Important Arrest of Spies. DRAFTS TO THE AMOUNT OF $100,000 SEIZED.

Yesterday evening, at seven o'clock, Detectives Taggart and Franklin, and United States Marshal Sharkey, returned from Harrisburg, having in their possession three men from the South, upon whose persons about $3,000 was found, and drafts to the amount of $100,000, most of which were dated Richmond, Va.

These men arrived at Harrisburg by yesterday morning's train from Chambersburg. A despatch had preceded them from Hagerstown, stating that the men had smuggled themselves through our lines above Williamsport, Md., and that one of them was a noted Secessionist of Charleston. Chief Radabaugh and a squad of special policemen received the distinguished visitors, who were pointed out by an officer of General Banks' column, that gentleman having followed them from Hagers-

The prisoners were taken to a private room in the Exchange, at the State Capitol, where they underwent a strict examination by the Mayor. They gave their names as Thomas J. Carson, Walter W. Kelly, and William M. Pogram, and represented themselves as being citizens of Bultimore.

Carson is a fino-looking elderly gentleman, perhaps fifty years or thereabouts. He formerly did business as a broker in New York city, but has been living in Baltimore for several years. Kelly is a man apparently about thirty years, of medium size, and simuly built. He represented himself as a British subject, and presented a passpart signed by the British consul at Baltimore, and countersigned by the Secretary of State. Pegram is about the same age of Kelly, and of like proportions and stature. All of the party were well dressed, and apparently men of means.

Carson exhibited a "pass" from Col. Heintzelman, countersigned by Gen. Cooper, dated August 9. Upon his person were also found a number of passes" from officers in the Confederate army, giving him mivilege to visit his property in several The prisoners were taken to a private room in

In the carpet bag owned by Pogram were found a number of sealed letters, among which, one directed to Judge Brewer, at Annapolis, and others to Mrs. M. Humphreys and Geo. Brewer. at Ballimore. These were opened and discovered to be signed by J. W. Brewer, a sergeant in the Washington Artilicry of New Orleans, serving in the Confederate army. They were principally de-Confederate army. They were principally descriptive of the battle of Bull Run, in which the scriptive of the battle of Bull Run, in which are writer participated.

Nothing of a suspicious nature was found in the carpet-bag of Kelly, but he was summarily ordered to strip. He removed his garments, one by one, until he stood nude, with the exception of his undershirt. Nothing was found upon any of his garments, and he rolled up the arms of his undershirt, serving.

Saying:

"You see I have nothing at all."

At this time the chief lifted the extremity of his shirt, disclosing an array of false pockets. Kelly then reeled, and faintly asked for a glass of water, evidently much frightened. Drafts dated Richmond on New York were then preduced and record. evidently much frightened. Drafts dated Richmond, on New York, were then produced, amounting to $100,000 or more. The letters containing the drafts were sewed up in the pockets, and the whole had been iroued out, to give the garment a close fit, and prevent the notes from obtruding. A number of treasonable letters were also found.

All the letters were taken possession of by the mayor, and, the circumstances being deemed sufficient to detain the men in custody, they were put in the county prison for a further hearing.

The men were evidently in the North to get specie and arms. They will, probably, be handed over to the military authorities as spies, when they will fare by the military laws prescribed in such cases.

Another important avenue for transportation has thus been rendered which cannot fail to be highly advantageous in developing the rich agricultural and mining resources in which the region abounds through which it passes. The road runs from Downingtown to Waynesburg, a distance of seventeen miles. Its location was commenced on the first of June, 1880, by Oliver W Barnes, chief engineer and continuous sixted by Way W Weight. gineer and contractor, assisted by Wm. W. Wright, as resident engineer, and Leouard H. Eicholtz as inspecting engineer for the company. Contracts for the work were let on the 4th of July, 1860. The work was continued without interruption, completed on the 1st of August 1861, and opened for travel on the 15th instant. The route diverges from the Pennsylvania Railroad at a point east of the bridge over the Brandywine at Downingtown, follows up the valley of this branch to the mouth of Indian run, about two miles east of Waynesburg It then passes over a low summit to the level plains about the heads of the West Branch, from whence the road approaches the town. The point at which the East Brandywine road diverges from the Penn-sylvania Central is at an elevation of 246 feet above tidewater, and its terminus at Waynesburg is 720 feet above tinewater. The road has been constructed in a durable and substantial manner, and contains no curies of a less radius than those on the main line of the Penn'a Railroad. The total cost of the road is about $215,000. The ears are at pre-Barnes, Esq. MILITARY MATTERS .- The members of Company I, Twenty-fourth Pennsylvania Volunteers, Capt. Kelley, are now re-enlisting for the wer. This was the crack company of Col. Owen's Regi-ment, being officered by men of experience, who were always attentive to their duty. The Regiment is to be attached to Baker's Brigade, and wil be armed with the Enfield Rifle. A few recruits are wanted to go into camp immediately.

