GEN. JOHN A. McCLERNAND .- This gentleman announces his intention of resigning his seat in the next Congress. He is now in command at Cai-ro, and thinks that he could not hold both places without violating the Constitution. ONE of the South Carolina chivalry who has recently been married advertises in the Charleston papers for a military substitute.

CITY ITEMS.

Still Later and Greater. Our readers will remember that a short time ago w referred to a great new Cooking Stove, invented by Mr. JAMES SPEAR, of this city, which we characterized as "the latest and greatest improvement" of the age. This was our opinion then, and it is our opinion still—in its line. Since then, however, another new article of stove has emanated from the same prolific source, which, while It does not in any way detract from the supremacy of the Cooking Stove then described by us, is, as a Parlor Stove, no less a marvel of mechanical perfection. The new article in question, but recently patented, and now for the first time offered to the public, we had the pleasure of examining at the warerooms of Mr. Snear, No. 1116 Market street, yesterday. It is called the "Anti dust Air-tight Gas-burning Parlor Stove," being, in all respects, similar to the celebrated "Silver's" Air-tight Parlor Stove with Mr. Spear's several improvements hitherto regarded by the public as the greatest parlor stove in the country. The name of this new stove is suggested by its chief peculiarity, the grand feature of it being its utter and complete freedom from dust. This ideratum is effected by means of a patent poker, attached to, and embodied in the stove, so adjusted that with the greatest case the fire is raked efficiently, without opening a door, or exposing a crevice, the teeth of the poker passing up between the bars of the grate, and are easily moved up and down, or to and fro, by means of a meat tongue in front, which a lady may operate with kid gloves without soiling them, or exposing her parlor to one particle of dust in doing so.

We regard these stoves us so decided and desirable un improvement that, if the public at large were acquainted with its merits, no single establishment in Philadelphia could supply the demand for them. The great objection stoves in parlors and chambers has heretofore been the grating, dusty, and, in all respects, unpleasant operation of raking the fires. All this, in the stove her referred to, is effectually obviated, which peculiarity, together with the several other excellent improvements which it combines, all of Mr. Spear's own invention, renders it the parlor stove of 1861—ne plus ultra. We are well aware that to an ingenious article of this kind no verbal description can do full justice, even had we time and space to enlarge upon its details; we have said enough, however, we trust, to induce every intelligent reader to examine the stove for himself, whether intending to purchase or not, as it is certainly a most ingeniou and perfect piece of mechanism.

THE ART OF CURING MEATS .- We know of no firm in this city that has more effectually won its way to popular favor than that of Messrs, J. H. Michener & Co., Nos. 142 and 144 North Front street, the celebrated Hams" are now sold by every first-class grocer in this city, and they are a decided favorite with the public. So true is this that, great as are their facilities for preparing them, they find it difficult to supply the contantly-increasing demand. We can say from experience that the flavor and richness of the Michener Excelsior Ham surpass any others that we have ever tasted—a result attributable to Messrs. M. & Co. having CONFECTIONERY " FOR THE MILLION."-By things "for the million," is usually meant a medium grade; but we use it to express a different thing, in applying at to the pure confectionery made and sold by Messrs. E. G. Whitman & Co., Second street, below Chestnut. These gentlemen have succeeded in producing the purest and finest goods at the lowest prices, thus placing a first-rate article within reach of the million. Their establishment is really an indispensable institution to our citizens. A USEFUL ORNAMENT .- We know of no article of household furniture at once more useful and orna-mental than the beautiful lamps for burning kerosene oil, manufactured at the "Great Light Emperium" of Messrs. Witters & Co., No. 35 North Eighth street. They are now manufacturing them in all sizes, and at all prices, for public and private edifices, and we advise all who are in want of the best portable light of the age to ARTICLES FOR THE NECK, in the shape of Collars and Cravats, and Gents' Purnishing Goods in general, can be bought in better style, greater variety, and at lower prices, at J. A. Eshleman's, Seventh and Chestnut efrects, than anywhere else. This is every body's verdict.

Mons. Alexander DE Wolowski, the well-known Pianist, Composer, and Vocalist, whose arrival in this city we noticed a few days ago, will shortly nounce a course of Musical Instruction by his new system. He explains the Piano and the science of music to each pupil thoroughly, as well as the true nature of music. He leads his pupils on, almost with himself, and enables them to execute music in a very short time, thus saving years usually bestowed upon elementary inhigh cultivation and possesses great skill in teaching the vocal art. Those who have any desire to learn music in its perfection speedily and easily, either for the profession or private purposes, should not neglect to embrace

THE LORD'S PRAYER .- In another column York, Pa., who propose, for the small sum of one dollar, to be paid by subscribers, to furnish a copy of a beautifully illustrated steel engraving of "The Lord's Prayer." Each subscriber, in addition to the above, will receive a gift. The gifts designed for the distribution consist of houses and lots in the beautiful town of York, wagons buggies, watches, jewelry, books, &c. For particulars

