

PHILADEDIHIA,	MODERATE PRICES,	SUPER EXTRA BLACK AND COLORED	mainfulles kick formany, permaps, with white choker	EUROPEAN SYMPATHY COURTED,	Boyd and Captain Kay, of St. Joseph, are said	the same time in the anomalous position of a civi-	awaid any pagessite to ""ing it; but, if they should,
WHOLESALE DRUGGISTS,	AT THE PARIS CLOAK EMPORIUM,	FRENCH CLOTHS and DOESKINS.	painfully high, figure rather rotund, carriage erect, (he has been in the army,) and what re-		to be in the upper country, on the same mission, endeavoring to raise volunteers. Subscriptions for	lian and a prisoner of war. The Government will	they must be made to understand
IMPORTERS AND DEALERS	708 CHESTNUT STBEET.	de5-6t	mains of his hair brushed in front, with care-	Affairs in the Southwest Portion	money, clothing, ste., are in circulation, with, as we learn, however, but little success thus far.	probably grant Colonel Mulligan authority to raise a regiment without delay. He has at hand nearly	own fault. They must be brought on boars. "All trunks, cases, packages, and bags belonging
IN ANTI-ALIAN	J. W. PROCTOR & Co.	BLACK CLOTHS	ful precision. Note, as a general rule, that a		The Union men in the section referred to are	men enough for that purpose.	to them, you will take possession of and send on
FOREIGN AND DOMESTIC	nol4-lf	- 「「「「「「」」」」「「「「」」」」」、「「」」、「「」」、「「」」、「」」、	Frenchman rarely wears a wig_considering		closely watched, and, in the present condition of affairs, being unarmed, are unable to put any ob-	Review of Eighty Thousand Rebel Troops at Centreville—Panic and Stampede.	board this ship. Any despatches found on the per- sons of the prisoners, or in possession of those on
WINDOW AND PLATE GLASS.	CLOAKS! CLOAKS! CLOAKS!	FOR CLOAKS AND COATS,	his own hair, however scanty, preferable to	WHAT THE BEBELS ARE DOING IN NASHVILLE	stacles in the way of the rebel movements. It is	The Government has received valueble and in	board the steamer, will be taken possession of also, examined, and retained if necessary.
	WATER PROOF CLOTH CLOAKS.	FROM $1 TO $5 PEB YARD.	that which had ever belonged to another. This		to be hoped that this thraidom will be speedily re- moved, and the reinforcements intended for Gene-	teresting information from descriters who have lately come into our lines. A colored boy came in	"I have understood that the families of these
MANUFACTURERS OF	in endless variety ; LIGHT AND DARE ÖLOTH CLOAKS,	(a) C. C. C. Barra, C. C. C. C. Start, M. M. Martin, M. S. Martin, J. S. Martin, J. S. Martin, J. S. Martin, J. C. Martin, J. Martin, J. C.	precise, formal, well-costumed gentleman might be taken for a visitor, except for the	THE WAR IN MISSOURI.	ral Price be prevented from reaching him.	on Monday, from Centraville and has made	gentlemen may be with them; if so, I beg you will offer some of them, in my name, a passage in this
WHITE LEAD AND ZINC PAINTS, PUTTY, &c.	of every shade; BLACK CLOTH CLOAKS,	CASSIMERES	official napkin thrust under his left arm. This		A Brave Woman. [From the St. Louis Christian Advocate.]	statement which is deemed reliable. He says the rebels had a review of eighty thousand troops at	ship to the United States; and that all the attention
AGENTS FOR THE CELEBRATED	of every quality ; BLACK SILK-VELVET CLOAKS,	FOR MEN'S AND BOYS' WEAR.	is the veritable Amphytrion—the proprietor of	THE ANOUALOUS CONDITION OF THE STATE.	Mrs. Phèlns resides about a mile and a half from	Centravilla a faw days ago Beauragard and all	and comforts we can command are tendered them, and will be placed at their service.
FRENCH ZINC PAINTS.	EVERYNEW MATERIAL;	CODER & CONTARE	the Grand Vatel-whose duty is to look after	· · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · ·	Springfield, Missouri, and is the wife of Col. John	their principal generals were present. During the review an alarm was created by the report that	"In the event of their acceptance, should there
Dealers and consumers supplied at	THE LABGEST STOCK	COOPER & CONARD,	his own interests and the garcons, and see	Secession Outrages in the Northwest.	S. Phelps, of a loyal Missouri regiment. On the af- ternoon after the battle of Wilson's Creck, it was noised that the rebels had determined to cut out	our entire army in this vicinity was marching to	be anything which the captain of the steamer can spare to increase the comforts in the way of neces-
VERY LOW PRICES FOR CASH.	AND THE MOST BEASONABLE PRICES IN THE CITY	S. E. corner NINTH and MARKET Streets.	that every thing is done on règle.	Secession Outrages in the Abritwest.	noised that the rebels had determined to cut out		saries or stores, of which a war vessel is deficient.
0;31-0m	OC15 IVENS, No. 23 South NINTH Street.	1014-20	While you have been taking a momentary		the heart of Gen. Lyon, and preserve it as a trophy over the United States army. Mrs. Phelps, learn-	were left on the field, and not recovered until the	you will please to procure them; the amount will be paid for by the paymaster.
TUST RECEIVED, per " Annie Kim		RALMOBAL SKIRTS - BALMO-	view of the room, a gargon deposits by the side of your plate-whereon rest the usual napkin	THE MASON AND SLIDELL AFFAIR.	ing of the outrage upon the slain general, armed herself, as she was accustomed to do for some	next day. Army wagons were capsized and wagon poles broken off, and their drivers fied in dismay.	"Lieut. James A. Gregg will take charge of the ball," from Liverpool, Mander, Weaver, & Man- der's preparations :	C L O A K S ! The Largest, Cheapest, and Best-assorted Stock	Just received, direct from the manufacturer,	and large roll of bread—a knife, fork, and		i time in order to preserve her life and the lung	The scene is said to have been ludicrous in the ex-	third cutter, which accompanies you, and will as- sist you in these duties.
25 The Extract Aconiti, in 1 To 18rs.	in the city. HOUGH & CO.,	1 LOT BALMOBAL SKIBTS, Largest Sizes and Choicest Colors.	spoon, hands you the carte, and asks what	WILKES' OFFICIAL REPORT TO SECRETARY WELLES.	of her family from the murderous assaults of the Secessionists. Thus armed, she drove to	The Rebel Army on the Lower Potomac.	"I trust that all those under your command, in executing this important and delicate duty, will
25 hs Extract Hyoscryami, in 1 h jars. 50 hs Extract Belladonna, in 1 h jars.	No. 25 South TENTH Street,	Aleo, one lot of	wine you desire. The carte itself is not only		Mr. Price's camp by nightfall and there all all	A deserter from the rebel army on the Lower Po.	conduct themselves with all the delicacy and kind-
100 fbs Extract Taraxaci, in 1 fb jars. 50 fbs Vin Ral Colchici, in 1 fb bottles.	ocl5 Opposite Franklin Market.	Black and White Plaid Blanket Shawls. Long Blanket Shawls, $4 to $12.	bound in a handsome volume, but also forti-	The Reason he did not Capture the Trent.	alone, guarded the body of Gen. Lyon. When ordered by the rebels to give up the body, she posi-	tomac reports that General Holmes has chief com- mand in that quarter of about twenty-five thousand	ness which becomes the character of our naval ser- vice. I am, very respectfully,
100 hs Ol. Succini Rect., in 11b bottles. 500 hs Calomel, in 1 h bottles.	NEW CLOAK STORE! The most Elegant assortment in the city.	Square Blanket Shawls, $1.75 to $6. CHEAPEST BLANKET SHAWS IN THE CITY.	fied with brass, like those old tomes, at		ordered by the rebels to give up the body, she posi- tively refused, and declared they must cut out her heart before they could get the heart of the	men, and all the generals under him whom he	"Your obedient servant,
500 hs Calomel, in 1 h bottles. 500 hs Fil Hydrarg., in 1 h jars. WETHERLL & BROTHER,	No. 29 South NINTH Street,	We offer great inducements to ladies in BEAVFR AND TRICOT CIRCULARS.	once the envy and glory of antiquarian book- hunters and book-owners, which are reputed	HIS INSTRUCTIONS TO LIEUT. FAIRFAX.	general. There, all alone, she stood guard during	heard the names of were General French, of Mis- sissippi, General Wigfall, of Texas, and General	"CHARLES WILKES, Captain. "Lieut. D. M. FAIRFAX, U. S. Navy, mhB 47 and 49 North SECOND Street.	ocl5-2m First door above Chestnut.	BEAVER AND TRICOT SACQUES, HABIT CLOTH CIRCULARS AND SACQUES,	to contain the rarest treasures of human		the whole night, with her arms in readiness to de- fend her charge, regardless of her own life, thus	Whiting. The rebel forces have been greatly aug- mented within the last four or five weeks. The fa-	"Executive Officer San Jacinto."
CABINET FURNITURE.	THE ARCH-STREET CLOAK AND	as we manufacture them ourselves, and are able to sell	thought. At Taylor's restaurant, corner of	A Tennessee View of the Campaign.	fearlessly passing the dreary night amid the asso- ciations of the dead, the wounded, and the blood-	mous Hampton Legion is among them. Besides
	NEW FALL CLOAKS. WATER-PROOF TWEED CLOAKS.	30 PER CENT. LESS THAN RETAIL PRICES.	Broadway and Franklin street, in New York,		thirsty men who were awaiting an opportunity to	the Maryland artillery, there is another company over there called the Baltimore artillery. Most of	OUR ARMY CORRESPONDENCE.
CABINET FURNITURE AND BIL-	BLACK CLOTH CLOAKS.	NEW DRESS GOODS OPENING DAILY. H. STEEL & SON,	there is a very good imitation of the metal-	MISCELLANEOUS WAR NEWS.	obtain the coveted heart of the noble Lyon.	the infantry companies from Maryland he believes	A Successful Foraging Expedition.
MOORE & CAMPION,	EVEBY NOVELTY AT MODEBATE PRICES. JACOB HORSFALL,	del0 No. 713 North TENTH Street, above Coates.	cinctured carte which you find in most of the		After daylight, having made arrangements in reference to her precious charge, she repaired to	are stationed farther in the interior—somewhere in the vicinity of Centreville. A battery of artillery,	[Correspondence of The Press.]
No. 261 South SECOND Street,	an31-6m N. W. corner TENTH and ABCH Sta	A T 1013 MARKET STREET, YOU	great dining-houses of Paris.		her home, and sent a colored servant with a wagon	consisting of six pieces, under command of Cantain	CAMP PIERPONT, Fairfax co., Va.)
in connection with their extensive Cabinet Business are now manufacturing a superior article of	COMMISSION HOUSES.	A can buy the best 25-cent Flannel in the city; very	The question, "Quel vin desirez vous, Mon-	LATEST FROM NORFOLK.	and two horses to bring the remains of General Lyon to her residence, in order to inter them in	Emborden, of Virginia, is encamped near Dumfries. Captain Andrews' Maryland artillery company are	General McCall's Division, Dec. 9, 1861. } The monotony of the camp life of the Pennsylva-
BILLIABD TABLES, And have now on hand a full supply, finished with the	DLUE CLOTHS,	fine pink-edge, all wool, at 25; vory heavy, all wool, at 25; full yard wide Domet, at 25; very fine, all wool, red,	sieur ?" though it is only the gargon's request to know what wine you will take, is one of no		her garden or on the farm, with all the respect in her power toward the commander of the loyal	putting up sheds for their horses; and several in.	nia Reserves was dissipated somewhat on Friday
MOORE & CAMPION'S IMPROVED CUSHIONS.	BLUE CLUIES,	at 25. These are extra cheap, and very desirable. Fine Ballardvale Flannel at 31 %; full vard-wide do. 37 %.	small importance, if you wish to dine well.	The Rebels Preparing for a Battle on	army. But as the wagon had not returned in due	fantry regiments—among them one from Tennessee —are erecting log houses for winter quarters. Just	last by an expedition in search of forage, which was which are pronounced, by all who have used them, to be superior to all others.	DOESKINS, &c.	Ballardvale Flannel at $31\frac{1}{3}$; full yard-wide do. $37\frac{1}{3}$, usually sold at 50; very fine do. 50, and every other qua- lity in the Ballardvale Goods that comes. The celebrated	For the wine must be in accordance with the	the Potomac.	time, she drove again to Mr. Price's camp, and found her wagon had been seized for the use of the	before he left the rebel camp to effect his escape, in-	attended with the most satisfactory results. Our pickets and scouts extend three miles in a west-
For the quality and finish of these Tables the manu- facturers refer to their numerous patrons throughout the	A Full Assortment of	Shaker Flannel, warranted unshrinkable, 31%; finer do. 50, and the best at 75. These are full yard-wide, and	viands, and the slightest mistake here will		rebel army, and her servant confined in it and	telligence was received from Dumfries, where it had come by telegraph from Fredericksburg, that Burn-	wardly direction, although scouting parties fro-
Union, who are familiar with the character of their work.	JOHANNT'S, JAND GEVERS & SCHMIDT'S (S& M)	very heavy. Plain Gray, all wool, at 28; finer do. 31 1;	spoil the danner. More than this, the wine	GEN. BUTLER'S EXPEDITION AT PORT ROYAL.	gagged. As the horses had been unhitched from the wagon, with her own hands she again hitched them.	side's naval expedition, which had been fitting out at Annapolis, was already at the mouth of the Po-	quently proceed beyond Dranesville, and to Diffi-an25-6m	INDIGO-BLUE CLOTHS;	and the finest, $37 \times ;$ heavy gray, twilled, $31 \times , 37 \times ;$ 40, 44, and very fine, at 69; blue twilled, $37 \times $ and 44; heavy	must be adapted to the season. Even John	[1] A. M. M. M. M. M. M. K.	When resistance was again offered to her course.	tomac. A few nights ago the rebels were thrown	cult creek, a distance of seven or eight miles. You
LOOKING GLASSES.	TR. EROKERS', (Little Ticket,)	red twilled 31 %, 85, 37 %, 40, 44, and 50 cents. I will	Bull, accused by Voltaire of having only one		she fearlessly declared she would deal death with har ravely are to any one who molested her. About	into a state of great excitment by seeing the even- ing star, which, seen dimly through the mist, was	have already heard of the reconnoissance made a few weeks since by Colonel Bayard, when his horse
TMMENSE REDUCTION	And other celebrated manufacturors.	guarantee to sell these goods cheaper than they can be bought. Heavy Canton Flannel at 12%, and every qua-	sauce (melted butter,) and ninety-nine reli-	UIPER POTOMAC.	the time she had released her servant and got her	at first mistaken by them for a signal for an attack	was shot from under him, and Dr. Alexander was
	BLUE CLOTHS, DOESKINS, &c.,	lity there is in the market. Good Brown Muslin 6%, and all the widths and qualities made. Societies in want	gions, has learned this great truth, and never gives port wine in summer, nor claret in win-	&c., &c., &c.	precious treasure in the wagon, resistance was again threatened. She then pressed her way to the pre-	upon them, for they have been anticipating an at- tack, and their idea is, that, simultaneously with	fatally wounded by a shot from the rebels. They
LOOKING GLASSES,		of Flannels will find it to their advantage to call and ex- amine. Also, a full line of Merrimack Calicocs, at 12%	ter-except, it may be, at the very close of the		sence of General Frice, who, at her prossing in.	an advance of the Union army in front of Washing-	have grown holder since that occasion, and a few days ago a cannon ball was lodged on the farm of a
OIL PAINTINGS, ENGRAVINGS,	VERY LOW PRICES.	innes at 18%. GRANVILLE B. HAINES,	sitting, and then in a small quantity, "just to	NEWS FROM THE SOUTH.	stance, ordered her to have the body of the slain general, without further interruption.	ton, the flotilla would engage the batteries opposite here, and General Hooker's division cross over to	Mr. Nelson, a short distance from our encampment.
FIOTURE AND PHOTOGRAPH FRAMES.	RIDGWAY, HEUSSNER, & CO.,	del0-3t 1013 MARKET Street, above Tenth.	correct the port-wine, you know." It is not	· · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · ·	Having thus obtained her precious object, more dear to her than life, she accompanied it to her re-	support the general movement. This man says that	supposed to have carried three or four miles.
