GENERAL WM. H. WINDER. -- A COTTCSPOND- ARRIVALS AT THE HOTELS ent sends us the following sketch of General Winder, father of W. H. Winder, now under arrest on a charge of treason: He was a brigadier general in the U. S. Army, commanding the Tenth Military District, of which Washington was part. He was controlled in all his operations by the President and his Cabinet, nearly all of whom were military men of the Revolution. Major General Samuel Smith, of the Maryland Militia claimed rank eyes Winder. In feat with G L Porter, Pittsburg Capt H Scott, England A Wolf, Cincinnati J O Wilson, Pittsburg Chas R Merrick, Ohio Major General Samuel Smith, of the Maryland Militia, claimed rank over Winder. In fact, at the time there was no commander of the troops, and every one ran away on his own hook. The best military advice given was from General Wilkinson, who proposed that the British should be met and harassed by sharp shooters and cavalry, so as to retard their march, and the probability was that they never would have reached Bladensburg. Troops heavily encumbered with knapsacks, &c., could not have made much headway against skirnishing, by men well acquainted with the country. could not have made much headway against skirmishing, by men well acquainted with the country. In consequence of a report of a committee of Congress doing great injustice to the conduct of General Winder, he demanded a court of inquiry, which was immediately ordered. I have now before me their report, signed by Major General Winfield Scott, as president, which concluded:

"Before the action he exhibited industry, zeal, and talent, and during its continuance a coolness, a promptitude, and personal valor highly honorable to himself, and worthy of a better fate."

Adjutant General Parker says: "I am directed by the Secretary of War to advise you that the President has been pleased to approve the report President has been pleased to approve the report and opinion of the court, and to express to you the very favorable opinion which the Executive enter-tains of your military and civil character." He was directed "honorably to resume his command." These proceedings were lately published in the New York Historical Magazine for August last. ARREST OF JAMES W. WALLFOR TREASON.—
The arrest of James W. Wall, of Burlington, N. J., has made much sympathy and excitement in town, Wall being well known here. There was scarcely a day in the week that he did not come to the city
by train or boat, and his genial, humorous qualiby train or boat, and his genial, humorous quali-ties made his society everywhere coveted. In ad-dition to these personal qualities, he was reputed to be rich, having married a wealthy lady of Burling-ton. He was a graduate of Princeton College, and Dessed his early life in the neighborhood of Bor-dentown. He has been a leading lawyer for many years, and was the Democratic candidate for Con-S Steadman, Hartford m Burroughs, Jr. N Y gress and was the Democratic candidate for Congress and certain other offices in his section of the State. As a popular or "stump" speaker he was fervent and effective, and in the last political campaign he favored the election of Mr. Douglas. Some months ago, he expressed himself as a Unionist, and a letter that he addressed to Mr. Horace Martin, of this city, early in July, contains some highly patrictic and resolute sentiments. Latterly, Wall is said to have behaved foolishly, and when the is said to have behaved foolishly, and when the Daily News and kindred sheets were suppressed, he wrote to the Postmaster General a remonstrative letter, to which Mr. Blair replied pertinently and publicly. The immediate act which necessitated Wall's arrest is not clearly known. That it was not ordered without due deliberation and cause, all who trust in the Government are convinced. It is to be lamented that Mr. Wall offered resistance to the marshals. One of them, we understand, is severely braised, and he fought desnegately and, is severely bruised, and he fought des in his dwelling and upon the streets. He did not resist, we have heard, until one of the marshals for-bade his wife to leave the room. She persisted in going up stairs to get him asuit of clothes, and the officer, whose warrant was imperative, took hold of her to enforce his demand. Then, Wall grappled with him, and the disgraceful occurrence took pled with him, and the disgraceful occurrence took place, as before mentioned. The Trenton Gazette says that Colonel Wall had made himself very obnoxious by his active and avowed sympathy with COMMODORE STEWART.—The New York papers copy a libel upon Commodore Stewart, ("Old Ironsides,") of this city, from a Bermuda tup-penny sheet, as follows:
"Commodore Stewart, late of the United States navy, was a passenger by the steamer Canada, which arrived at Halifax from Liverpool on the 21st ultimo. He mentioned to a gentleman, a fellow-passenger, that he had resigned his commission in the Federal navy to join the cause of the South, and that he was then on his way to take command of a friest which was eweiting him in one of the of a frigate which was awaiting him in one of the Southern ports; that he had shipped 250,000 mus-kets on his own account for the Secessionists, one-half of which had already reached their destination, and he felt satisfied that the remainder had also since been received. Commodore Stewart had no doubt of the success of the Secessionists. Commodore Stewart owns several estates in Texas and nnessee. Mrs. Stewart, who has also several sates in the South, has taken up her residence at the Isle of Wight, to await the settlement of the Staunch Unionist, and before the war expressed him self in the strongest terms for the forcible overawe-SHARP PRACTICE.—An instance of sharp practice by a couple of rogues came to our know-ledge yesterday. A certain innkeeper in Market street, above Fifteenth, has contracted with a countryman for the removal of all the manure from his stable-yard, in the rear of his premises near a small street. A few days since, when a large quantity had accumulated there, a countryman was passing through the street, when he was accosted by two men, who asked him what he was searching for. He replied that he wanted to buy manure, when they said he was just the man they wanted, and offered to sell him the heap in the inn-yard for $3. The bargain was closed and the money paid, when the sharpers disappeared in a twinkling. The farmer set himself to work to load his wagon with the manure, and had half filled up a load, when he was stopped by the hostler, who wanted to know what he was about. The countryman explained that he had bought the whole lot, but the man was not satisfied with that, and called the inn-keeper, who, after a long argument, succeeded in convincing the farmer that he had been fleeced, the manure being sold by the year to another person. There are always numbers of persons in large cities ready to take advantage of the ignorance, or credulity of others, and our country friends should look sharp when they come to town. COLONEL BOHLEN'S REGIMENT. - Colonel Bohlen's regiment will make a parade to-day. The route is down Market street from the bridge to Twenty-second to Chestnut, down Chestnut to Broad, down Broad to Walnut, down Walnut to Twelfth, up Twelfth to Girard street, down Girard street to Eleventh, down Eleventh to Chestnut, down Chestnut to Fourth down Fourth to Spruce, where the band will dis-course music at the Colonel's residence, down Spruce to Third, up Third to Vine, up Vine to Franklin Square, where they will be furnished with a repast by their friends. The line will then re-form and proceed down Race to Third, up Third to the head-quarters, where more music will be discoursed; up

