In feeling the way for a column cavalry are invaluable, and there can be little chance of ambuscade or surprises when they are judiciously employed; but "scouning?" on foot or adventurous private expeditions on horseback to have a look at the enemy can do, and will do, nothing but harm. Every day the papers contain accounts of "scouts" being killed and sentres being picked off. The latter is a very barbarous and savage practice, and the Russian, in his most angry moments, abstained from it. If any officer wishes to obtain information as to his enemy, he has two ways of doing it. He can employ spies, who carry their lives in their hands, or he can beat up their quarters by a proper reconnoissance on his own responsibility, in which, however, it I advise every one who has a Cough, or a Husky Was Matual principle, combined with the security.