JAMES S. EARLE & SON,		DROCHE LONG SHAWLS RE-	the habit, in America, to run into many vari-	A Letter fron Geo. N. Sanders to Kossuth.	sidence, and there interred it in the best manner	most of the Marylanders with whom he came in contact in the rebel army are young men under	In view of this state of things, and compelled,
$16 CHESTNUT STREET,	206 CHESTNUT STREET. de7-84	D DUCED FOR CHRISTMAS.	eties of wine at dinner, but a compelling sense	LOUISVILLE, Jec. 10Nashville papers received	she could. And all this was done in the absence of her loyal husband, who, in consequence of his duties	twenty one years of age, who crossed over in the	by the force of circumstances, to provide subsist- ence for our forces, it was deemed advisable to Announce the reduction of 25 per cent. in the prices of all	TROTHINGHAM & WELLS,	Scarlet-centre Long Shawls.	of justice obliges us to say that, here in Phila-	here contain a etter from George N. Sanders to
AN ANT. T. I OL. I T	Huoman & WELLS,	Green-centre Long Shawls.	delphis we know one Amphytics of loss	Kossuth, extolling the Secession movement and	as colonel, could not be present to accompany his	and are now convinced of the rashness and folly of the] Manufactured Stock of Looking Glasses; also, in Engravings, Picture and Photograph Frames, Oil Paint-	1 🗜 Alexandra and a second	Green-centre Long Shawls. Two-faced Long Shawls. EVRE & LANDELL.	delphia, we know one Amphytrion at least-	Kossuth, extolling the Secession movement, and hoping that the European lovers of freedom will	as colonel, could not be present to accompany his	and are now convinced of the rashness and folly of their course, and are anxious to return to their	march westwardly with a large force, for the dou- ble purpose of making a reconnoissance and to se-
Ingravings, Picture and Photograph Frames, Oil Paint- ings. The largest and most elegant assoriment in the	P 34 SOUTH FBONT AND 35 LETITIA STREET,	Green-centre Long Shawis. Two-faced Long Shawis. EVRE & LANDELL, de9 FOURTH and ARCH.	delphia, we know one Amphytrion at least- a man of letters and of wealth-who seems to	Kossuth, extolling the Secession movement, and hoping that the European lovers of freedom will extend their sympathies to the South.	as colonel, could not be present to accompany his noble wife in performing this work of loyalty and humanity. Anomalous Position of Missouri.	and are now convinced of the rashness and folly of their course, and are anxious to return to their homes. He says that so far as he has observed, the rebels are well clothed and fed, and are anxious for	march westwardly with a large force, for the dou- ble purpose of making a reconnoissance and to se- cure forage. Accordingly, at an early hour on
Ingravings, Picture and Photograph Frames, Oil Paint- ings. The largest and most elegant assoriment in the country. A rare opportunity is now offered to make purj	P 34 SOUTH FBONT AND 35 LETITIA STREET, OFFER FOR SALM	Green-centre Long Shawis. Two-faced Long Shawis. EVRE & LANDELL,	delphia, we know one Amphytrion at least- a man of letters and of wealth-who seems to have an intuitive knowledge of the art of adapting his wine to his viands, and both	Kossuth, extolling the Secession movement, and hoping that the European lovers of freedom will extend their sympathies to the South. An elegant fig was presented by the Lonisgille	as colonel, could not be present to accompany his noble wife in performing this work of loyalty and humanity. Anomalous Position of Missouri. The admission of Missouri into the Southern Com	and are now convinced of the rashness and folly of their &ourse, and are anxious to return to their homes. He says that so far as he has observed, the rebels are well clothed and fed, and are anxious for a fight. He has frequently heard the wish express.	march westwardly with a large force, for the dou- ble purpose of making a reconnoissance and to se- cure forage. Accordingly, at an early hour on Friday last, the Second brigade set out under com-
Ingravings, Picture and Photograph Frames, Oil Paint- ings. The largest and most elegant assortment in the country. A rare opportunity is now offered to make purj chases in this line For Ceah, at remarkably Low Prices	P 34 SOUTH FBONT AND 35 LETITIA STREET,	Green-centre Long Shawis. Two-faced Long Shawis. Two-faced Long Shawis. EVRE & LANDELL, de9 FOURTH and ABCH. BLACK CLOTH FOR CLOAKS. Esquimax Beaver Cloths,	delphia, we know one Amphytrion at least- a man of letters and of wealth-who seems to have an intuitive knowledge of the art of adapting his wine to his viands, and both to the season. This man ought to have	Kossuth, extolling the Secession movement, and hoping that the European lovers of freedom will extend their sympathies to the South. An elegant flag was presented by the Louisville ladies to Gen. Korrison yesterday, at Camp Bon Spaulding. Mr. lingle, the editor of the Lafavette	as colonel, could not be present to accompany his noble wife in performing this work of loyalty and humanity. Anomalous Position of Missouri. The admission of Missouri into the Southern Con- federacy, so far as the acts of the rebels of a accom- blish it, will lead to saveral complications.	and are now convinced of the rashness and folly of their course, and are anxious to return to their homes. He says that so far as he has observed, the rebels are well clothed and fed, and are anxious for a fight. He has frequently heard the wish express- ed that the war was ended, though most of them are led to believe that the Southern cause is a	march westwardly with a large force, for the dou- ble purpose of making a reconnoissance and to se- cure forage. Accordingly, at an early hour on Friday last, the Second brigade set out under com- mand of General George F. Meade, of your city,
Ingravings, Picture and Photograph Frames, Oil Paint- ings. The largest and most elegant assortiment in the country. A rare opportunity is now offered to make pury chases in this line For Cash, at remarkably Low Prices EARLE'S GALLERIES,	C 34 SOUTH FBONT AND 35 LETITIA STREET, OFFEE FOE SALW BROWN AND BLEACHED SHEETINGS,	Green-centre Long Shawls. Two-faced Long Shawls. EVBE & LANDELL, FOURTH and ARCH. BLACK CLOTH FOR CLOAKS. Esquimax Beaver Cloths, 6-4 Stout Black Dorskins. Hudson Bay Seal Skins.	delphia, we know one Amphytrion at least- a man of letters and of wealth-who seems to have an intuitive knowledge of the art of adapting his wine to his viands, and both to the season. This man ought to have lived in France, where his fine judgment and	Kossuth, extolling the Secession movement, and hoping that the European lovers of freedom will extend their sympathies to the South. An elegant fig was presented by the Lonisgille	as colonel, could not be present to accompany his noble wife in performing this work of loyalty and humanity. Anomalous Position of Missouri. The admission of Missouri into the Southern Con- federacy, so far as the acts of the rebels can accom- plish it, will lead to several complications. Here- tofore General Price has levied war on the United	and are now convinced of the rashness and folly of their course, and are anxious to return to their homes. He says that so far as he has observed, the rebels are well clothed and fed, and are anxious for a fight. He has frequently heard the wish express- ed that the war was ended, though most of them are led to believe that the Southern cause is a rightons one, and they would secret a constant to	march westwardly with a large force, for the dou- ble purpose of making a reconnoissance and to se- cure forage. Accordingly, at an early hour on Friday last, the Second brigade set out under com- mand of General George F. Meade, of your city, accompanied by Captain Samuel Ringwalt, quar- termaster of the brigade, in charge of a large num-
Engravings, Picture and Photograph Frames, Oil Paint- ings. The largest and most elegant assortment in the country. A rare opportunity is now offered to make purj chases in this line For Ceah, at remarkably Low Prices	P 34 SOUTH FBONT AND 35 LETITIA STREET, OFFER FOR SALM	Green-centre Long Shawls. Two-faced Long Shawls. EYRE & LANDELL, de9 FOURTH and ARCH. BLACK CLOTH FOR CLOAKS. Esquimax Beaver Cloths, 6-4 Stout Elack Docekins.	delphia, we know one Amphytrion at least- a man of letters and of wealth-who seems to have an intuitive knowledge of the art of adapting his wine to his viands, and both to the season. This man ought to have lived in France, where his fine judgment and correct taste, (no pun meant here.) would	Kossuth, extolling the Secession movement, and hoping that the European lovers of freedom will extend their sympathies to the South. An elegant flag was presented by the Louisville ladies to Gen. Korrison yesterday, at Camp Ben Spaulding. Mr. lingle, the editor of the Lafayette Courier, made the presentation speech on behalf of the ladies.	as colonel, could not be present to accompany his noble wife in performing this work of loyalty and humanity. Anomalous Position of Missouri. The admission of Missouri into the Southern Con- federacy, so far as the acts of the rebels can accom- plish it, will lead to several complications. Here- tofore General Price has levied war on the United States exclusively in the name of the States of	and are now convinced of the rashness and folly of their course, and are anxious to return to their homes. He says that so far as he has observed, the rebels are well clothed and fed, and are anxious for a fight. He has frequently heard the wish express- ed that the war was ended, though most of them are led to believe that the Southern cause is a rightcous one, and they would scarcely consent to terms of peace which did not include the recogni- tion of the Southern Confederacy.	march westwardly with a large force, for the dou- ble purpose of making a reconnoissance and to se- cure forage. Accordingly, at an early hour on Friday last, the Second brigade set out under com- mand of General George F. Meade, of your city, accompanied by Captain Samuel Ringwalt, quar- termaster of the brigade, in charge of a large num- ber of transportation wagons. Scouts were sent
Ingravings, Picture and Photograph Frames, Oil Paint- ings. The largest and most elegant assoriment in the country. A rare opportunity is now offered to make pury chases in this line For Cash, at remarkably Low Prices EARLE'S GALLERIES,	C 34 SOUTH FBONT AND 35 LETITIA STREET, OFFEE FOE SALW BROWN AND BLEACHED SHEETINGS,	Green-centre Long Shawls. Two-faced Long Shawls. EYRE & LANDELL, de9 FOURTH and ARCH. BLACK CLOTH FOR CLOAKS. Esquimax Beaver Cloths, 6-4 Stout Black Docskins. Hudson Bay Scal Skins. EYRE & LANDELL, Ge9 FOURTH and ARCH.	delphia, we know one Amphytrion at least— a man of letters and of wealth—who seems to have an intuitive knowledge of the art of adapting his wine to his viands, and both to the season. This man ought to have lived in France, where his fine judgment and correct taste, (no pun meant here,) would have an ample field. Had he flourished in the	Kossuth, extolling the Secession movement, and hoping that the European lovers of freedom will extend their sympathies to the South. An elegant fig was presented by the Louisville ladies to Gen. Korrison yesterday, at Camp Bon Spaulding. Mr. lingle, the editor of the Lafayette Courier, made the presentation speech on behalf of the ladies. An Arryal from Nashville.	as colonel, could not be present to accompany his noble wife in performing this work of loyalty and humanity. Anomalous Position of Missouri. The admission of Missouri into the Southern Con- federacy, so far as the acts of the rebels can accom- plish it, will lead to several complications. Here- tofore General Price has levied war on the United States exclusively in the name of the State of Missouri, and his sympathizers have claimed that they were still citizens of the Union. But now the	and are now convinced of the rashness and folly of their course, and are anxious to return to their homes. He says that so far as he has observed, the rebels are well clothed and fed, and are anxious for a fight. He has frequently heard the wish express- ed that the war was ended, though most of them are led to believe that the Southern cause is a rightcous one, and they would scarcely consent to terms of peace which did not include the recogni- tion of the Southern Confederacy.	march westwardly with a large force, for the dou- ble purpose of making a reconnoissance and to se- cure forage. Accordingly, at an early hour on Friday last, the Second brigade set out under com- mand of General George F. Meade, of your city, accompanied by Captain Samuel Ringwalt, quar- termaster of the brigade, in charge of a large num- ber of transportation wagons. Scouts were sent out in advance, and although the line of march, in
Ingravings, Picture and Photograph Frames, Oil Paint- ings. The largest and most elegant assoriment in the country. A rare opportunity is now offered to make pury chases in this line For Cash, at remarkably Low Prices EARLE'S GALLERIES, jyo-tf 816 OHESTNUT Street. FRESH MINCED MEAT.	P 34 SOUTH FBONT AND 35 LETITIA STREET, OFFER FOR SALE BROWN AND BLEACHED SHEETINGS, SHIRTINGS, DRILLS, JEANS, SILECIAS,	Green-centre Long Shawls. Two-faced Long Shawls. EV BE & LANDELL, EV BE & LANDELL, FOURTH and ABCH. BLACK CLOTH FOR CLOAKS. Esquimax Beaver Cloths, 6-4 Stont Black Doeskins. Hudson Bay Seal Skins. Hudson Bay Seal Skins. Hudson Bay Seal Skins. EVRE & LANDELL, de9 FOURTH and ABCH. O TTOMAN VELOURS,	delphia, we know one Amphytrion at least- a man of letters and of wealth-who seems to have an intuitive knowledge of the art of adapting his wine to his viands, and both to the season. This man ought to have lived in France, where his fine judgment and correct taste, (no pun meant here,) would have an ample field. Had he flourished in the time of Louis XIV., we believe that he would	Kossuth, extolling the Secession movement, and hoping that the European lovers of freedom will extend their sympathies to the South. An elegant fig was presented by the Louisville ladies to Gen. Korrison yesterday, at Camp Bon Spaulding. Mr. ingle, the editor of the Lafayotte Courier, made the presentation speech on behalf of the ladies. An Arryal from Nashville. The Louisville gurnal of the 9th instant says :	as colonel, could not be present to accompany his noble wife in performing this work of loyalty and humanity. Anomalous Position of Missouri. The admission of Missouri into the Southern Con- federacy, so far as the acts of the rebels can accom- plish it, will lead to several complications. Here- tofore General Price has levied war on the United States exclusively in the name of the State of Missouri, and his sympathizers have claimed that they were still citizens of the Union. But now the aspect of affairs is changed, and Missouri presents	and are now convinced of the rashness and folly of their course, and are anxious to return to their homes. He says that so far as he has observed, the rebels are well clothed and fed, and are anxious for a fight. He has frequently heard the wish express- ed that the war was ended, though most of them are led to believe that the Southern cause is a rightcous one, and they would scarcely consent to terms of peace which did not include the recogni- tion of the Southern Confederacy. THE MASON AND SLIDELL AFFAIR.	march westwardly with a large force, for the dou- ble purpose of making a reconnoissance and to se- cure forage. Accordingly, at an early hour on Friday last, the Second brigade set out under com- mand of General George F. Meads, of your city, accompanied by Captain Samuel Ringwalt, quar- termaster of the brigade, in charge of a large num- ber of transportation wagons. Scouts were sent out in advance, and although the line of march, in many places, was on a narrow road and deep ra- vines hemmed in by almost impenetrable forests.
