

The Press

WASHINGTON CORRESPONDENCE

LATEST NEWS BY TELEGRAPH TO THE PRESS FROM WASHINGTON.

Letter from "Occasional," (Correspondence of the Press.)

WASHINGTON, March 1, 1861. After a long and severe winter we seem to be in the midst of spring, as well in regard to affairs as to the weather.

Prospects of Trade. The gradual breaking away of the clouds which for the last three months have darkened the political firmament, is hailed by everybody as the dawn of returning prosperity.

After all, under the most favorable circumstances, the spring trade, in its lateness, will necessarily be light. Houses trading more exclusively with Pennsylvania, and the West may meet with success.

As nearly all the territory south of the line of 36 deg. 30 min. belongs to New Mexico, a great increase is felt in the probability of her institutions when she forms a State Constitution.

ROYAL EXILES FROM GERMANY. By the simple process of emptying the Alamo de Gokos into our columns, we could easily make a long and imposing list of persons to be taken into consideration.

GENERAL NEWS. The Secretary of State has received from the Legislature an abstract of the State census. The total population is 617,024.

Special Despatches to "The Press." MR. LINCOLN'S CABINET. I have good reasons to believe that Mr. Lincoln's Cabinet will be constituted as follows:

THIRTY-THREE MEMBERS AND EIGHTEEN REPUBLICAN SENATORS OF THE LEGISLATURE OF PENNSYLVANIA have protested against the appointment of Mr. Cass, of Ohio, as Secretary of the Treasury.

REJOINER OF HON. JOHN B. FLOYD. The Governor and ex-Secretary of War John B. Floyd, of Virginia, has just received a rejoinder to the notice of his removal from office.

THE CONSTITUTION. This noteworthy institution, which has been the subject of much discussion and debate, is now being re-examined.

REINFORCEMENTS ORDERED. A COLLISION IMMINENT. THE VOYER FOR SEVERSON. NEW ORLEANS, March 1.—Delivery advised that Capt. Hill, in his reply to the Texas ultimatum, has refused to surrender Fort Brown.

REINFORCEMENTS ORDERED. A COLLISION IMMINENT. THE VOYER FOR SEVERSON. NEW ORLEANS, March 1.—Delivery advised that Capt. Hill, in his reply to the Texas ultimatum, has refused to surrender Fort Brown.

BOTH CONGRESS—SECOND SESSION.

WASHINGTON, March 1, 1861. MR. WILSON, of Virginia, presented a petition from the people of the State of Virginia, praying for the admission of the State into the Union.

MR. WILSON, of Virginia, presented a petition from the people of the State of Virginia, praying for the admission of the State into the Union.

MR. WILSON, of Virginia, presented a petition from the people of the State of Virginia, praying for the admission of the State into the Union.

MR. WILSON, of Virginia, presented a petition from the people of the State of Virginia, praying for the admission of the State into the Union.

MR. WILSON, of Virginia, presented a petition from the people of the State of Virginia, praying for the admission of the State into the Union.

MR. WILSON, of Virginia, presented a petition from the people of the State of Virginia, praying for the admission of the State into the Union.

THE CITY.

ARRIVALS AND DEPARTURES. MR. WILSON, of Virginia, arrived in Philadelphia on Monday morning.

MARKETS BY TELEGRAPH. NEW YORK, March 1.—Cotton closed at 18 1/2. Sugar at 11 1/2. Coffee at 17 1/2.

MARKETS BY TELEGRAPH. NEW YORK, March 1.—Cotton closed at 18 1/2. Sugar at 11 1/2. Coffee at 17 1/2.

MARKETS BY TELEGRAPH. NEW YORK, March 1.—Cotton closed at 18 1/2. Sugar at 11 1/2. Coffee at 17 1/2.

MARKETS BY TELEGRAPH. NEW YORK, March 1.—Cotton closed at 18 1/2. Sugar at 11 1/2. Coffee at 17 1/2.

MARKETS BY TELEGRAPH. NEW YORK, March 1.—Cotton closed at 18 1/2. Sugar at 11 1/2. Coffee at 17 1/2.