HOW A TIGHT-ROPE, ASCENSION DED NOT TAKE PLACE.-Attracted by the conspicuous announcement that there was to be a "tight-rope ascension at Fairmount, across the Schuylkill river. by Mr. John Denier, the most daring rope-walker in the world," yesterday afternoon, we proceeded at the hour designated, to that classic locality. Not without certain misgivings, however, which the singularly ungrammatical language of the placard, "Tight-rope ascension," etc., "across." etc., in no wise tended to allay. Nevertheless, a funambulist, next to a gorilla, is a creature who never fails to commend himself to the curiosity even of the most culightened, and so we resolved to "be there to see. About three o'clock, the unceasing tide of humanity, which somehow had managed to compress itself into the cars of the various passenger railways having their western termini at Fair-mount, began to lend a holiday aspect to the scone. No wonder that Fanny Fern fell in love with our Fairmount hill. Could she have seen it yesterday, with its second and third tiers of picturesque humanity, with its array of smiling feminine leveliness standing out from the background of rich, verdant foliage, in the bright, cheery-minded sunshine that flashed and glittered in the bosom of "sweet Afton"s waters" rolling along beneath—could she have stood where we stood and watched the intershe have stood where we stood, and watched the inter she have stood where we stood, and watched the interminable cavalcade of parasols that crossed and recrossed the wire-bridge, in just a sufficient cloud of dust to pleasantly veil the staring blueness of a summer's sky—could she have stood (or sat) and watched this spectacle, the "Fresh Fern Loaves" of three years ago would have come back to her mind as fresh and blooming as a "sweet dream of Deace."

The cable upon which Mr Denier (not Professor!) was to exemplify the difficulty of carrying into practice the beautiful theory of the balance of power," was stretched from the tops of two derricks, probably 70 feet in height, placed, of course, on opposite sides of the river, at a short distance below the bridge.

The westernmost derrick had been creeted on the ollow fronting the moss-grown, time-honored Upper Ferry Hotel," which is chiefly memorable to the juvenile portion of the community, from having, many years ago, been rendered attractive by its aquarium of gold and silver fish.

The opposite derrick was planted on a wharf front several rods to the east of the Wire Bridge On the river, from 3 o'clock until dusky twilight. the scene was not wanting in animation, and called forcibly to mind the descriptions we have read of the contests of the bargemen on the Thames. Up and down, up and down, and then in sudden currots, a swift and sancy little yacht kept jauntily prancing across the shadows of the massive stone piers—the yacht must be at hand, lest the disciple of Blondin should be guilty of the gross carelessness of committing a favorage. of committing a fava: pas.

By four o clock not only the entire footwalks of the bridge, but also the ledge surmounting its western abutment, was jammed with spectators—spectators, however, of only a lonesome cable that some half a dozen red-faced, temperless men were vainly tugging at in occasional intervals of whisky, with a sort of vague idea that their labors tended interest, within the scope of the vast assemblage, which had come to be numbered by thousands. There was a gaudily-painted marquee, where the solemian glass-blower held forth, and where the "Yankee privateer's" achievements were being rehearsed with all the symphony of a wheezy and-organ.

And there was also quite an armada of canal boats, that extended midway into the river, and became the theatre presently of several hard-fought While the crowd was greatest on this bridge of boats a dull plash was beard, and the cry of "boy overboard!" thrilled to the quick that vast concourse of people. Women turned pale as death, and men and boys scrambled to the spot whence the cry had issued. A moment of anxious suspense, and all faces smiled again. It was only a log that somehow to its proper adjustment.

True, there were other objects, of more or less had fallen into the water. had fallen into the water.

The sun sank down and down in the west till the shadow of the walnut tree near the western derrick had grown as long as the face of a hypocrite's sanctimony, and still no tight-rope—no Mr. Denier—no ascension—no nothing but a settled conviction of a grand sell and a general disappointment.

At length, when the people saw that the night was coming on, and saw that the plethorie gentleman with a curious, Turkish-looking black-velvet cap, who had been disposing of his invaluable cap, who had been disposing of his invaluable dentifrice at ruinously-low rates, from off a portable business-stand, was preparing to return to the city, everybody scrambled for the expectant passenger cars, and one by one the town folk who had come so far to see a "rope walk" went back to the hum of the city and the gastights' glare aweary

A SINGULAR CASE .- A few days since a farmer named Job Leroy, residing in Bucks county, was admitted to the Pennsylvania Hospital with his head severely cut. It was rumored last evening that his skull had been fractured and that he was in a dying condition. Upon making an exami-nation, however, it was ascertained that he had merely received a sealp wound, which appears to have resulted from a fall from his wagon. At the ersuasion of his friends, who feared that he would of recover, Mr. Leroy was induced to prefer a charge of attempting to take his life against a resi-dent of Doylestown, who will probably be taken into custody. Leroy is not considered in a dan-gereus condition.