Ingravings, Picture and Photograph Frames, Oil Paint- tugs. The largest and most elegant assoriument in the country. A rare opportunity is now offered to make pury elesses in this line For Ceah, at remarkably Low Prices EARLE'S GALLERIES. jy9-tf $16 OHESTNUT Street. PRESH MINCED MEA'T. The subscriber begs leave to inform the public that he is again prepared to offer his justity celebrated	P 34 SOUTH FBONT AND 35 LETITIA STREET, OFFEE FOR SALE BROWN AND BLEACHED SHEETINGS, SHIRTINGS, DRILLS, JEANS, SILECIAS, CANTON FLANNELS,	Green-centre Long Shawls. Two-faced Long Shawls. EV BE & LANDELL, EV BE & LANDELL, FOURTH and ABCH. BLACK CLOTH FOR CLOAKS. Esquimax Beaver Cloths, 6-4 Stont Black Doeskins. Hudson Bay Seal Skins. Hudson Bay Seal Skins. Hudson Bay Seal Skins. EVRE & LANDELL, de9 FOURTH and ABCH. O TTOMAN VELOURS,	delphia, we know one Amphytrion at least- a man of letters and of wealth-who seems to have an intuitive knowledge of the art of adapting his wine to his viands, and both to the season. This man ought to have lived in France, where his fine judgment and correct taste, (no pun meant here,) would have an ample field. Had he flourished in the time of Louis XIV., we believe that he would have gone into mourning for the untimely	Kossuth, extolling the Secession movement, and hoping that the European lovers of freedom will extend their sympathies to the South. An elegant flag was presented by the Louisville ladies to Gen. Korrison yesterday, at Camp Bon Spaulding. Mr. ingle, the editor of the Lafayette Courier, made the presentation speech on behalf of the ladies. An Arrval from Nashville. The Louisville Jurnal of the 9th instant says : Mr. A. B. Barker the well-known railroad agent, arrived from Nashville.	as colonel, could not be present to accompany his noble wife in performing this work of loyalty and humanity. Anomalous Position of Missouri. The admission of Missouri into the Southern Con- federacy, so far as the acts of the rebels can accom- plish it, will lead to several complications. Here- tofore General Price has levied war on the United States exclusively in the name of the State of Missouri, and his sympathizers have claimed that they were still citizens of the Union. But now the aspect of affairs is changed, and Missouri presents the anomalous picture of a State under four different governing powers, being governed according to the	and are now convinced of the rashness and folly of their course, and are anxious to return to their homes. He says that so far as he has observed, the rebels are well clothed and fed, and are anxious for a fight. He has frequently heard the wish express- ed that the war was ended, though most of them are led to believe that the Southern cause is a rightcous one, and they would scarcely consent to terms of peace which did not include the recogni- tion of the Southern Confederacy. THE MASON AND SLIDELL AFFAIR.	march westwardly with a large force, for the dou- ble purpose of making a reconnoissance and to se- cure forage. Accordingly, at an early hour on Friday last, the Second brigade set out under com- mand of General George F. Meade, of your city, accompanied by Captain Samuel Ringwalt, quar- termaster of the brigade, in charge of a large num- ber of transportation wagons. Scouts were sent out in advance, and although the line of march, in many places, was on a narrow road and deep ra- vines hermed in by almost impenetrable forcets, our troops met with no resistance, and failed to
Ingravings, Picture and Photograph Frames, Oil Paint- ings. The largest and most elegant assoriment in the country. A rare opportunity is now offered to make pury phases in this line For Ceah, at remarkably Low Prices EARLE'S GALLERIES. jro-tf 816 OHESTNUT Street. FRESH MINCED MEA'T. The subscriber begs leave to inform the public that he is again prepared to offer his justiy celebrated NE PLUS ULTRA MINCED MEAT,	P 34 SOUTH FBONT AND 35 LETITIA STREET, OFFEE FOR SALM BROWN AND BLEACHED SHEETINGS, SHIRTINGS, DRILLS, JEANS, SILECIAS, CANTON FLANNELS, PROM THE	Green-centre Long Shawls. Two-faced Long Shawls. EYRE & LANDELL, de9 FOURTH and ARCH. BLACK CLOTH FOR CLOAKS. Esquimax Beaver Gloths. 6-4 Stout Black Docekins. Hudson Bay Seal Skins. Hudson	delphia, we know one Amphytrion at least— a man of letters and of wealth—who seems to have an intuitive knowledge of the art of adapting his wine to his viands, and both to the season. This man ought to have lived in France, where his fine judgment and correct taste, (no pun meant here,) would have an ample field. Had he flourished in the time of Louis XIV., we believe that he would have gone into mourning for the untimely self-martyrdom of Vatel !	Kossuth, extolling the Secession movement, and hoping that the European lovers of freedom will extend their sympathies to the South. An elegant fig was presented by the Louisville Indies to Gen. Korrison yesterday, at Camp Bon Spaulding. Mr. lingle, the editor of the Lafayotte Courier, made the presentation speech on behalf of the ladies. An Arrval from Nashville. The Louisville spurnal of the 9th Instant says : Mr. A. B. Barker, the well-known railroad agent, arrived from Nahville, Tennessee, last evening, having left that plee on Saturday, the 23d instant. It will be ramerhared the flow	as colonel, could not be present to accompany his noble wife in performing this work of loyalty and humanity. Anomalous Position of Missouri. The admission of Missouri into the Southern Con- federacy, so far as the acts of the rebels can accom- plish it, will lead to several complications. Here- tofore General Price has levied war on the United States exclusively in the name of the State of Missouri, and his sympathizers have claimed that they were still citizens of the Union. But now the aspect of affairs is changed, and Missouri presents the anomalous picture of a State under four different governing powers, being governed according to the occupation of the military anthorities. by Jeff	and are now convinced of the rashness and folly of their course, and are anxious to return to their homes. He says that so far as he has observed, the rebels are well clothed and fed, and are anxious for a fight. He has frequently heard the wish express- ed that the war was ended, though most of them are led to believe that the Southern cause is a rightcous one, and they would scarcely consent to terms of peace which did not include the recogni- tion of the Southern Confederacy. THE MASON AND SLIDELL AFFAIR. REPORT OF CAPTAIN WILKES.	march westwardly with a large force, for the dou- ble purpose of making a reconnoissance and to se- cure forage. Accordingly, at an early hour on Friday last, the Second brigade set out under com- mand of General George F. Meade, of your city, accompanied by Captain Samuel Ringwalt, quar- termaster of the brigade, in charge of a large num- ber of transportation wagons. Scouts were sent out in advance, and although the line of march, in many places, was on a narrow road and deep ra- vines hemmed in by almost impenetrable forests, our troops met with no resistance, and failed to see the most remotesign of the enemy. The soldiers
Ingravings, Picture and Photograph Frames, Oil Paint- tugs. The largest and most elegant assoriment in the country. A rare opportunity is now offered to make pury eleases in this line For Ceah, at remarkably Low Prices EARLE'S GALLERIES, jy9-tf 816 OHESTNUT Street. The subscriber begs leave to inform the public that he is again prepared to offer his justly celebrated NE PLUS ULTRA MINCED MEAT, In large or small quantities. Orders through De-	P 34 SOUTH FBONT AND 35 LETITIA STREET, OFFEE FOR SALM BROWN AND BLEACHED SHEETINGS, SHIRTINGS, DRILLS, JEANS, SILECIAS, CANTON FLANNELS, FROM THE MASSACHUSETTS, GBEAT FALLS	Green-centre Long Shawls. Two-faced Long Shawls. EYRE & LANDELL, de9 FOURTH and ARCH. BLACK CLOTH FOR CLOAKS. Esquimax Beaver Gloths. 6-4 Stout Black Docekins. Hudson Bay Seal Skins. Hudson	delphia, we know one Amphytrion at least— a man of letters and of wealth—who seems to have an intuitive knowledge of the art of adapting his wine to his viands, and both to the season. This man ought to have lived in France, where his fine judgment and correct taste, (no pun meant here,) would have an ample field. Had he flourished in the time of Louis XIV., we believe that he would have gone into mourning for the untimely self-martyrdom of Vatel ! The carte at the Rocher de Cancale, which we described in a former article, exhibits a	Kossuth, extolling the Secession movement, and hoping that the European lovers of freedom will extend their sympathies to the South. An elegant flag was presented by the Louisville ladies to Gen. Korrison yesterday, at Camp Bon Spaulding. Mr. ingle, the editor of the Lafayette Courier, made the presentation speech on behalf of the ladies. An Arrval from Nashville . The Louisville currical of the 9th instant says : Mr. A. B. Barker the well-known railroad agent, arrived from Nashville, Tennessee, last evening, having left that plee on Saturday, the 23d instant. It will be remembered that Gov. Harris, of Ten- nessee, made a Louisition a few monthearce for	as colonel, could not be present to accompany his noble wife in performing this work of loyalty and humanity. Anomalous Position of Missouri. The admission of Missouri into the Southern Con- federacy, so far as the acts of the rebels can accom- plish it, will lead to several complications. Here- tofore General Price has levied war on the United States exclusively in the name of the State of Missouri, and his sympathizers have claimed that they were still citizens of the Union. But now the aspect of affairs is changed, and Missouri presents the anomalous picture of a State under four different governing powers, being governed according to the occupation of the military authorities, by Jeff Davis and Claib Jackson, where the rebels are in power. and by President Lincoln and Governor	and are now convinced of the rashness and folly of their course, and are anxious to return to their homes. He says that so far as he has observed, the rebels are well clothed and fed, and are anxious for a fight. He has frequently heard the wish express- ed that the war was ended, though most of them are led to believe that the Southern cause is a rightcous one, and they would scarcely consent to terms of peace which did not include the recogni- tion of the Southern Confederacy. THE MASON AND SLIDELL AFFAIR. REPORT OF CAPTAIN WILKES.	march westwardly with a large force, for the dou- ble purpose of making a reconnoissance and to se- cure forage. Accordingly, at an early hour on Friday last, the Second brigade set out under com- mand of General George F. Meads, of your city, accompanied by Captain Samuel Ringwalt, quar- termaster of the brigade, in charge of a large num- ber of transportation wagons. Scouts were sent out in advance, and although the line of march, in many places, was on a narrow road and deep ra- vines hemmed in by almost impenetrable forests, our troops met with no resistance, and failed to see the most remotesign of the enemy. The soldiers were in excellent condition, and enger for battle,
Ingravings, Picture and Photograph Frames, Oil Paint- tugs. The largest and most elegant assortiment in the country. A rare opportunity is now offered to make pury ebases in this line For Ceah, at remarkably Low Prices EARLE'S GALLERIES, jy6-tf 816 OHESTNUT Street. TRESH MINCED MEAT. The subscriber begs leave to inform the public that he is again prepared to offer his justly celebrated NE PLUS ULTRA MINCED MEAT, In large or small quantities. Orders through De-	1 34 SOUTH FBONT AND 35 LETITIA STREET, OFFEB FOB SALM BROWN AND BLEACHED SHEETINGS, SHIRTINGS, DRILLS, JEANS, SILECIAS, CANTON FLANNELS, FROM THM MASSACHUSETTS, GBEAT FALLS LACONIA, LYMAN, EVEBETT, DWIGHT,	Green-centre Long Shawls. Two-faced Long Shawls. EYRE & LANDELL, de9 FOURTH and ARCH. BLACK CLOTH FOR CLOAKS. Esquimax Beaver Cloths. 6-4 Stout Black Doeklins. Hudson Bay Seal Skins. Hudson Bay Seal Skins. Hudson Bay Seal Skins. Hudson Bay Seal Skins. Hudson Bay Seal Skins. FOURTH and ARCH. O TTO MAN VELOURS, Plain dark colors and figures. Rieh printed Epinglines. Woren styles Reps, very cheap. INPOBTED BALMOBALS, New designs, handsome colorings, nearly four yards wide. SCARLET FRENCH FLANNELS, Twilled and plain, of extra qualities, suitable for	delphia, we know one Amphytrion at least— a man of letters and of wealth—who seems to have an intuitive knowledge of the art of adapting his wine to his viands, and both to the season. This man ought to have lived in France, where his fine judgment and correct taste, (no pun meant here,) would have an ample field. Had he flourished in the time of Louis XIV., we believe that he would have gone into mourning for the untimely self-martyrdom of Vatel ! The carite at the Rocher de Cancale, which we described in a former article, exhibits a greater variety of wines than does that at the	Kossuth, extolling the Secession movement, and hoping that the European lovers of freedom will extend their sympathies to the South. An elegant flag was presented by the Louisville ladies to Gen. Korrison yesterday, at Camp Bon Spaulding. Mr. lingle, the editor of the Lafayotte Courier, made the presentation speech on behalf of the ladies. An Arrval from Nashville . The Louisville gurnal of the 9th Instant says : Mr. A. B. Barker, the well-known railroad agent, arrived from Nabville, Tennessee, last evening, having left that plee on Saturday, the 23d instant. It will be remerbered that Gov. Harris, of Ten- nessee, made a Aquisition a few months ago for thirty thousand mp and additional arms. The call met will no resprese whatever and the authorities	as colonel, could not be present to accompany his noble wife in performing this work of loyalty and humanity. Anomalous Position of Missouri. The admission of Missouri into the Southern Con- federacy, so far as the acts of the rebels can accom- plish it, will lead to several complications. Here- tofore General Price has levied war on the United States exclusively in the name of the State of Missouri, and his sympathizers have claimed that they were still citizens of the Union. But now the aspect of affairs is changed, and Missouri presents the anomalous picture of a State under four different governing powers, being governed according to the occupation of the military authorities, by Jeff Davis and Claib Jackson, where the rebels are in power, and by President Lincoln and Governor Gamble, where the Unionists have the upperhand.	and are now convinced of the rashness and folly of their course, and are anxious to return to their homes. He says that so far as he has observed, the rebels are well clothed and fed, and are anxious for a fight. He has frequently heard the wish express- ed that the war was ended, though most of them are led to believe that the Southern cause is a righteous one, and they would scarcely consent to terms of peace which did not include the recogni- tion of the Southern Confederacy. THE MASON AND SLIDELL AFFAIR. REPORT OF CAPTAIN WILKES. WHY HE DID NOT SEIZE THE TRENT.	march westwardly with a large force, for the dou- ble purpose of making a reconnoissance and to se- cure forage. Accordingly, at an early hour on Friday last, the Second brigade set out under com- mand of General George F. Meade, of your city, accompanied by Captain Samuel Ringwalt, quar- termaster of the brigade, in charge of a large num- ber of transportation wagons. Scouts were sent out in advance, and although the line of march, in many places, was on a narrow road and deep ra- vines hemmed in by almost impenetrable forests, our troops met with no resistance, and failed to see the most remotesign of the enemy. The soldiers were in excellent condition, and eager for battle, and therefore felt somewhat disappointed. The farms in this section have generally been deserted,
Ingravings, Picture and Photograph Frames, Oil Paint- tngs. The largest and most elegant assortiment in the country. A rare opportunity is now offered to make pury phases in this line For Ceah, at remarkably Low Prices EARLE'S GALLERIES. jro-tf 816 OHESTNUT Street. FRESH MINCED MEA'T. The subscriber begs leave to inform the public that he is again prepared to offer his justly celebrated NE PLUS ULTRA MINCED MEAT, In large or small quantities. Orders through De- spatch Fost will be punctually attended to. JOSHUA WRIGHT, SPRING GABDEN and FBANKLIN Street,	14 SOUTH FBONT AND 35 LETITIA STREET, OFFEB FOB SALM BROWN AND BLEACHED SHEETINGS, SHIRTINGS, DRILLS, JEANS, SILECIAS, CANTON FLANNELS, VEON THE MASSACHUSETTS, GBEAT FALLS LACONIA, LYMAN, EVEBETT, DWIGHT, LOWELL, OABOT,	Green-centre Long Shawls. Two-faced Long Shawls. EYRE & LANDELL, de9 FOURTH and ARCH. BLACK CLOTH FOR CLOAKS. Esquimax Beaver Cloths. 6-4 Stout Black Doeskins. Hudson Bay Seal Skins. Hudson Bay Seal Skins. EYRE & LANDELL, de9 FOURTH and ARCH. O TTOMAN VELOURS, Pian dark colors and figures. Rieh printed Epinglines. Woren styles Reps, very cheap. IMPOBTED BALMOBALS, New designs, handsome colorings, nearly four yards wide. SCARLET FRENCH FLANNELS, Twiled and plain, of extra qualities, suitable for rhommatic underwasr. LOW. PETCED DE LAINES	delphia, we know one Amphytrion at least— a man of letters and of wealth—who seems to have an intuitive knowledge of the art of adapting his wine to his viands, and both to the season. This man ought to have lived in France, where his fine judgment and correct taste, (no pun meant here,) would have an ample field. Had he flourished in the time of Louis XIV., we believe that he would have gone into mourning for the untimely self-martyrdom of Vatel ! The carte at the Rocher de Cancale, which we described in a former article, exhibits a greater variety of wines than does that at the Grand Vatel. For instance, at the Rocher.	Kossuth, extolling the Secession movement, and hoping that the European lovers of freedom will extend their sympathies to the South. An elegant flag was presented by the Louisville ladies to Gen. Korrison yesterday, at Camp Bon Spaulding. Mr. ingle, the editor of the Lafayette Courier, made the presentation speech on behalf of the ladies. An Arrval from Nashville. The Louisville Journal of the 9th instant says : Mr. A. B. Barker the well-known railroad agent, arrived from Natville, Tennessee, last evening, having left that plee on Saturday, the 23d instant. It will be remerbered that Gov. Harris, of Ten- nessee, made a Aquisition a few months ago for thirty thousand mp and additional arms. The call met with no respose whatever, and the authorities	as colonel, could not be present to accompany his noble wife in performing this work of loyalty and humanity. Anomalous Position of Missouri. The admission of Missouri into the Southern Con- federacy, so far as the acts of the rebels can accom- plish it, will lead to several complications. Here- tofore General Price has levied war on the United States exclusively in the name of the State of Missouri, and his sympathizers have claimed that they were still citizens of the Union. But now the aspect of affairs is changed, and Missouri presents the anomalous picture of a State ander four different governing powers, being governed according to the occupation of the military authorities, by Jeff Davis and Claib Lackson, where the rebels are in power, and by President Lincoln and Governor Gamble, where the Unionists have the upperhand. A Rebel View of the Campaign in Mis- souri.	and are now convinced of the rashness and folly of their course, and are anxious to return to their homes. He says that so far as he has observed, the rebels are well clothed and fed, and are anxious for a fight. He has frequently heard the wish express- ed that the war was ended, though most of them are led to believe that the Southern cause is a rightcous one, and they would scarcely consent to terms of peace which did not include the recogni- tion of the Southern Confederacy. THE MASON AND SLIDELL AFFAIR. REPORT OF CAPTAIN WILKES. WHY HE DID NOT SEIZE THE TRENT. HIS ORDERS TO LIEUTENANT FAIRFAX.	march westwardly with a large force, for the dou- ble purpose of making a reconnoissance and to se- cure forage. Accordingly, at an early hour on Friday last, the Second brigade set out under com- mand of General George F. Meads, of your city, accompanied by Captain Samuel Ringwalt, quar- termaster of the brigade, in charge of a large num- ber of transportation wagons. Scouts were sent out in advance, and although the line of march, in many places, was on a narrow road and deep ra- vines hemmed in by almost impenetrable forests, our troops met with no resistance, and failed to see the most remotesign of the enemy. The soldiers were in excellent condition, and eager for battle, and therefore felt somewhat disappointed. The farms in this section have generally been deserted, the males having joined the rebet army, and those
