Siegel then fell back on Carthage, the enemy harassing his flank up to the town, where another stand was made. The rebels being in possession of the place, Siegel surrounded the town, throwing shell and grenades into the enemy's cavalry, and using his infantry

While attempting to reach an adjacent wood, to prevent the use of their cavalry, the rebels made the most serious attack, and there the bloodiest part of the battle was fought; but the enemy were finally routed, and forced to withdraw. Siegel then fell back on Mt. Vernon, where he could be supported. The sole captive was an officer. who was taken about 5 o'clock. stating that Gov. Jackson and Generals Price and and wegg encamped eight miles north of Carthage. Siegel and Solomans pushed forward rapidly, attacked the rebel forces early yesterday morning, and continued fighting during the day.

Messengers are continually arriving, bringing information. Raines had united their forces, about 4,000 strong, that the rebels are retreating outhwardly, between Sarcoxie and Mount

Later advices say that a report reached Springfield on Sunday morning of an engagement between 500 U.S. troops, under Col. Wolff, and about 1,500 robels. Wolff occupied a prairie when the battle began, but, the rebels retreating to the woods, he followed, and, in skirmishing in the timber, lost 30 killed and wounded, he himself being among the killed. The loss of the rebels was considerable, but it has not been definitely ascertained. A messenger was despatched to Springfield for cinforcements, and the whole force at that place mmediately pushed forward. Gen. Lyon was at Leesville Sunday morning, and Major Sturgis was at Olinton on the same day. They expected to form a junction about two miles from Clinton on Sunday night.

Military Matters. THE NEWS FROM MISSOURI .- The intelligence of yesterday alternoon, from Col. Siegel and Missouri, created an immense excitement in this city. The absence of reliable details as to the positive loss on either side embarrassed the minds of citizens, so that they were at a loss to decide as to whether they should be exultant or depressed.

After despatches left little doubt that, although repulsed, the Federal troops had lost less men than rebels under Jackson.

And so the whole city was jubilant; for a Federal triumph, in a crisis like this, is an individual lotory, and every man regarded the battle-as something concerning his own honor and courage. Upon the whole, the news was inspiriting and re-FRANKFORD ARSENAL There are now employed at the arsenal, in the different departments, about 120, exclusive of those different departments, about 120, exclusive of those who work at night.

In the warehouse men are engaged in packing muskets ready for exportation, seme 15,000 of which had been sent to this arsenal for repairing, and are now ready to be forwarded to their respective destinations. No new guns are manufactured at this place, it being devoted mostly to the manufacture of cartridges, bullets, caps, &c. About 120 000 percussion caps are made every twenty-four hours. twenty-four hours.

Those in the bridge and behind the embankment would pop up their heads and blaze away without good aim; but those in the bushes were more deliberate. An Irishman in the party says it was "hot as hell." Lawson says his men behaved splendidly; not a man flinched, and they obeyed orders just as promptly as if on dress parade.

SEVERTH RESERVE REGIMENT

Lieut. G. R. Curtis, from the Seventh Regiment Reserve Pennsylvania Volunteers, now at Campy Wayne, West Chester, is in this city, under orders from Col. E. B. Harris, to recruit the regiment, under the new regulations, to I 040 men. He has located his recruiting office in Sixth street, below Chestout. The camp is located at the fair ground. The men all have their new summer equipments.