THE NATIONAL GUARDS .- This fine regiment is now recruiting for the war at their armary, Race street, where they already have a large number of names on the rolls. From the well-known standing of the Guards, and the high military character of Colonel Lyle, it will be a very easy matter to recruit the regiment to the full quota. LEGAL INTELLIGENCE.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT-Judge

UNITID STATES DISTRICT COURT—Judge Cadwalader.—The court commenced business in carnest yesterday morning. The Grand Jury have acturned a number of true bills against parties charged with making and passing counterfeit money, and the case of the pirates will be acted on before the close of the week.

Samuel McLaughlin was put on trial charged with passing counterfeit quarter-dollars on a Mrs. Lepper. Another bill charged him with passing the same upon Mr. Lepper, the husband. The story of Mrs. Lepper was that having some lard to sell she called at the store of defendant, where she was in the habit of dealing, and there effected its sell she called at the store of defendant, where she was in the habit of dealing, and there effected its sale for $1.92, and in payment received six quarter dollars, and the balance in small change. Four of the quarters proved to be bad, and upon acquainting defendant with the fact he promised to redeem them, but neglected to fulfil his promise. William Bull appeared for defendant. A verdict of not guilty was rendered.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

THE MONEY MARKET PHILADELPHIA. August 21, 1861. The facility with which the 7.30 per cent. loan of the Government can be obtained, and its great superiority as an investment has the effect of weakening the security market to some extent. To-day, City sixes, both old and new, declined 1, and other first-class investment securities were also a shade weaker. While the better class of loans and stocks, usually bought to be held by the purchasers, have thus declined, the speculative market, though inactive, continues very firm. The money market is unchanged. Prime endorsed paper is wanted at six per cent., and any thing not of that character is very slow of sale. The New York Tribune of to-day says:

There seems to be the beginning of a revival in general business throughout the city, and merchants feel more hopeful. There is some movement in cotton goods, and the quotations are advancing with the advanced prices of the raw material. There is also some movement in other dry goods, but it is not yet important. The Providence Journal of Monday says:

"Business affairs have assumed a more cheerful aspect. The woollen manufacture, which has long promptness and good faith in the application of bls at $4.40a4.50 for superfine, and $4.50a7.50 for the $450,000 recently received from the United States Government, in reimbursement of war expenses, to the payment of so much of the war loan of $2,000, 2000 authorized by the last Legislature as was awarded by the Fund Commissioners, in this city, in June, to wit: about $122,000. The funds were received from the National Government in two-year Treasury paper, which Messrs. Winslow, Lamier, & 1.24 for white Winter. Government, in reimbursement of war expenses, to Co., as agents of the Fund Commissioners in this city, have disposed of. This transaction gives assurance that, should any further issue of the war loan of Indiana be found necessary or convenient, the pledges of specific taxation, and of the money to be reimbursed by the National Government, will be faithfully carried out. The annual meeting of the Cleveland and Eric Railroad was held at Cleveland on Wednesday. The following-named gentleman were elected directors for the ensuing year: A. Stone, Jr., T. M. Kelley , S. William Collins, James Miles, J. B. Johnson, S. F. Randall, Hamilton White, E. M. Gilbert, C. C. Dennis, Henry E. Parsons. At a subsequent meet ing of the directors the following gentlemen were elected officers of the Board : President, A. Stone, Jr.: secretary and treasurer, George B. Ely; superintendent, H. The stock market is firm to-day, and considerably better on the railroad shares. The feeling is de-cidedly more hopeful, and the exciting rumors in regard to the safety of Washington have ceased to influence prices. The business, however, is still on a limited scale, and the supply of each stock on the market light.

Government stocks are dull, attention being directed to the national loan. The registered sixes of 1881 are weak at 874, and the fives of 1874 were being offered at 97!, while yesterday 97! was paid. The Southern State boods continue irregular. Louisinnas and North Carolinas are weak, and much lower, while Georgias, Tennessees, and Virginians are firmly held. Missouris are neglected, and sold at 412, owing to some anxiety in regard to the mili-tary movements in that State. This price, however, is bid for more. is bid for more.

