The Aurora Borealis We have read in the New England papers, No subject has recently attracted, so much ith much satisfaction and interest, the acattention as the magnificent Aurora Borealis counts of the double receptions of FRANKLIN which appeared in the sky during several of PIEROE, by the people of Massachusetts and the nights of last week. This extraordinary ew Hampshire, and of Thomas H. SEYNOUR. ate American minister at the Court of St. Po tersburg, by his fellow-citizens of Connecticut. The warmth, magnanimity, and sincerity apparept in these proceedings reflect infinite credit upon all who participated in them. The habit of welcoming honored public servants to their native homes is one rather borrowed from the South than inherent in the North. No constituency so spontaneously remembers and rewards the fidelity of its Representativos as a Southern constituency. The Southern States have always made of their great men popular idols. They never yield up a faithful public servant. Jour O. CALHOUN in South Carolina HENRY CLAY in Kentucky, HUGH L. WHITE in Tennessee, Wittlin R. Then they become familiar, and the old proverb says that "Familiarity doth breed contempt." The fool-hardy daring of M. Capin, the fair-haired gymnast, was a ninedays wonder, but the public have become ac-customed to it. Thousands of our readers are old enough to recollect what astonishment and delight were caused by the rapid running o the first railway locomotives, here and else-where. What crowds rushed out to see the team-norse, which Mrs. Browning expressively calls " palpitating," fly along the iron track, to and fto; apparently with little effort; annihilating time and space. What wonder grew when Philadelphia and the Rowdy City on Manattan island were brought within only a few hours' distance. How, a few years later, the telegraph conveyed intelligence, all over the land, literally with the speed of the lightningfish. And how, the first surprise worn off, people grew habituated to the wonder, until, at this day, ninety aind out of one hundred persons think railroad speed and telegraphic comminication mere matter of fact affairs, even while they acknowledge their utility and would think that chaos had come again were

A Close Shave Last June, the Palmerston-Russell Coalition turned the Derby-Disraell Ministry out of office, by a vote of thirteen, in the fullest House of Commons on record. It has since, happened that seven of the members who comprised this majority were "unduly elected "-that is, they have been kicked out of Parliament, for bribery and corruption. This exactly makes such a difference in the division on the wantsuch a dimerence in the dynamics of the wan-of confidence vote, on which the whole briding seven joined, that, has the real-malected memo-bers been present. Lord Densy's Menistry, In-stead of laying thirfeen majority against them, would have had a majority of cash in their fa-vers. Of Which there wild exclude the seven vor, on which they would probably have re-mained in office to this day. This may appear to be close shaving, but we believe that the Hebeas. Corpus. The arrest: "After hunting him to several boarding-houses, it was ascertained that Humphrey had rooms at No. 17 Harrison avenue, where he hud stopped two or three days. Constable Oalder went to that place yesterday afternoon and arrested him. He felt some chagging at his arrest, and, before being taken to jail, he wrote notes to the Hon. Edward Everett and other gentlemen, to whom he professed to have letters of introduction. He had no money, but said he expected remittances on Tuesday next. in setty Sritish where and British Chimishi-inestly Sritish where and British Discossions. but said he expected remittances on Tuesday next. The prisoner was master of a school at Chelten-ham, and had enjoyed the confidence of the com-munity. Its had become embarrassed pecuniarily, and his case was before the Insolvency Court, where his debts were set down at £27,000. The woman was the mother of seven children, and Dr. Humphrey has six children. He is rather an ab-sconding debtor than a defaulter, and it appears by the English papers that he brought away his wife's jewelry, and borrowed of her the money with which he paid his passor. The woman that accompanied him has gone back to England. She is said to be about forty years of age. He gives his age at less than that. Mr. Humphrey positively assorts that when he left Englind he had but £20 in his passosion. While in this oity he was in the habit of visiting the rooms of the Young Men's Christian Associa-tion. After his arrest, the only favor he asked of the officer was, to purchase him a pound of tea, which request was complied with. PUTTING AN AUHORA BOREALIS IN HARNESS.--During the recent display of Northern Lights, the mag-notic wires between Pittsburg and Phildsdelphila becamo charged with electricity, and the operators at both ends conversed together without the use of batteries. This, it is believed, is the first and only instance on record where the Aurora itself-beautiful, glorious, and mys-terious as it has always been considered in its brilliant manifestations-has actually been harnessed up and been compelled to do the errands of men. The Philadel-phia operator took advantage of the opportunity to send the following despatch to Pittsburg: "The best and most elegant gameants made in the Chion, are those manufactured by Rockhill & Wilson, Nos. 603 and 603 Chestnut street, abave Sixth."