Ingravings, Picture and Photograph Frames, Oil Paint- tugs. The ingress and most elegant assortiment in the country. A rare opportunity is now offered to make pury elasses in this line For Ceah, at remarkably Low Prices EARLE'S GALLEREES. jy9-tf 816 OHESTNUT Street. TRESH MINCED MEA'T. The subscriber begs leave to inform the public that he is again prepared to offer his justiy celebrated NE PLUS ULTRA MINCED MEAT, In large or small quantities. Orders through De- spatch Fost will be punctually attended to. JOSHUA WRIGHT, SPRING GARDEN and FBANKLIN Streets, no13-2m Philadelphia.	1 34 SOUTH FBONT AND 35 LETITIA STREET, OFFEB FOB SALM BROWN AND BLEACHED SHEETINGS, SHIRTINGS, DRILLS, JEANS, SILECIAS, CANTON FLANNELS, FROM THM MASSACHUSETTS, GBEAT FALLS LACONIA, LYMAN, EVEBETT, DWIGHT,	Green-centre Long Shawls. Two-faced Long Shawls. EYRE & LANDELL, de9 FOURTH and ARCH. BLACK CLOTH FOR CLOAKS. Esquimax Beaver Cloths, 6-4 Stout Elack Docskins. Hudson Bay Scal Skins. Hudson Bay Scal Skins. Hudson Bay Scal Skins. Muscal Bay Scal Skins. Muscal Bay Scal Skins. Muscal Bay Scal Skins. Hudson Bay Scal Skins. Muscal Bay Scal Skins. TT O M A N V E L O U R S, Plain dark colors and figures. Bieh printed Epinglines. Woren styles Reps, very Cheap. Murcoff ED BaLMOBALS, New designs, handsome colorings, nearly four yards wide. SCARLET FRENCH FLANNELS, Twilled and plain, of extra qualities, suitable for rhormatic underwaar. LOW-PRICED DE LAINES. New designs, constantly Arriving, of rich printed Mousciline De Laines.	delphia, we know one Amphytrion at least— a man of letters and of wealth—who seems to have an intuitive knowledge of the art of adapting his wine to his viands, and both to the season. This man ought to have lived in France, where his fine judgment and correct taste, (no pun meant here,) would have an ample field. Had he flourished in the time of Louis XIV., we believe that he would have gone into mourning for the untimely self-martyrdom of Vate! The carte at the Rocher de Cancale, which we described in a former article, exhibits a greater variety of wines than does that at the Grand Vatel. For instance, at the Rocher, you may choose out of thirty-seven red, thir.	Kossuth, extelling the Secession movement, and hoping that the European lovers of freedom will extend their sympathies to the South. An elegant fla was presented by the Louisville Indies to Gen. Korrison yesterday, at Camp Bon Spaulding. Mr. lingle, the editor of the Lafayotte Courier, made the presentation speech on behalf of the ladies. An Arrval from Nashville. The Louisville purnal of the 9th Instant says : Mr. A. B. Barker, the well-known railroad agent, arrived from Nahville, Tennessee, last evening, having left that plee on Saturday, the 23d instant. It will be remembered that Gov. Harris, of Tom- nessee, made a equisition a few months ago for thirty thousand mp and additional arms. The call met with no respose whatever, and the authorities were compelled & draft in order to fill the re- gratisticon. The york of drafting commonced in Nashville the day his departure.	as colonel, could not be present to accompany his noble wife in performing this work of loyalty and humanity. Anomalous Position of Missouri. The admission of Missouri into the Southern Con- federacy, so far as the acts of the rebels can accom- plish it, will lead to several complications. Here- tofore General Price has levied war on the United States exclusively in the name of the State of Missouri, and his sympathizers have claimed that they were still citizens of the Union. But now the aspect of affairs is changed, and Missouri presents the anomalous picture of a State under four different governing powers, being governed according to the occupation of the military authorities, by Jeff Davis and Claib Jackson, where the rebels are in power, and by President Lincoln and Governor Gamble, where the Unionists have the upperhand. A Rebel View of the Campaign in Mis- souri. The Memphis Avalanche of December 4 publishes	and are now convinced of the rashness and folly of their course, and are anxious to return to their homes. He says that so far as he has observed, the rebels are well clothed and fed, and are anxious for a fight. He has frequently heard the wish express- ed that the war was ended, though most of them are led to believe that the Southern cause is a rightcous one, and they would scarcely consent to terms of peace which did not include the recogni- tion of the Southern Confederacy. THE MASON AND SLIDELL AFFAIR. REPORT OF CAPTAIN WILKES. WHY HE DID NOT SEIZE THE TRENT. HIS ORDERS TO LIEUTENANT FAIRFAX.	march westwardly with a large force, for the dou- ble purpose of making a reconnoissance and to se- cure forage. Accordingly, at an early hour on Friday last, the Second brigade set out under com- mand of General George F. Meade, of your city, accompanied by Captain Samuel Ringwalt, quar- termaster of the brigade, in charge of a large num- ber of transportation wagons. Scouts were sent out in advance, and although the line of march, in many places, was on a narrow road and deep ra- vines hemmed in by almost impenetrable forests, our troops met with no resistance, and failed to see the most remotesign of the enemy. The soldiers were in excellent condition, and enger for battle, and therefore felt somewhat disappointed. The farms in this section have generally been deserted, the males having joined the rebet army, and those remaining at home are in an almost destitute condi-
Ingravings, Picture and Photograph Frames, Oil Paint- tugs. The ingress and most elegant assoriument in the country. A rare opportunity is now offered to make pury ensees in this line For Ceah, at remarkably Low Prices EARLE'S GALLERIES. jy0-tf 816 OHESTNUT Street. TRESH MINCED MEA'T. The subscriber begs leave to inform the public that he is again prepared to offer his justily celebrated NE PLUS ULTRA MINCED MEAT, In large or small quantities. Orders through De- epatch Fost will be punctually attended to. SPRING GARDEN and FBANKLIN Street, no13-2m Philadelphia.	14 SOUTH FBONT AND 35 LETITIA STREET, OFFER FOR SALM BROWN AND BLEACHED SHEETINGS, SHIRTINGS, DRILLS, JEANS, SILECIAS, CANTON FLANNELS, FROM THE MASSACHUSETTS, GBEAT FALLS LACONIA, LYMAN, EVEBETT, DWIGHT, LOWELL, CABOT, IPSWICH, CHICOPEE, and HAMPDEN, BARTLET MILLS.	Green-centre Long Shawls. Two-faced Long Shawls. EYRE & LANDELL, de9 FOURTH and ARCH. BLACK CLOTH FOR CLOAKS. Esquimax Beaver Cloths. 6-4 Stout Black Doeskins. Hudson Bay Seal Skins. Hudson Bay Seal Skins. EYRE & LANDELL, de9 FOURTH and ARCH. O TTOMAN VELOURS, Piain dark colors and figures. Rieh printed Epinglines. Woren styles Reps, very cheap. IMPOBTED BALMOBALS, New designs, handsome colorings, nearly four yards wide. SCARLET FRENCH FLANNELS, Twiled and plain, of extra qualities, suitable for rhommatic underwasr. LOW-PRICED DE LAINES. New designe, constantly ATHVING, of rich printed Mousoline De Laines. SHARPLESS BROTHERS,	delphia, we know one Amphytrion at least— a man of letters and of wealth—who seems to have an intuitive knowledge of the art of adapting his wine to his viands, and both to the season. This man ought to have lived in France, where his fine judgment and correct taste, (no pun meant here,) would have an ample field. Had he flourished in the time of Louis XIV., we believe that he would have gone into mourning for the untimely self-martyrdom of Vatel ! The carte at the Rocher de Cancale, which we described in a former article, exhibits a greater variety of wines than does that at the Grand Vatel. For instance, at the Rocher, you may choose out of thirty-seven red, thir- ty-one white, and twelve foreign wines. At	Kossuth, extelling the Secession movement, and hoping that the European lovers of freedom will extend their sympathies to the South. An elegant flag was presented by the Louisville ladies to Gen. Korrison yesterday, at Camp Bon Spaulding. Mr. ingle, the editor of the Lafayette Courier, made the presentation speech on behalf of the ladies. An Arrval from Nashville . The Louisville journal of the 9th instant says : Mr. A. B. Barker the well-known railroad agent, arrived from Nashville, Tennessee, last evening, having left that plee on Saturday, the 23d instant. It will be remembered that Gov. Harris, of Ten- nessee, made a Aquisition a few months ago for thirty thousand mp and additional arms. The call met with no respose whatever, and the authorities were compelled a draft in order to fill the re- quisition. The jork of drafting commonced in Nashville the dayft his departure.	as colonel, could not be present to accompany his noble wife in performing this work of loyalty and humanity. Anomalous Position of Missouri. The admission of Missouri into the Southern Con- federacy, so far as the acts of the rebels can accom- plish it, will lead to several complications. Here- tofore General Price has levied war on the United States exclusively in the name of the State of Missouri, and his sympathizers have claimed that they were still citizens of the Union. But now the aspect of affairs is changed, and Missouri presents the anomalous picture of a State under four different governing powers, being governed according to the occupation of the military authorities, by Jeff Davis and Claib Jackson, where the rebels are in power, and by President Lincoln and Governor Gamble, where the Unionists have the upperhand. A Rebel View of the Campaign in Mis- souri. The Memphis Avalanche of December 4 publishes the following article in regard to the campaign in	and are now convinced of the rashness and folly of their course, and are anxious to return to their homes. He says that so far as he has observed, the rebels are well clothed and fed, and are anxious for a fight. He has frequently heard the wish express- ed that the war was ended, though most of them are led to believe that the Southern cause is a righteous one, and they would scarcely consent to terms of peace which did not include the recogni- tion of the Southern Confederacy. THE MASON AND SLIDELL AFFAIR. REPORT OF CAPTAIN WILKES. WHY HE DID NOT SEIZE THE TRENT. HIS ORDERS TO LIEUTENANT FAIRFAX, Capt. Wilkes' Letter to the Secretary of the Navy on the Arrest of Mason and	march westwardly with a large force, for the dou- ble purpose of making a reconnoissance and to se- cure forage. Accordingly, at an early hour on Friday last, the Second brigade set out under com- mand of General George F. Meade, of your city, accompanied by Captain Samuel Ringwalt, quar- termaster of the brigade, in charge of a large num- ber of transportation wagons. Scouts were sent out in advance, and although the line of march, in many places, was on a narrow road and deep ra- vines hemmed in by almost impenetrable forests, our troops met with no resistance, and failed to see the most remotesign of the enemy. The soldiers were in excellent condition, and enger for battle, and therefore felt somewhat disappointed. The farms in this section have generally been deserted, the males having joined the rebet army, and those remaining at home are in an almost destitute condi- tion. Many of the inhabitants are sick and unable
Ingravings, Picture and Photograph Frames, Oil Paint- tugs. The ingress and most elegant assoriument in the country. A rare opportunity is now offered to make pury elesses in this line For Ceah, at remarkably Low Prices EARLE'S GALLIFRIES. 179-tf 816 OHESTNUT Street. The subscriber begs leave to inform the public that he is again prepared to offer his justly celebrated NE PLUS ULTRA MINCED MEAT, In large or small quantities. Orders through Do- epatch Post will be punctually attended to. JOSHUA WRIGHT, SPRING GARDEN and FBANKLIN Street,	14 SOUTH FBONT AND 35 LETITIA STREET, OPPER FOR SALM BROWN AND BLEACHED SHEETINGS, SHIRTINGS, DRILLS, JEANS, SILECIAS, CANTON FLANNELS, FROM THE MASSACHUSETTS, GBEAT FALLS LACONIA, LYMAN, EVENETT, DWIGHT, LOWELL, CABOT, IPSWICH, CHICOPEE, and HAMPDEN, BABTLET MILLS. LIKEWISH,	Green-centre Long Shawls. Two-faced Long Shawls. EYRE & LANDELL, de9 FOURTH and ARCH. BLACK CLOTH FOR CLOAKS. Esquimax Beaver Cloths. 6-4 Stout Black Doeskins. Hudson Bay Seal Skins. Hudson Bay Seal Skins. FYRE & LANDELL, for T O M A N V E L O U R S, Plain dark colors and figures. Rieh printed Epinglines. Woven styles Reps, very cheap. IMPOBTED BALMOBALS, New designs, handsome colorings, nearly four yards wide. SCARLET FRENCH FLANNELS, Twilled and plain, of extra qualities, suitable for rhenmatic underwaar. LOW-PRICED DE LAINES. New designe, constantly Arriving, of rich printed Mouseline De Laines. SHARPLESS BROTHEES, de7 CHESTNUT and EIGHTH Streets.	delphia, we know one Amphytrion at least— a man of letters and of wealth—who seems to have an intuitive knowledge of the art of adapting his wine to his viands, and both to the season. This man ought to have lived in France, where his fine judgment and correct taste, (no pun meant here,) would have an ample field. Had he flourished in the time of Louis XIV., we believe that he would have gone into mourning for the untimely self-martyrdom of Vatel ! The carte at the Rocher de Cancale, which we described in a former article, exhibits a greater variety of wines than does that at the Grand Vatel. For instance, at the Rocher, you may choose out of thirty-seven red, thir- ty-one white, and twelve foreign wines. At the Grand Vatel only fifty different kinds of	Kossuth, extelling the Secession movement, and hoping that the European lovers of freedom will extend their sympathies to the South. An elegant fla was presented by the Louisville ladies to Gen. Korrison yesterday, at Camp Bon Spaulding. Mr. lingle, the editor of the Lafayotte Courier, made the presentation speech on behalf of the ladies. An Arrval from Nashville . The Louisville ournal of the 9th Instant says : Mr. A. B. Barker, the well-known railroad agent, arrived from Natville, Tennessee, last evening, having left that plee on Saturday, the 23d instant. It will be remerbered that Gov. Harris, of Ten- messee, made a Aquisition a few months ago for thirty thousand mp and additional arms. The call met with no response whatever, and the authorities were compelled a draft in order to fill the re- quisition. The jork of drafting commenced in Nashville the dayf his departure. He estimates thinumber of rebel troops between Nashville and Boving Green at twenty-eight thou- sand. He asaureans that they are misenable for	as colonel, could not be present to accompany his noble wife in performing this work of loyalty and humanity. Anomalous Position of Missouri. The admission of Missouri into the Southern Con- federacy, so far as the acts of the rebels can accom- plish it, will lead to several complications. Here- tofore General Price has levied war on the United States exclusively in the name of the State of Missouri, and his sympathizers have claimed that they were still citizens of the Union. But now the aspect of affairs is changed, and Missouri presents the anomalous picture of a State under four different governing powers, being governed according to the occupation of the military authorities, by Jeff Davis and Claib Jackson, where the rebels are in power, and by President Lincoln and Governor Gamble, where the Unionists have the upperhand. A Rebel View of the Campaign in Mis- souri. The Memphis Avalanche of December 4 publishes	and are now convinced of the rashness and folly of their course, and are anxious to return to their homes. He says that so far as he has observed, the rebels are well clothed and fed, and are anxious for a fight. He has frequently heard the wish express- ed that the war was ended, though most of them are led to believe that the Southern cause is a rightcous one, and they would scarcely consent to terms of peace which did not include the recogni- tion of the Southern Confederacy. THE MASON AND SLIDELL AFFAIR. REPORT OF CAPTAIN WILKES. WHY HE DID NOT SEIZE THE TRENT. HIS ORDERS TO LIEUTENANT FAIRFAX. Capt. Wilkes' Letter to the Secretary of the Navy on the Arrest of Mason and Sildell.	march westwardly with a large force, for the dou- ble purpose of making a reconnoissance and to se- cure forage. Accordingly, at an early hour on Friday last, the Second brigade set out under com- mand of General George F. Meade, of your city, accompanied by Captain Samuel Ringwalt, quar- termaster of the brigade, in charge of a large num- ber of transportation wagons. Scouts were sent out in advance, and although the line of march, in many places, was on a narrow road and deep ra- vincs hemmed in by almost impenetrable forests, our troops met with no resistance, and failed to see the most remotesign of the enemy. The soldiers were in excellent condition, and eager for battle, and therefore felt somewhat disappointed. The farms in this section have generally been deserted, the males having joined the rebet army, and those remaining at home are in an almost destitute condi- tion. Many of the inhabitants are sick and unable to procure medical attendance, and are obliged to give up all the luxuries and many of the neces-
