new kinds, to be substituted for the locks and keys, now used on the United States Mails. Willow Frostred at this Department until mine o'clock A. M. the tenth day of nly, 1851.

Tonstruction, and invented expressly for the exclusive use of the United States mails, no model is prescribed for budders, the Department relying for its selection on the results of mechanical skill and ingenity which a fair competition, now invited, may produce. It is deemed necessary only to state that a mail lock should be self-locking, and that its other principal requisites are uniformity, security. lightness, strength, durability, novelty of construction, and facility of use.

Two kinds of mail locks and keys-one of brass and the other of iron—different in form and construction,
are required; and proposals should specify, separately,
the price of each iron lock, each key for same.

Duplicate samples or patterns of each kind of locks proposed are required to be submitted with the proposite; one of each kind of sample locks to be riveted up and finithed, and another to be open or unriveted, so hat its internal structure may easily be examined.

The looks offered should not be patented, nor should that its internal structure may easily be examined. Every sample must be plainly marked with the bidder's name.

The looks offered should not be patented, nor should their internal construction be otherwise publicly known, or be similar to any looks heretofore used; and they must be warranted not, in any way, to infiring or interfere with any patented invention.

The various sample looks presented by bidders will be submitted to a board of examiners, to be commissioned by the Postmaster General, for the purpose of examining and reporting on them; and unless the Postmaster General shall doem it to be for the interest of the Bepartment to reject all the proposals and specimens submitted under this advertisement, contracts will, upon the report of the examiners, be entered into, as soon as gracticable, with the successful bidder, whose looks are adopted, for furnishing similar looks and keys for four years, as they may be required and ordered, with the right, on the part of the Postmaster General for the time being, to extend and continue the contract in force for an additional term of four years, on giving notice, in writing, to the contractor not less than six munths before the termination of the first term of four years; or at the expiration of the first term of four years; or at the expiration of the first term of four years; or at the expiration of the first term of four years; or contract with any other party for furnishing similar or different eaks and keys, as the Postmaster General may determine.

The contractor will be required to give bond, with ample security in the sum of twenty-five thousand dollars, for the faithful performance of the contract on his part, both as to furnishing the supplies ordered, and guarding the manufacturing of the mail looks and keys with due privany, integrity, and care. No proposal will therefore be considered, if not accompanied with a written guarantee from the proposed sujettes (whose responsibility must be certified by the Postmaster at the place of their residence) that they will become the contract by the budder, in case such proposals be accepted.

PHILADELPHIA, TUESDAY, JULY 2, 1861.

acts of the most unblushing treason and plunder towards the National Government. But the first gun which, with hostile intent, sent forth its missile of death against Fort Sumpter, changed, as with the touch of a magiclan's wand, the whole aspect. The deadly hatred of the South to the North—deep-seated, long-smouldering, concentrated, and envenomed by its very repression—had burst forth at length without any guise of concealment. And it has spread like the blast of the death-anger over the length and breadth of the Southern States, until its poisonous infection has well-nigh stifled the common feelings of humanity. Is this mere rhetoric? Is it the production of a heated imagination? What say the facts?

One example shall suffice.

We know, through a lady but recently from the South, that a lady of Charleston, S. C., is the proposed, we just to that extent relieve the pootest that a lady of Charleston, S. C., is the proposed, we just to that extent relieve the pootest that the proposed, we just to that extent relieve the pootest that the proposed, we just to that extent relieve the pootest that the proposed, we just to that extent relieve the pootest that the proposed, we just to that extent relieve the pootest that the proposed, we just to that extent relieve the pootest that the proposed is the proposed, we just to that extent relieve the pootest that the proposed is the proposed.

We know, through a lady but recently from the South, that a lady of Charleston, S. C., protending refinement and delicacy, expressed the barbarous and revolting wish—and this without any personal or peculiar reason for hatred—that every fly in Charleston were in the hospital at Fortress Monroe, to batten and feed on the festering sores of the soldiers sick there with the small pox. Talk of hatred and cruelty! Why, the wish for the whole North to have but one neck, that some delicate lady's arm might exterminate them all by one blow, even as Jupith smote off the head of Holofon.

NES, is mercy and tender compassion in comparison.

We know, through a lady but recently from the known that a lady of Charleston, S. C., proteining the protected. By reducing their armaments are always the most oppressive in the protection of their liability to oppression. By inducing Governments to abandon the old lynch of the protect of being their own places of being their own places of being their own places of being their own places. By reducing their armaments, stockheir own subjects. By reducing their armaments, stockheir own subjects or bailons, devended the protection of their liability to oppressive. By inducing their armaments, stockheir own subjects or bailed inducing Governments to abandon the old lynch devended inducing Governments are alwa parison.

Gentlemen then may cry, "Peace! Peace!" but again we say, "There is no peace." What peace will they have? Will they have a Peace Congress—a Peace Convention? That has been tried without effect. What greater efficiency can such a measure have now? What oath, what treaty, what armistice, what truces what solemn obligation, can we rely on now, after the baseness, the deceit, the utter disregard and violation of the most sacred ties and bonds from which we have already suffered so much, and whose disastrous effects we still feel?

