THE WAR EXCITEMENT.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

NO MORE FORBEARANCE.

[From the Harrisburg Patriot and Union.]

Time makes all things even. The secession movement has reached a point of audacity where it must be humbled, in order that we may live side by side as neighbors in peace. Further forbearance would only invite future aggressions. Peace must be received by the seceded States as a gift—not extorted by violence.

NOW IS THE TIME.

[From the Baltimore Clipper.]

Now is the time for Union men to prove their devotion to the Union. The Government has called for volunteers, chiefly from the Border States, North and South. In this contingency Maryland will not be found wanting, for her destiny is with the Union our fathers made and their sons must preserve.

SECESSION IS REVOLUTION.

[From the Baltimore Patriot.]

We regard this work of secession as unconstitutional, revolutionary, and altogether unnecessary. While we claim for the Southern—the seceding States—their equal and just rights in the Union, and will be satisfied with nothing less, we are obliged in the view of common justice, to denounce their secession from the Union as an act of impropriety, and their inauguration of civil war as unchristian, unpatriotic, and barbarous, and their march upon the national capital as a scheme of madness that ought be checked with such an overwhelming force as would prevent the possibility of a contest. In the Union we are prepared to contend for their rights to the last; out of it, we regard their position as false and unnatural, and unworthy of their boasted chivalry or patriotism.

WHAT SHOULD BE DONE.

[From the New York Tribune.]

We have a civil war on our hands—there is no use in looking away from the fact. For this year, the chief business of the American people must be proving that they have a Government, and that freedom is not another name for anarchy. Hundreds of thousands must be temporarily drawn away from passaful and productive avocations until this point is settled—drawn away just at the time when labor is wanted to sow and plant for the ensuing harvest. But those who will be left behind must work the harder and plant the more, since years of war are usually years of dear bread. Farmers! employ all the help you can get, and put in all the crops for which you can seasonably and thoroughly prepare the ground, for a season of scarcity is probably at hand. Let each do his best toward preparing for it.

THE COUNTRY TO BE SUSTAINED.

[From the Doylestown (Bucks co.) Democrat.]

The contest is now upon us, and let us meet it like men. Let the country be sustained at all hazards. Let it not be said that twenty millions of freemen in the North permitted the National Government to be destroyed by less than one-fourth of that number in the South. We hope to see the whole power of the nation put forth to crush out this rebellion in such manner that it will be remembered for all time to come. The conduct of the rebels will have the effect to unite the whole population of the free States in support of the Government. Northern passions are hard to subdue, but when once fully aroused, we betide those against whom they are directed. The South has brought the calamities, which will be sure to follow, upon herself, and no sympathy or aid from her will be manifested no longer. The contest, in all probability, will end in the destruction of negro slavery, and the ruin of all her interests.

UNION IS PROTECTION.

[From the Louisville Journal.]

When Cardinal Richelieu drew around the form of Julie de Mortimar "the awful circle of the holy church" to shield her from the pollution of the King of France, he did not wake up a power more potent than that with which the Constitution and the laws of the United States have encircled and protected the domestic institutions of the South. The French courtiers deferred to the power which Richelieu invoked, but some Southern friends scorn and contemn the great protection which has heretofore been an egis to them. Julie was saved, but will the institution of slavery be strengthened by dissolving the Union?

THE DUTY OF UNNATURALIZED CITIZENS.

A correspondent asks us what is the duty of unnaturalized immigrants now among us with regard to the civil war impending, and wherein that duty would be affected by naturalization. We answer, Every alien is under the same obligation as the rest of us to obey the laws, respect the duly-constituted authorities, and expose the machinations of rebellion and treason. So far, the duty of all residents is the same, and every step is to be put to death for acts of treason the same as though he were naturalized. But every citizen, whether native or naturalized, is under obligation to take up arms in defence of the country when duly called, and from this obligation aliens are exempt. They may volunteer to serve the country as soldiers, but cannot be constrained to do so.—Tribune.

THE STAR-SPANGLED BANNER.

The Star-Spangled Banner is the flag of Washington, Jefferson, Adams, Henry, Lafayette, Kosciuszko, Gates, Putnam, Jackson, Scott, Decatur, Perry, Clay, and Taylor. The Southern banner is the flag of Davis, Slidell, Yancey, Pickens, Twiggs, and Toombs. Under which, oh! patriots of Kentucky, will ye rally?—Louisville Journal.

