SERENADE TO GOV. CURTIN-HIS SPEECH .-His Excellency Governor Curtin, having yesterday arrived in town for the purpose of presenting the State dags to our city regiments to-day, was evenuded at the Continental last evening, about ten o'clock, by the National General Section of the State of the State of Section of Section (Section of Section of continents use evening about the occopy by the National Guard's band.

In response to the compliment, the Governor said: Gentlemen: My object in visiting your city is, as you are probably aware, to present to your gallant regiments the flags which were purchased for them by the last the flags which were purchased for them by the last last the defence of the Constitution and the Union. [Applause.] Gentlemen, I need scarcely say to you that the only end we should have in view, if we duly appreciate the blessings of that Constitution and that Union, is to crush out this wicked and unholy rebellion. [Applause.] To those loyal men in the robellious States, who amid danger and the peells of treason have nobly battled for their constitutional rights, we offer the Constitution with all its blessings and benefits. To those who are now in arms in an infiances autempt to overturn il, we offer the arms in an infamous attempt to overturn it, we offer the sword and the halter. [Crics of "good" and applause.] I tell you, gentlemen, that they had better study the use nd texture of hemp, and its influence upon the jugular [Applause.]

If we would glory in the history of the past, if we If we would glory in the history of the past, it we would rejoice he present prosperity, and in the hope of an auspicious future, such as has never yet dawned upon any nation, we must exert our united energies, crushing out this hydra of treason. Gentlemen, when I touch upon this war question, I am apt to make a speech, and, therefore, thanking you for your kind reception, allow me to bid you good night! [Cheers.]

THE SOLDIERS' RELIEF ASSOCIATION.—The Soldiers' Relief Association of the Episcopal Church meet avery Wadnesday, at 10 c'clock A. M., in the library room of the Church of the Holy Trinity, on Walnut street, above Nineteenth. All persons, irrespective of denomination, interested in the work of relieving the sick, wounded, and otherwise suffering men, who are perilling their lives to protect our property and homes, are invited to become members, and are solicited for contributions in money, material, and personal services.

The officers of the Society are: First directress, Mrs. Wm. Bucknell, 1931 Walnut street; second directress, Miss Mellenry, 1932 Chestnut street; secretary, Mrs. Bobert Wade, 1818 Rittenhouse Square; assistant secretary, Miss Vaux, 1960 Chesthut street.

The following letter to the Society from Bishop Potter will be read with interest: THE SOLDIERS' RELIEF ASSOCIATION.—The The following letter to the Society from Bisnop Pot-ter will be read with interest:
MY DEAR LAURS: I rejoice to hear that you have formed a "Soldiers' Relief Society" to provide articles for the relief of sick soldiers and others, which are not supplied by the Government. All that can be done will be needed. I know of no more appropriate work for the

We are requested to state that all donations in money, stockings, mirtens, or material, sent to any one of the above addresses, or to the church on the morning of the meeting, will be most thankfully received.

DIED OF HIS INJURIES.—Caleb Cantwell, a DIED OF RIS INJURIES.—Caleb Cantwell, a treight brakesman on the Baltimore Railroad, fell from the platform of a car, as it entered the depot at Broad and Prime streets, on Thesday ovening, fracturing his skull. He died from the effect of his injuries on Wednesday evening. He was a single man, aged twenty-five years, and resided in Christian street, below Broad. It is supposed, that in attempting to put on the brake he slipped and thus fell. He was a sober, industrious man, and had been in the employ of the company a number of years. The coroner held an inquest yesterday, and a verdict of accidental death was given. erdict of accidental death was given.

SERENADE TO GENERAL CADWALADER .-About half past ten o'clock last evening the full and splendid band attached to Colonel Lyle's National Guard Regiment proceeded to the residence of General Calwalader, Chestnut street, below Tenth, and tendered the General the Compliment of a serenade. A number of favorite and patriotic airs were played, including the "Star-Spangled Banner" and "Hail Columbia," and crowd of several hundred persons collected. General Cadwalader then appeared upon the front step, and was greeted with cheers. He invited the band within his residence, where a handsome collation was served up, and a number of toasts drank. The entire party numbered about thirty, and did not depart until after twelve o'clock.