ECONOMY IN FUEL.—Save your money, pur chase Silver's Genuine Gas Consuming Stoves, manufactured by J. S. Clark, 1008 Market street. These Stoves selling them 20 per cent. less than common stoves are sold for. One ton of coal will keep them in full operation for six months, and heat a large room. Persons wanting a first-rate Stove, can get the genuine stove only of J. S. Clark. All my stock of Stoves will be sold at very Cut this advertisement out and bring it with you, and you will not go away disappointed. J. S. CLARK, 1008 Market street, above Touth. THE LAUNCH OF GUNBOATS .- The Government is carrying forward the building of gunbouts for service on the robel coast, and launches take place almost daily. The work of preparation goes briskly forward in every department, and while ship-builders, armorers, and commissaries are hard at work for the grand army of the Union, hosts of cutters and sewers are working night and day at the Brown Stone Clothing Hall of Rockhill & Wilson, Nos. 603 and 605 Chestnu street, above Sixth, getting up elegant and substantial uniforms for the gallant defenders of the Union. This :famed establishment, while continuing the manufacture of first-class garments for civilians, has become the great military depot of the Union.

Office-scekers, and the newspapers that court their patronage, will, no doubt, denounce this independent mode of noninating; but, surely, intelligent freemen will no longer suffer themselves to be blinded to their rights. Unless the nomination of candidates for office becomes practically as free as the right of suffrage, we will continue to be slaves to the little band of trading politicians who have long used voters as their tools. If citizens are not free to select their best men to serve in legislative assemblies and public offices, now that RUIN or REFORMATION is the alternative, then political corruption must have proceeded beyond the reach of any constitutional remedy.

These nominations have been made with as little regard to party politics as possible. The Judicial candidates are the experienced, able, and honest Judges who were elected by the people to their present positions ten years ago. It was the unanimous opinion of the Convention that the purity and efficiency of the Judiciary can only be maintained by a distinct separation of the office from the contests of political parties; and that it would, therefore, be inexpedient, and hostile to the public interests, to remove from the hench, without cause, those who are acknowledged as loyal citizens, and have proved competent and pure in the administration of justice. For these reasons the Gouvention unanimously agreed to recommend to their fellow-citizens the reelection of the present Judges.

All the nominees for the other offices are believed to be entitled to the confidence, and worthy to receive the votes of the people. The candidates for Sheriff, Register of Wills, Clerk of the Orphans' Court, City Trensurer, and City Commissioner, were all nominated without a suggestion or hint from either of them, that either of them desired office. They were selected from a large number of names suggested to the Convention by our fellow-citizens, solely with reference to their loyalty, honesty, and capacity. Their election by the people will be the first important step towards purifying some of those offices of the corruption and dishonesty for which they are notorious. The practice of extorting illegal fees from every citizen who enters them on business, for which they are notorious.

those onces in the corruption and assonices, how what they are notorious. The practice of extorting illegal fees from every citizen who enters them on business, for which office fees are pavable, has become so oppressive and offensive to the public as to demand a rebuke, which the people only can give, by breaking down party lines, and decling honest men to such positions, who will reform the abuse. Such an opportunity is now presented. Our candidates are publicly pledged to do so, and they are men who will neither forget nor violate their pledges. They know that we are earnest in our determination to put an end to such frauds, and they will help us do it. But, in this work, we must have the co-operation of our fellow-citizens of all parties. There is nothing that should divide us now; we all stand on the same principles—all, at least, who are loyal to the flag of our country—who are ready to defend it against all its enemies, and unfurf it again, and uphold it fur its full glory in the rebellions States, where it has been insulted and trampled upon.

Our servants, all of them, must be loyal and nonest rebellions States, where it has been insulted and trampled upon.

Our servants, all of them, must be loyal and honest as well as loyal. Unfortunately, there are many men among us who declare themselves for the Government, for the war and its vigorous presecution, whose patriotism never goes beyond party lines, and is kept alive by the hope of PUBLIC PLENDER. If we intend to protect and preserve the institutions of our country we must take care that such persons do not get control of them through our blind adherence to party nominations, or the influence and patronage of public offices.

It is well known that for some years past nearly all our representatives to the State Legislature, nominated and elected through the machinery of party politics, have so disgraced and dishonored our city by their venality, incapacity, and bade sonduct that Philadelphia has lost all her good influence in the legislation of the Common. capacity, and bad conduct that Philadelphia has lost all her good influence in the legislation of the Commonwealth, although much of it is vitally important to her welfare and prosperity. Laws are proposed, relating to corporations and classes of cittzens engaged in particular avocations, for the sole purpose of extorting money from those whose interests they may affect. The losses and distress among the industrious poor and others of our city, through fraudulent savings institutions and insurance companies, are results of bad and corrupt legislation. All citizens are alike interested in putting an end to such scrious calamities, and restoring the influence of our great metropolis, through honest and capable representatives in the legislative halls of the State. We believe that our candidates for these important positions come up to the standard of through honest and capable representatives in the legislative halls of the State. We believe that our candidates for these important positions come up to the standard of LOYALTY, HOMESTY, and CAPACITY. Some of them were nominated very much against their own wishes, and, although fully approving the objects of the Convention and the principles of its action, they have expressed their unwillingness to accept the nomination. But the Convention has not excused them, because, while so many thousands of our citizens, friends, and kindred, are in the field, offering their lives in support of our Government and institutions, we think that no man in civil life has a right to refuse any public service for which he is qualified, and to which he may be called by the votes of the people.

