WOUNDED.

The steamer Wm. L. Levy, Captain Puckett, the steamer Wm. L. Levy, Captain Puckett, is in a flourishing condition. We notice on the list of the opposite College Point, was halted by the steamer H. R. W. Hill, on Wednesday night at about 12 e'clock. The WOUNDRD.

(From the N.O. Delta, Nov. 2d.)

The steamer [Vin., L. Levy, Captain Puckett, hence for Alexandria, when opnosite College, Point, was halled by the steamer H.R. W. Hill, on. Wednesday night at about 12 e'clock. The Levy ran alongside, and ascertained that the Hill was in distress, baving exploded the third boiler from the inrebard side. sm H B Grubb Landsator Harrig & La Baltimore Antongiors: Toto Floo Koo K Walket & Chi G Hoo K Walket & Creen, New York Hannanta, Havana a Telesias, & La, Mexico E Small, York, Pa & Maquadin Pollen, New York as M Smith, Virginia Ownseni, N H FREEMEN, TO THE POLLS !- To the polls, freemen! At the time of the explosion there was a head of steam on varying from one hundred and twenty to one hundred and twenty five pounds to the square inch—the usual power—but owing to the fact that below Australia Landing the Boat had run over a stump, knocking a hole in her, hull, and no doubt thereby affecting the Bollere, this explosion may be conjectured. The engineer, however, told us that the boller head is made of cast tron, and bears the mark of an old crack on the rim where it was severed from the main boiler.

The explosion is of a curious character. The boiler-head is driven out only from the upper part, and doubled over in its centre, having the appearance of a circular book-cover half closed. When the explosion took place this boiler-head was only partly bent over, consequently the steam and water escaped upwards in great force, and broke the floor of the seloon and damaged some of the state rooms. As the steam and water gained body; but buy your garments at the Brown-Stone Clothing Hell of Rookhill & Wilson, Nos. 603 and 605 Chest-nut street, above Sixth. t nutstreet, above Sixth.

Do Right.—"A man that has a soul worth sixty pence must have enemies." It is utterly impossible for the best man to please the word, and the sooner this is understood, and a position taken in view of the fact, the better. Do right, though you have enemies. You cannot bescape them by doing wrong; and it is little gan to batter away your honor and integrity, and divest yourself of moral course to gain—nothing. Better abide by the truth, frown down all opposition, and rejoice in the feeling which must inspire a free and independent man, clouded in the beautiful and seasonable styles of Grandillo Stokes, the celebrated clothier, No. 607 Chestnut atreet, who presents to each purchaser a valuable gift and water seased upwards in great vitted, and broke the floor of the saloon and damaged some of the state rooms. As the steam and water gained egress, the pressure against the boiler-bead caused it to fall over as already described, and then the sisum and water took a borizontal course, dashing in the greatest fury aft over the cotton bales, where some forty-five persons, deck passengers and all hands, all Irishmen, wore sleeping.

From Mr. Johnson, a passenger, we learn that on Wednesday night at 11 j o'clock, the after head of the boiler above described blew out, passing, with its contents, (ateam and water,) entirely through the engine rooms, killing the second entirely through the engine rooms, killing the second entirely through the striker, both of whom were on watch, and also killing some thirty or forty deck hands and passengers, slee badly wounding fifty or sixty incre.

None of the cabin passengers were injured except Mr. Lohman, he having his right hand slightly wounded. FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL The Money Market. PHILADELPHIA, November 6, 1860. There were no changes of note in the prices of tooks at the Board to-day. Bohemian is moving again, 100 shares having been sold for 8 cash, and 100 at $\frac{1}{2}; seller 30 days.

The money market is well supplied with capital for first-class paper, but holders keep back from anything not of the best character. The bank dividends are declared as follows The bank dividends are defended by the bank of the ban copt Mr. Lohman, he having his right hand singlely wounded.

The officers all escaped without injury.

The barber, G. W. Scurry, of Nashville, and Charles Hagger, of Nashville, jumped overboard and were drowned.

Mr. Glidden Marks, of New Albany, was instantity killed. 'Heary Fower, of Memphis, was considerably scalled, but not dangerously.

Some of the bodies were entirely kinned, and present a horrible sight, like highly colored Indians. Others are stripped of skin in various parts, presenting a fearful appearance.

Last night wa visited the Charity Hospital, and found that one of 'the sufferers had breathed his last, dying in excessive agony.

