Pennsylvania Agriculture. The preparations for the Ninth Annual Ex-ibition of the Pennsylvania State Agriculfural Society, to be held in this city, on the grounds northwest of the Market-street bridge, on the 27th, 28th, 29th, and 20th of Septen ber, are rapidly progressing and the exhibition promises to be an eminently dicessful one. The list of premiums is very large and liberal, as it embraces fifty four classes of articles, and uite a large number of different speci-nens in each class. Thus, inducements are held out for the display of nearly every article of agriculture or of domes-tic manufacture produced in our State; and all who feel a laudable pride in their products will have an opportunity of testing their excellence by a comparison with the nu-

The attack of the New York Herald on Frankattested and confirmed by appropriate preminims if they merit them.

Pennsylvania almost possesses at this day the first rank among the agricultural States of the Union. She is certainly, we think, entitled to claim a position as the second agricultural State, and if her natural advantages are properly developed, we believe that she can become the first, and permanently hold that ank against all competition. bly less elevated by his position than any of his predecessors. During his residence in Washington the White House was the centre of hospitality the personal organ of his successor, James Buchanan.

The reflection suggested to my mind is thie: if,
Mr. Buchanan had been as lofty and as bold in his denunciation of James Gordon Bennett, of the which was 26,552,814 bushels. Our product of Indian corn exceeded that of New York, but fell far behind that of Alabama, Georgia, IlliHois, Indiana, Kentucky, Missishpi, Missouri, Mortil Carolina, Tonnessee, and Virginia. Our product of buckwheat was 2,193,692 bushels—a much greater quantity than that produced by any other State except New York, which yielded 3,183,955 bushels. Our hay crop alabanded to 1,842,970 tons—a much larger products, than that of any other State except New York, which products, than that of any other State except New York, which yielded 3,728, 797 tons. Our product of clowerseed was 125,030 bushels—a larger quantity than any other State produced. Our product of butter than any other State products, than that of any other state was nominated for President, in 1855, Bennett opposed rewised at this feet or his support, and is now infinitely disgraced by for his support, and is now infinitely disgraced by the connection.

Talking of Franklin Pierce and James BuLoss $100,000. chanan—the one w, and the other out, of power—one thing proves that there is something in human gratitude after all. The men appointed to office by Franklin Pieve, great and small, never speak of him save with sentiments of respect and gratitude—including the very few still retained under the present Administration. You never meet an old office-holder under Pierce who does not speak of him almost with tears in his eyes. If this fact could be conderised into an enitanh, it would be could be condensed into an epitaph, it would be enough to write over his tomb. What of those ap-pointed to office by James Buchanan? He is cheated by all. There is hardly one that entertains an emotion of gratitude for him. Each one 4,000,000 more of acres of improved land feels as if a spy was set upon his actions, and in their consideratial moments they do not hesitate to more of unimproved land, than Pennsylvania; when they personally dislike. The contrast is suggestive. Ir will be seen by an advertisement in another column, that McElroy's Philadelphia City Directory for 1800 will be issued in due season. Upwards of twenty years' experience, with determination an industry, give to Mr. McElroy great advantage in and which was continued until September I, was resumed yesterday.

The continuance of the case, it will be remembered, was granted for the purpose of allowing a witness, said to be material, on the part of the Union School and Children's Home, to return, she at that time being out of town; and also for the respondent to make a more perfect return to the writ.

Yesterday morning, an amended return to the writ of habeas corpus was made by the officers and managers of the institution, setting out that they had bound the child to a person residing in the State of Delaware under powers granted them by an act of Assembly, approved the 12th day of May, A. D., 1857.

The counsel for the guardian of the child offered A. D., 1857.

The counsel for the guardian of the child offered evidence to show that the child had been improperly placed in the institution, it not "being descrited or neglected by its parents."

He argued that the officers of the institution had no power, under the sot of Assembly mentioned in the return to the writ, to bind the child out to any person, whether within or out of the State of Pennsylvánia, as the child did not properly come under their charge by the constitution, &c., of the corporation.

The Great Eastern.—Mr. Yates, the secretary to the Great Eastern Steamship Company, in anhouncing that the offer of Mr. Lever to charter the vessel for $20,000 for a trip to America and back has been declined, states that the ship is not open for charter at presont, the views of the directors having undergone no change eince she became the property of the company. It is officially announced that the Great Eastern is to leave the Thames for the Norce on the 3d of September, and that she will proceed thence to Portland, Dorsetishire, from which place she will make a trial trip on the 8th, to a distance, probably, of 500 or 600 miles. She will then be propered to start on the 15th on a direct voyage to the United States—Portland, in Maine, being the harbor to which she will proceed. On this occasion passengers will be carried at fares ranging from £18 to £25, and many, applications for beths are said already to have been received.

The belief is gaining ground that Louis Napoléon will not force the banished dynasties on the Italian Duchies, and we incline to this belief ourselves; but it is also tolerably evident that he has no desire to see them annexed to Piedmont, which is their dwn desire. Victor Emmanuel must be content, apparently, with the Brize which he has gained in the possession of Lombardy. So far the people in the Duchies have conducted themselves admirably, and it would be cruelly to deprive men who have shown so much aptitude for solf-government of that liberty of which they have proved themselves so, worthy. Even the Invalde Rivers has daught the spirit of progress, for it advocates Italian independence, and denounces the Treaty of Vienns.

This authority is of opinion that France and Austria may come to blows again unless the Italian question is sottled on a large and liberal basis. In connection with Italy, it is important to know that Cardinal Antonelli is now out of office, and the Roman Pontiff is shortly expected to announce reforms which the Emperor Napoleon has forced on his attention. But, perhaps, the most remarkable intelligence, from Italy is the position which General Gairbaldi has assumed at the head of the army of Contral Italy. He has under him, it is said, no less than 40,000 mon—a force which may give the Austrians some trouble if an appeal to arms should be again nocessary. At Bologna a decree has appeared, which declares that all citizens, without distinction of religion, are equal in the eyes of the law, and entitled to equal privileges—a large and just admission. Now York is the great centre of all this gambling speculation, and from Wall street, as a centre, it radiates over all the land. The reaction, when it comes, begins in Wall street; there the bubble bursts and the explosion is first felt, but, in its results it embraces a wide range, comprehending, in the suffering it occasions, the innocent with the guilty, the fair-dealing and honorable with those who only "make haste to be rich:" Hence it is, that we feel glad to notice that the people of Philadelphia resist the example set by New York in reentering the circle of gambling speculation. While we rely upon our known resources, our solid wealth, and our unequalled industrial supports, we cannot fail to accumulate strength and capital, and every day that our moneyed men keep themselves and fail to accumulate strength and capital, and every day that our moneyed men keep themselves and their means free from entanglement in stock speculation, is a day gained for the real progress and welfare of the city.

We have the Bankers' Magazine for Septembor, published in New York, by J. Smith Homans, Esq: The present is an excellent number, well filled with information of great use for those engaged in banking and financial affairs generally.
