THE METHODIST GENERAL CONFERENCE.-The following speech was delivered before this body, now in session at Buffalo, on the 25th inst, by Rev. now in session at Baffalo, on the 25th inst, by Rev. J. C. Murphy, of Philadelphia:

Bev. J. C. Murphy, of Philadelphia; asid this compared with many of his breithren on the floor; he was but a young man, but his Conference had nevertheless deemed him worthy to represent it on this floor. The question has been asked, shall slavery be extirpated from the Church? and the question seesires; from what place shall slavery be extirpated? He denied that 'alavery existed in the Church. The legislation of the Church has always been in favor of smandpation; both within and withcet the Church. For seventy-six years the question, his been asked by the Church, "What shall he done for the extirpation of alavery?" and sway, day the Church. But for this testimony this had been been the summany more would have been held in bondage than at yrisent, and many more of its members would have been alave. The action proposed, which is likely to bring us into direct collision with the taws of the Seathern States, now free, would have been slave. The action proposed, which is likely to bring us into direct collision with the taws of the Seathern States causes some misgivings in the mands of the majority.