THE FEELING IN INDIANA.

A correspondent of the Bulletin says: "Passing eastward, by railway, on Monday, we saw crowds at the stations at such places as Valparaiso, Lima, Columbus, and Fort Wayne, all eager for the Chicago papers, and so full of patriotic feeling that it burst forth over and anon in tremendous cheers for the Union and Major Anderson. The enthusiasm was fully responded to by the passengers on the train, who had, in common with all, dropped all other subjects of conversation to dilate on the war and on the necessity of sustaining the Government.

THE FEELING IN OHIO.

The same story may be repeated as in the Northern States. As voluntary companies forming, and of a perfect fever of patriotism throughout every county where I have been. I guessed an echo At Crestline, Mansfield, Lakeville, Wooster, Massillon, Canton, Alliance, Enon, Rochester, and in short every station, the same uprising of the people was visible.

SCOTCHMEN RUSH TO THE FLAG.

The 79th regiment, Col. Thos. B. Maclay, has volunteered its services to the Federal Government, whenever and wherever required. This regiment is composed of Scotchmen, and they express an ardent determination to sustain the Government that protects and cherishes them, and to defend the glorious flag under which they have found a shelter.—Tribune.

NO SECESSION RUNNING IN BOSTON.

A vessel from Savannah entered Boston harbor with the rebel flag flying. On her arrival at the wharf the people compelled the captain to strike his flag, and hoist the Stars and Stripes.

Naval Preparations.

VESSELS GOING INTO COMMISSION AND PREPARING FOR SEA.

[From the New York Tribune.]

It has been already remarked that the utmost activity is preceptible in the different navy yards. This is not surprising when we consider that every vessel in the navy that could be made speedily available for active duty is in process of preparation for immediate sea service. Annexed is the list:

NEW YORK.

The Ferry, Savannah, and Wabash, (whose state of forwardness will be found elsewhere,) and the Roanoke, are preparing here. The latter is like the Wabash in all respects.

BOSTON.

The Mississippi, Vincennes, and Minnesota are under instructions for immediate commission; and the Colorado—ranking with the Minnesota, has been for months in a ready state.

The Mississippi.—This is a second-class sidewheel steamer, 1,692 tons burden, was built at Philadelphia, in 1841, and carries four guns. She made her last cruise in the Chinese seas, and conveyed Minister Ward between several East India ports, while out there. The Mississippi is one of the most serviceable ships in the navy, and was pronounced, by English and French officers in the Mediterranean, some years since, to be the "best working craft in the Straits."

The Vincennes.—The splendid steamer is the new flag-ship of the home fleet. She rates with the Wabash, Merrimack, Colorado, and others of that class. Her burden is 3,200 tons; she was built at Washington in 1855, and will carry on her coming cruise no less than forty guns of heavy calibre. The Minnesota has done about four years active service, and has been almost reconstructed since her return from China, where Captain Dupont commanded her. Commodore Stringham, the late adviser-in-chief of the Navy Department, has been appointed Commander-in-Chief of the Home Squadron, and will hoist his wide flag on the Minnesota. He went from this city last night to put her in commission.

The Vincennes.—The Vincennes returned from the African squadron in charge of a surgeon last summer. She captured several slavers on the coast, and was in short of officers that one of the surgeons had to navigate her home. She is 700 tons burden, carries 20 guns, and was built in Brooklyn thirty-five years ago. About six weeks will be required to fit her out.

The Colorado.—This ship is 3,400 tons burden, rates 40 guns, and was constructed a few feet from her present berth in Boston, at the same time that the Niagara, Wabash, and Merrimack were built elsewhere. She never did much duty, having only served one cruise on the home station. She has been ready for some months, and she now only awaits orders to go in commission.

NORFOLK.

The Merrimack, Plymouth, and Germantown, are at Norfolk.

The Merrimack, one of our largest steamers, is 3,200 tons burden, carries 40 guns, and was built at Boston in 1855. She was late flagship of the Pacific squadron, is in good condition, and can be fitted out in a few weeks.

