The Press.

MONDAY, AUGUST 22, 1859.

First Page.—Personal and Political Letter from Niagara Falls—Persons in Mist—A Methodist Clergyman's house attacked—Recovery of his Wife—General News—Fourth Page—Brevities—A Two Hours with Professor Lowe—Excitement at Berlin—Road Arrivals at the Principal Hotels—List of Letters Remaining in the Philadelphia Post Office—Sale of Stocks, &c., on Saturday.

The News.

The steamship Hungarian arrived at Quebec on Saturday night, bringing four days later news from Europe. The chief news is, that the Emperors of France, Austria, and Sardinia met at Zurich on the 6th instant to perfect the treaty of peace agreed upon at Villafranca by the Emperors Napoleon and Francis Joseph. Nothing, however, had been made public respecting the proceedings, and the Zurich Conference—the representatives—namely, the Marquis Banneville, assisted by M. de Bonnefons, Chief Secretary of Foreign Affairs, and Chevalier Desambrois, on the part of Austria, and Chevalier Desambrois, on the part of Sardinia, had been privately received by the Emperors of Austria and France, and by the Ambassadors and Ministers of Europe. The representatives of Great Britain and Prussia were not present. The Austrian Ambassador was received on board the ship on the 5th instant by the Prussian Ambassador, and was saluted with twenty-one guns