When vice prevails, and impious men bear sway, hepost of honor is the private station. This, we presume, will settle the question of authorship for ever. In the Home Journal, as sentioned by our correspondent, the last line alone is given, as a motto to some stanzas entitled "The Retired Politician," con cluding thus:

Most esteemed above all men
Is the private citizen,
(He is one.)
For his talents he devotes

JEFERSON.
The aphorism, "the woman who deliberates is lost," has generally been attributed to the famous Duc de Rochefoucauld, who put great deal of worldly wisdom into sentention expression. It has something of the ring of is thought and language. But it really occurs in "Cate," Act IV., Scene I., and is supposed to be uttered by Marcia, a young lady of considerable frozen propriety, the daughter of Talking of quotations wrongly affiliated, we may mention the well-known expression, masterly inactivity," worthy of the political brewdness of Talleyrand, which is generally attributed to John C. Calhoun. The expres ion, we believe, was first used by the late Sir James Mackintosh, the constitutional lawyer who replied to Burke's attack on the French Revolution, and soon after made, as a lawyer, he memorable defence of Peltier, presecuted or a libel upon Napoleon Bonaparte, First longul, in which he attacked the prosecuto ven more effectively than M. Peltier had done The liberal views expressed in Mackintosh's "Vendicice Gallice," recommend ed him to Fox and the Whig party, but he subsequently forfeited the confidence of the ultra leaders of that party, by accepting the Recordership of Bomhay, and the title of Kuight, from Mr. Pitt. Among these was the celebrated Dr. Pare, who has been sarcastically characterized as "a Brummuagen John-cally characterized as " ed him to Fox and the Whig party, but he cally characterized as "a Brummagen John-son." This podantic patriot and petulant partisan declared, when Mackintosh replied to Burke, "In Mackintosh, then, I see the ternness of a republican, without his acimony, and the ardor of a reformer, without his impetuosity. His philosophy is far more ust and far more amiable than the philosophy tive without sophistry, fervid without fury, refound without obscurity, and sublime without extravagance." After Mackintosh had accepted the Indian Judgeship, which gave im a large income during the seven years he held it, and a pension of $3,000 a year, which he received for twenty-two years, (to his

The Gottschalk mustosl festival was to take place at Havana, on the evening of the 16th of January. Every place had been taken the day beforehand.

A pain of elephants had arrived at Havana per steamer from New Orleans, in fine order, for Chialing Circus: and, from there not having been an discoveries, supposed to be very rich, were being daily made. A PAIR of elephants had arrived at Havana per steamer from New Orleans, in fine order, for Chia-rini's Circus; and, from there not having been as-clephant in Cuba for twenty years, it was supposed the elephantine fever would rage terribly for some It is rumored in England that the engagements of Muo. Piccolomini terminate in March, and that she will then leave the stage, in accordance with the wish of her family.

Miss. Sidnows, a lineal descendant of the grest actress, and pupil of a leading tragedian, recently retired into Dorsetshire, is about to appear on the stage as Lady Macbeth. Mr. W. Cooke, for several years manager of Astley's Amphitheatre, London, is soon to retire. MR. CHARLES MATHEWS has recently purchase a bandsome villa in the neighborhood of London and furnished it elegantly in the French style. A GREAT MUSICAL DEMONSTRATION, lasting several days, for which preparations are thus early being made, is to take place in June next at the Crystal Palace, Sydenham, in which between 3,000 and 4,000 members of the choral societies, will take part. The supervision and services of M. Eugene Delaporte, president and conductor of the Association des Urpheomistes in Paris, have been already secured. been already secured.

on the oral argument, we inclined to think the point made by the appellant well taken; but, on the point made by the appellant well taken; but, on the point made by the appellant well taken; but, on the point made by the appellant well taken; but, on the point made by the appellant well taken; but, on the point made by the appellant well taken; but, or the point of the appellant to send to the District country, to compel him to send to the District of country, to compel him to send to the District of country, to compel him to send to the District an indictment against the appellant of the Foarth district an indictment against the part of the Poarth district an indictment against against duelling. (Bate of 1835, p. 152.)

The indictment charges the fighting of a dual, by agreement of defendant, with David C. Broderick, and the death of Broderick as the result of the sentence of the court of Seasions jurisdiction of this effence thus charged? And this question depends upon the construction to be given of various attantes.

By statute organizing the Courts of Seasions, (Wood's Dig., 132.) It is provided that this court what jurisdiction to try and determine all indictions in the part of the provision of the statute.

By statute organizing the Courts of Seasions, then, is, is the offence with which the defendant is the offence of murder, within the meaning of this provision of the statute. The point is not whether fighting a duel with a fastal result so like other party is, mersilly, murder, or whether it is defined by which the latent of the laten or merselly.

MINING EXCITEMENT IN ELDORADO COUNTY.—
The discovery of rich surface diggings near Spanish Dry Diggings, six miles west of Georgetows, a few days since, produced something of an excitement. The discovery was made by Robert Shaunon, an Irishman by birth, and formerly a citizen of Wayne county, Pennsylvania. The main lead is a kind of decayed quarts, and where first struck a half a bushel of the loose quarts yielded sixteen ounces without being crushed. The lead is located on a hill side, and the mining ground around it is considered extensive. The news of the discovery brought most of the people from Spanish Dry Diggings to the place—among them quite a number of women. Of course, disputes followed, but the original discoverer was secured in his rights. We saw a gentleman last night who visited the place day before yesterday, and he fully confirms the report. He knew of an interest in one of the claims to sell, while he was there, for $2,000 to actitizen of Georgetown. Quite a rich lead, too, has been struck on Marmaluke Hill!, which is only about a mile from Georgetown.—Sacramento Union.

This act was amended in 1855, (Statutes, p. 152,)

This act was amended in 1855, (Statutes, p. 152,) so as to make the provision more stringent in respect to the principal, but not including seconds; but the purport of the language defining the offence is substantially the same as the provision quoted. There are several other provisions of this act of 1855, which place pecuaiary burdens gand responsibilities upon the duclist; when life is not taken, (as in section 3,) but when the antagonist is maimed, there is a provision; these provisions are penal in their character, and to be construed responsible. The offence in the statute is not for atilling; the offence is the fighting of the ducl, with certain results. It is this which gives character and definition to the crime. It is true that the offence is not complete, so as to be within the first minent Kastern clergyman, is shortly to make her debut as an actress at the National theatre, Cincinnati.

THE LIBERTY OF THE BOLQUET.—The Gazetts de Thurgorie says that, not long ago, a bouquet was thrown to a danseuse in one of the theatres at Venice, made up of the three colors of Italian independence—red, white, and green. She picked it up and kissed it. For this she was summoned before the police authorities, and ordered thenceforth to trample on all bouquets which might be thrown her. This order got abroad, and next-night there was thrown a beuquet of the Austrian colors—black and yellow. In obedience to the order of the police, she trampled it under her feet, while the house was shaken by seclamations of applause.
