EFF Some years ago, says the Petersburg Prese, a lady residing in Pennsylvania sent hard only child a son; to Europe, to look after estain property that had been bequeathed to her by a relation in Belgium. The sum was a large ope, and would have placed her far beyoid the necessity of labor. The property was secured, and the son wrote home that he would return in the steamer Pacific, with the finide obtained from its sale. The Pacific never resched the shores of America, and it was supposed that: all on board of her had perished. The old lady was inconsolable for a long white, but finally softened her grief. She removed to Petersburg, and for a long time has been noted among her immediate neighbors for her industry and sharity. On: Thursday: last a stranger called upon her. He was beared to the eyes, and his mien betokened one who had seen much of the world. She received him kindly, and he bogan to speak of her son. She recognised his voloc—the well of years was lifted from her eyes—the olden time came back to her like a long forgotten drasm, and she know her offerring. His history is readily related. He did not leave in the Pacific, but was taken ill, is London with the billons fever. During his stokness he was robbed to France. Finding no employment, he made his way to Ruzsis, where he obtained a situation upon one of the Government railway, then under the subsequently disposed of at a large profit. He then repaired to England, where he expoused the hone: After honsiderable effort he found her in nour city, and on Monday last left for the North, whence he will shortly take passage for Europe.

The imperial throne was at that time filled by the celebrated Taiko Sama, who had risen from the hamblest position, and who possessed an unusual amount of penetration and decision of character. Observing the progress of the Spanlards in the Philippines, and urged forward by the priests of the ancient feligions, his predecagor had begin to show marked dislike towards, the missionaries. Feerful of bad consequences, the Christian princes, in 1584, decided to send an embassy to the Pôpe and the King of Spain; accordingly, four Japanese of the highest rank were fortiwish despatched on that errand. They were favorably received at Rome and Madrid, traversed the greater part of Italy and Spain, and returned highly delighted with their treament and what they had seen.

Unfortunately, a short time afterward Samitands died, and affairs began to wear a gloomy aspect. The Emperor despatched two commissioners to Father. Chello, vice provincial, saking, why the Obristians were foreing their creed on subjects of the Empire? why they had destroyed temples and persecuted the bonness? why they consumed meful suimals for food? and why they consumed meful suimals for food? and why they carried away his subjects and sold them in India as slaves? To some of these evasive answers were returned; but the first and last were admitted. Indeed, the Fathers beated of having leveled three thousand temples or their idelatous adifices to the ground. An adial against propagating the new faith followed, and in 1587 some twenty-five or thirty persons were executed. All the missionaries at the same time ware expelled, and forbidden to return to the sometry. PORT OF PHILADELPHIA, April 17, 1860.