At the United States Arsenal in this city, work At the United States Arsenal in this city, work apon clothing for the army is kept up with great vigor, and from three to four thousand women are constantly at work upon articles of every description towards the outfit of a soldier, except shoes. On these latter, nearly seven hundred more are employed, and two hundred more upon various duties connected with the establishment, as box making, inapsack painting, labor, and the like. The work is under the vigilant supervision of Capt. W. R. Gibson, U.S.A., and Col. Thomas, the Quartermaster. A minute supervision is exercised by Col. Thomas and Capt. Another meeting of the Home Guards was held yesterday at noon. The attendance was not so large as that of Wednesday. A prenmble and resolutions were offered by Lieut. Col. Snowden, which embodied those of continuing the offer made on Wednesday of troops for three-months' service, notwithstanding the disinclination of Secretary Cameron to accept their services. The resolutions gave rise to much discussion. RESIGNATION OF CAPTAIN ARCHAMBAULT .-

The following letter explains itself. To the officers and members of the Garde La-fagette: Companions-in-arms, a brief period of active service in the Infantry arm of the army has convinced me that I am more at home in company with my old love, Cavalry; and, being anxious to serve the country that has afforded me protec-tion for many years. I hereby tender to you my resignation as captain of the Garde Lufayette, in order to raise a cavalry company for the purpose of assisting in defending the glorious stars and stripes. In doing this, permit me to express my gratitude to the officers and members of the corps for their uniform that have been supposed to the corps for their uniform that have been supposed to the corps for their uniform that have been supposed to the corps for their uniform that have been supposed to the corps for their uniform that have been supposed to the corps for their uniform that have been supposed to the corps for their uniform that have been supposed to the corps for their uniform that have been supposed to the corps for the corps for their uniform that the corps for the corp form kindness to me as a man, and their implicit obedience to my commands as an officer. Hopin you may prosper as an organization ever ready t respond when your adopted country calls, and my best wishes for the individual prosperity of the members, I remain, your friend, JAMES ARCHAMBAULT.

As many of our readers know, Captain Archambault was for more than twenty-five years captain of the Union Troop of Bucks county, which was in its meridian of glory while under his command. When the Trench company, called the "Garde Lafayette," was organized, he was chosen without any solicitation on his part as its captain, and when the call was made for volunteers, this company, known as the color guard of the Eighteenth Regi-ment, was one of the first to respond in the hour of danger. As will be seen, the Captain is now engaged in raising a company of light cavalry; his headquarters are in Sixth street, below Chestnut, and all who desire to serve under a fearless and ex-perienced officer will do well to enlist with him.

FLAG PRESENTATION TO COLONEL BIRNEY'S RESIDENT.—An interesting ceremony took place on Wodnesday, just prior to the departure of Col. D. B. Birney's regiment for Washington. The personal friends of the gallant Colonel determined that he should not a second time depart for the seat that he should not a second time depart for the seat of war without a set of regimental colors. J. E. McDonough, Esq., on the part of the committee, presented to this, the Twenty-third Regiment P. V. militia, a splendid regimental flag, bearing the arms and motto of the State. His thoroughly-patriotic and manly speech was greeted with immense applause by the men. He told them the flag they bere had never known disgrace, and he felt assured that in their hands it would be borne conward to victory or death. In the absence of felt assured that in their hands it would be borne onward to victory or death. In the absence of Colonel Birney, Colonel Dare received the colors, and responded in an admirable speech. Colonel Birney merits the gratitude of his fellow-citizens for the sacrifices he has made in behalf of his country and the preservation of the Union. First to answer the call of his State in the dark hour that threatened it on the outbreak of the rebellion, he has a second time responded to the appeal of the Federal Government when the capital is threatened and the cause of freedom is endangered.

DEATH OF A GALLANT VERMONT VOLUN-TEER.—A few days since a member of Company A, Second Vermont Regiment, returning home, was noticed at the Cooper Shop Volunteer Refreshment Saloon as too weak to proceed farther. His consti-tution had given way under the discipline requisite to a camp life. He was taken to the home of one to a camp life. He was taken to the home of one of the members of the Cooper-Shop Refreshment Committee, and there watched over and cared for by kind friends, and attended to by Dr. Andrew Nebinger. Yesterday morning he breathed his last, far from his native "Green Mountain Home." It will be a solace, though a sad one, for his parents to know that kind hands closed his eyes, and that many tokens of respect were paid to him. His body was taken in charge by Mr. C. V. Fort, vice president, who will accompany it to Vermont. there to deliver it to his friends. The coffin was wrapped in the American flag, and borne by members of the Weccacoe Engine Company to Walnut-street wharf.

