The stock market was dull to-day. At the first board the whole business comprised sales of 33 shares of Reading Ratiroad stock, at 17%, and thirteen hundred dollars of City Loan, (new.) at 91%. At the second boards nine hundred dollars of Schuylkill Navigation sixes, of 1882, sold at 61; twenty shares of Beaver Meadow Railroad stock, at 58, and nine shares of Camden and Amboy Railroad, at 113%,

Fifty-two shares of stock, and twenty-two hun cicliars of loans, make up the whole day's work. It is cedless to make comparison of prices upon such a showing as this. The market is quoted as firm. The stories of disagreements between Generals Scott and McClellan, and the talk on the street that the influence of the Lieutenant General and the Secretary of State are exerted to cause the Pennsylvania hero to be displaced for a favorite founded, keep people from investing in stocks at present. No better investment can be found, for those having small sums, as well as large, than the great Government Loan, of which Messrs. Jay, Cooke, & Co., are the agents. The receipts of yesterday, at Messrs. Jay, Cooke, & Co.'s office, were $45,000. OFFICIAL BANK STATEMENT.

CITY ITEMS.

MONTHLY MEETING OF THE YOUNG MEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION.—The regular monthly meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association was held at the rooms, Chestnut street, above Touth, last evening Mr. H. H. Shillingford in the chair. The meeting was opened with prayer and reading the Scriptures, after which the minutes of the last two meetings were read A short discussion then ensued upon the informal character of the election yesterday, held at the rooms, al-legations having been made by several members that the election was illegally conducted, from the fact that the President had omitted at the proper time to appoint judges and tellers. Some held that the election, for priwate reasons, had been purposely intended to "be left go by default," with a view to procuring a constitutional amendment respecting the requisite age of officers, George H. Stuart, Est., who has long been the presiding officer and moving spirit in the Association, being now past the age designated in the constitution for office committee of three to prepare a minute respecting this nformality. The usual essay and the various reports of standing committees were all omitted, with the exception of the of the Army Committee, which, in the absence of the chairman, was represented by Brother Patterson, who rose to say that, for the present, he had nothing to say He rose again, however, to express his thanks to the several churches which had opened their places of worship for holding meetings in behalf of the soldiers. The committee of three, through their chairman, Mr Smith then reported a preamble and resolution, appointing next Monday evening for holding the annual

The item of "unfinished business," was next in order, under which head the following amendment to the charter and constitution was proposed:

That the restriction in the constitution, making the age of the officers to be under 45 years, be altered so as Bridge, Del, with corn to Jus Barratt & Son.

Steamer Bristol, Charles, 24 hours from New York, Dr. Harper opposed this motion on principle. He held that gentlemen were not deaf nor blind, nor was their understanding muddy that they could not see for themnotice, which had not been given.

selves that the constitution declared, as plain as A B C, that no such action as was contemplated in this resolution could be legally taken without at least one month's Mr. Shillingford thought that, inferentially, due notic had been given. Mr. Fox challenged Mr. Shillingford's ingenuity to devise some better method to get out of the difficulty into which they were sinking deeper and deeper. He was hearthly in favor of rotaining Mr. Stuart in the prasidency, but it must be done regularly-i. e, "deently and in order." Dr. Harper was of the same opinion, and proposed that he day of election be still further postponed.

Mr. Ward insisted upon it that the whole thing ought to be left go by default. nothing personal in their remarks. Brother Patterson rose again, and made a logical and telling speech. He deprecated the course gentlemen were pursning with reference to this election difficulty. When was the use of insisting on so much order in this matter, when everything else that the Association did was proerbially done out of order ! He was in favor of having Mr. Stuart continued as President, from this fact, among others, that they could get nobody else to consent to serve in that capacity. The proposed amendment to the constitution was then, by a unanimous vote, posponed Dr. Osborne then rose, and said he was in favor of erasing the age provise from their constitution. This Association had attained an enviable position and reputation; not on account of its achievements, but on a count of the high character of the men at the head of its effairs. If this disabling clause were retained, it mus eject several of these most valuable members, which would be very detrimental to their future prosperity as an organization. It was then, after a vast deal of discussion, ordered b a two-thirds vote that a committee be appointed to mak application to the Legislature for the alteration in the charter above specified; but, there not being a moram present, the vote was pronounced void, which leaves the question open for future action. THE FUR TRADE .- Passing the splendid establishment of Messrs, Charles Cakford & Sons, under the Continental Hotel, yesterday, we entered, in order to ascertain the prospects of the Fur Trade, in which this house has long been very largely engaged. From present prospects, their operation in Furs, this fall, will be unusually large, from the double-fact that their stock of them is more extensive than ever and their prices lower, by a very large percentage. From what we there and then saw, our judgment emphatically is, that now is the time for ladies to buy their Furs, and Oakfords' is the Superior Old Port .- Our most eminent physicians are accustomed, in many cases, to recomnend to their patients the use of Port Wine. Of course, a pure article is intended. Mr. C. H. Mattson, dealer fine groceries, Arch and Tenth streets, has now a genuine old article of Port Wine on hand, admirably dapted for medicinal purposes—the finest in the city, we think. SIGNOR BLITZ .- The Temple of Wonders, fenth and Chestnut streets, is a place of great resor All classes and ages flock to see the happy Magician and Ventriloquist. He exhibits nightly, and on Wednesday nd Saturday afternoons for the accommodation of ladies and children.
