The Pacific Mail Steamship Company has declared a dividend of five per cent., at the rate of twenty per cent. per annum, payable on the 13th instant. The surplus, it ts understood, was some fifteen per cent., and a larger dividend could have been declared if it had been the policy of the company to change the amount of the The St. Louis Republican says the rates as fixed by the California Telegraph from that point are according

These rates for the lowest amounts of matter strictly conform to the act of Congress, which limited the maximum to $4.25 for the first ten words, and thirty-six cents for each additional. The rates from New York to San Francisco are $5.95 for the first ten words, and forty-eight cents for each subsequent word, the difference being the present charges between New York and St. Louis. As yet, through rates are exacted upon all despatches to Salt Lake City, Carson City, and other intermediate stations on the route, no way rates having, so far, been determined on. This irregularity will, however, be of only short duration, as at a meeting of the company, soon to be held in New York, a way schedule will be agreed on. The impression that the present rates greet to high, either for the accommodation of the public or the interests of the company, is one which time may confirm. Such is the opinion of some of the corporators, who, it is to be hoped, if they are right, will be able to convince the controlling influences in the company that it is good policy to reduce their prices.

THE NOON-DAY PRAYER MEETING .- Yes-

It appears that for some time past these meetings have been dwindling down to a very limited attendance, and that the daily contributions have not nearly equalled the expenses. The result of the extra effort yesterday was a congre gregation much larger than usual, the church having been almost completely filled, although the business proceedings at the close showed very painfully that the great question of Church Union, after all the eloquence expended in its behalf since the commencement of the revival in 1857, remains practically unchanged. There have been many brave professions of union, but this new bond between different denominations proves to have been one of courtesy and constraint only, without the cars attempt to fraternize in spirit, we had yesterday the honest confession that the effort had utterly failed of its object. The Episcopalian was an Episcopalian still, the Baptist was a Baptist still, and so of the others. And not only this: the meetings were confessed to have been rendered unpleasant by obnoxious [denominational] sentiments. The movement did unquestionably promise well for a while; but of the opposite forces of attraction the mastery that to-day the most ardent friends of the Noon-day Prayer Meeting—those who doted most fondly on the placard, " This meeting is a permanent institution"-entertain serious fears that decline will ere long result in discontinuance.

The chair on this occasion was occupied by Mr. Shillingsford, who opened the meeting by reading the parable of the sower, and a few remarks upon the past history and vicissitudes of these noon-day gatherings for prayer since their inauguration, November 23d, 1857. After singing a hymn, the usual exercises of voluntary prayer and exhortation were in order. The moderator read the following request for prayer:

"A mother asks the prayers of this meeting in behalf of an absent son." This request was responded to in a prayer by Mr. Tollman. The Rev. John Chambers next rose, and said that a notice had been circulated among the churches to some startled every friend of the Lord Jesus Christ in this city. The cause of this notice was simply this: For some time past the attendance upon these meetings had averaged only about from fifty to a hundred persons, and the contributions had been altogether inadequate to defray the expenses of keeping them up. He was, however, not in favor of discontinuing them; God forbid! He wanted them revived. If the necessity of prayer had been great in the fall of 1857, he reminded his be-loved brethren that it was a thousand times greater now. The salvation of souls was just as important to-day as purpose and concert of action. He knew that some peodepend upon numbers. But he would ask, what, then, tirely immaterial, then a small meeting was as good as a large one, and, by logical sequence, a small meeting was no better than no meeting at all. He hoped that these meetings would not be relinquished while there were two men or women in Philadelphia to keep thom up. The next speaker hoped that Mr. Chambers' remarks would find a fitting response in every heart.

The prayers of the meeting were then requested, in

This and the previous one were the only two requests The meeting was next addressed by Mr. George H. Stuari. He had just received a letter from the colonel of one of the regiments at Washington, a portion of which he read. He felt that the deep necessity for earnest prayer at this extreme hour of our country's peril should itself be an eloquent appeal for the continuance of these meetings, which had been attended with so much good

A gentleman whose name we did not learn next rose and said these were meetings of peace, but these were times of war. The distinguished and the undistinguished were being hewn down by the enemy, But there were marked batteries more destructive than those on the masked batteries more destructive than those on the other side of the Potomac—the batteries which Satan the sulmeted along the pathway of life to destroy souls.

Days Kunble, Chester co has planted along the pathway of life to destroy souls. This speaker was followed by an eccentric young man, who rose and made a very impassioned peace speech.