Ingravings, Picture and Photograph Frames, Oil Paint- tugs. The isrgest and most elegant assortiment in the country. A rare opportunity is now offered to make pury elesses in this line For Ceah, at remarkably Low Prices EARLE'S GALLERIES. 170-tf 816 OHESTNUT Street. TRESH MINCED MEA'T. The subscriber begs leave to inform the public that he is again prepared to offer his justly celebrated NE PLUS ULTRA MINCED MEAT, In large or small quantities. Orders through De- epatch Fost will be punctually attended to. JOSHUA WRIGHT, SPRING GARDEN and FBANKLIN Street, no13-2m Philadelphia. COAL OIL! COAL OIL!	14 SOUTH FBONT AND 35 LETITIA STREET, OFFEB FOB SALM BROWN AND BLEACHED SHEETINGS, SHIRTINGS, DRILLS, JEANS, SILECIAS, CANTON FLANNELS, FROM THE MASSACHUSETTS, GBEAT FALLS LACONIA, LYMAN, EVERETT, DWIGHT, LOWELL, CABOT, IPSWICH, CHICOPEE, and HAMPDEN, BABTLET MILLS. LIKEWISS, A FULL ASSOETMENT OF	Green-centre Long Shawls. Two-faced Long Shawls. EYBE & LANDELL, de9 FOURTH and ARCH. BLACK CLOTH FOR CLOAKS. Esquimax Beaver Cloths. 6-4 Stout Black Doekins. Hudson Bay Scal Skins. Hudson Bay Scal Skins. KYRE & LANDELL, de9 FOURTH and ARCH. O TTOMAN VELOURS, Plain dark colors and figures. Rieh printed Epinglines. Woven styles Reps, very cheap. INFORTED BALMORALS, New designs, handsome colorings, nearly four yards wide. SCARLET FRENCH FLANNELS, Twilled and plain, of extra qualities, suitable for rhenmatic underwear. LOW-PRICED DE LAINES, New designe, constantly arriving, of zich printed Mouseline De Laines. SHARPLESS BROTHEBS, de7 CHESTNUT and EIGHTH Streets. LADLES' BLACK CLOTHS. Men's heavy Overcoatings.	delphia, we know one Amphytrion at least— a man of letters and of wealth—who seems to have an intuitive knowledge of the art of adapting his wine to his viands, and both to the season. This man ought to have lived in France, where his fine judgment and correct taste, (no pun meant here,) would have an ample field. Had he flourished in the time of Louis XIV., we believe that he would have gone into mourning for the untimely self-martyrdom of Vatel ! The carte at the Rocher de Cancale, which we described in a former article, exhibits a greater variety of wines than does that at the Grand Vatel. For instance, at the Rocher, you may choose out of thirty-seven red, thir- ty-one white, and twelve foreign wines. At the Grand Vatel only fifty different kinds of wine may be had. Out of these, believe us, a reasonable man may make a choice which	Kossuth, extelling the Secession movement, and hoping that the European lovers of freedom will extend their sympathies to the South. An elegant fig was presented by the Louisville ladies to Gen. Korrison yesterday, at Camp Bon Spaulding. Mr. lingle, the aditor of the Lafayotte Courier, made the presentation speech on behalf of the ladies. An Arrval from Nashville . The Louisville ournal of the 9th instant says : Mr. A. B. Barker the well-known railroad agent, arrived from Nahville, Tennessee, last evening, having left that ploe on Saturday, the 23d instant. It will be remethered that Gov. Harris, of Ten- nessee, made a Aquisition a few months ago for thirty thousand mp and additional arms. The call met with no respose whatever, and the authorities were compelled a draft in order to fill the re- parativile and Boving Green at twenty- sight thou- send. He assures that they are miserably fad and badly clothed and that there is a great defi- ciency in the matte of arms. Many of them to	as colonel, could not be present to accompany his noble wife in performing this work of loyalty and humanity. Anomalous Position of Missouri. The admission of Missouri into the Southern Con- federacy, so far as the acts of the rebels can accom- file hit, will lead to several complications. Here- tofore General Price has levied war on the United States exclusively in the name of the State of Missouri, and his sympathizers have claimed that they were still citizens of the Union. But now the aspect of affairs is changed, and Missouri presents the anomalous picture of a State under four different governing powers, being governed according to the occupation of the military authorities, by Jeff Davis and Claib Jackson, where the rebels are in power, and by President Lincoln and Governor Gamble, where the Unionists have the upperhand. A Rebel View of the Campaign in Mis- souri. The Memphis Avalanche of December 4 publishes the following article in regard to the campaign in Missouri. Our readers will readily detect, and cor- reat for themselves. its numerous erroneous state- ments:	and are now convinced of the rashness and folly of their course, and are anxious to return to their homes. He says that so far as he has observed, the rebels are well clothed and fed, and are anxious for a fight. He has frequently heard the wish express- ed that the war was ended, though most of them are led to believe that the Southern cause is a rightcous one, and they would scarcely consent to terms of peace which did not include the recogni- tion of the Southern Confederacy. THE MASON AND SLIDELL AFFAIR. REPORT OF CAPTAIN WILKES. WHY HE DID NOT SEIZE THE TRENT. HIS ORDERS TO LIEUTENANT FAIRFAX. Capt. Wilkes' Letter to the Secretary of the Navy on the Arrest of Mason and Sindell. The following is the interesting report of Capt.	march westwardly with a large force, for the dou- ble purpose of making a reconnoissance and to se- cure forage. Accordingly, at an early hour on Friday last, the Second brigade set out under com- mand of General George F. Meads, of your city, accompanied by Captain Samuel Ringwalt, quar- termaster of the brigade, in charge of a large num- ber of transportation wagons. Scouts were sent out in advance, and although the line of march, in many places, was on a narrow road and deep ra- vines hemmed in by almost impenetrable forests, our troops met with no resistance, and failed to see the most remotesign of the enemy. The soldiers were in excellent condition, and eager for battle, and therefore felt somewhat disappointed. The farms in this section have generally been deserted, the males having joined the rebet army, and those remaining at home are in an almost destitute condi- tion. Many of the inhabitants are sick and unable to procure medical attendance, and are obliged to give up all the luxuries and many of the neces- saries of life on account of their inability to pass
Ingravings, Picture and Photograph Frames, Oil Paint- tugs. The ingress and most elegant assoriument in the country. A rare opportunity is now offered to make pury ensees in this line For Ceah, at remarkably Low Prices EARLE'S GALLERIES. jy0-tf 816 OHESTNUT Street. TRESH MINCED MEA'T. The subscriber begs leave to inform the public that he is again prepared to offer his justily celebrated NE PLUS ULTRA MINCED MEAT, In large or small quantities. Orders through De- epatch Fost will be punctually attended to. SPRING GARDEN and FBANKLIN Street, no13-2m Philadelphia.	1 34 SOUTH FBONT AND 35 LETITIA STREET, OFFEB FOB SALE BROWN AND BLEACHED SHEETINGS, SHIRTINGS, DRILLS, JEANS, SILECIAS, CANTON FLANNELS, FROM THE MASSACHUSETTS, GBEAT FALLS LACONIA, LYMAN, EVEBET, DWIGHT, LOWELL, CABOT, IPSWICH, CHICOPEE, and HAMPDEN, BABTLET MILLS. LIKEWISE, A FULL ASSORTMENT OF SHAWLS, BEAVER CLOTHS, TRICOTS,	Green-centre Long Shawls. Two-faced Long Shawls. EYRE & LANDELL, de9 FOURTH and ARCH. BLACK CLOTH FOR CLOAKS. Esquimax Beaver Gloths. 6-4 Stout Black Docskins. Hudson Bay Seal Skins. Hudson Bay Seal Skins. TO TTO MAN VELOURS, Plain dark colors and figures. Bieh printed Epingines. Woven styles Rept, very cheap. Woven styles Rept, very cheap. Scarlet FRENOH FLANNELS, Twilled and plain, of extra qualities, suitable for rhenmatic underwar. LOW-PRICED DEL LAINES. New designe, constantly AFTVING, of zich printed Mouseline De Laines. SHARPLESS BROTHERS, de7 CHESTNUT and EIGHTH Streets. Men's heavy Overcoatings. Men's heavy Overcoatings.	delphia, we know one Amphytrion at least— a man of letters and of wealth—who seems to have an intuitive knowledge of the art of adapting his wine to his viands, and both to the season. This man ought to have lived in France, where his fine judgment and correct taste, (no pun meant here,) would have an ample field. Had he flourished in the time of Louis XIV., we believe that he would have gone into mourning for the untimely self-martyrdom of Vatel ! The carte at the Rocher de Cancale, which we described in a former article, exhibits a greater variety of wines than does that at the Grand Vatel. For instance, at the Rocher, you may choose out of thirty-seven red, thir- ty-one white, and twelve foreign wines. At the Grand Vatel only fifty different kinds of wine may be had. Out of these, believe us, a reasonable man may make a choice which would satisfy even the severe taste of an Api-	Kossuth, extelling the Secession movement, and hoping that the European lovers of freedom will extend their sympathies to the South. An elegant fla was presented by the Louisville Indies to Gen. Korrison yesterday, at Camp Bon Spaulding. Mr. lingle, the editor of the Lafayotte Courier, made the presentation speech on behalf of the ladies. An Arrval from Nashville. The Louisville ournal of the 9th Instant says : Mr. A. B. Barker, the well-known railroad agent, arrived from Nahville, Tennessee, last evening, having left that plee on Saturday, the 23d instant. It will be remembered that Gov. Harris, of Ten- nessee, made a equisition a few months ago for thirty thousand mp and additional arms. The call met with no respose whatever, and the authorities were compelled & draft in order to fill the re- cruisticon. The york of drafting commenced in Nashville the day f his departure. He estimates thinumber of rebel troops between Nashville and Boving Green at twenty-eight thou- send. He assures that they are missenably fad and badly clothed and that there is a great defi- ciency in the mathe of arms. Many of them, too, are ill, and he this there are fully three thou-	as colonel, could not be present to accompany his noble wife in performing this work of loyalty and humanity. Anomalous Position of Missouri. The admission of Missouri into the Southern Con- federacy, so far as the acts of the rebels can accom- plish it, will lead to several complications. Here- tofore General Price has levied war on the United States exclusively in the name of the State of Missouri, and his sympathizers have claimed that they were still citizens of the Union. But now the aspect of affairs is changed, and Missouri presents the anomalous picture of a State under four different governing powers, being governed according to the occupation of the military authorities, by Jeff Davis and Claib Jackson, where the rebels are in power, and by President Lincoln and Governor Gamble, where the Unionists have the upperhand. A Rebel View of the Campaign in Mis- souri. The Memphis Avalanche of December 4 publishes the following article in regard to the campaign in Missouri. Our readers will readily detect, and cor- neat for themselves, its numerous erroneous state- ments : The war in Missouri has taken a sudden and ex- traordinary turn. But a few davs ago General	and are now convinced of the rashness and folly of their course, and are anxious to return to their homes. He says that so far as he has observed, the rebels are well clothed and fed, and are anxious for a fight. He has frequently heard the wish express- ed that the war was ended, though most of them are led to believe that the Southern cause is a rightcous one, and they would scarcely consent to terms of peace which did not include the recogni- tion of the Southern Confederacy. THE MASON AND SLIDELL AFFAIR. REPORT OF CAPTAIN WILKES. WHY HE DID NOT SEIZE THE TRENT. HIS ORDERS TO LIEUTENANT FAIRFAX. Capt. Wilkes' Letter to the Secretary of the Navy on the Arrest of Mason and Slidell. The following is the interesting report of Capt. Wilkes, Mason and Slidell:	march westwardly with a large force, for the dou- ble purpose of making a reconnoissance and to se- cure forage. Accordingly, at an early hour on Friday last, the Second brigade set out under com- mand of General George F. Meade, of your city, accompanied by Captain Samuel Ringwalt, quar- termaster of the brigade, in charge of a large num- ber of transportation wagons. Scouts were sent out in advance, and although the line of march, in many places, was on a narrow road and deep ra- vincs hemmed in by almost impenetrable forests, our troops met with no resistance, and failed to see the most remotesign of the enemy. The soldiers were in excellent condition, and eager for battle, and therefore felt somewhat disappointed. The farms in this section have generally been deserted, the males having joined the rebet army, and those remaining at home are in an almost destitute condi- tion. Many of the inhabitants are sick and unable to procure medical attendance, and are obliged to give up all the luxuries and many of the neces-
Ingravings, Picture and Photograph Frames, Oil Paint- tugs. The isrgest and most elegant assortiment in the country. A rare opportunity is now offered to make pury elasses in this line For Ceah, at remarkably Low Prices EARLE'S GALLERIES. 170-tf 816 OHESTNUT Street. TRESH MINCED MEAT. The subacriber begs leave to inform the public that he is again prepared to offer his justly celebrated NE PLUS ULTRA MINCED MEAT, In large or smell quantities. Orders through De- spatch Post will be punctually strended IC. SPRING GARDEN and FBANKLIN Street, nol3-2m Philadelphia. COAL OIL! UOAL OIL! GEORGE W. WOOTTEN,	1 34 SOUTH FBONT AND 35 LETITIA STREET, OFFER FOR SALE BROWN AND BLEACHED SHEETINGS, SHIRTINGS, DRILLS, JEANS, SILECIAS, CANTON FLANNELS, FROM THE MASSACHUSETTS, GBEAT FALLS LACONIA, LYMAN, EVEBETT, DWIGHT, LOWELL, CABOT, IPSWICH, CHICOPEE, and HAMPDEN, BARTLET MILLS. LIREWISE, A FULL ASSORTMENT OF SHAWLS, BEAVER CLOTHS, TRICOTS, CASSIMERES, FLANNELS, TWEEDS,	Green-centre Long Shawls. Two-faced Long Shawls. EYBE & LANDELL, de9 FOURTH and ARCH. BLACK CLOTH FOR CLOAKS. Esquimax Beaver Cloths. 6-4 Stout Black Doekins. Hudson Bay Scal Skins. Hudson Bay Scal Skins. KYRE & LANDELL, de9 FOURTH and ARCH. O TTOMAN VELOURS, Plain dark colors and figures. Rieh printed Epinglines. Woven styles Reps, very cheap. INFORTED BALMORALS, New designs, handsome colorings, nearly four yards wide. SCARLET FRENCH FLANNELS, Twilled and plain, of extra qualities, suitable for rhenmatic underwear. LOW-PRICED DE LAINES, New designe, constantly arriving, of zich printed Mouseline De Laines. SHARPLESS BROTHEBS, de7 CHESTNUT and EIGHTH Streets. LADLES' BLACK CLOTHS. Men's heavy Overcoatings.	delphia, we know one Amphytrion at least— a man of letters and of wealth—who seems to have an intuitive knowledge of the art of adapting his wine to his viands, and both to the season. This man ought to have lived in France, where his fine judgment and correct taste, (no pun meant here,) would have an ample field. Had he flourished in the time of Louis XIV., we believe that he would have gone into mourning for the untimely self-martyrdom of Vatel ! The carte at the Rocher de Cancale, which we described in a former article, exhibits a greater variety of wines than does that at the Grand Vatel. For instance, at the Rocher, you may choose out of thirty-seven red, thir- ty-one white, and twelve foreign wines. At the Grand Vatel only fifty different kinds of wine may be had. Out of these, believe us, a reasonable man may make a choice which would satisfy even the severe taste of an Api- cius or Lucullus—indeed, more than satisfy	Kossuth, extelling the Secession movement, and hoping that the European lovers of freedom will extend their sympathies to the South. An elegant fig was presented by the Louisville ladies to Gen. Korrison yesterday, at Camp Bon Spaulding. Mr. lingle, the aditor of the Lafayotte Courier, made the presentation speech on behalf of the ladies. An Arrval from Nashville . The Louisville Journal of the 9th instant says : Mr. A. B. Barker the well-known railroad agent, arrived from Nahville, Tennessee, last evening, having left that ploe on Saturday, the 23d instant. It will be remethered that Gov. Harris, of Ten- nessee, made a Aquisition a few months ago for thirty thousand mp and additional arms. The call met with no respose whatever, and the authorities were compelled a draft in order to fill the re- gulation. The ork of drafting commoned in Nashville and Boving Green at twenty-eight thou- send. He assures that they are miserably fad and badly clothed and that there is a great defi- ciency in the matte of arms. Many of them, too, are ill, and he thiks there are fully three thou- sand five hundred ok soldiers in Nashville alone. No shrift the thouse of the sold of the soldiers in Nashville and Boving Green at twenty-eight thou- send. He the sold of the soldiers in Nashville alone. No shrift the the soldiers in Nashville alone.	as colonel, could not be present to accompany his noble wife in performing this work of loyalty and humanity. Anomalous Position of Missouri. The admission of Missouri into the Southern Con- federacy, so far as the acts of the rebels can accom- plish it, will lead to several complications. Here- tofore General Price has levied war on the United States exclusively in the name of the State of Missouri, and his sympathizers have claimed that they were still citizens of the Union. But now the aspect of affairs is changed, and Missouri presents the anomalous picture of a State under four different governing powers, being governed according to the occupation of the military authorities, by Jeff Davis and Claib Jackson, where the rebels are in power, and by President Lincoln and Governor Gamble, where the Unionists have the upperhand. A Rebel View of the Campaign in Mis- souri. The Memphis Avalanche of December 4 publisheg the following article in regard to the campaign in Missouri. Our readers will readily detect, and cor- react for themselves. Its numerous erroneous state- ments: The war in Missouri has taken a sudden and ex- traordinary turn. But a few days ago General Price's army was retreating, as if it intended to	and are now convinced of the rashness and folly of their course, and are anxious to return to their homes. He says that so far as he has observed, the rebels are well clothed and fed, and are anxious for a fight. He has frequently heard the wish express- ed that the war was ended, though most of them are led to believe that the Southern cause is a rightcous one, and they would scarcely consent to terms of peace which did not include the recogni- tion of the Southern Confederacy. THE MASON AND SLIDELL AFFAIR. REPORT OF CAPTAIN WILKES. WHY HE DID NOT SEIZE THE TRENT. HIS ORDERS TO LIEUTENANT FAIRFAX, Capt. Wilkes' Letter to the Secretary of the Navy on the Arrest of Mason and Slidell. The following is the interesting roport of Capt. Wilkes, assigning his reasons for the arrest of Messers. Mason and Slidell: U. S. STEAMER SAN JACINTO, }	march westwardly with a large force, for the dou- ble purpose of making a reconnoissance and to se- cure forage. Accordingly, at an early hour on Friday last, the Second brigade set out under com- mand of General George F. Meade, of your city, accompanied by Captain Samuel Ringwalt, quar- termaster of the brigade, in charge of a large num- ber of transportation wagons. Scouts were sent out in advance, and although the line of march, in many places, was on a narrow road and deep ra- vincs hemmed in by almost impenetrable forests, our troops met with no resistance, and failed to see the most remotesign of the enemy. The soldiers were in excellent condition, and enger for battle, and therefore felt somewhat disappointed. The farms in this section have generally been deserted, the males having joined the rebet army, and those remaining at home are in an almost destitute condi- tion. Many of the inhabitants are sick and unable to procure medical attendance, and are obliged to give up all the luxuries and many of the neces- saries of life on account of their inability to pass the lines of either army. The particular plantation, however, to which our expedition was directed was an exception to the
