A Plan for Pacification. [For The Press.]
If you will give, through your columns, a hearing to one unknown to the press, and whose avocations are at the greatest remove from anything of a public nature, but who shares with millions of his countrymen the deep anxiety felt in the present position of February, 1861, five or more of the States of this Union shall, for whatever cause, wish to withdraw from this Union, that they be permitted to do so peaceably, on such terms as may be agreed to by the remaining States; and if no agreement can be arrived at between the parties, that it be submitted to the arbitrament of three of the great European Powers, each section to name one of those Powers for umpire, and the Powers thus named to name a third; and that their decision be submitted to as final in respect of the terms of separation.

It is admitted on all hands that, if we must separate, we had better do so peaceably. It is equally clear that secession is not provided for in the Constitution does not anticipate its own destruction, but it is founded upon the will of the people, with the following among its principal objects: To promote the general welfare, and secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity. Washington, in his Farewell Address, speaks of it as the offspring of our own choice, uninfluenced and unawed, and containing within istelf a provision for its own amendment.

terity. Washington, in his Farewell Address, speaks of it as the offspring of our own choice, uninfluenced and unawed, and containing within itself a provision for its own amendment. And in the Declaration of Independence it is asserted, as a first political principle, that governments derive their just powers from the consent of the governed; that whenever any government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the right of the people to alter or abolish it, and to institute a new government, laying its powers in such form as shall seem to them most likely to secure their safety and happiness. Should our Government, then lose its hold on the confidence and affection of the people generally, because it is not deemed promotive of their welfare, the life-bloed is withdrawn from it, and it grown. the people generally, because it is not deemed promotive of their welfare, the life-bloed is withdrawn from it, and it grows feebler, until, according to the organic law of its institution, it becomes defanct. The platforms are distinctive grounds between the Republican party and their true opponents; the Breckingalge Democracy were exclusive of the interests of the different sections. The question, then, was, Since partiality was to be shown to the interests of one section or the other. then, was, Since partiality was to be shown to the interests of one section or the ether, which section do you prefer should have the benefit of it—your own section or the oppo-site one? Under protest against such a statement of the question, but shut up to an answer—yes or no—I voted, as did my coun-trymen at large, for the interest of my own section.

what we ask, then, is a cessation, by truce, of the menacing and coercive attitude assumed by the two sections, in respect of each other. So that any conclusion arrived at shall not wear a dishonorable, suspicious, and delusive appearance, and there will be no difficulty through Conventions of the people, irrespective of party, in arriving at a cordial agreement and understanding that will be satisfactory to ory to death throes of dissolution, to die of suffocation because it cannot discover a precedent for admitting the fresh air? It might appear to the wise on reflection that, even without such an emergency, the time had come for this nation to take her place among the Great Powers of the civilized world. Our position is already such that we can afford to dismiss all apprehensions with regard to maintaining our standing in such company. Our faterests, like theirs, extend to the ends of the earth, and it is time that a world Government should be formed. How soon, then, might swords be beaten into ploughshares, and spears into pruning hooks!

shares with millions of his countrymen the deep anxiety felt in the present position of our national affairs, I would like to suggest a proposition, opening a path of deliverance. The first our present difficulties, not encumbered with the objections alleged against the propositions that have been principally discussed.

It looks towards solving the problem in a different way.

It would have submitted to the popular vote of the different States the following proposition, so that, if it have the requisite majority, it may have the sacredness of a constitutional amendment:

promotive of their welfare, the life-bloed is withdrawn from it, and it grows feebler, until, according to the organic law of its institution, it becomes defunct. Whilst the heart of this people responds to its requirements, our Constitution is a magnificent crown of glory on the head of this nation; but should it lose their hearty support, it becomes but a collection of withered leaves, hateful in the eyes of all beholders.

withered leaves, naterial in the eyes of all or holders.

Consider the proposition, "If, after the lapse of one year." It is felt universally that what is most needed is time and opportunity for the Union-loving and conservative spirit to assert itself. With such an opportunity, it would quell, almost without an effort, everything of an opposite character.

I venture to assert, boldly and unhesitatingly, that the leaders of neither party, nor of both combined, represent the true sentiments of the body of the American people. This grows out of the necessity they were under in conducting a campaign against opponents, of making their position clearly distinguishable from their respective antagonists, and the issue presented to this people practically was nothing more nor less (unless they preferred to throw away their votes) than a choice of alternatives between two sectionalisms.

It is my firm conviction that there was not an alloy of five per cent. of those who voted the Republican ticket who did so because of county. The Natchez Free Trader announced with immense exultation the secession of Mississippi from the Union, and, strangely enough, surmounted its paragraph with the stars and stripes of the Union! THE DATTERIES ON THE MISSISSIPPI. THE DATERIES ON THE MISSISSIPPI.