The Plymouth was last employed as school ship for midshipmen, "Old Ironsides" relieving her. She is not under immediate orders for service. Her tonnage is 989 tons. She carries 22 guns, and was built at Charlestown in 1843. It would take six weeks to make her seaworthy.

The Germantown.—This corvette is in good order, and a slight overhauling will suffice to make her ready for commission. She is 930 tons burden, carries 22 guns, and was built at Philadelphia in 1846. She cruised on the coast of Brazil, in command of Captain Lynch, of exploration notoriety, from 1854 to 1857, and subsequently in the Chinese seas.

In commission this fleet will be as follows:

Vessels.	Tons.	No. of Men.	Guns.
Minnesota	3,200	480	40
Wabash	3,200	480	40
Merrimack	3,200	480	40
Roanoke	3,400	500	40
Colorado	3,400	500	40
St. Lawrence	3,400	500	40
Sabine	1,726	300	20
Germantown	1,726	300	22
Vincennes	709	300	20
Jamestown	1,032	300	20
Plymouth	989	300	22
Mississippi	1,692	300	11
Water-Witch	378	70	3
Ferry	280	150	5
			6
Total	25,315	4,830	378

The New York Tribune makes this admirable and appropriate suggestion:

"Might it not be well for those who regard themselves as citizens of the United States, as they gather to receive or to consider the exciting news from hour to hour flashed over the country, to take together the legally prescribed oath of fidelity to the American Republic and the Federal Constitution? If administered with due solemnity and impressiveness, it could not fail to nerve their hearts and strengthen their hands for the great trials and perils now before us."

The Border States.

[From Harper's Weekly.]

There are no States, in the Union or out of it, which are so deeply interested in the maintenance of peace, order, and good government as Maryland, Virginia, Tennessee, Kentucky, and Missouri. For of all the States Nature has done most for them. God created them the garden of the continent. Blessed with a soil of unusual fertility, and a climate exquisitely adjusted between the extremes of heat and cold, they enjoy the advantages of both the northern and the southern meridians, and have, if their people do not prevent it, a greater future than any other part of the country. They can grow everything, from the Northern potato and apple to the Southern cotton-plant, the grape, and the fig. Their soil overlies miles of seas of various kinds—iron, gold, copper, lead, and coal. They stretch in an unbroken line from the great waters of the interior to the great ocean which washes the continent. If they maintain public order and good government, their latitude must render their railroads the great avenue between the West and the East. Their climate is so admirable that it is a miracle they have not absorbed the whole population of the continent. To a dweller in frozen Michigan or torrid Louisiana, life under the genial sun of Virginia seems a state of impossible bliss. In the shade of the grand old woods of that noble State, with no winter snow-storms, no summer dog-days, no deadly epidemics, no frightful struggle with Nature for existence, but just such a rotation of seasons as gives a relish to each, and tempts the earth to bring forth her regular increase, George Washington beguiled his declining years with visions of the future glories of his native soil, and of the possible predominance of the Potomac over all other rivers of America. Can such a State seek to emulate the destiny of the desolate regions in Mexico and Central America, to which God, in His Providence, was originally as bountiful as to her?

TO BUSINESS MEN.—An excellent chance for reliable business men to secure a profitable manufacturing business, requiring but a small capital in its establishment and prosecution.
The manufacture consists in the application of a specific composition, or enamel, to common cast iron, brass, and a variety of other building material, ornamental architectural finishings, ceilings, tiles for floors and for roofing.
This enamel may be tinted of any color, from the purest white to the deepest black, with all the colors and shades between. It imparts to the articles to which it is applied a hardness and durability almost incredible, and a beauty surpassing that of the most costly of the variegated marbles, and, unlike them, is impervious to moisture, and will never fade, stain, or deteriorate, costing but a fractional part of the price of ordinary marbles.
It is also valuable for table and stand tops, mantelpieces, monuments, and an endless variety of other articles of staple use. It will pay well for using the enamel is simple, while the articles enameled will command a ready sale, affording large profits. Responsible parties may procure licenses for manufacturing under the patent for any city or prominent town in the United States, by applying to the subscriber. A small tariff on the articles manufactured will be required for the use of the invention. Containing full directions, which will be forwarded to all applicants.
The superior merit and beauty of this enameled building material to anything in use has the unqualified endorsement of many of the most eminent architects and scientific men of this and other countries.