NEW JERSEY PUPILS IN PHILADELPHIA PUB-ALG SCHOOLS.—We understand that the statement relative to New-street Public School, which was represented as giving tuition to pupils from Camden, to the exclusion of the children of citizens, was incorrect in the main. The statement originated with a Sunday paper. The facts are that very few youths from Camden, Burlington, etc., are inmates of our schools, and where such is the case, the parents invariably do business in Philadelphia, and pay large three annually in city checked them.

Major General Fremont, accompanied by his lady and aids, on Wednesday evening, proceeded from the Astor House to the residence of the Rey. Henry Ward Beccher, Brooklyn, where a banquet was given in honor of his visit. The guests, who were numerous, had a large representation from the pulnit.

pulpit. Conpession of Mrs. Marks.—Mrs. Marks is said to have confessed as to her knowledge of the murder of Sigismund Fellner. She says that Rudetski stabbed Fellner and murdered him; that it was he who opened and robbed Fellner's trunk of fits valuable contents. She has not yet located the murder, but will doubtless make a full confession. She seems well contented in the prison at Freehold, New Jersey.

OFFICIAL RECEPTION OF COMMODORE WILKES .-The efficial reception of Commodore Wilkes by the Mayor took place in the Governor's room, at the City Hall, soon after eleven o'clock this (Thursday) Uity Hall, soca after eleven o'clock this (Lhursday) morning. Promptly at eleven o'clock the Commodore arrived at the City Hall from the Brevoort House, accompanied by Alderman Dayton, chairman of the joint committee of ten to tender him the The Commodore was immediately conducted to the private office of the Mayor, where the other members of the committee of reception were waiting. He was first introduced to the Mayor, and afterwards to the committee whom he had not met speech, and was replied to by Captain Wilkes, who said that he felt exceedingly overpowered at the welcome given him. In his own breast the emotions of thankfulness were unbounded at the thought that, for performing a small share of duty, he had met the approbation of the people of the city. The small service—as he looked upon it city. The small service—as he looked upon it— which he had done his country, the people seemed spontaneously to honor him for; he wished, how-ever, that his officers should share the honor with him, because they faithfully did their duty. The act for which he was honored he did not see in the light others did; but he hoped to have further op-light others did; but he hoped to have further opportunities to show his appreciation of the important favor shown him by his loyal countrymen. About fifteen hundred persons called to shake hands with the gullant Commodore, and one old gentleman among them pleasantly remarked, "The next man you take I hope will be Jeff Davis;" to which the Commodore replied, "I am afraid not—Jeff is too sly, and cannot be caught." At half past twelve o'clock the reception closed, and the honored guest drove back to his hotel, accompanied by Councilmen Orton and Stevenson. [From the New York Evening Post of last evening.] BOILER EXPLOSION IN BROADWAY.—A boiler exblosion occurred at half-past ten o'clock this morning, at No. 375 Brondway, occupied by J. Lansing, lealer in cloaks, which resulted in the entire deang, at No. 3:2 Brondway, occupied by J. Lansing, dealer in closks, which resulted in the entire destruction of the vault under an alley where the boiler was situated, and injury to persons and property, but, fortunately, no loss of life.

The fixe had been lighted only about two hours; and, according to the statement of the engineer, there was plenty of water, but as the supply of coal flad been exhausted, very little fire. When tha explosion occurred he had just come from the boiler-room into the basement of the building, and was ascending the stairs to the first story, when, by the force of the concussion, he was thrown down and tumbled to the first of the stairs ngain:

The shock was very great. The alley where the explosion occurred was entirely destroyed; the paving had failen in, and the earth was thrown in every direction. The wall between the boiler-room and the basement of the store was partly torn down, and doors connecting with it burst open. The hot water from the boiler was thrown for many yards into the building, drenching the walls. Yards into the building, drenching the walls.

THE CITY REGIMENTS AT THE SEAT OF WAR. The Special Union Defence Committee appointed to visit those regiments at Washington which have heretofore engaged their attention, will inquire particularly into the health of each regiment; its losses by sickness, wounds, or capture; its active force on duty, and its condition in respect of uniforms, army equipments, and hospital stores. The force on duty, and its condition in respect of uniforms, army equipments, and hospital stores. The colonels have been requested to prepare answers to these questions in advance, and an effort will be made to reheve the wants and supply the deficiencies of each regiment as soon as possible. FOOLISH RUMORS.—Yesterdny afternoon a rumor was set afloat, which, like a rolling snowball, gained dimensions as it proceeded. It was to the effect that errors had been discovered in the counting, and defective ballots rejected, and that the canvass would prove Mr. Gunther to have been elected. These reports came to our ears early in elected. These reports came to our ears early in the day, but having already informed ourselves of the true state of the case, we did not deem it worth while to alarm the public by the publication of