The Llouisville Journal is informed by a respectable Kentuckian direct from Vicksburg, that the object of the batteries erected at that point by the State authorities of Mississippi is to obtain possession of the steamer Silver Wave, from Pittsburg, upon which it was said that United States ordnance was to be transported to the South; and probably to prevent the passage of Federal troops. The same informant says that three of the military companies of Mississippi were in charge of the battery, and they withdrew it from the shore on Tuesday last and seized the United States hospital, which they are new occupying. are new occupying.

By agreeing to abide by the decision of referees; they will be put in such a train that the public mind can rest in the assurance of peace at all events.

It is contrary to the policy and precedents of our Government to submit to foreign intervention; but unusual circumstances may necessitate an unusual course of action. Correspondence of The Press.] NEW YORK, January 23, 1861. Our export trade goes on magnificently. Last week, the total of domestic products sent abroad amounted to $2,756,311—a million and a quarter more than in the corresponding week of 1860, while the aggregate, since January 1, reaches $7,775,490, or nearly three millions more than i the same period last year, and five millions mor than in the first three weeks of 1859. This grea activity imparts unusual animation to everything in the vicinity of the wharves, and lights up the countenances of shipping merchants and speculators in breadstuffs with a smile almost celestial. The speech of Mr. Clemens, of Virginia, in the House of Representatives, has produced a pro-found sensation and impression. It is regarded as the best effort for the Union that has yet been made in the popular branch of Congress, and is looked upon as significant of the position that will be assumed by western Virginia if a struggle shall Contral Park presented an unprecedented ap-pearance yesterday. Yesterday there appeared among the money magnates of Wall street, Mr. Baylor, an agent of planters in Georgia, South Carolina, and Mississippi, who comes hither to see if he can make some arrangements for moving the cotten crop. Events at the South have so completely disarranged the usual machinery of trade that planters cannot obtain an advance, at home, of a dollar, or even insure their cotton, and unless some means of raising money can be devised here, they must be reduced to distress unprecedented. can be devised nero, they must be reduced to dis-tress unprecedented

New York is having a hearty guffaw over the "capture of the Brooklyu navy yard." It seems, after all, that some wag started the affair as a "sell," and worked it up with great ingenuity and sencess. The officer who happened to be in command at the yard, Captual Foote, as demonstrative Republican, and did what little he could to help on the joke, for the benefit or his party. He made a ridiculous blunder, however, in bringing the Brooklyn military into the matter, I than a boutseven hundred United States troops, that could have been transported to the yard in thirty minutes' time, and nobody been the wiser. Great place, this, for big jokes!

The stringency of the times has exerted a frosty influence on the vetsan Wallask, who a little time since suspended work on his new theatre, for the want of certain representatives of value. Yesterday a few of his friends—ten in number, I think—clubed together, advanced one thousand dollars each, and with that the game old individual will be apt to push forward the edifice to completion. These ten gentiemen were inhabitants of that ourlous region called Wall streat, where the human affoctions are known to be developed in the largest manner.

THE AMALGAMATION OF LANGUAGE.—There is a growing tendency in this age to appropriate the most expressive words of other languages, and after a while to incorporate them into our own; thus the word Cephalic, which is from the Greek, signifying "for the head," is now becoming popularized in connection with fir. Spading's great headache remedy, but it will soon be used in a more general way, and the word Cophalic will become as common as Electrotype and many others whose distinction as foreign words has been worn away by common usage, until they seem "native and to the manor born." 'ardly Realized.

MISCELLANEOUS.

REINSTATE THE BLOOD IN ALL ITS ORIGI-Hi 'ad 'n arrible 'andoche this hafter H1 'dd 'n orrible 'eadaohe this hafternoon, hand f stepped into the hapothecary's, hand says ht to the man, "Can you hease me of an 'eadache?" "Does it haohe 'ard?" says 'e. "Hacceedingly," says hi, hand upon that 'e gave me a Cephalic Pill, hand 'pon me 'dnor it oured me so quick that I 'ardly realized I 'ad 'ad an 'eadache. MEF HEADACHE is the favorite sign by which nature makes known any deviation whatever from the natural state of the brain, and, viewed in this light, it may be looked on as a safeguard intended to give notice of diaease which might otherwise eache sthotion, till too late to be remedied; and its indications should never be neglected. Headaches may be classified under two names, vis: Symptomatic and idiopathic, Symptomatic Headache is exceedingly common, and is the precursor of a great variety of diseases, among which are Apoplexy, Gout, Rheumatism, and all febrile diseases. In its nervous form it is grownshelt of disease of the stomach, constituting sick headache, of worms, constipation, and other disorders of the bowels, as well as renal and uterine affections. Diseases of the heart are very frequently standed with headaches; ancemis and plethors are also affections which frequently cocasion headache. It is precisely what its name indicates, for while pleasant to the taste it 's revivifying, exhibitating and strengthening to the vital powers. It also revivines, reinstates, and renews the blood in all its criginal purity, and thus restores and renders the system invulnarable to attacks of disease. It is the only proparation ever offered to the world in a popular form so as to be within the reach of all. usually distinguished by the name of nervous headache sometimes coming on suddenly in a state of appa rently sound health, and prostrating at once the ments tion ever effered to the world in a popular form so as to be within the reach of all.