SHOCKING Accident.—Yesterday morning, a man named Michael Davis was accidentally shot, a man named Michael Davis was accidentally shot, at his residence in Front street, between York and Dauphin, and expired almost immediately. It seems he was about going gunning and had a double-barrel gun, one barrel of which was loaded. While blowing in the empty barrel, his dog jumped app, and striking the lock of the gun caused an explosion, the load taking effect in his head, causing instant death.

FULLY COMMITTED .- Yesterday afternoon Bill Oliver, arrested for picking pockets at Fairmount, was fully committed by Alderman Beitler to answer the charge. Max Friedman's splendid cavalry, twelve hundred in number, left here yesterday. They will be furnished with horses in Washington.

As five of our judges are to be elected in October, for a term of ten years, we cannot over-estimate the importance of a nomination that is free from party pledges or trammels. If the moral and political taint that is charged upon many of our legislators should be permitted to invade our judiciary, we would soon lose all respect for their decisions, and then what security would we have for life or property?

Now that you have been convened, the work of our committee is finished, we will therefore retire, after expressing the hope that you will soon announce a ticket that will be entitled to the universal support of our fellow-citizens.

The committee was then called to order.

On motion, Mr. John Thompson was appointed temporary chairman, and John Lambert temporary secretary.

A committee of seven was then appointed to nominate permanent officers of the Convention. They reported as follows:

President—A. J. Derbyshire.

Vice Presidents—John Agnew. John Thempson.
Secretaries—John Lambert, Wm. McGlensey.
All of whom were unanimously elected.
On motion, the same committee was requested to report to this Convention, at its next meeting, all the offices to be filled at the October election, together with the present the file. gether with the names of the present incumbents, and also to propose an order of business. It was also resolved that no one but members of this Convention be hereafter admitted to its sit-tings, and that an abstract of its proceedings be furnished to the public papers by the stretaries.

After providing for a treasurer and committee on finance: the Convention adjourned until Tuesday visited Fairmount on Wednesday afternoon, for the purpose of wilnessing the feat of walking a rope stretched across the Schuylkill, at an elevation of one hundred feet from the surface of the water, were doomed to disappointment. Every preparation appeared to have been made for the performance, but it was finally discovered that the

He was dressed in a flesh-colored suit, fitting him closely, and carried a balancing pole, about twenty feet in length. He started off slowly, and after proceeding a few sleps, sat down while the side ropes were being properly adjusted. After some little delay he again took his position, and walked half way across, when he performed the antics for which our rope-dancers are celebrated. An Available Gunboat.-We agree with the opinion of the Troy Whig, that the steamer Commerce, which has been running between that city and Philadelphia, could very easily be made available by the Government as a gunboat, as she is fast, staunch, and has few vulnerable points. [From the Gazette 21st.]

Before the United States Commissioners yesterday, Thomas B. Lincoln was examined on a charge of treason. Judge Coffin appeared for the defence, and United States District Attorney Ball for the prosecution. Messes. Pollock and Small, who arrested the defendant, testified simply to the facts which we have already published—that they had watched defendant for a few days, and arrested him at the Madison House, and found in his trunk a number of letters and documents from prominent Secessionists. These letters were introduced in the court and read, but were not of a character to imcourt and read, but were not of a character to implicate the accused in the commission of an act of reason.

Mr. James Weatherby testified that defendant called at his establishment several times, inquiring the contract price of cartridge boxes, bolts, knap-sacks, etc. Mr. W. told defendant that he furnishsacks, etc. Mr. W. told defondant that he furnished a lot of cartridge boxes for the Indiana troops at $2.25, but he offered to make a lot for him at $3. Defendant said he did not want a United States plate on the articles, and thought that without this they could be furnished for $2.90. Mr. W expressed a willingness to manufacture them at this price without the device named. They could not agree about the knupsacks. This oridence was introduced by the prosecution to show that the cartridge boxes were intended for the Confederate price. army.
Hiram Rose, deputy collector, testified that the first time he saw Mr. Lincoln was at about 1 o'clock P. M. on Saturday, in the Madison House. He with Mr. Pollock, told defendant he was suspected of being a Southern spy. Defendant denied that he was any such thing as a spy, but said he was a ne was any such thing as a spy, but said he was a citizen of Texas—a Southern man, and in favor of "Southern rights." His trunks were then searched, and the papers referred to found in thom. Calvin Bradley testified that he had known Mr. Lincoln for many years; knew him as one of the managers of the Southern Pacific Railroad; knew him to be interested in real estate in the South. On the third of July last he (Bradley) met defondant at the Ohio and Mississippi Railroad depot; de-fendant had a small box under his arm, which he said was full of pistols, and very heavy; defendant said at that time he was going to Seymour, thence to Louisville.