He contended that God's professing children had no right to shed blood, under any circumstances, and the Church of God would bring judgment upon itself for its wickedness in this matter. The moderator tapped the bell. The peace man elevated his voice to a rather bellige pitch, and grew more denunciatory than ever, until, after another tap or two of the bell, he was apparently frightened down by a vacificrous, though indistinct, and we suspect misunderstood, "Amen!" on the other side of

At the close of the devotional exercises, the meeting was merged into a business meeting, for the purpose of considering the best means to adopt in future. Mr. Chambers volunteered to obtain a day's collection n his own church to meet expenses. Mr. Parker, a layman, followed in some very plainpoken remarks about ministers not doing their duty. It was, he said, the fault of the clergy that these meetings re going down. They had abated their interest, and their congregations had simply followed their example There were some other causes of this decline, but the chief cause was the one here referred to. This speech put the clergy upon their mettle. Rev. Mr. Carden, Episcopalian, said it was a great fact that any religious meeting, unless it was attended by the clergy, must and would decrease; but the decrease of this meeting was not wholly attributable to the delin-quency of the ciergy. The fact was, this meeting had sadly departed from its original standard. Subjects of every description, war, slavery, and others, were being introduced, to the exclusion of Jesus. This was the great and withering mistake. Salvation through Christ was the legitimate theme of these prayer meetings, and unless it could be acknowledged as such, he for one would cease to take any further part in them.

The Rev. J. Wheaton Smith, Baptist, then rose to explain his own reason for non-attendance. During the revival things went on in his own congregation with apparently less need of labor on his part, so that he had some time for outside matters, but when the waters began to abate, he found that he was needed at home. He also proceeded to criticise the spirit and character of the tings themselves, cracking jokes, one, among others. at the expense of his pedo-Baptist brethren, and wound up by disagreeing with Mr. Carden as to the propriety of preaching Christ constantly. There were some other subjects that needed attention in the pulpit.

Mr. Carden retired, apparently in disgust, and Mr. Smith concluded, after expressing a desire to have the Saviour's power, in order that he might tay his hand upon the crazed brain of some fanatical disturbers of these meetings, and say, " peace, be still." At this point there was a general uprising of the congregation to leave, and the proceedings were somewhat summarily closed. The benediction was pronounced by the Rev. Mr. Kennard.

CONCERT IN BEHALF OF THE INDIANS .- We invite the attention of our readers to the advertisement in another column of a Grand Combination Concert, with recitations, to be held at National Hall, this evening, is behalf of the Indians. Mr. John Beeson, who has taken an active part in evangelizing these people, is resorting to all proper means in his power to do them good, and the entertainment at National Hall is to be given in this interest. The entertainment, we may say, also, promise to be of a very interesting character. Larooqua, the Indian Bongstress, will sing and recite some of her best pieces, and graduates of the Blind Asylum will assist in the yoral and instrumental music. Dr. S. M. Landis has also volunteered to recite a few spirited patriotic pieces.

The admission has been placed at the low price of twenty cents; children half price. LADIES' FANCY FURS .- Our lady readers will find the largest and best assortment of Fancy Furs in this city at Messrs. Charles Oakford & Sons', under the Continental Hotel. They are selling them also at greatly reduced prices. Persons desiring bargains in this line will do well to act promptly in making their selections, as hundreds are now doing daily. "SILVER-FLINT BUCKWHEAT."-This Buckwheat, we may inform our readers, is unsurpassed by any other brand in the market, being quite equal to any manufactured by the Moravians, of Bethlehem, arr! far superior to any other. The sole agent for the "Silver-Flint Buckwheat" is Mr. C. H. Mattson, dealer in fine roceries, corner of Arch and Tenth streets. SEA-SHELLS .- Mr. Smith, auctioneer, on Chestant street, opposite the State House, will offer for sale, on Wednesday morning, at 10 o'clock, at his ware-room, a very choice assortment of beautiful Sea-shells. As this will be the last chance for some time for obtaining specimens of marine shells, we advise our citizens to attend the sale. PRESIDENT LINCOLN INVESTS IN THE NATION AL LOAN.—The President, on Thursday, took to Treasurer Spinner, $8,300 of his unexpended salary, and invested it in 7.30 notes. He reserved a small "pile" for the purpose of investing it in a fall suit at the Brown ne Clothing Hall of Rockhill & Wilson, Nos. 603 and 605 Chestnut street, above Sixth, Philadelphia. The President is perfectly well aware that the best and most elegant garments for either civilians or soldiers are got up at this celebrated establishment. BOMBARDMENT OF CHARLESTON .- Yesterday afternoon our city was wild with excitement occasioned by runors of the bombardment of Charleston, by the great Naval Expedition. Further particulars received from our special correspondents state that Granville Stokes, at his fashionable clothing emporium, 609 Chestnut street, continues to sell his extensive stock of fall and winter garments at rates which will produce a greater excitement in this city, than the great fleet off Charleston.

I. LUKENS, M. D., DENTIST and Manufacturer, of Miseral. Plate Teeth.—This style of Teeth, instead of using metal, are constructed entirely of Minerals, hence they are entirely free from metallic or other sate. There are no joints to become filled with moisture or particles of food, and thus they are absolutely pure, clean, and will always continue so. The advantages are chappiess, durability, and utility in masticating. They cannot produce headache, neuralgia, sore-throat, dyspepsia, &c., so often caused by gold: and silver plate. These Teeth have been worn for the past eight years with the greatest satisfaction.