Be chemically and skilfully combined as to be the most powerful tonic, and yet so perfectly adapted so as to act in perfect accordance with the laws of Nature, and hence soothe the vecakest stomach and tone up the digestive organs, and all sy all revous and other irritation. It is also perfectly exhilarating in its effects, and yet it is never followed by issestude or depress on of spirits. It is composed entirely of vegetables, and those thoroughly combining powerful tonic and soothing properties, and consequently can never injure. As a sure preventive and cure of and physical energies, and in other instances it comon slowly, heralded by depression of spirits or accrebit of temper. In most instances the pain is in the from of the head, over one or both eyes, and sometimes pro voking vomiting; under this class may also be named Neuralsia. Voking voiniting; indust this class that, and the Co-Neuralista.

For the treatment of either class of headache the Co-phain. Fills have been found a sure and safe remedy, relieving the most soute pains in a few minutes, and, by its subtle power, eradicating the diseases of which headache is the unerring index.

Bridsst.—Missus wants you to send her a box of Cephalic G'ue; no, a bottle of Prepared Pills—but I'm thinking that's not just it naither; but perhaps ye'll be afther knowing what its. Ye see she's nigh dead and gone with the Sick Headache, and wants some more of that same as relaived her before.

Drussist.—You must mean Spalding's Cephalic Rills. Pills,

Bridget,—Oah! sure now and you've sed it. Here's the quarther, and giv me the Pills, and don't be all day about it, aither.

Constipation or Costiveness.

TRAVELIERS should have a bottle with thom, as it will infallibly prevent any deleterious consequences following upon change of climate and water.

As it prevents contiveness, strengthens the digeative organs, it should be in the hands of all persons of sedentary habits.

LADIES not accustomed to much out-door exercise should shways use it.

MOTHERS not accustomed to much out-door exercise should shways use it.

MOTHERS should use it, for it is a perfect reliof; taken for a month or two before the final trial, sho will pass the dreadful period with perfect ease and safety:

There is no mistake about it!!

THE CORDIAL IS ALL WE CLAIM FOR IT!!

MOTHERS, TRY IT!!

And to you we appeal, to detect the illness or decline not only of your daughters before it be too late, but also your sons and husbands, for while the former from false delicacy, often go down to a premature grave, rater than let their condition be known in time, the later are often so mixed up with the excitement of business, that if it were not for you, they, too, would trave; in the same downward path until it is too late to arrect their fatal fall. But the mother is always quisibnt, and to you we confidently appeal; for we are sure your never-falling affection will unerringly point you to PFOF. WOOD'S RESTORATIVE CORDIAL AND BIOOD RENOVATOR as the remeded.

A Real Blessing.

Physician.-Well, Mrs. Jones, how is that heads Thy Jones.—Well, Mrs. Jones, now is that headacher Mrs. Jones.—Gone! Doctor, all gone! the pill you sent oured me in just twenty minutes, and I wish you would send me more, so that I can have thein handy.

Physician.—You can get them at any Druggist's. Calfor Cephalic Pills. I find they never fail, and I recommend them in all cases of Headache.

Mrs. Jones.—I shall send for a box directly, and shall tell all my suffering friends, for they are a real blessing.

WWENTY MILLIONS OF DOLLARS SAVED .- Mr. Spale ing has sold two millions of bottles of his celebrated Prepared Glue, and it is estimated that each bottle saves at least ten dollars' worth of brokenifurniture. recolaimed from total logs by this valuable invention Having made his Gine a household word, he now pro poses to do the world still stoater service by ourne al the aching heads with his Cephalio Fills, and if they are Over excitement, and the mental care and anxiety moident to close attention to business or study, are among the numerous causes of Nervous Headache. The disordered state of mind and body meldent to this distressing complaint, is a fatal blow to all energy and ambition. Sufferers by this disorder can always obtain speedy relief from these distressing attacks by using one of the Cephalio Pills whenever the symbioms appear. It quiets the overtasked brain, and soothes the strained and jarring nervoes, and relaxes the tension of the stomeon which always accompanies and aggravates the disordered condition of the brain.

Fact wourn knowing.—Spaiding's Caphalic Pills are a certain ours for Sick Headache, Bilious Head-ache, Norvous Headache, Contiveness, and General Dability.

GREAT DISCOVERY .- Among the most important all the great medical discoveries of this age may be considered the system of vaccination for protection from Small Pox, the Cephalic Fill for relief of Head-ache, and the use of Quinine for the prevention of Fevers, either of which is a sure specific, whose benefits will be experienced by suffering humanity long after their discoverers are forgotten.

23 Did you ever have the Sick Headache? Do you remember the throbbing temples, the fevered brow, the loathing and disgust at the sight of food? How, totally unfit you were for pleasure, conversation, or study. One of the Cephalic Pills would have relieved you from all the suffering which you then experienced. For this and other purposes you should always have a box of them on hand to use as cocasion requires.
