LIEDTERANT TOMPENS. Among others, whore acquaintance we made, was Lieutenant Tompkins, of the United States Dra-goons, whose charge into and out of Fairfax Court House you have heard of. His bronzed face, heavy beard and moustache, white fanuel shirt, and long thick riding boots, made one think of the gallant sword man who led our Punjabee horee far away in Hindestan, and whom in "style and cut" he somewhat resembled. He told us it is only the enemy's pickets that fire on the sentries; his men-have strict orderer not to oull a trigger without exhave striot orders not to pull a trigger without express command.
