five thousand dollars a year) out of the public trea sury, in the way of contracts. There is a private arrangement between Mr Buchanan and Gen. Bowman, that out of the $20.000 received by the latter from the profits of the contracts given to Mr. Wendell, S12,000 is to h paid to sundry pensioned papers of Mr. Buchapan's in Pennsylvania, the balance, $3,000, being r served to conduct the Union. Bowman's chief reliance upon making a fortune, under these cires, is by being elected Sanate printer mstar next winter, as the berd of the official Governmen organ, in which case Wendell and he will have another contract for a division of the spoils, as
