The Flection in the Second District. The coming election in the Second Congressional district is exciting much interest among our people. We exceedingly regret that the issue of a partisan election has been forced upon us at this time. We do not like the way in which Mr. O'NEILL was nominated by the Republican Convention; nor do we like the method of Mr. Biddle's nomination by the Democratic Convention. So far as this election serves to designate a successor t Mr. Mozers, it is really of no importance, and under ordinary circumstances, it would be a matter of but small moment to us whether the minister to Constantinople was succeeded by the nominee of one convention or that of the leaders to have united all parties in this district by the adoption of the resolutions of Mr. Leuguean. Such a course would have been au and sent Mr. HENDRICE B. WRIGHT to Conare now all important, should at least shield gress by a unanimous vote. It is even rumored, also, that BAYARD, of Delaware, were in New York re cently for the jurpose of buying a peace party, and there are jo rnals there which say these Senstors, in doing so, " would have un It is evidently a part of the Disunton plot to precipitate upon Congress the most embar sing issues. The traitors of the Border States of Maryland, Delaware, Kentucky, and Missouri, having been unable to drag their respective States into the abyss of Secession, are anxious to serve the cause of treason by bringing dissensions into patriotic councils We saw an evidence of this in Kentucky in the recent election. Some weeks ago the avowed essionists of that State refused to take any part in elections, as they declared themselves to be with the South, and no longer responsi ble to the Federal Government. Senators Powers and Berckingings took the same ground, and intimated that they would not return to the Senate. They found, however, that Kentucky had no intention of slipping her Union cable, and then their tactics were changed. Disunion candidates were nomi nated at the recent election. Mr. BURNETT was chosen as a Disunionist, and Senators POWELL and BRECKINRIDGE now announce that they will graciously condescend to re-enter the Benate chamber. The Senators from Missouri tive in going behind their own declarations and convictions, and that is to attempt, in the halls of Congress, what they have failed to consummate elsewhere—the humiliation of the country, and the exaltation of the Montgomery traitors. That there are a desperate few in the North, headed by men like Senator Baiger and Representative Woon, and supported by the men who disgraced themselves by serving JAMES BUCHANAN In his work of proscription who will endeavor to strengthen the hands o these conspirators, we have no manner of

It only requires the Councils to look how the masses have been employed in European cities in times like these. The Government at such periods have created work which was unsecessary, reasoning that it would be far better for it to pay for productive labor rather than bear the taxation which would be necessarily imposed upon it by starving people.
