Jews in the Austrian Empire. The tortoise may reach the goal earlier than the hare, after all, as old Æsop said, long ago. Austria is really carrying out some of the reforms which FRANCIS-JOSEPH promised last year. Such, for instance, is the partial eman cipation of the Jews. An imperial decree dated Vienna, February 21st, concedes to the Jews of Lower Austria, Moravia, Silesia, Hungary, the Volvodina, and the Banat, Croatia, Slavonia, Dalmatia, and the littoral districts, the right of possessing real property. They cannot, however, exercise the rights of patronage, jurisdiction, or scholastic representation attached to such possession. They may become agricultural proprietors if, in compli-

Mr. Wheatley playing half the character of Charles Surface or Young Mirabel, and Mr. Dolman coming in and playing the other part!

Of the female singers, we need particularly mention only Mrs. Reed and Miss Shaw—they colipsed the others, and we have neither time nor space for more than a giance at the performance. Mrs. Reed, it seems to us, has the finer voice and the more artistical execution—but she does not sing as if she felt the fall meaning of the sentiment and music as Telt the fall meaning of the sentiment and music as Miss Bhaw does. She sang "Come ever-smiling Liberty" very clearly and sweetly, and, even yet better, the air, "Ah! wretched, wretched Israel"—the chorus to which was finely given. Miss Shaw's "Wise men, flattering, may deceive you," was a finished performance, worthy of the applause which greeted it; but we submit to Mr. Carr Cross, Conducted the Selection of the Selection of

We had another evidence yesterday of the manner in which the peculiar friends of the Administration in the House treat the important interests of Pennsylvania and other States, upon the propositions of Mr. Morrill, asking leave to introduce a bill in the House, the object of which was the payment of the outstanding treasury notes by a loan, and the regulation and fixing of the duties on imports, and for other purposes. From what I have heard of this bill, it is generally acceptable to our friends, and if massed, would have given event have heard of this bill, it is generally acceptable to our friends, and if passed, would have given great satisfaction; and yet, upon the motion to print and refer to the Committee of the Whole, the only Administration men who voted with the majority were Florence and Montgomery, of Pennsylvania, and Whitely, of Delaware. Let me do our old friend Florence the justice to say that I believe he is always disposed, whonever