There is a good demand for New York Central at 732473;
There is an impression that at the opening of the transfer books on Friday the deliveries will be made with difficulty, as the condition of the market since the closing on the 31st ultimo has been such as to encourage large "short sales for the opening."

The paper market is very dull. The banks discounting only moderate amounts this week, but the wants of borrowers entitled to credit are so the wants of borrowers entitled to credit are so-small, that there is no pressure of paper outside. We hear of a line of $75,000 short bills going at five per cent., which is no higher for this class of raper. There is, however, more disposition to mark up rates, and in most cases the advance is establish-ed, especially on call, the bulk of the business being of five per cent. And escacionally higher and lower at five per cent., and occasionally higher and lower than this figure.

As stated in the Evening Post of yesterday, the Associated banks have completed arrangements for attaching coupons to the 7.30 treesury notes, and are only awaiting the official order from Mr. Chase to proceed with the details, so that the Bank-Note Company will be able to get the notes ready without more than a week's delay.

In order to facilitate the alteration, the signatures In order to facilitate the alteration, the signatures of the compons will be engraved, and the calculation is that the notes can be ready by the first week of September. In the original form, the expectation was to issue them about August 28, but the banks deem the delay of no consequence compared with the great advantages which the change will present to investors, especially to expitalists at a distance. These coupons will be distinct vouchers in themselves, and will earry the same sefeguards against counterfeiting as the note itself. They will be five in number, the last half-year's interest being payable at the time of redemption, and so expressed across the note. On the fifty-dollar notes the coupon will be for $1.82; on the hundred-dollar notes pon will be for $1.82; on the hundred-dollar notes $3.65; on the thousand-dollar notes $35.50, and The advices from the country in regard to the national loan are very satisfactory, and the character of the subscriptions at the sub-treasurer's office is such as to show the banks that they are soon to be relieved of a large portion of it.

The subscriptions are all sorts of sums, from $50 upwards, and the numerous inquiries in reference to the form of application indicates a decidedly growing interest from people of moderate means outside of Wall street. Every bank of this city has paid into the Sub-Treasury the ten per cent, instalment upon the sub-scription to the loan. The amount taken by each bank is as follows and makes an aggregate of $35.000,000, or about fifty-one per cent, on the capital.

This is just what is wanted, and what has been inquired for at the News Stores for many weeks. A GREAT NATIONAL WORK. SOMETHING FOR EVERY CITIZEN, EVERY FIRESIDE, EVERY BRADERS.
THE ONLY CORRECT AND COMPLETE HISTORY OF THE WAR.
ON WEDNESDAY, August 21st, was published, the first number of a great popular National Work, of inestimable value to all, viz.

THE SOUTHERN REBELLION THE WAR FOR THE UNION. A History of the Rise and Progress of the Rebellion, and consecutive narrative of Events and Incidents, from the first stages of the trenson against the Republic, down to the close of the conflict, together with the important Documents and Extracts from Remarkable Speeches.

Pornments and Extracts from Remarkable Speeches.

IN WEERLY PARTS, 52 PAGES LARGE Syo.,
PRICE 10 CEXTS.

The want of an anthentic and thorough History of the Rebellion, for present reference and future preservation, is the subject of general remark. No work of that nature has yet been offered to the public, and all who wish for information are compelled to grove through the mazes of the rumors, reports, despatches, letters, and editorials of the dully newspapers to precipitate, from its confused columns, the great facts and incidents of the struggle for the Union.

To need this want, and to produce a work of permancin value, as well as of present interest, the publisher has arranged for the issue of the History as above set forth, in a form and at a price which shall render it acceptable to all.

forth, in a form and at a price which shall render it de-ceptable to all.

This History will tell the Stony as it is, giving a clear, consecutive marrative of the entire movement, including all the incidents and events in their exact order, and containing the important documents and ex-tracts from remarkable speeches. It will not be a mere diary, nor a more enumeration of dry and naked dates, nor a compilation of slips from newspapers, but will portray, in connected and interesting narrative, the reconditionary steps, as well as the measures of the Go-vernment. It will thus prove desirable, available, and satisfactory to every citizen, every family, every office, and is given to the public in the full assurance that it will command the approbation of every good citizen in our still glorious To be had of all newsdealers, postmasters, and bookellers everywhere.
