THE SECESSION MOVEMENT.

THE FEELING IN CHARLESTON.

CHABLESTON, Nov. 15 .- Another tremendous demonstration took place to night to welcome the Charleston delegation. Institute Hall was mag-nificently adorated by the indice with motices, ban-ners and Palmetto branches, and crowds thronged ners and Palmetto branches, and crowds thronged in and avound it.

Addresses of welcome were presented amid deafening cheers, and State Senators Porter and Lecesne, and Representatives Buist, O'Connor, Whitley, Frenholm, Yeadon, Pope, Ramsay, Simonton, Coffin, and others, delivered stirring addresses, all breathing the sentiment that there was no alternative left South Carolina save instant secession or efemal disgrace and ruin.

In the course of the proceedings Meyor Macbeth, who presided, read a despatch from General Booham, announcing that he was ent of the Union, having resigned his seat in Congress. The news was received with a burst of enthusiasm.

They are now at about 300 florins (2f. 50. each) the quintal, and the best sorts of Bo-hemia have been sold at 370 florins. This extra-ordinary rise was caused by English firms having given orders to purchase without any limit to price; but many of them who bought when prices were low are now selling at the high quotations instead of exporting. There is a growing tendency in this age to appropriate the most expressive words of other languages, and after a while to incorporate them into our own; thus the word Cephalic, which is from the Greek, signifying "for the head," is now becoming popularized in connection with Mr. Spadling's great headsohe romedy, but it will soon be used in a more general way, and the word Cephalic will become as cammon as Electrotype and many others whose distinction as foreign words has been worn awar by common bases," until they seem "native and to the manor born." MJ. Headache is the favorite sign by which nature makes known any deviation whatever from the natural state of the brain, and, viewed in this listh, it may be looked on as a safeguard intended to give notice of disease which might otherwise escape attention, till too late to be remedied; and its indications should never be neglected. Headaches may be classified under two names, viz: Symptomatic and diopatine. Symptomatic Headache is exceedingly common, and is the precursor of a great variety of diseases, among which are Apo plexy, Gout. Rheumatism, and all febrile diseases. In its nervous form it is sympathetic of disease of the stomach. constituting sich headache, of hepatic diseases constituting bilious headache, of worms, constipation, and other disorders of the bowels, as well as renal and interine affections. Diseases of the heart are very frequently occasion headache. Idiopathic headache is also very common. being usually distinguished by the name of nervous headache, sometimes coming on suddenly in a state of apparently sound health, and prostrating at once the mental and physical energies, and in other instances it comes on lowly, heralded by depression of spirits or accretity of temper. In most instances the pain is in the front of the head, over one or both eyes, and sometimes provoking vomiting; under this class my also be named Neuralia.

No one of the "many ills flesh is heir to" is so prevalent, so little understood, and so much neglected as Costiveness, often originating in carelessness, or sedentary habits. It is regarded as a slight disorder, of too little consequence to exoite anxiety, while in reality it is the precursor and companion of many of the most fatal and dangerous diseases, and unless carly eradicated, it will bring the sufferer to an untimely grave. Among the lighter evils of which Costiveness is the neural attendant are Heisdache. Colle. Rhaumagrave. Among use inner evils of whom Costiveness is the usual attendant are Headaobe, Colic, Rheumatism, Foul Breath, Piles, and others of like nature, while a long.train of frightful dizeases, auch as, Malignant Fevers, Abcesses, Dysentery, Diarrhoas, Dysepsia, Apoplexy. Epifepsy, Paralysis, Hysteria. Hypochondrissis, Melancholy, and Insanity, first indicate their prevace in the system by this alarming symptom. Not unforceastly the ligeases award originate in Contheir pressions in the system by this alarming symptom. Not unfatquently the diseases named originate in Constitution, but take on an independent existence unless the cause is eradicated in an early stage. From all these considerations, it follows that the disorder should receive immediate attention whenever it occurs, and no person should neglect to get a box of Cophalic Pills on the first appearance of the complaint, as their timely use will expel the insidious approaches of disease, and destroy this dangerous fee to human life.
