The election of delegates, by the Democratic citizens of Philadelphia, to Conventions to nominate city and ward officers, will take place in the several precises on Monday alternoon hext: These nominations are of the highest out scopilon, stand ready to vote for the bill as it has been reported from the Committee of Ways and Means, and under the amended rules a speedy and favorable vote may be expected upon it. Let importance to the citizens, and it is very desi-rable that they should be fully attended by every member of the party, and judicious Henry, D., Fouter, the Democratic candidate for Governor of Pennsylvania, who is the known and devoted friend of the iron interests of that State, and whose election the Southern politicians are anxious to accomplish.) come to Washington in comdelegates chosen. A Mayor, Solicitor, Comptroller, Tax Receiver, and City Comm are to be elected; as well is a host of ward officers, counstlinen, assessors, collectors, action directors, So. The delegates elected on Monday me required to meet on the Tucs-day following to make these monipations. On the election of these officiers in this city this spring may depend the election of the Governor of the State in October, and the resident of the United States in November The contest, therefore, will be one of great interest. Each party will put in nomination their best mon; and none others, if they are