We earnestly invoke every loyal citizen to unite in support of the principles of public policy above indicated, and briefly expressed in the following declaration, approved by all the emididates of the Convention:

I. That the Government of the United States must be earnestly sustained by all citizens, in all its measures for the suppression of treason and rebellion; that our national existence depends on a vigorous and determined prosecution of the war against those who are in arms against it; that the war must be carried on without encouraging our enemics, at home and abroad, to hope for peace on any terms short of the absolute submission of all rebels and traitors to the Constitution and laws; and that, in order to accomplish these objects successfully and speedily, all loyal citizens should now unite in obliterating the party lines which have heretofore divided them, and stand, with one accord, under the flag of our country.

II. The public welfare demands, that the servants of the people shall not only be loyal to the Federal Government, but equal to, and scrupnlously exact in, the part formance of their duties; that all frauds and peculations of men in public office shall bediscountenanced and punished; that those whose compensation rectly or through their subordinates, or otherwise, any other or larger fees than are allowed by law, and that public officers within the limits of their respective spheres shall be firm, fearless, and vigilant, in protecting citizens from all illegal exactions in these respects.

111. That, as all public offices are created for, they must be subordinated to the subjugged and official parents. tronge should not be used for partisan purposes, or to promote the private advantage of those who bestow it. IV. That every candidate for office must rely on his individual merits and expacity for his election by the people; and efforts to gain support from any quarter by brilles, hargains, favors, or promises of favors of any description, must be regarded as evidence of dishonesty and corruption, which unfits and disqualifies him for any restriction of public trust.

and corruption, which units had usignathes and to any position of public trust.

We respectfully submit the proceedings of the Con-vention to our fellow-citizens, for ratification at the polls. While our brave soldiers stand shoulder to shoul-der under the insulted flag of the nation, forgetful of party spirit in their strong love of our country, and al ready to mingle their life's blood on her battle fields, for the support of our Government and the security of our homes, we can do nothing less than imitate their noble example, and break our party idols, for the sake of THE

By order of the Convention,
A. J. DERBYSHIRE,
Desciden SIXTEENTH DISTRICT OF PHI-NEAR HOLMESBURG. Pa., September 20, 1861. Sir: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your Circular Letter, which I found in the city on my vi sting there yesterday.

I beg to inform you that I accept the momination for the Office of Assembly for the Suxteenth District of the city of Philadelphia, according to the Platform as seforth in your communication, to all of which I fully sub-I cannot close without still more distinctly giving you my Platform, and with, also, the view to leave a record, which, if necessary, will at once hereafter remove the slightest taint of suspicion of Political inconsistency on my part,

It is a well-known fact, particularly amongst my friends, was arrived a undinching Demo-It is a well-known fact, particularly amongst my friends, that I have ever been an answerving, undinching Democrat; my first yet having been cast for General Andrew Jackson for the Presidency. It may then appear strange that I am opposing the Democratic Nominee, Mr. Duffield, I having been importuned to accept a nomination declined several times; at last, on calm reflection, and urged on by a few strong considerations, I accepted; and why I hereby state, and in language which cannot be mistaken, I take high ground, and quote from no less a personage than the Hon. B. F. Hallett, of Massachusetts, who, I am proud to say, is a relative, and the author of the Cincinnati Platform.

"The simple issue is, the overthrow or the support of Government in the whole Union, and while that is the issue, I am not for opposing or obstructing any measure of policy of the Administration homestly designed to carry on this war for its great end, viz: the re-establishment Government in the whole Union, and white that is the issue, I am not for opposing or obstructing any measure of policy of the Administration honestly designed to carry on this war for its great end, viz the re-establishment of the Supreme Government of the Union, in all the States and Territories; until that is done, or it is fully demonstrated that it cannot be done by force of arms, I belong to no party but the country. And until one of these results arrive, 'the Bennocratic Party,' in my judgment, has no higher present duty than to uploid the Covernment. The mission of that great historical party of the Union is not ended, and never can be earled, while republican government exists, or the Union is to be restored; but the people have placed the flag in other hands, and now the mission of Democracy is the old one—to follow it to victory. This is the grant tradition of the Democratic Party—on the land, on the sea, follow the Flag wherever it waves in support of the Union. In this spirit the Democratic Party did not hesitate an instant after the fire on Sumpter, to commit itself to this 'war' to the utmost of its means and its good faith. No victory has been or can be achieved, and no defeat suffered, but with the outpouring of the best blood of Democrats. The Democratic Party never was, and never can be, a peace party in war, nor a war party in peace. When their country is in perll, when their country is at war, right or wrong, they are for their country and against its enemies. They will not turn their backs upon the National Standard, let who may bear it up. Nor will they, in the mist of the confict, endanger the field by a party context for the command."

With my endorsement of these sentiments, and assuring you, sir, that if elected I will endeavor to perform my duties to the satisfaction of my constituents,

I remain your obl's servant.
