Accompanied as we are in an endless succession of proclamations, civil strife, and revolutions in Mexico, and to an almost uninterrupted warfare among military chieftains and their predatory bands, we are naturally disposed to regard her internal contests as a mere trifling affair, and to regard her political principles as being based on important principles. The party of which Miramón is the military leader is said to be bitterly hostile to all modern ideas of civil and religious liberty. It embraces the heads of the Church, the whole of the landed gentry, and the whole of the military and naval establishments. It entertains a deep hatred for the United States, and a corresponding regard for European monarchies. Many of its members, indeed, are accused of being anxious to convert Mexico into a kingdom, over which some monarch of the European family should be set up. The Press.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 13, 1859.

General News: Four Days Later from Europe; First News: Trial of Daniel R. Sikes.

By the mail steamer City of Baltimore, we have English papers to the 30th March inst. Their contents are unimportant, except that they only mentioned the fact that the United States had been declared a belligerent.

European Politics.

The House of Lords, on the 28th ult., the Foreign Minister (Lord Malmesbury) stated that, on the suggestion of Russia, the Five Great Powers, including Austria, had consented to hold a Congress for the settlement of all points of difficulty connected with Italy.

On the other hand, the Constitutional party, represented by the Jureco Government, appears to possess the confidence of the main portion of the Mexican people, and to contain within it nearly all the elements of political regeneration existing in the country. It is avowed to be a party of the United States, and the whole of the party of the United States.

State Agricultural Fair.

We have already referred to the importance of holding the approaching annual fair of the State Agricultural Society, and to the fact that it is to be held at the Fair Grounds, on the 15th inst.

BY MIDNIGHT MAIL.

Letter from "Touchstone."

OUR CORRESPONDENT writes us that he has just received a copy of the "Touchstone" of the 10th inst., and that he is much pleased with its contents.

Over the Wires.

The ordinary readers of a daily journal, who find in it all the intelligence of the time, given at more or less length, according to its relative importance, and who are not content with the mere statement of facts, but who desire to know the reasons and the consequences of the same, will find in the "Touchstone" a most valuable and interesting addition to their ordinary reading.