The evidence against Mr. Lincoln was meagre all through, although no person who heard it could fail to be convinced that his object in coming to Cincinnati was to purchase provisions and munitions of war for the Southern army. The case was sub-mitted at about five o'clock. Commissioner Halli-day took it under advisement, and will render his decision this morning. Affairs at Cairo and Vicinity.

The General was in the arms of his body-servant, when, turning his cyes upward just as his spirit was departing, he exclaimed faintly, "Lehmann, I am going up."

A REFUGEE FROM THE SOUTH .- Mr. J. Roberts, a refugee from Alabams, where he had resided for several years, reached Troy on Tuesday afternoon, having been compelled to fice the State to escape the tyranny of the self-constituted vigilance committee of the South. Mr. R. was ar: rested once on his way North, and narrowly escaped summary execution. He was engaged as a clerk

Business affairs have assumed a more cheerful aspect in Rhode Island. The woollen manufacture, which has long been of great importance in that State, and which has latterly greatly increased, is now pretty fully occupied. Some establishments are working over time. The demand for army clothing, and the falling off in importations, have opened a great market for do-

A Curiosity .- A gentleman from Lansingwho was at Old Point Comfort at the time of the burning of Hampton, and visited that village shortly after, has forwarded to his family the key of the old church, concerning which so much has been written. It is about a foot long, and presents a very solid and substantial appearance. It was picked up amid the ruins, and is uninjured, though it was evidently submitted to the action of the fire for some time.

Loss of Schooner Gen. Hersey .- The gale of the 13th was very severe on some parts of our coast. Captain Wentworth, of the schooner Hannibal, arrived at New York on Monday, re-Hannibal, arrived at New York on Monday, reports that he experienced very heavy weather on the 13th, during which his vessel broke the main boom, split mainsail, &c. On the 13th, when off Cape May, the schooner General Hersey, from Philadelphia for an Eastern port, spring a leak, and sunk in twenty-five fathoms of water. The crew were taken off by schooner F. Walker, from Bangor, and taken into Philadelphia.

CITY ITEMS.

DEPARTURE OF TROOPS .- During the last few days thousands of troops have left and passed through this city on their way to the seat of war. Of this number hundreds have procured their military garments at the Gift Clothing Establishment of Granville Stokes, 699 Chestant street, for which they will have no cause to regret. Besides obtaining a cheap and durable garment, a handsome gift is always given with each sale. HARD TO ACCOMPLISH .- It is an ancient adage that it is hard to make a silk purse out of a sow's ear, and it is conally difficult to make good clothing out of poor material, or to get up handsome military uniforms, unless the getter-up possesses the requisite skill. That experiment was tried, and it failed at the beginning of the ivil war; but so far as our own latitude is concerned it is at an cool, for Rockhill & Wilson have established a Military branch at their Brown Stone Clothing Hall, Nos-603 and 605 Chestnut street, above Sixth, and their long experience and business integrity are guarantees that the niforms they get up in immense quantities are all that they should be in every respect.

MILITARY DEPARTMENT IN MILITARY DEPARTMENT IN CONNECTION WITH THE MODEL SCHOOL,
TRENTON, N. J.—Term opens SEPTEMBER 21, 1851.
In view of the present condition and prospects of our country, which are too well understood to need comment here, and at the urgent solicitation of many citizens, it has been determined to establish a MILITARY DEPARTMENT in connection with the Model School, which, while securing to its cadets all the advantages hitherto offered by that school, shall supertude the perfection of drift, the precision of discipline, and to a considerable extent the special application of scientific principles required to constitute the thorough soldier.
The plan keeps prominently in view the moral training of the pupil. Under all circumstances the Bible will be assumed as the standard of truth and duty.
All that tends to develop and strengthen the upright, generous, and saniable qualities of our nature, and to depress and weaken its evil tendencies, will be constantly resorted to for that purpose.
A regular and systematic physical training is contemplated, which, in connection with the Intellectual and Moral, is so essential to man in every department of life.
In furtherance of these views the department will be life.
In furtherance of these views the department will be organized and conducted under the special supervision of Dr. SUMNER C. WEBB, so long and well known in connection with the Normal School, with the co-opera-tion and assistance of the Principal and Professors of the institution. stitution.
The course of study will be substantially the same 34 that already pursued in the school, preparing the pupil for college or connected life.

There will also be special exercises for those who desire them in the application of mathematical and mechanical principles to fortifications, gunnery, slege operations. tions, &c.

The drill in the School of the Soldier, the Manual of Arms, and the Evolutions by Squad, Company, Battalfom, &c., will be required of all.

To insure uniformity, a dress will hereafter be prescribed. scribed.
