They declare any change will be better for them, and that they will confide no longer in those who have been hard paymasters while in power, and who will not be any mor trustworthy, now that their official tenure is rapidly expiring. The Washington people argue in this wise : that the whole community has faller into the Lands of a set of leaders who had convinced themselves that by no possibility could they over be displaced, and that, thus believing, they have assisted the present Administration in all of its follies. Under their influence, hundreds of the first people here have been thrust aside, society has been controlled by a close Administration cotorie and none were admitted into the charmed circle who would not worship the Administration and its oracles. I have more than once called attention to the treatment extended by Mr. Buchanan and his sup-porters to the Republican members of Congresswening. to his refusal to invite them, according honored usage, to the White House, and to the social war waged upon Judge Douglas and his friends-all of which clearly prepared the way for the scenes which marked the opening of the las session of Congress. This exclusive spirit exhi-bited towards the Representatives of the people in the National Legislature was manifested against hundreds of the oldest and most respectable residents here. VAN BUREN, Ark., October 13.—After a regi-mental muster, which was held here to-day, a dif-ficulty cocurred, during which three men named Rufus and Jackson, (brothers.) and Richard Cov-ington, (a son of the latter.) were killed by two brothers named Bilas and Ben. Edwards. Several others were badly cut and injured on both sides. An old foud existed between the parties, but the Edwardses, who have long been the terror of this part of the State, wore the aggressors. While they were trying to make their escape, they were over-taken a short distance from town by the constable and his posse and lodgod in the jail. A largo crowd nearly succeeded in taking the prisoners from the constable and hanging them upon the street. They afterwards surrounded the jail for that purpose, but were finally pacified.