Thould be equally fair to ask a physician what he would be fired in for the outlet on fire by poisoned liquors. If we could not arrest the fury of the disease in such a case, would it tell sgainst his professional skill and ability? That is a parallel to the case of the food on the present orisis. It would, in indeed, he difficult for them to prescribe a regime of conduct when the pulse of the nation is at the rate of conduct when the pulse of the nation is at the rate of conduct when the pulse of the nation is at the rate of conduct when the pulse of the nation is at the rate of conduct when the pulse of the nation is at the rate of conduct when the pulse of the nation is at the rate of conduct when the pulse of the nation is at the rate of conduct when the pulse of the nation is at the rate of conduct when the pulse of the nation is at the rate of conduct when the pulse of the nation is at the rate of conduct when the pulse of the nation is at the rate of conduct when the pulse of the nation is at the rate of conduct when the pulse of the nation is at the rate of conduct when the pulse of the nation is at the rate of conduct when the pulse of the nation is at the rate of conduct when the pulse of the nation is at the rate of the nation is of conduct when the pulse of the nation is at the rate of conduct when the pulse of the nation is at the rate of the nation is at the rate of the nation is of the pulse of the nation is of the pulse of the nation is of conduct when the pulse

I think it may truthfully be said, that there was considerable ambiguity or misapprehension, both North and South, in reference to the anti slavery animus and action of that party, on assuming the helm of the Federal Government. For more than a quarter of a century it had been a widely-extended opinion in both sections, that unless slavery could have a continuous accession of new territory, it would die out; that if it should be confined to its present area, two converging conditions would terminate in its destruction. In the first place, and worthless; in the second, the slaves would increase on those exhausted lands until their labor would not feed them, and their masters would be obliged to emancipate and send them off, or to obliged to emancipate and send them off or the case of the back them of the case of the back them of the case of the back them of th

Life Insurance Companies and the Home Guards.

PHILADELPHIA, June 28, 1861.

To the Editor of the South One had just as much its as merchant of this city, and is at present, and indeed, if matters continue long as they are, may be put to straits to support himself and family. He has an insurance on this life in one of our good companies, but understands from that company that, unless he pays five per cent. annually on the amount insured, in he is not to be considered insured, if he die in consequence of belonging to the Home Guards.

Now, in drilling in a field drill, he is exposed to certain danger—of sun-stroke, diar in his bed, still the company might construe his death as occasioned by, or in consequence of the Home Guards, and refuse to pay the insurance to those sunder this series of the sun or to be feared by one party and hoped by the other was the same. What was in the first to be feared by one party and hoped by the other was the same. What was in the sun of the south of the sun or over-wiving. If, after the war, you would gladly purchase the extinction of slavery at this price, why not make the offer now, before the wealth of the nation is awamped in the blood that must flow, if the condict is carried out to its bitter end? But, if no power, human or divine, shall stay the bloody struggle until our Gavernment and people shall have meted out to the Southern Confederacy all the castignton they think it deserves. I hope they will grace their triumph with minat of magianimity toward the conquered States—that they will say to them, one and all: "Now go, and set yourselves up as a separate nationality; and when any one of your number shall prefer to come back to the old glorious union of extinguishing clavery within its borders, and we will pay the bill of emancipation out of the national treasury."

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL. The Money Market.

PHILADELPHIA, July 1, 1861.

The stock market was very fiat to-day. City sixes were weaker. Reading Railroad stock fell off one sixteenth of a dollar per share. North Pennsylvania sixes sold at 51.

The meeting of the bondholders of the North Pennsylvania Railroad Company, reported in an-tries on $130,000 of bonds held by the Indian trust fund of the Federal Government; and the coupons on all the debt of the State will be paid on presentation to Meiga, Ir, & Smith, of William trust fund of the Jenida in the state. The debt of Florida is between $250,000 and $400,000, a part of which is under hypothecation. The city of Mobile pays through the Merchant's Bank of this city. Last year a lot of 8 per cents was negotiated here to aid in building the railroad which connects the city with the interior of Alabama. The meeting of the bondholders of the North Pennsylvania Railroad Company, reported in an-expressed at the amount of the coupons desired to be funded, and some grumbling upon the objection stated that the arrangement is likely to benefit the chattel-mortgage bondholders at the expense lien upon the property of the company. The company has not yet paid the coupons that became due on the 1st January, 1861. The suit of the bondholders of the Williamsport and Elmira Railroad Company, who were left "out in the cold " by the committee appointed to buy in the railroad and franchises at the public sale by the bondholders, is now, before the Nisi Prius Court. There are some forty-nine of these omitted bonds, held by widews, absentees, and people who, from misunderstandings between themselves and their brokers or agents, did not present their bonds in time to be registered. Notice was given to the holders to come in with their $4.50a5 for Western and Pennsylvania superfine, conds before a certain day, and those who came $4 75a5 25 for extras, $5 25a5.75 for family, and paid five dollars on each bond of one hundred dol- | 86a6 75 for fancy brands according to quality; lars for expenses. Those who were left out did not remain alien to the arrangement from hostility, but from ignorance and inattention, and want of correct business habits. Now they wish to test the question whether the arrangement was made for all the bondholders, or only for such as happened to see and attend to the notice and bring their bonds to the bondholders committee; whether nine hundred and fifty-one bondholders can cut off the other forty-nine from participating in an arrangement made for the benefit of all the thousand.

The Berder State stocks are weak and neglected, and lower prices are looked for after today, as there have been holders who have cherished a hope that the interest would be paid, even at the eleventh hour. These securities, now that they have ceased to be a source of income, will be discarded by investors, and become the football of speculators.

Tennessees fell to 37. Missouris sold at 38. Louisians dropped to 503 and North Carolinas to 49:492. Virginias were in demand, for cash, at 432:443, which is an advance of 2 per cent. 43144, which is an advance of $\frac{1}{2}$ per cent.
