According to our custom of presenting to the readers of True Passs a fair transcript of everything that transpires in the world around us, we surrender a great portion of our space to the polities intelligence of the hour. From our special reporters in New York and Camden, and from our regular staff of phonographic reporters in Phila-delphia, we are enabled to lay before our readers aphic reports of the Douglas dem New York, a similar demonstration in New Jersey nee Sentare to take setion on the nomination peodence square, to take . The New York meeting which took place at Tammany Hall was over-whelmingly enthusiastic. Ex-Mayor Tiemann prespeeches were delivered by Ex-Senato Q. W. Jones, Senator Pugh, and others equally eminent. After the meeting Judge Douglas was perenaded at the Fifth Avenue Hotel. The meeting of the Camden Democracy was large, and states? Their only satety is to be found in smeng the speakers we notice John Campbell, of keeping the election of President out

The meeting of the Secusionists was a bold effort, and will be remembered in history as the resisting the Disunion element, because it is first attempt to plant the tree of Disunion in Philsdelphia. Certainly the seed of no such upas tree the new Congress a number of American Rewill ever take root in the holy ground of Independence Square. The speakers were James C. Vandyke, Charles J. Ingersoll, Mr. Springfield Armory Wright, of Massachusetts, (one of the bolters.) Gen. Jo Lane, Hon. Humphrey Marshall, of the contingency of referring the decision Kentschy, and Gen. Waul, of Texas. Mr. Josiah of the Presidential question to the pre-Randall asked leave to print his speech, which was sent Congress. Every movement in the free readily granted. The resolutions, which were not States that looks to the encouragement of adopted, and which Mr. Ingersoil, only after much Breckingings and Lane is a preparation persuasion, could be induced to say he considered to be adopted, will be found to be of a thoroughly.

d extremely Southern nature. We have further particulars in relation to the bratal murder of two citizens of New York, on Saturday evening. The cause of the murder is attributed to domestic disturbances. One of the alleged perpetrators of the orime surrendered himself into custedy yesterday moraling.

The referees on the insurance of the Pemberton Mills (the disaster attending whose late demolition, sent a thrill of horror throughout this nation) have awarded to its owners damages for insurance to the amount of $93,875, being nearly 224 per cent. on the cost of construction. We have a very scant budget of news from Washington. Congress has adjourned, the ladies are at the summer resorts, and the capital is almost deserted. Among other things, we are told the Democratic politiciens there have abandoned all hope of effecting any accommodation what
