Mr, Dixon's researches in the State Paper Office have brought to light facts which are of the utmost weight in freeing the character of Lord Bason from the aspersions cast upon it by former biographers. The new and precious letters which Mr. Dixon has discovered in a famous old baronial residence near London, are of great importance in forming a just estimate of Bacon's domestic character. These letters wore written to his nother; to his brother Anthony, to Sir Robert Cecil, and to his numerous celet rated friends, and are new for the first time published. The circumstances of Bacon's court LADIES, MISSES, AND CHILDREN MUST BE PEREMPTORILY SOLD. time published. The circumstances of Bacon's court-iding and marriage are amply related by Mr. Dixon, rom Documents hitherto unpublished. This book will be welcomed far and wide as a valuable addition to bio-NOTICE TO INTENDING PURCHASERS.—The usual One-Price System in force at this establishment will be abrogated for the space of One Month, in order that, should any garment be inadvertently omitted to be reduced in price to the lowest acceptable amount, any offer for the same will be considered, and, if at all practicable, adjusted to the satisfaction of the purchaser.