The others in the hospital, some of whose names are savertained to be John Maily, Patrick Parle, John Hacket, are doing as well as it is possible under their painful condition; still, one of the sufferers had breathed his the loss of life, and beyond the boiler and the small destruction to the saloon floor, she is searcely sinjured.

The New York Post, of last evening, says:

"The stock merket is rapidly regaining its clasticity and strength, and the rounding of the distunion gong has ceased to exert an influence. The dealings to day are marked by decided buoyency, and the success of the Republican ticket is the chief topic of the market. Every department of the list responds to this feeling, and speculative shares are isl per cent. better, and in some cases 2 per cent. bearing is indicessed in proportion to the velocity of rotation, since the fission the disc turns the greater is the quantity of water carried up with it. The brass bearing and the axis are greased to prevent oxidization; and a greeze box is attached to be in readiness if anything interferes with the owning of the spheratus.

This system of inbrication has been tried on two of the leading English railroads. The boxes of one eas, after running ten thousand miles, were found not to kere lost any weight, while brasses of one eas, after running ten thousand miles, were found not to kere lost any weight, while brasses and in the ordinary manner—the English never use oil on axis journals—had lost six and a chaff ounces in weight made; the same service. The water boxes had run even thousand miles without being replenished with water. Not only is the cost of oil and grease saxed, but the absence of wear in the boxes shows that the friction souce of wear in the boxes shows that the friction for every much less than with grease. The pages without being replenished with grease. The pages with the friction souce of wear in the boxes shows that the friction for every much less than with grease. The pages of the page of the Were of Railwar Car-Pheris.—An examination made last year, on the Reading Railroad, in England, showed that, of all the wheels in me on all descriptions of care since 1852, the average wear had been that of 58 094 miles before the wheels were renewed. The life of the wheels under the passenger cars was ascertained to be 117,708 miles, a fact which not only shows the superiority of the wheels used under passenger cars, as compared with those under freight and coal cars, but also the advantage of good springs—those under the passenger cars being much the easiest on the road. The coal trains have been run at from 8 to 15 miles an hour, the passenger trains at from 25 to 46 miles. The results as to wear, were carefully ascertained, and are of value to other railroad companies. BETWEEN BOARDS BECOND BOARD. SECOND BOARD.

R Greanwich, Rhode Island, where he had been passing the summer. He began life as a sailor before the mest, and worked his way up till, in 1818, he was appointed to the command of the chip Remittance. The vessel was lost some two years afterwards, and Captain Holmes then built a vessel of his own, with which he made trips to New Orleans. His daring amounted to recklessness in the satiling of his vessel, reasted troubles between himself and the underwriters, which finally induced him to abandon active service on the sea. He then—in 1823—entered into business as a chipping merchant. In 1837 he suspended, but embsequently, paid his oreditors in full. He was interested in various railroads and cannie, and it the time of his death was worth nearly $306,000. Philadelphia Markets. Now mere & Evening.

I have no controversy with you nor any further olepate with your reporter; nor would I add another word on a subject which I am sure must, by this time, be as distanted to you as it is unpleasent to myself, were it not for a card which speared in your columns of yesterday, obliging me ettier to cubmit in silence to an impessionment of versoity, or say a few words in scepty. I choose the latter as the least disagreeab alternative, and without further words proceed to may: That I have just returned from Kennett Square, whither I had gone to make inquiries on this subject; that I learned there that many, if not most, of the signers of the card referred to were unknown to the oldest inhabitants of the place; that several of them were quite young hoys going to school, and that at least two of them had not heard the speech in regard to which they testified. I called on Mr. Chandler, whose name heads the list, and he sendidly admitted that he had read hastily the report which he effirms to be correct; that he had signed the speer by request; and that he had juver seen Mr. Parvis' note, the truthfulness of which the card bearing, his signature so positively denies! I called also on the gentleman understood to be the author of the card, and he, with equal candor, admitted that he had not remember whether the language ascribed in The Press to Mr. Purvia was the precise language used by that gentleman or, not; and added that the report, so far as it concerned himself, (for he, the reputed author of the card, had been a speaker also at the meeting), was entirely incorrect, and misrepresented his language, his spirit, and his sentiments!

Now, I submit, these things being so, and they will not be danied, that the case stands just where it die. before this Kennott Equare card appeared; and there, so far as The Press is concerned. I am willing to leave it. A Note from J. M. McKim. New York Markets Yesterday. Sie35° by Southern and Jersey, and 372380 for NOTHE-ern and Western.