Ingravings, Picture and Photograph Frames, Oil Paint- tugs. The isrgest and most elegant assortiment in the country. A rare opportunity is now offered to make pury elesses in this line For Ceah, at remarkably Low Prices EARLE'S GALLERIES. 170-tf 816 OHESTNUT Street. TRESH MINCED MEA'T. The subscriber begs leave to inform the public that he is again prepared to offer his justly celebrated NE PLUS ULTRA MINCED MEAT, In large or small quantities. Orders through De- epatch Fost will be punctually attended to. JOSHUA WRIGHT, SPRING GARDEN and FBANKLIN Street, no13-2m Philadelphia. COAL OIL! COAL OIL!	14 SOUTH FBONT AND 35 LETITIA STREET, OFFEB FOB BALM BROWN AND BLEACHED SHEETINGS, SHIRTINGS, DRILLS, JEANS, SILECIAS, CANTON FLANNELS, FROM THE MASSACHUSETTS, GBEAT FALLS LACONIA, LYMAN, EVEBETT, DWIGHT, LOWELL, CABOT, IPSWICH, CHICOPEE, and HAMPDEN, BARTLET MILLS. LIKEWISE, A FULL ASSORTMENT OF SHAWLS, BEAVER CLOTHS, TRICOTS, CASSIMERES, FLANNELS, TWEEDS, BLANKETS, AND ARMY	Green-centre Long Shawls. Two-faced Long Shawls. EYRE & LANDELL, de9 FOURTH and ARCH. BLACK CLOTH FOR CLOAKS. Esquimax Beaver Cloths. 6-4 Stout Black Doekins. Hudson Bay Seal Skins. Hudson Bay Seal Skins. EYRE & LANDELL, 6e9 FOURTH and ARCH. O TTOMAN VELOURS, Pian dark colors and figures. Rieh printed Epinglines. Woren styles Reps, very cheap. IMPOBTED BALMOBALS, New designs, handsome colorings, nearly four yards wide. SCARLET FRENCH FLANNELS, Twiled and plain, of extra qualities, suitable for rhomatic underwear. LOW-PRICED DE LAINES. New designe, constantly arriving, of rich printed Mouseline De Laines. SHARPLESS BROTHERS, de7 CHESTNUT and EIGHTH Streets. LADIES' BLACK CLOTHS. Men's heavy Overcoatings. Men's fine Dress Cloths. COPER & CONARD,	delphia, we know one Amphytrion at least— a man of letters and of wealth—who seems to have an intuitive knowledge of the art of adapting his wine to his viands, and both to the season. This man ought to have lived in France, where his fine judgment and correct taste, (no pun meant here,) would have an ample field. Had he flourished in the time of Louis XIV., we believe that he would have gone into mourning for the untimely self-martyrdom of Vatel ! The carte at the Rocher de Cancale, which we described in a former article, exhibits a greater variety of wines than does that at the Grand Vatel. For instance, at the Rocher, you may choose out of thirty-seven red, thir- ty-one white, and twelve foreign wines. At the Grand Vatel only fifty different kinds of wine may he had. Out of these, believe us, a reasonable man may make a choice which would satisfy even the severe taste of an Api- cius or Lucullus—indeed, more than satisfy it, for the Romans, with all their wealth, had	Kossuth, extelling the Secession movement, and hoping that the European lovers of freedom will extend their sympathies to the South. An elegant fla was presented by the Louisville Indies to Gen. Korrison yesterday, at Camp Bon Spaulding. Mr. lingle, the editor of the Lafayotte Courier, made the presentation speech on behalf of the ladies. An Arrval from Nashville. The Louisville ournal of the 9th Instant says : Mr. A. B. Barker, the well-known railroad agent, arrived from Nahville, Tennessee, last evening, having left that plee on Saturday, the 23d instant. It will be remembered that Gow Harris, of Ten- nessee, made a equisition a few months ago for thirly thousand mp and additional arms. The call met with no respose whatever, and the authorities were compelled & draft in order to fill the re- cruisticor. The york of drafting commenced in Nashville the day f his departure. He estimates thinumber of rebel troops between Nashville and Boving Green at twenty-eight thou- send. He assures us that they are miserably fad and badly clothed and that there is a great defi- ciency in the mathe of arms. Many of them, too, are ill, and he this there are fully three thou- sand five hundred is soldiers in Nashville alone. No attention is given to the paymant of the troops, and the soldiers have been so accented to the	as colonel, could not be present to accompany his noble wife in performing this work of loyalty and humanity. Anomalous Position of Missouri. The admission of Missouri into the Southern Con- federacy, so far as the acts of the rebels can accom- plish it, will lead to several complications. Here- tofore General Price has levied war on the United States exclusively in the name of the State of Missouri, and his sympathizers have claimed that they were still citizens of the Union. But now the aspect of affairs is changed, and Missouri presents the anomalous picture of a State under four different governing powers, being governed according to the occupation of the military authorities, by Jeff Davis and Claib Jackson, where the upperhand. A Rebel View of the Campaign in Mis- souri. The Memphis Avalanche of December 4 publishes the following article in regard to the campaign in Missouri. Our readers will readily detect, and cor- ments: The war in Missouri has taken a sudden and ex- traordinary turn. But a few days ago General Price's army was retreating, as if it intended to evaluate the State, the greater portion of which was in the military accumption of the Watershow and	and are now convinced of the rashness and folly of their course, and are anxious to return to their homes. He says that so far as he has observed, the rebels are well clothed and fed, and are anxious for a fight. He has frequently heard the wish express- ed that the war was ended, though most of them are led to believe that the Southern cause is a rightcous one, and they would scarcely consent to terms of peace which did not include the recogni- tion of the Southern Confederacy. THE MASON AND SLIDELL AFFAIR. REPORT OF CAPTAIN WILKES. WHY HE DID NOT SEIZE THE TRENT. HIS ORDERS TO LIEUTENANT FAIRFAX, Capt. Wilkes' Letter to the Secretary of the Navy on the Arrest of Mason and Slidell. The following is the interesting roport of Capt. Wilkes, assigning his reasons for the arrest of Messrs. Mason and Slidell: U.S. STEAMER SAN JACINFO, } At Sea, Nov. 16. } Ste : In my despatch by Commander Taylor I	march westwardly with a large force, for the dou- ble purpose of making a reconnoissance and to se- cure forage. Accordingly, at an early hour on Friday last, the Second brigade set out under com- mand of General George F. Meade, of your city, accompanied by Captain Samuel Ringwalt, quar- termaster of the brigade, in charge of a large num- ber of transportation wagons. Scouts were sent out in Advance, and although the line of march, in many places, was on a narrow road and deep ra- vines hemmed in by almost impenetrable forests, our troops met with no resistance, and failed to see the most remotesign of the enemy. The soldiers were in excellent condition, and enger for battle, and therefore felt somewhat disappointed. The farms in this section have generally been deserted, the males having joined the rebet army, and those remaining at home are in an almost destitute condi- tion. Many of the inhabitants are sick and unable to procure medical attendance, and are obliged to give up all the luxuries and many of the neces- saries of life on account of their inability to pass the lines of either army. The particular plantation, however, to which our expedition was directed was an exception to the general rule. It is located a mile north of the
Ingravings, Picture and Photograph Frames, Oil Paintings. The isargest and most elegant assortiment in the rountry. A rare opportunity is now offered to make pury elasses in this line For Ceah, at remarkably Low Prices EARLE'S GALLEREES. 190-tf S16 OHESTNUT Street. The subacriber begs leave to inform the public that he is again prepared to offer his justly celebrated NE PLUS ULTRA MINCED MEAT, In large or smell quantities. Orders through Deepatch Fost will be punctually attended to. JOSHUA WRIGHT, SPRING GARDEN and FBANKLIN Street, nol3-2m Philadelphia. COAL OIL! UOAL OIL! GEORGE W. WOOTTEN, 35 SOUTH SECOND STREET,	1 34 SOUTH FBONT AND 35 LETITIA STREET, OFFER FOR SALE BROWN AND BLEACHED SHEETINGS, SHIRTINGS, DRILLS, JEANS, SILECIAS, CANTON FLANNELS, VROW THE MASSACHUSETTS, GBEAT FALLS LACONIA, LYMAN, EVERETT, DWIGHT, LOWELL, OABOT, IPSWICH, CHICOPEE, and HAMFDEN, BARTLET MILLS. LIKEWISE, A FULL ASSORTMENT OF SHAWLS, BEAVER CLOTHS, TRICOTS, CASSIMERES, FLANNELS, TWEEDS, BLANKETS, AND ARMY GOODS,	Green-centre Long Shawls. Two-faced Long Shawls. EYRE & LANDELL, de9 FOURTH and ARCH. BLACK CLOTH FOR CLOAKS. Esquimax Beaver Cloths, 6-4 Stout Elack Docekins. Hudson Bay Scal Skins. Hudson Bay Scal Skins. Hudson Bay Scal Skins. Hudson Bay Scal Skins. Hudson Bay Scal Skins. My RE & LANDELL, for T T O M A N V E L O U R S, Plain dark colors and figures. Bieh printed Epinglines. Woven styles Regt, very cheap. HIPOBTED BALMOBALS, New designs, handsome colorings, nearly four yards wide. SCARLET FRENCH FLANNELS, Twilled and plain, of extra qualities, suitable for rheumatic underwaar. LOW-PRICED DE LAINES. New designs, constantly AFRVing, of rich printed Mousciline De Laines. SHARPLESS BROTHERS, de7 CHESTNUT and EIGHTH Streets. Men's heavy Overcoatings. Men's heavy Overco	delphia, we know one Amphytrion at least— a man of letters and of wealth—who seems to have an intuitive knowledge of the art of adapting his wine to his viands, and both to the season. This man ought to have lived in France, where his fine judgment and correct taste, (no pun meant here,) would have an ample field. Had he flourished in the time of Louis XIV., we believe that he would have gone into mourning for the untimely self-martyrdom of Vatel ! The carte at the Rocher de Cancale, which we described in a former article, exhibits a greater variety of wines than does that at the Grand Vatel. For instance, at the Rocher, you may choose out of thirty-seven red, thir- ty-one white, and twelve foreign wines. At the Grand Vatel only fifty different kinds of wine may be had. Out of these, believe us, a reasonable man may make a choice which would satisfy even the severe taste of an Api- clus or Luculus—indeed, more than satisfy it, for the Romans, with all their wealth, had few wines, and apparently very little discrimi-	Kossuth, extelling the Secession movement, and hoping that the European lovers of freedom will extend their sympathies to the South. An elegant fly was presented by the Louisville ladies to Gen. Korrison yesterday, at Camp Bon Spaulding. Mr. lingle, the aditor of the Lafayotte Courier, made the presentation speech on behalf of the ladies. An Arrval from Nashville . The Louisville Journal of the 9th instant says : Mr. A. B. Barker the well-known railroad agent, arrived from Nahville. Tennessee, last evening, having left that ploe on Saturday, the 23d instant. It will be remethered that Gov. Harris, of Ten- nessee, made a Aquisition a few months ago for thirty thousand mp and additional arms. The call met with no respose whatever, and the authorities were compelled a draft in order to fill the re- quisition. The jork of drafting commonced in Nashville the daypf his departure. He estimates thinumber of rebel troops between Nashville and Bowing Green at twenty-eight thou- send. He assuresus that they are miserably fad and badly clothed and that there is a great defi- ciency in the matt- of arms. Many of them, too, are ill, and he thiks there are fully three thou- sand five hundred ok soldiers in Nashville alone. No attention is givn to the payment of the troops and the soldiers hye been so accustomed to that sort of neglect, the they do not expect to receive termuneration for beir services heime be the called	as colonel, could not be present to accompany his noble wife in performing this work of loyalty and humanity. Anomalous Position of Missouri. The admission of Missouri into the Southern Con- federacy, so far as the acts of the rebels can accom- filesh it, will lead to several complications. Here- tofore General Price has levied war on the United States exclusively in the name of the State of Missouri, and his sympathizers have claimed that they were still citizens of the Union. But now the aspect of affairs is changed, and Missouri presents the anomalous picture of a State under four different governing powers, being governed according to the occupation of the military authorities, by Jeff Davis and Claib Jackson, where the rebels are in power, and by President Lincoln and Governor Gamble, where the Unionists have the upperhand. A Rebel View of the Campaign in Mis- souri. The Memphis Avalanche of December 4 publishes the following article in regard to the campaign in Missouri. Our readers will readily detect, and cor- neat for themselwas. its humerous erroneous state- ments: The war in Missouri has taken a sudden and ex- traordinary turn. But a few days ago General Price's army was retreating, as if i in tended to evacuate the State, the greater portion of which was in the military occupation of the Federals, and Fremont's army was retreating on as if in hot pur-	and are now convinced of the rashness and folly of their course, and are anxious to return to their homes. He says that so far as he has observed, the rebels are well clothed and fed, and are anxious for a fight. He has frequently heard the wish express- ed that the war was ended, though most of them are led to believe that the Southern cause is a rightcous one, and they would scarcely consent to terms of peace which did not include the recogni- tion of the Southern Confederacy. THE MASON AND SLIDELL AFFAIR. REPORT OF CAPTAIN WILKES. WHY HE DID NOT SEIZE THE TRENT. HIS ORDERS TO LIEUTENANT FAIRFAX. Capt. Wilkes' Letter to the Secretary of the Navy on the Arrest of Mason and Slidell. The following is the interesting report of Capt. Wilkes, assigning his reasons for the arrest of Messrs. Mason and Slidell: U.S. STEAMER SAN JACINTO, } At Sea, Nov. 16. } Sin : In my despatch by Commander Taylor I confined myself to the reports of the morements of	march westwardly with a large force, for the dou- ble purpose of making a reconnoissance and to se- cure forage. Accordingly, at an early hour on Friday last, the Second brigade set out under com- mand of General George F. Meade, of your city, accompanied by Captain Samuel Ringwalt, quar- termaster of the brigade, in charge of a large num- ber of transportation wagons. Scouts were sent out in advance, and although the line of march, in many places, was on a narrow road and deep ra- vines hemmed in by almost impenetrable forests, our troops met with no resistance, and failed to see the most remotesign of the enemy. The soldiers were in excellent condition, and eager for battle, and therefore felt somewhat disappointed. The farms in this section have generally been deserted, the males having joined the robel army, and those remaining at home are in an almost destitute condi- tion. Many of the inhabitants are sick and unable to procure medical attendance, and are obliged to give up all the luxuries and many of the neces- saries of life on account of their inability to pass the lines of either army. The particular plantation, however, to which our expedition was directed was an exception to the general rule. It is located a mile north of the Leesburg turnpike, about three miles from Dranes-
