There was a fatal accident at Scranton, Pennrivania, yesterday. A coal car, containing anmher of miners, was thrown down a declivity miners were instantly killed, while two others were so injured that their lives are despaired of. Both branches of Councils held a meeting vesterday. The Select branch was engaged in considering the public buildings question. Mr. Wetherill endeavored to have the proposed buildings located on Penn Square, but this proposition was lost, by a vote of 9 years to 12 nays. The Chamber then determined to place them on the Walnut-street front of the square, by a vote of 13 to 9. The resolution was then passed, with a provise that the buildings should not cost over $400,000. I learn that it is the intention of Judge Douglas, in the speeches he proposes to make in the far South, to handle the dangerous heresy of dismion without gloves. His efforts will undoubtedly result in great good to the country. The conserva-tive men who have drooped under the incessant appeals of the Disunionists to the passions and prejudices of the Southern masses are buoyant with hope at the news of his coming. They know with what unshaken courage he met and overthrew the Northern fanaticism which assailed him at Chicago after the passage of the Kansas-Nebraska bill, and they have an abiding confidence that at Atlanta, Mobile, and other Southern cities, he will expose and frustrate the tressonable designs of the Breckin ridge leaders. He has thrown himself boldly into the contest, careless whether his chances of elec-tion to the Presidency are great or small, and he North. At the Winter Garden Theatre, New York, his success was so great, and so very much beyond that which all theatrical professionals fancied it would be, that, the manager of one of the leading houses there considered it to be morely a peculiar stroke of good luck, and offered to bet Mr. Anderson that in six weeks stay in Philadelphia he would not take half the sum he took in New York. The bet was accepted. Now, in Gotham Mr. Anderson had a large theatre; here, he has one of our halls. His sixth week terminates on Saturday week, and from what we hear and the smile in the Wizard's eye when the affair is mentioned, we deem the bat—a preity heavy one—to be already won. The exoursionists came home by way of the Philadolphic and Trenton Railroad, and arrived at the Konsington depot about half past nine o'clock—about one hour later than was expected. The delay was caused by the train in which they were on board being compelled to walt at Princeton and Trenton for trains coming in an opposite direction. The escort in homor of the Republican campaign clubs of the city, was drawn up in line on Frankford road for more than an hour before the arrival of the train. The scene presented was very brilliant. The men were equipped in their uniform caps and capes, and each man carried a lighted torob. Besides this, there were numerous transparencies in the line, and music in abundance. On the arrival of the excursionists they marched out from the depot in fall sections, with music playing, and passed down the line till they reached the southern end of it, when a halt was made, and the procession was formed in the following order:
