 C Heaven Witter The Chicago Tribune, of October 12, says: The day has been a dull one at the banks, most of them not having enough paper offered to employ their means in hand. Money for all legitimate purposes continues abundant, and opportunities to speculate and make large profits are by no means pleuty. For the great public, however, such a state of things is healthy, and for the permanent capilalisis themselves, it is also desirable. It is a well-established principle in finance, as in every de-partment of political economy, that no one class of the community can prosper permanently at the expense of another. 0011 Ko. 918 CHESTRUT Street. ECLECTIC MEDICAL COLLEGE. UNITED STATES SANITARY COMMISSION.—The Sanitary Commission earn-estly and confidently appeals to the community for con-tributions of money to enable it to enlarge its operations, Commission earners of the community for con-tributions of money to enable it to enlarge its operations, or at least, to continue them on their present scale. Under its present organization, every Camp and Mili-tary Hospital from the Potomac to the Missouri is syste-matically visited and inspected. Deficiencies are ascer-tined, and, so far as possible, supplied. There has scarcely heen a single company of Volunteers in the field wherein some serious neglect or abuse endangering the health of the soldler has not been pointed out by the agents of the Commission, and remedied or mitigated. In no case have its services or advice been repulsed, or com-plaint been made of its embarassing any officer in the discharge of his duty, or intefering with discipline in the smallest degree. We have occasion for most profound national thanks-riving in the fact that our armies are plassing through the most perilous scaeso of the year, not only without de-structive epidemics, but with hardly a tenth part of the most perilous scaeso not oxyeer, but which seems for the present averted. No human skill or asgocity could have averted it; but it scents of the Saultary Commission have contributed at least as much as any mere human agency to this unbeged-for result. If so, what contri-bution to its freasury is not already more than repaid? After confidential conference with the blighest authori-ties, the Commission fields bound to solicit with urgency a large and speedy increase of its pecuniary resources.
