respondent at Chester : CHRESTER, April 23, 1861. The high state of excitement in our town was last evening much increased by a despatch, "to alarm our ditizons," from Mr. Felton, president of the railroad, that a suspinious-looking cohooner. with a large number of men on board, had been seen sailing up the river, with the probable de-sign of burning the railroad bridges, to prevent the transportation of troops. Parties of armed men were at onee detailed to guard the bridges during the night Ti is not probable that the Southern rebels would themselves invade our territory to project and oarry out any such design, bat, as their few sym-pathizers among us might engage reckless men for that purpose, and to plunder and burn our small towns, would it not, therefore, be prudent, in our present state of affairs, to adopt the prinoiple the taich or the constituted authorities to give notice to all such persons in the border counties. NOUSTON TO HEAD THEM. A letter signed by nearly nine hundred persons, emanating from San Antonio, Texas, has reached Governor Bouston, asking him to come out there and address the people against the Convention, the Legislature, the Southern Confederacy, South Carclina, etc. This petition is to be followed by others from that part of the country. The Galveston Neuron says that these men are all srmed with the guns of the Federal Government. The Secession commissioners have demanded that the arms be given up, but the men refuse to sur-render. A correspondent asks if it would not be well for the owners of ice establishments to retain their near, if they are to be encamped on the eastern hote of Maryland, or anywhere in the South. Billious favers are provalent in those sections, and Curcitizens would rather do without the luxury of ice water and ice creams than that one sick man or wounded soldier should suffer for the want of texdness LECTORE TO THE NUESES' GUARD. List evening a lecture to the Nurses' Guard was delivered by Professor William Paine, at the Schotto College, Ruce street, below Fifth. The streadance was very large, and the lecture of an Unitating character. The professor spoke of the manner of receiving a wounded man when brought be the formed man when brought the locations and removing all obstructions.
