Letter from New York. OVERWAYS IN THE CORPORATION OF TRINITY (HURCH: ST. JORN'S PARK NOT TO BE SOLD: MINISTERIAL CRANCES—THE LOVERTISING AGEN-CT OF S. M. PRITENGILUS CO.

Trinity Church is among the largest business cor-porations in the city, and under the management of the present vestry, its temporalities are con-ducted with administrative ability of the highest order. Prominent in the vestry are Gen. John A Diz, and John J. Cisco, Esq., Assistant U. S Preasurer. You may have noticed, recently, the daily journals, certain rumors relative to the proposed sale of St. John's Park, a small park, on Twenty years ago the residences fronting the park but the universal resh, up-townward, of this class has taken from it most of its value as a pleasure ground. It is now preity well beamed in by stores and warehouses, and in a few years what oth of blory gldstivent taum nismes seems dwelling demands of trade. The fee of this park is in Trinity Church, and the vestry can at any moment dispose of it, provided consent be onting upon it. This coment can, without sould be materially enhanced if the park were thrown into market for business purposes; but the estry last week resolved that, for the presen they would not sell. To do so would doubliess make seriods inreads upon the congregation of St. John's chapal, which is in a very flourishing con-dition, (last year its confirmations were larger than were ever held in any church in America, in any one year,) and materially diminish the merfulness of its day school and its Sunday schools, the latter which at present contain over one thousand lovernor Brown, for the purchase of it by Goernment for the purpose of erecting upon it a suilding of sufficient dimensions to accommodate he post office, United States courts, and officers of he Federal Government; that would have kept the park whole and diminished objections to the ale. But the Governor thought it was perhaps a little too far up, and a little too much on one side of the town, to meet the public wishes, and so the natter dropped.

While speaking of Trinity Church, I may as well mention two or three changes that last place in its clerical staff. Dr. Vinton, who has fer ome time been a senior assistant minister at St Paul's chapel, is transferred to Trinity Church. Dr. Halght, who has been a senior assistant a t Tri he transfer being mutually agreeable; and the Rev. Mr. Dix (recently elected assistant rector) is raised to the rank of a senior assistant, with the full salary of that position, (I think $4,000.) It is atended. I hear, on the part of the rector (Dr. Berrian) and the vestry, to sustain Dr. Vinton in cer tain important and extensive plans he has devised for elevating Trinity Church to that position which its magnificence as a building, the historical promi-nence and interest of the parish, its fine chiral re-sources, and its great wealth seem fairly to denand. The work could scarcely be entrusted to a head, heart, and hand more cape!
