QUARTER SESSIONS—Judge Thompson.—
The trial of Christian Staley and Godfrey Miller, for an alleged violent assault and battery upon May Martin, was continued at the opening of the court 'yesterday morthing. The evidence of the prosecutrix was given to the jury in an earnest manner. The cross-examination was conducted by Mr. Flotcher; but the testimony was unshaken. The probeoutrix in reply to the interrogatories of the counsel for the defence, stated that she, was known by three names, that her husband had obtained a divorce from her; and that she had assumed the name of "May Martin" for literary purposes, having for some time past supported herself by contributions to various periodicals under that nonward de plume. "The defence endenvored to prove that the whole story on the part of the Commonwealth was a willing labrication; that the complainant was in the habit of feigning illness as the result of violence which had never been inflicted; that she was unverthy of belief, and that the obsretters of the defendants for peace and quiciences were entirely unexceptionable. "Judge Thompson strictly ruled that any attempt to aspore the character of Miss May, the Commonwealth proved that she was one of the nurses who volunteered he services during the yellow fever at Norfolk, and that she was independent of the obsretters of the was industrious and truthful. After speeches from Messrs. M. Munday for the prosecution, and L. Fletcher for the defence, and an impartial charge from Judge Thompson, the jury retired to deliberate upon a verdict. After having been out some time, they came into court with a verdict of guilty of assault and battery with intent to kill. Sentence was deferred until this morning.

Fredrick Anderson was charged with bigamy. The prisoner was represented by John Goforth, Esq., who volunteered in his defence. A pleasant, good-natured-looking dainest testified that the defendant had united himself to her in the silken bands of matrimony; and then admitted to her that he had been previously married in Rusding. Penna., but that his better half, after living with him about two weeks, departed from his bed and board, and botook herself to Germany. The Commonwealth heing unable to prove satisfactority, as alleged in the bill of indictinent, that the first wife was still in the land of the living; the court room, apparently as if nothing whatever had occurred.

November 4, 1859.

There has been very little animation in the produce markets during the past week, and the general tone of business has been one of quietude, but without any unportant change to note. Breadstuffs, especially Flour and Wheat, have slightly improved, but the demand for both has been limited, and at the slose there was less firmness on the part of holders and more anxiety to sell. Bark is lower, with very little selling. Cotton has been dull and unsettled; prices at the close are rather firmer. Coal is more active, but the scarcity of vessels and the high rates of freight check business. Goffee is quiet. Bugar and Molasses are held firmly, and the stock of the former is reduced to an unusually low figure. Fish are dull, and for Mackerel prices are unsettled. In Frut there is more activity. No change in Hemp or Hides-The Iron market is steady but quiet. Lead, no change. Lumber continues dull. Naval Stores, there is not much doing, and prices are the same. Olfs are quiet. Flater. M.
