News liem Italy. Two statemers from Genos, having on board 800 well-senied volunteers for Gant BALDY, having been captured by a Neapoli-tal frigate. Sardinia demands their restoration. because these . "passengers" had passports for Malia. One steamer had the Sardinian flag; the other carried the American. The English Ambanador at Naples supported this demand. The loss will be serious to Gamp. Garibaldi Preparing for an Attack on the Main Land. Wain Land. BALDI, because, in addition to the 800 volunteers, there were on board 25,000 muskets, 82 cannon, 2,000,000 pounds of powder, and a large sum of money. Ammunition and arms are what GARIBALDI most required.

GABIBALDI was organizing his army, and was about convening a Parliament, under the Constitution of 1848, which would decree that was about convening a Parliament, under the Constitution of 1838, which would decree that the Bourbons had ceased to reign in Sicily, and that VICTOR EMMANUEL should be acknow, ledged as its sovereign. GARIBALD, it was believed, was preparing for an attack upon the Kingdom of Naples proper. The King continued to hold out hopes of a new Constitution, but no Italian hopes of a new Constitution, but no Italian places the slightest reliance on the promise of a Bourbon-whether voluntary or extorted by fear and the proximity of danger.

BF We are indebted to the politeness of Captain CHARLES KERLIN, of the bark Elf, of E T. A. Newhall & Son's line, for late Rio Janeiro papers. The gallant Captain, we are glad to announce, has made remarkably quick runs to and from Rio.

Public Amusements.

"The Naisd Queen," a singularly attractive speciacle, which has been got up with no small degree of display and splendor, is now performing at the Arch-street Theatro. Mrs. John Drew and Mr. J. S. Ciarke have the leading characters, and the piece will have a few woeks' profitable run. MoDonough's Gaieties, Race street, closes this wening, with a variety of performances draw matio, wood, instrumental, Ethiopian, Irish, English, American, burlesque, saltatory, and so on. In the burlesque of the "Stranger," old Dan Gardner will appear as Mrs. Haller. Sharpley as the Stranger, and T. A'Bocket as Peter. Mr. Mc-Donough closes a very profitable season, with the satisfaction of having honorably paid his way all through, besides realizing a large profit for his enterprise

The Rev. W. H. Milburn will this evening, at Concert Hall, repeat his capital lecture, "What a Blind Man Sate in Rogland," after which, Peale's "Court of Death " will be gratuiteusly exhibited to his audience.

Letter from Harrisburg.

Datance of The Frem.] HARRISBURG, June 28, 1860.

HARRISSURG, June 28, 1860. The nomination of Douglas and Johnson is en-thusiastically received by the Democracy of the capital city. But few sympathize with the Secce-sionists, and although the organ of the National-Administration here dare not show its true colors. Administration here dare not show its true colors, we believe the editors are for Douglas at heart. Pablie patronage, however, holds its rod over i them, and they are swayed by visions of the "lowres and fishes." We are confident that long before the election they will come out for the "Little Giant." Our city is Douglas all over, and the lase of next November will show the largest majority ever given for a Demooratic President. Testistive fire took place near the county prison in the livery stable of F. K. Swarts. So rapidly was the spread of the flames that nine valuable horses, with a number of carriages, were desiroyed. The Prinkline House continuous to the stable and a with a number of carriages, were destroyed. The Franklin House, contiguous to the stable, and a small dwelling house near by were nearly con-sumed "head the morning not been so caim the destruction to property would have been immense. As it is, 83,000 will cover the loss. The fire was the work of an incendisry, and several rewards are offered for his detection. This swaning, the seventh annual commencement of the Fennsylvania Female College took place in the M. E Church, in Locats street. That spacious ediffer was literally crammed with the beauty and intelligence of our city. After prayer by Rev. F G. Miles of the Baptist Church, the following addresses by the graduates ware read: "Conre-crated Spota," Thesis, with Salutatory Address, by Miss Margie E. Righter, of Columbis: "Life's a Struggle for something unstatued," by Miss Margie Z. Righter, of Columbis, "Strein through Time's Telescope," by Miss Emma L. MRMOIRS OF THE PARISIAN POLICE FROM LOUIS XIV TO LOUIS PHILIPFR.—BY JACQUES PROCHET — The translation of this thrilling and very in portant work from the French of Jacques Peuchet has been satisfac-torily completed, and it is now in course if publication in the United States Police Grazette. We have no hesi tation in saying that no memoirs of a similar kind have svor been placed before Americans readers which em-body so much historically valuable information and ro-mantic adventures, and such ourious and exciting reve-lations. Peuchet was for a time-keeper of the records of the police of Paris, and had the best opportunities for collecting the romarkshile documents of that renowned devertment. Included in the sories of sketches will be found the unveiled mysteries of the Court, astonishing exploits of the detectives, and starthug pictures of Pa-ristan soc.et at different periods. To whole of these memoirs will be em nently worthy of preservation and readers of all classes should not fail to avail them-serves of ac rare an opportunity to gain amusement and SUIT TO OBTAIN THE CUSTORY OF A CHILD. -ORSAURDS, Judge Allison, gave a decision in scase which was heard refore him on the Salurd y prevents, on a with of habess corpus, brought by the mother of a little gir, about f ur years of age, to obtain possession of the child.