Ingravings, Picture and Photograph Frames, Oil Paint- tugs. The isrgest and most elegant assortiment in the country. A rare opportunity is now offered to make pury elasses in this line For Ceah, at remarkably Low Prices EARLE'S GALLERIES. 190-ff S16 OHESTNUT Street. TRESH MINCED MEA'T. The subacriber begs leave to inform the public that he is again prepared to offer his justly celebrated NE PLUS ULTRA MINCED MEAT, In large or smell quantities. Orders through De- epatch Post will be punctually attended to. JOSHUA WRIGHT, SPRING GARDEN and FBANKLIN Street, nol3-2m Philadelphia. COAL OIL! COAL OIL! GEORGE W. WOOTTEN, 35 SOUTH SECOND STREET, AGENT FOB THE	14 SOUTH FBONT AND 35 LETITIA STREET, OFFEB FOB BALM BROWN AND BLEACHED SHEETINGS, SHIRTINGS, DRILLS, JEANS, SILECIAS, CANTON FLANNELS, FROM THE MASSACHUSETTS, GBEAT FALLS LACONIA, LYMAN, EVEBETT, DWIGHT, LOWELL, CABOT, IPSWICH, CHICOPEE, and HAMPDEN, BARTLET MILLS. LIKEWISE, A FULL ASSORTMENT OF SHAWLS, BEAVER CLOTHS, TRICOTS, CASSIMERES, FLANNELS, TWEEDS, BLANKETS, AND ARMY	Green-centre Long Shawls. Two-faced Long Shawls. EYRE & LANDELL, de9 FOURTH and ARCH. BLACK CLOTH FOR CLOAKS. Esquimax Beaver Cloths, 6-4 Stout Elack Docskins. Hudson Bay Scal Skins. Hudson Bay Scal Skins. EYRE & LANDELL, de9 EYRE & LANDELL, de9 FOURTH and ARCH. O T T O M A N V E L O U R S, Plain dark colors and figures. Bich printed Bpinglines. Woven styles Reps, very cheap. INFORTED BALMORALS, New designe, handsome colorings, nearly four yards wids. SCARLET FRENCH FLANNELS, Twilled and plain, of extra qualities, suitable for rhenmait underway. LOW-PRICED DE LAINES. New designe, constantly ARTWING, of rich printed Mouschine De Laines. SHARPLESS BROTHERS, de7 CHESTNUT and EIGHTH Streets. Men's fine Dress Cloths. COOPER & CONARD, NINTH and MARKET Streets. FLANNELS— Yard wide, fine white extra at 38 conts. Shaker Flannels, warranted genuine. COOPEB & CONARD,	delphia, we know one Amphytrion at least— a man of letters and of wealth—who seems to have an intuitive knowledge of the art of adapting his wine to his viands, and both to the season. This man ought to have lived in France, where his fine judgment and correct taste, (no pun meant here,) would have an ample field. Had he flourished in the time of Louis XIV., we believe that he would have gone into mourning for the untimely self-martyrdom of Vatel ! The carte at the Rocher de Cancale, which we described in a former article, exhibits a greater variety of wines than does that at the Grand Vatel. For instance, at the Rocher, you may choose out of thirty-seven red, thir- ty-one white, and twelve foreign wines. At the Grand Vatel only fifty different kinds of wine may be had. Out of these, believe us, a reasonable man may make a choice which would satisfy even the severe taste of an Api- cius or Luculus—indeed, more than satisfy it, for the Romans, with all their wealth, had few wines, and apparently very little discrimi- nation in using them. At the supper of Glau-	Kossuth, extelling the Secession movement, and hoping that the European lovers of freedom will extend their sympathies to the South. An elegant fly was presented by the Louisville ladies to Gen. Korrison yesterday, at Camp Bon Spaulding. Mr. lingle, the editor of the Lafayotte Courier, made the presentation speech on behalf of the ladies. An Arrval from Nashville . The Louisville ourmal of the 9th instant says : Mr. A. B. Barker the well-known railroad agent, arrived from Nahville, Tennessee, last evening, having left that plee on Saturday, the 23d instant. It will be remethered that Gow Harria, of Ten- nessee, made a Aquisition a few months ago for thirty thousand mp and additional arms. The call met with no response whatever, and the authorities were compelled a draft in order to fill this re- parisition. The york of drafting commonced in Nashville the dayof his departure. He estimates thinumber of rebel troops between Nashville and Boving Green at twenty-eight thou- send. He assures that they are missenably fed and badly clothed and that there is a great defi- ciency in the matte of arms. Many of them, too, are ill, and he thiks there are fully three thou- sand five hundred isk soldiers in Nashville alone. No attention is given to the payment of the troops, and the soldiers hy be been so accustomed to that sort of neglect, this they do not expect to receive remuneration for heir services, being but too glad if they can obtain afficient subsistence to keep their	as colonel, could not be present to accompany his noble wife in performing this work of loyalty and humanity. Anomalous Position of Missouri. The admission of Missouri into the Southern Con- federacy, so far as the acts of the rebels can accom- plish it, will lead to several complications. Here- tofore General Price has levied war on the United States exclusively in the name of the State of Missouri, and his sympathizers have claimed that they were still citizens of the Union. But now the aspect of affairs is changed, and Missouri presents the anomalous picture of a State under four different governing powers, being governed according to the occupation of the military authorities, by Jeff Davis and Claib Jackson, where the rebels are in power, and by President Lincoln and Governor Gamble, where the Unionists have the upperhand. A Rebel View of the Campaign in Mis- souri. The Memphis Acalanche of December 4 publisheg the following article in regard to the campaign in Missouri. Our readers will readily detect, and cor- reat for themsalwas. its humerous erroneous state- ments: The war in Missouri has taken a sudden and ex- theordinary turn. But a few days ago General Price's army was retreating, as if it intended to evacuate the State, the greater portion of which was in the military occupation of the Federals, and Fremont's army was pushing on, as if in hot pur- suit of Price. It was loudly vauuted by the Lin- coln forces that the Faderal areau was asked	and are now convinced of the rashness and folly of their course, and are anxious to return to their homes. He says that so far as he has observed, the rebels are well clothed and fed, and are anxious for a fight. He has frequently heard the wish express- ed that the war was ended, though most of them are led to believe that the Southern cause is a rightcous one, and they would scarcely consent to terms of peace which did not include the recogni- tion of the Southern Confederacy. THE MASON AND SLIDELL AFFAIR. REPORT OF CAPTAIN WILKES. WHY HE DID NOT SEIZE THE TRENT. HIS ORDERS TO LIEUTENANT FAIRFAX. Capt. Wilkes' Letter to the Secretary of the Navy on the Arrest of Mason and Slidell. The following is the interesting report of Capt. Wilkes, assigning his reasons for the arrest of Messrs. Mason and Slidell: U.S. STEAMER SAN JACINTO, } At Sea, Nov. 16. } SIR : In my despatch by Commander Taylor I confined myself to the reports of the movements of this ship and the facts connected with the capturg of Messifi. Mason, Slidell, Euclident and Macfarland.	march westwardly with a large force, for the dou- ble purpose of making a reconnoissance and to se- cure forage. Accordingly, at an early hour on Friday last, the Second brigade set out under com- mand of General George F. Meade, of your city, accompanied by Captain Samuel Ringwalt, quar- termaster of the brigade, in charge of a large num- ber of transportation wagons. Scouts were sent out in advance, and although the line of march, in many places, was on a narrow road and deep ra- vines hemmed in by almost impenetrable forests, our troops met with no resistance, and failed to see the most remotesign of the enemy. The soldiers were in excellent condition, and enger for battle, and therefore felt somewhat disappointed. The farms in this section have generally been deserted, the males having joined the rebet army, and those remaining at home are in an almost destitute condi- tion. Many of the inhabitants are sick and unable to procure medical attendance, and are obliged to give up all the luxuries and many of the neces- saries of life on account of their inability to pass the lines of either army. The particular plantation, however, to which our expedition was directed was an exception to the general rule. It is located a mile north of the Leesburg turnpike, about three miles from Dranes- ville, and belonged to a man named Gunnell, one
Ingravings, Picture and Photograph Frames, Oil Paintings. The isargest and most elegant assortiment in the rountry. A rare opportunity is now offered to make pury elasses in this line For Ceah, at remarkably Low Prices EARLE'S GALLEREES. 190-tf S16 OHESTNUT Street. The subacriber begs leave to inform the public that he is again prepared to offer his justly celebrated NE PLUS ULTRA MINCED MEAT, In large or smell quantities. Orders through Deepatch Fost will be punctually attended to. JOSHUA WRIGHT, SPRING GARDEN and FBANKLIN Street, nol3-2m Philadelphia. COAL OIL! UOAL OIL! GEORGE W. WOOTTEN, 35 SOUTH SECOND STREET,	1 34 SOUTH FBONT AND 35 LETITIA STREET, OFFEE FOB SALE BROWN AND BLEACHED SHEETINGS, SHIRTINGS, DRILLS, JEANS, SILECIAS, CANTON FLANNELS, FROM THE MASSACHUSETTS, GBEAT FALLS LACONIA, LYMAN, EVEBETT, DWIGHT, LOWELL, CABOT, IPSWICH, CHICOPEE, End HAMPDEN, BARTLET MILLS. LHEWISE, A FULL ASSORTMENT OF SHAWLS, BEAVER CLOTHS, TRICOTS, CASSIMERES, FLANNELS, TWEEDS, BLANKETS, AND ARMY GOODS, FROM THE WASHINGTON (LATE BAY STATE,) AND OTHER MILLS. OFFER FOR SALE	Green-centre Long Shawls. Two-faced Long Shawls. EYRE & LANDELL, de9 FOURTH and ARCH. BLACK CLOTH FOR CLOAKS. Esquimax Beaver Cloths, 6-4 Stout Elack Docekins. Hudson Bay Scal Skins. Hudson Bay Scal Skins. Hudson Bay Scal Skins. Hudson Bay Scal Skins. GT T O M A N V E L O U R S, Plain dark colors and figures. Bich printed Epinglines. Woven styles Reps, very cheap. INPORTED BALMORALS, New designe, handsome colorings, nearly four yards wids. SCARLET FRENCH FLANNELS, Twilled and plain, of extra qualities, suitable for rhenmatic underwear. LOW-PRICED DE LAINES. New designe, constantly arriving, of rich printed Mouschine De Laines. SHARPLESS BROTHERS, de7 CHESTNUT and EIGHTH Streets. Men's heavy Overcoatings. Men's deavy Overcoatings. Men's dea	delphia, we know one Amphytrion at least- a man of letters and of wealth-who seems to have an intuitive knowledge of the art of adapting his wine to his viands, and both to the season. This man ought to have lived in France, where his fine judgment and correct taste, (no pun meant here,) would have an ample field. Had he flourished in the time of Louis XIV., we believe that he would have gone into mourning for the untimely self-martyrdom of Vatel ! The carte at the Rocher de Cancale, which we described in a former article, exhibits a greater variety of wines than does that at the Grand Vatel. For instance, at the Rocher, you may choose out of thirty-seven red, thir- ty-one white, and twelve foreign wines. At the Grand Vatel only fifty different kinds of wine may he had. Out of these, believe us, a reasonable man may make a choice which would satisfy even the severe taste of an Api- cius or Lucullus-indeed, more than satisfy it, for the Romans, with all their wealth, had few wines, and apparently very little discrimi- nation in using them. At the supper of Glau- cus, (in " the Last Days of Pompeii,") the	Kossuth, extolling the Secession movement, and hoping that the European lovers of freedom will extend their sympathies to the South. An elegant flag was presented by the Louisville ladies to Gen. Korrison yeeterday, at Camp Bon Spaulding. Mr. ingle, the editor of the Lafayette Courier, made the presentation speech on behalf of the ladies. An Arrval from Nashville. The Louisville purnal of the 9th instant says : Mr. A. B. Barker, the well-known railroad agent, arrived from Nashville, Tennessee, last evening, having left that plee on Saturday, the 23d instant. It will be remerbered that Gov. Harris, of Ten- nessee, made a Aquisition a few months ago for thirty thousand mp and additional arms. The call met with no respose whatever, and the authorities were compelled a draft in order to fill the re- guisition. The jork of drafting commonced in Nashville and Boving Green at twenty-eight thou- sand in the asyl his departure. He estimates thinumber of rebel troops between Nashville and Boving Green at twenty-eight thou- sand badly clothed and that there is a great defi- ciency in the matte of arms. Many of them, too, are ill, and he thiks there are fully three thou- sand five hundred jok soldiers in Nashville alone. No attention is givn to the payment of the troops, and the soldiers hye been so accustomed to that sort of neglect, thi they do not expect to receive remuneration for heir services, being but too glad if they can obtain afficient subsistence to keep their souls and bodian trate.	as colonel, could not be present to accompany his noble wife in performing this work of loyalty and humanity. Anomalous Position of Missouri. The admission of Missouri into the Southern Con- federacy, so far as the acts of the rebels can accom- plish it, will lead to several complications. Here- tofore General Price has levied war on the United States exclusively in the name of the State of Missouri, and his sympathizers have claimed that they were still citizens of the Union. But now the aspect of affairs is changed, and Missouri présents the anomalous picture of a State under four different governing powers, being governed according to the occupation of the military authorities, by Jeff Davis and Clait Jackson, where the upperhand. A Rebel View of the Campaign in Mis- souri. The Memphis Avalanche of December 4 publishes the following article in regard to the campaign in Missouri. Our readers will readily detect, and cor- reat for themestwes. His humerous erroneous state- ments: The war in Missouri has taken a sudden and ex- traordinary turn. But a few days ago General Price's army was retreating, as if it intended to evacuate the State, the greater portion of which was in the military occupation of the Federals, and Fremont's army was pushing on, as if in hot pur- suit of Price. It was loudly vanuted by the Lin- coln forces that the Federal anny was sageify seeking battle with the Missourians. If locked very much, indeed as if Missourians. If locked	and are now convinced of the rashness and folly of their course, and are anxious to return to their homes. He says that so far as he has observed, the rebels are well clothed and fed, and are anxious for a fight. He has frequently heard the wish express- ed that the war was ended, though most of them are led to believe that the Southern cause is a rightcous one, and they would searcely consent to terms of peace which did not include the recogni- tion of the Southern Confederacy. THE MASON AND SLIDELL AFFAIR. REPORT OF CAPTAIN WILKES. WHY HE DID NOT SEIZE THE TRENT. HIS ORDERS TO LIEUTENANT FAIRFAX. Capt. Wilkes' Letter to the Secretary of the Navy on the Arrest of Mason and Slidell. The following is the interesting report of Capt. Wilkes, assigning his reasons for the arrest of Messrs. Mason and Slidell: U.S. STEAMER SAN JACINTO, } At Sea, Nov. 16. } SIN : In my despatch by Commander Taylor I confined myself to the reports of the movements of this ship and the facts connected with the capturg of Messrs. Mason, Slidell, Eustis, and Macfarland, as I intended to write you particularly relative to	march westwardly with a large force, for the dou- ble purpose of making a reconnoissance and to se- cure forage. Accordingly, at an early hour on Friday last, the Second brigade set out under com- mand of General George F. Meade, of your city, accompanied by Captain Samuel Ringwalt, quar- termaster of the brigade, in charge of a large num- ber of transportation wagons. Scouts were sent out in advance, and although the line of march, in many places, was on a narrow road and deep ra- vines hemmed in by almost impenetrable forests, our troops met with no resistance, and failed to see the most remotesign of the enemy. The soldiers were in excellent condition, and eager for battle, and therefore felt somewhat disappointed. The farms in this section have generally been deserted, the males having joined the robel army, and those remaining at home are in an almost destitute condi- tion. Many of the inhabitants are sick and unable to procure medical attendance, and are obliged to give up all the luxuries and many of the neces- saries of life on account of their inability to pass the lines of either army. The particular plantation, however, to which our expedition was directed was an exception to the general rule. It is located a mile north of the Leesburg turnpike, about three miles from Dranes- ville, and belonged to a man named Gunnell, oue of the most wealthy, aristocratic, and notorious Se- cessionists in Eastern Virginia. Gunnell was par-
Ingravings, Picture and Photograph Frames, Oil Paintings. The largest and most elegant assoriument in the contry. A rare opportunity is now offered to make pury elasses in this line For Ceach, at remarkably Low Prices EARLE'S GALLERRIES. jp0-tf B16 OHESTNUT Street. The subacriber begs leave to inform the public that he is again prepared to offer his justly celebrated NE PLUS ULTRA MINCED MEAT, In large or smell quantities. Orders through Deepatch Fost will be punctually attended to. JOSHUA WRIGHT, SPRING GARDEN and FBANKLIN Street, nol3-2m Philadelphia. COAL OIL! UOAL OIL! GEORGE W. WOOTTEN, 35 SOUTH SECOND STREET, AGENT FOB THE NORTH AMERICAN OIL COMPANY.	14 SOUTH FBONT AND 35 LETITIA STREET, OFFEE FOE SALE BROWN AND BLEACHED SHEETINGS, SHIRTINGS, DRILLS, JEANS, SILECIAS, CANTON FLANNELS, FROM THE MASSACHUSETTS, GBEAT FALLS LACONIA, LYMAN, EVEBETT, DWIGHT, LOWELL, CABOT, IPSWICH, CHICOPEE, and HAMPDEN, BABTLET MILLS. LIREWISE, A FULL ASSORTMENT OF SHAWLS, BEAVER CLOTHS, TRICOTS, CASSIMERES, FLANNELS, TWEEDS, BLANKETS, AND ARMY GOODS, FROM THE WASHINGTON (LATE BAY STATE,) AND OTHEB MILLS. CHICOPEE, MILLS. CASSIMERES, FLANNELS, TWEEDS, BLANKETS, AND ARMY GOODS, FROM THE WASHINGTON (LATE BAY STATE,) AND OTHEB MILLS. CHIPLEY, HAZARD, &	Green-centre Long Shawls. Two-faced Long Shawls. EYRE & LANDELL, de9 FOURTH and ARCH. BLACK CLOTH FOR CLOAKS. Esquimax Beaver Cloths, 6-4 Stout Elack Docekins. Hudson Bay Scal Skins. Hudson Bay Scal Skins. March Elack Docekins. Hudson Bay Scal Skins. To M A N V E L O U R S, Plain dark colors and figures. Bieh printed Epinglines. Woven styles Regt, very cheap. HIPOBTED BALMOBALS, New designs, handsome colorings, nearly four yards wids. SCARLET FRENCH FLANNELS, Twilled and plain, of extra qualities, suitable for rheumatic underwax. LOW-PRICED DE LAINES. New designs, constantly arriving, of rich printed Mousciline De Laines. SHARPLESS BROTHERS, Men's heavy Overcoatings. Men's heavy	delphia, we know one Amphytrion at least- a man of letters and of wealth-who seems to have an intuitive knowledge of the art of adapting his wine to his viands, and both to the season. This man ought to have lived in France, where his fine judgment and correct taste, (no pun meant here,) would have an ample field. Had he flourished in the time of Louis XIV., we believe that he would have gone into mourning for the untimely self-martyrdom of Vatel ! The carte at the Rocher de Cancale, which we described in a former article, exhibits a greater variety of wines than does that at the Grand Vatel. For instance, at the Rocher, you may choose out of thirty-seven red, thir- ty-one white, and twelve foreign wines. At the Grand Vatel only fifty different kinds of wine may he had. Out of these, believe us, a reasonable man may make a choice which would satisfy even the severe taste of an Api- cius or Lucullus-indeed, more than satisfy it, for the Romans, with all their wealth, had few wines, and apparently very little discrimi- nation in using them. At the supper of Glau- CuS, (in "the Last Days of Pompeii,") the drinks were diluted wine sparingly mixed	Kossuth, extolling the Secession movement, and hoping that the European lovers of freedom will extend their sympathies to the South. An elegant flag was presented by the Louisville ladies to Gen. Korrison yesterday, at Camp Bon Spaulding. Mr. ingle, the editor of the Lafayotte Courier, made the presentation speech on behalf of the ladies. An Arrval from Nashville. The Louisville purnal of the 