Any attempt at fraud would prove fatal to the men by whom it should be made. The awarding of a certificate to Mr. Gunther, under the circumnarrowest partisan conduct. There is reason to believe that those now eager to show that Mr. Gunther has been elected are secretly hostile to the lovernment, and in favor of the continued rule of It is giving almost too much prominence to the rumors to disprove them. But the friends of purity of elections perhaps ought to receive some assu-rance. Where were three lists made of the votes given in every election district of the city—one for given in every election district of the city—one for the Police Board, one for the Tribune, and one for Mr. Opdyke. These nearly agree. They were signed and certified by the canvassers and poll-clerks. Besides, there were lists kept for other morning papers, closely approximating these figures, and rendering the fraudulent attempt to count Mr. Gunther in abortive. We present them in tabular form:

George Opdyke is the Mayor elect of this city, and, if he lives, will be sworn in at the proper time.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

THE MONEY MARKET. PHILADELPHIA, December 5, 1861. Another dull day in the stock board is to be recorded to-day, with, however, great steadiness in prices. State fives sold at 79, city sixes at 90%, and 84 for the new and old issues respectively, with the interest off, the transfer books being closed. The monoy market presents no new features. The Pitisburg Gazette, of Monday, says!

Judges Grier and McCandless, of the United States lircuit Court, delivered a decision, Saturday, in the case f Evans vs. The City of Pittsburg, upon an application o set asside a mandamus execution against the controller to set aside a mandanus execution against the controller and trensurer, to satisfy judgments obtained upon certain railroad bonds issued by the city. The Judgs decides that the proceedings are legal and regular, and that the money must be paid out of the first funds coming into money must be paid out of the first funds coming into the treasury.

This decision affects both cities alike, the aggragate judgments ngainst which now foot up $140,000. More mandanuses will follow, and a refusal to pay (so long as there are funds on hands) subjects the treasurer to imprisonment. This is a new aspect of the bond question, and the lax-payers may prepare for extra reliancy demands in shape of millage. Under this decision, those who hold judgments against the city, and seek the remedy of mandanus execution, must be paid first, while all other municipal creditors will be obliged to bide their time. time.

No notice has yet been served upon the City Treasure under this decision, but we understand that new proceedings are about to be instituted, with a view to preven the diversion of the public funds from the purposes to which they have been specially appropriated. In the meantime the funds in the treasury will not be disburse for the contract of the contract for any purpose, so that persons holding city warrant will have to retain them for a while, or submit to

The General is perfectly well aware that the best, the most comfortable, and the most elegant garments for soldiers and civilians are those made at this establishment.

THE LONDON TIMES ON THE ARREST O SLIDELL AND MASON.—Private advices from England represent that country in a state of intense exciteme over the alleged breach of international law, and the imagined insult to the British flag. The London Times held the following language: "America will be made to repent, in sackcloth and ashes, for this indignity upon the mother country. Before a month has passed, a British fleet will be knocking at her doors, whose boom ing cannon will resound over the land, from the Palatial Clothing Establishment of Granville Stokes, 609 Chest-nut street, Philadelphia, to the very halls of her Capitol!" Mr. Stokes, however, will, in the meantime, con tinue to sell his fashionable winter garments at the sam low prices.

TO BE CONTINUED ONCE A WEEK, THROEGH
THE PRINCIPAL COMEDIES AND TRAGEDIES.
Two evenings will be given to the analysis of each Pluy, involving the discussion of its Characters—in themselves and in their mutual relations—its textual difficulties, and its moral significance. The opinions of the best commentators will be given; but that they may aid and not hinder independent investigations, they will be subjected to as rigid criticism as though they were not protected by the shadews of great names. The views of the characters arrived at will be further illustrated by Dramatic Beadings of the principal roles; and it is hoped that by these combined means the provelent half-formed or ill-formed notions of Shakspere's ideal world will be corrected and clearly defined.
The Studies are not refined criticisms for the scholar alone, but familiar, though therefore, be held at CONCEET HALL.
The hour for beginning will be, every evening, half past seven. Tickets 25 cents.
