Mr. MASON, of Virginis, offered a resolution looking to the despatch of business, which was adopted, reappointing the late standing committees; also directing that all business pertaining to an excentive character shall be relarred to them, with the like power possessed heretofore. The Scante them proceeded to the consideration of executive business.

The business of the Senate to-day was exclusive

Actuch interest is expressed relative to the treaty between the United trates and Spain providing a commission for the settlement of the pending plaims on the part of both countries. It contains a clause to pay for the Amistad negroes, an ap-propriation for which purpose has been repeatedly pressed on the 'consideration of Congress by the President, as a matter of justice, as well as a more-mont sending to produce a more friendly feeling between the United States and Spain. It is under-tood that a motion has been made to strike out his slouse, It is not believed that this can pre-all, but its rotention may joopard, if not cortain-y deleat the ratification, which requires a two-hid work

In addition, the Merican and two Indian trea-ties are ponding. As to the former, there is not much prospect of its railfloation. The Nicaragian treaty was amended so that an American military force cannot be used without the provious arsent of the Congress of the United States for the protection of the transit, and for other purposes. There was no marked contest as to any of thes broatles, which were ratified by nearly a unanimous vote. After several hours spent in secret session, the Senate adjourned.