Third to Coates, up Coates to Twelfth, down Twelfth to Green; up Green to Twenty-third, down Twenty-third to Callowill, thence over Wire Bridge and Mantuaville to the encampment. CAMP AT HARRISBURG.—We visited this camp on Wednesday last and much admired the discipline evinced. There are some ten regiments discipline evinced. There are some ten regiments in course of formation, the principal one being Col. B. C. Christ's, which is composed of many citizens of Berks, Schuylkill, and Lebanon counties, among whom we recognized Captains W. W. Dichl, Thos. S. Brenholts, and Hervey Human: Licuts. P. A. Lantz, Chas. Parker, and Robert R. Taylor. This regiment is, without exception, one of the Lest formed in this State, and is commanded by officers of experience. The comforts of the troops are of experience. The comforts of the troops are looked after and their welfare attended to. It affords us pleasure to note these facts and chronicle Supposed Suicide.-A coat, hat, and vest, were found lying upon the wharf at Callowhill street yesterday morning. The body of a man, which was divested of the articles named, was found subsequently at the same spot. From the circum-stance of the clothing having been left upon the wharf, it is inferred that the man had committed what, it is merred that the hah had committee spickle some time during the night. The deceased appeared to be about fifty years of age. His cloth-ing consisted of a light-brown spotted worsted vest, black pantaloons, chip hat, and high boots. Coro-ner conrad held an inquest.

INSPECTOR OF TENTS.—The Secretary of War has appointed Thomas A. Timmins, Esq., of this city, inspector of army tents, at the U.S. Arsenal. The appointment is an excellent one. Mr. Timmins is an experienced and skilful sailmaker, having been connected with Mr. James Maull for many years, and his appointment will afford much gratification to a host of friends, as it is bestowed solely upon his merits as a man, and his neculiar fitness for the position. peculiar fitness for the position. FOR FORT DELAWARE.—Twenty-three Bal timore disunionists, arrested some time ago, were expected at New Castle and Fort Delaware yester-day, having been ordered to the latter place for confinement. We shall soon have a Bastile in our New York Stock Exchange.—Sept. 12.

of soldiers in the world. Their uniforms are now made of first-class materials, they are cut in an easy and graceful style, and the men present a neat, comfortable, and soldierly appearance. We refer in this connection particularly to the uniforms made at the Brown Stone Clothing Hall of Rockhill & Wilson, Nos. 603 and 605 Chestnut street, above Sixth. It is generally conceded, by those who are qualified to judge, that the best military clothing in use is that made by this well-known

MEETING OF COUNCILS. -Both branches of City Council met yesterday afternoon for the first time after their usual summer vacation. Most of the members were present, and seemed exceedingly anxious to commence business in real carnest. Many of them appeared in new suits, and presented quite a fine appearance and attracted considerable attention. Upon inquiry we learned that they had taken advantage of their short recess and had visited the popular Gift Clothing Emporium of Granville Stokes, 609 Chestnut, where, in addition to receiving a cheap and well-made garment, they were also presented with a useful and handsome gift.