9th instant says : Mr. A. B. Barker, the well-known railroad agent, arrived from Nashville, Tennessee, last evening, having left that plee on Saturday, the 23d instant. It will be remerbered that Gov. Harris, of Ten- nessee, made a Aquisition a few months ago for thirty thousand mp and additional arms. The coll met with no response whatever, and the authorities were compelled a draft in order to fill the re- guisticitor. The jork of drafting commonced in Nashville and Boving Green at twenty-eight thou- sand in the matt- of arms. Many of them, too, are ill, and he thiks there are fully three thou- sand the soldiers in Nashville alone. No attention is givn to the payment of the troops, and the soldiers hye been so accustomed to that sort of neglect, thi they do not expect to receive remuneration for heir services, being but too glad if they can obtain afficient subsistence to keep their soula and bodian difficient subsistence to keep their soula and bodian tradient we have of the boys who left this cit and joined the rebel army, and relat	as colonel, could not be present to accompany his noble wife in performing this work of loyalty and humanity. Anomalous Position of Missouri. The admission of Missouri into the Southern Con- federacy, so far as the acts of the rebels can accom- plish it, will lead to several complications. Here- tofore General Price has levied war on the United States exclusively in the name of the State of Missouri, and his sympathizers have claimed that they were still citizens of the Union. But now the aspect of affairs is changed, and Missouri presents the anomalous picture of a State under four different governing powers, being governed according to the occupation of the military authorities, by Jeff Davis and Claib Jackson, where the upperhand. A Rebel View of the Campaign in Mis- souri. The Memphis Avalanche of December 4 publishes the following article in regard to the campaign in Missouri. Our readers will readily detect, and cor- rect for themselves. Its numerous erroneous state- ments: The war in Missouri has taken a sudden and ex- traordinary turn. But a few days ago General Price's army was retreating, as if it intended to evacuate the State, the greater portion of which was in the military occupation of the Federals, and Fremont's army was retreating on, as if in hot pur- suit of Price. It was loudly vaunted by the Lin- coln forces that the Federal army was to be given up for the time to the undisputed control of the	and are now convinced of the rashness and folly of their course, and are anxious to return to their homes. He says that so far as he has observed, the rebels are well clothed and fed, and are anxious for a fight. He has frequently heard the wish express- ed that the war was ended, though most of them are led to believe that the Southern cause is a rightcous one, and they would scarcely consent to terms of peace which did not include the recogni- tion of the Southern Confederacy. THE MASON AND SLIDELL AFFAIR. REPORT OF CAPTAIN WILKES. WHY HE DID NOT SEIZE THE TRENT. HIS ORDERS TO LIEUTENANT FAIRFAX. Capt. Wilkes' Letter to the Secretary of the Navy on the Arrest of Mason and Slidell. The following is the interesting roport of Capt. Wilkes, assigning his reasons for the arrest of Messrs. Mason and Slidell: U.S. STEAMER SAN JACINTO, } SIN : In my despatch by Commander Taylor I confined myself to the reports of the movements of this ship and the facts connected with the capture of Messns. Mason Sildell, Easting and Mason and Silder The starts of Sildell Southers to the ship and the facts connected with the capture of Messris. Mason, Sildell, Easting and Mason and Mason and Silder to the reports of the movements of this ship and the facts connected with the capture of Messris. Mason, Sildell, Easting and Mason and Sing and the facts connected with the capture of Messris. Mason, Sildell, Easting and Mason and Mason as I intended to write you particularly relative to the reasons which induced my action in making	march westwardly with a large force, for the dou- ble purpose of making a reconnoissance and to se- cure forage. Accordingly, at an early hour on Friday last, the Second brigade set out under com- mand of General George F. Meade, of your city, accompanied by Captain Samuel Ringwalt, quar- termaster of the brigade, in charge of a large num- ber of transportation wagons. Scouts were sent out in advance, and although the line of march, in many places, was on a narrow road and deep ra- vincs hemmed in by almost impenetrable forests, our troops met with no resistance, and failed to see the most remotesign of the enemy. The soldiers were in excellent condition, and enger for battle, and therefore felt somewhat disappointed. The farms in this section have generally been deserted, the males having joined the rebet army, and those remaining at home are in an almost destitute condi- tion. Many of the inhabitants are sick and unable to procure medical attendance, and are obliged to give up all the luxuries and many of the neces- saries of life on account of their inability to pass the lines of either army. The particular plantation, however, to which our expedition was directed was an exception to the general rule. It is located a mile north of the Leesburg turnpike, about three miles from Dranes- ville, and belonged to a man named Guangell, ong of the most wealthy, aristocratic, and notorious Se- cessionists in Eastern Virginia. Gunnell was par- ticularly noted for his persecution of citizens claim-
Engravings, Picture and Photograph Frames, Oil Paint- tugs. The isrgest and most elegant assoriment in the contry. A rare opportunity is now offered to make pury abases in this line For Ceah, at remarkably Low Prices EARLE'S GALLERRIES, jy9-tr S16 OHESTNUT Street. TRESH MINCED MEA'T. The subscriber begs leave to inform the public that he is again prepared to offer his justly celebrated NE PLUS ULTRA MINCED MEAT, In large or small quantities, Orders through De- spatch Post will be punctually attended to. JOSHUA WRIGHT, SPRING GABDEN and FBANKLIN Street, no13-2m Philadelphia. COAL OIL! OOAL OIL! GEORGE W. WOOTTEN, 35 SOUTH SECOND STREET, AGENT FOR THE NORTH AMERICAN OIL COMPANY. MANUFACTUBERS OF COAL OIL, AND BE- FINELS OF COAL AND CARBON OILS.	P 54 SOUTH FBONT AND 35 LETITIA STREET, OFFER FOB BALM BROWN AND BLEACHED SHEETINGS, SHIRTINGS, DRILLS, JEANS, SILECIAS, CANTON FLANNELS, VEOX THE MASSACHUSETTS, GBEAT FALLS LACONIA, LYMAN, EVEBETT, DWIGHT, LOWELL, CABOT, IPSWICH, CHIQOPEE, and HAMPDEN, BABTLET MILLS. LIKEWISH, A FULL ASSORTMENT OF SHAWLS, BEAVER CLOTHS, TRICOTS, CASSIMERES, FLANNELS, TWEEDS, BLANKETS, AND ARMY GOODS, THOM THE WASHINGTON (LATE BAY STATE,) AND OTHEB MILLS. OOL-300 SHIPLEY, HAZARD, & HUTCHINSON,	Green-centre Long Shawls. Two-faced Long Shawls. EYRE & LANDELL, de9 FOURTH and ARCH. BLACK CLOTH FOR CLOAKS. Esquimax Beaver Cloths, 6-4 Stout Elack Docekins. Hudson Bay Scal Skins. Hudson Bay Scal Skins. Hudson Bay Scal Skins. Hudson Bay Scal Skins. Hudson Bay Scal Skins. G T T O M A N V E L O U R S, Plain dark colors and figures. Bich printed Bpinglines. Woven styles Reps, very cheap. INPORTED BALMORALS, New designe, handsome colorings, nearly four yards wids. SCARLET FRENCH FLANNELS, Twilled and plain, of extra qualities, suitable for rhenmatic underwear. LOW-PRICED DE LAINES. New designe, constantly ARTWING, of rich printed Mouschine De Laines. SHARPLESS BROTHERS, de7 CHESTNUT and EIGHTH Streets. FLANNELS. New Yercoatings. Men's fine Dress Cloths. COOPER & CONARD, no7 NINTH and MARKET Streets. FLANNELS. FANCY CASSIMERES. Of every grade and style, from 62c to $1.50 per yard. Black Cassimers.	delphia, we know one Amphytrion at least— a man of letters and of wealth—who seems to have an intuitive knowledge of the art of adapting his wine to his viands, and both to the season. This man ought to have lived in France, where his fine judgment and correct taste, (no pun meant here,) would have an ample field. Had he flourished in the time of Louis XIV., we believe that he would have gone into mourning for the untimely self-martyrdom of Vatel ! The carte at the Rocher de Cancale, which we described in a former article, exhibits a greater variety of wines than does that at the Grand Vatel. For instance, at the Rocher, you may choose out of thirty-seven red, thir- ty-one white, and twelve foreign wines. At the Grand Vatel only fifty different kinds of wine may he had. Out of these, believe us, a reasonable man may make a choice which would satisfy even the severe taste of an Api- cius or Luculus—indeed, more than satisfy it, for the Romans, with all their wealth, had few wines, and apparently very little discrimi- nation in using them. At the supper of Glau- cus, (in " the Last Days of Pompeii,") the drinks were diluted wine sparingly mixed with honey, fifty-year old Chian cooled with snow, and Lesbian favored with rosin : and	Kossuth, extelling the Secession movement, and hoping that the European lovers of freedom will extend their sympathies to the South. An elegant fly was presented by the Louisville ladies to Gen. Korrison yesterday, at Camp Bon Spaulding. Mr. ingle, the editor of the Lafayotte Courier, made the presentation speech on behalf of the ladies. An Arrval from Nashville . The Louisville Journal of the 9th instant says : Mr. A. B. Barker the well-known railroad agent, arrived from Nahville, Tennessee, last evening, having left that pleo on Saturday, the 23d instant. It will be remethered that Gov. Harris, of Ten- nessee, made a Aquisition a few months ago for thirty thousand mp and additional arms. The call met with no respose whatever, and the authorities were compelled a draft in order to fill the re- outerition. The jork of drafting commonced in Nashville and Bowing Green at twenty-eight thou- send. He assures that they are miserably fad and badly clothed and that there is a great defi- ciency in the matt- of arms. Many of them, too, are ill, and he thiks there are fully three thou- send five hundred ek soldiers in Nashville alone. No attention is given to the payment of the troops and the soldiers hye been so accustomed to that sort of neglect, this they do not expect to receive remuneration for heir services, being but too glad if they can obtain afficient subsistence to keep their souls and hodies teather. Mr. Barker washmilier with many of the boys who left this citiand joined the rebel army, and relates some aming episodes in their histories down there. He was that Barton Dancem bas	as colonel, could not be present to accompany his noble wife in performing this work of loyalty and humanity. Anomalous Position of Missouri. The admission of Missouri into the Southern Con- federacy, so far as the acts of the rebels can accom- plish it, will lead to several complications. Here- tofore General Price has levied war on the United States exclusively in the name of the State of Missouri, and his sympathizers have claimed that they were still citizens of the Union. But now the aspect of affairs is changed, and Missouri presents the anomalous picture of a State underfour different governing powers, being governed according to the occupation of the military authorities, by Jeff Davis and Claib Lackson, where the rebels are in power, and by President Lincoln and Governor Gamble, where the Unionists have the upperhand. A Rebel View of the Campaign in Mis- souri. The Memphis Avalanche of December 4 publishes the following article in regard to the campaign in Missouri. Our readers will readily detect, and cor- reat for thamslevas. its numerous erroneous state- ments: The war in Missouri has taken a sudden and ex- traordinary ture. But a few days ago General Price's army was retreating, as if it intended to evacuate the State, the greater portion of which was in the military occupation of the Federals, and Fremont's army was publing on, as if in hot pur- suit of Price. It was loudly vaunted by the Lin- coln forces that the Federal army was sagering seeking battle with the Missourians. It looked very much, indeed, as if Missourians. It looked very much, indeed, as if Wissourians. It looked very much, indeed, as if Wissourians. It looked very much, indeed, as if Wissourians in sight	and are now convinced of the rashness and folly of their course, and are anxious to return to their homes. He says that so far as he has observed, the rebels are well clothed and fed, and are anxious for a fight. He has frequently heard the wish express- ed that the war was ended, though most of them are led to beliave that the Southern cause is a righteous one, and they would scarcely consent to terms of peace which did not include the recogni- tion of the Southern Confederacy. THE MASON AND SLIDELL AFFAIR. REPORT OF CAPTAIN WILKES. WHY HE DID NOT SEIZE THE TRENT. HIS ORDERS TO LIEUTENANT FAIRFAX, Capt. Wilkes' Letter to the Secretary of the Navy on the Arrest of Mason and Slidell. The following is the interesting report of Capt. Wilkes, assigning his reasons for the arrest of Messers. Mason and Slidell: U.S. STEAMER SAN JACINTO, } SIN : In my despatch by Commander Taylor I confined myself to the reports of the movements of this sip and the facts connected with the capture of Messers. Mason, Slidell, Emstis, and Macfarland, as I intended to write you particularly relative to the reasons which induced my action in making these prisoners. When I heard at Ciepfuegos, on the south side of	march westwardly with a large force, for the dou- ble purpose of making a reconnoissance and to se- cure forage. Accordingly, at an early hour on Friday last, the Second brigade set out under com- mand of General George F. Meade, of your city, accompanied by Captain Samuel Ringwalt, quar- termaster of the brigade, in charge of a large num- ber of transportation wagons. Scouts were sent out in advance, and although the line of march, in many places, was on a narrow road and deep ra- vines hemmed in by almost impenetrable forests, our troops met with no resistance, and failed to see the most remotesign of the enemy. The soldiers were in excellent condition, and eager for battle, and therefore felt somewhat disappointed. The farms in this section have generally been deserted, the males having joined the rebet army, and those remaining at home are in an almost destitute condi- tion. Many of the inhabitants are sick and unable to procure medical attendance, and are obliged to give up all the luxuries and many of the neces- saries of life on account of their inability to pass the lines of either army. The particular plantation, however, to which our expedition was directed was an exception to the general rule. It is located a mile north of the Leesburg turnpike, about three miles from Dranes- ville, and belonged to a man named Gunnell, ong of the most wealthy, aristocratic, axd notorious Se- cessionists in Eastern Virginia. Gunnell was par- ticularly noted for his persecution of citizens claim- ing to be loyal, and was the terror of the neighbor.
Ingravings, Picture and Photograph Frames, Oil Paintings. The largest and most elegant assortiment in the rountry. A rare opportunity is now offered to make pury elawse in this line For Cach, at remarkably Low Prices EARLE'S GALLERIES. jrg-tf B16 OHESTNUT Street. FRESH MINCED MEAT. The subscriber begs leave to inform the public that he is again prepared to offer his justly celebrated NE PLUS ULTRA MINCED MEAT, In large or small quantities. Orders through Despitch Fost will be punctually statended to. JOSHUA WRIGHT, SPEING GABDEN and FBANKLIN Street, no13-2m Philadelphia. COAL OIL! OOAL OIL! GEORGE W. WOOTTEN, 35 SOUTH SECOND STREET, AGENT FOR THE NORTH AMERICAN OIL COMPANY. MANUFACTUBERS OF COAL OIL, AND BE- FINERS OF COAL AND CABBON OILS. WM. F. JOHNSTON, President,	P 54 SOUTH FBONT AND 35 LETITIA STREET, OFFER FOR SALM BROWN AND BLEACHED SHEETINGS, SHIRTINGS, DRILLS, JEANS, SILECIAS, CANTON FLANNELS, FROM THE MASSACHUSETTS, GBEAT FALLS LACONIA, LYMAN, EVENETT, LOWELL, CHICOPEE, and HAMPDEN, A FULL ASSORTMENT OF SHAWLS, BEAVER CLOTHS, TRICOTS, CASSIMERES, FLANNELS, TWEEDS, BLANKETS, AND ARMY GOODS, FROM THE WASHINGTON (LATE BAY STATE,) AND OTHED MILLS. OCL-SM HIPLEY, HAZARD, & HUTCHINSON, NO. 117 CHESTNUT STREET,	Green-centre Long Shawls. Two-faced Long Shawls. EYRE & LANDELL, de9 FOURTH and ARCH. BLACK CLOTH FOR CLOAKS. Esquimax Beaver Cloths. 6-4 Stout Black Doekins. Hudson Bay Seal Skins. Hudson Bay Seal Skins. EYRE & LANDELL, de9 FOURTH and ARCH. O TTOMAN VELOURS, Pian dark colors and figures. Rieh printed Epinglines. Woren styles Reps, very cheap. IMPOBTED BALMOBALS, New designs, handsome colorings, nearly four yards wide. SCARLET FRENCH FLANNELS, Twiled and plain, of extra qualities, suitable for rhommatic underwasr. LOW-PRICED DE LAINES. New designe, constantly armving, of rich printed Mouseline De Laines. SHARPLESS BROTHERS, de7 CHESTNUT and EIGHTH Streets. IMPO'S heavy Overcoatings. Men's heavy Overcoatings. Men's fine Dress Cloths. Men's fine Dress Cloths. MINTH and MABKET Streets. FLANNELS— Yard wide, fine white extra at 33 conts. Shaker Flannels, warranted genuine. COOPER & CONABD, NINTH and MARKET streats. FANCY CASSIMERES— Of every grade and style, from 62c to $1.50 per yard. Black Cassimeres, some extra fine lots.	delphia, we know one Amphytrion at least— a man of letters and of wealth—who seems to have an intuitive knowledge of the art of adapting his wine to his viands, and both to the season. This man ought to have lived in France, where his fine judgment and correct taste, (no pun meant here,) would have an ample field. Had he flourished in the time of Louis XIV., we believe that he would have gone into mourning for the untimely self-martyrdom of Vatel ! The carte at the Rocher de Cancale, which we described in a former article, exhibits a greater variety of wines than does that at the Grand Vatel. For instance, at the Rocher, you may choose out of thirty-seven red, thir- ty-one white, and twelve foreign wines. At the Grand Vatel only fifty different kinds of wine may be had. Out of these, believe us, a reasonable man may make a choice which would satisfy even the severe taste of an Api- cius or Luculus—indeed, more than satisfy it, for the Romans, with all their wealth, had few wines, and apparently very little discrimi- nation in using them. At the supper of Glau- cus, (in " the Last Days of Pompaii,") the drinks were diluted wine sparingly mixed with honey, fifty-year old Chian cooled with snow, and Lesbian favored with rosin; and at the famous feast of Diomed, though the	Kossuth, extelling the Secession movement, and hoping that the European lovers of freedom will extend their sympathies to the South. An elegant fla was presented by the Louisville Indies to Gen. Korrison yesterday, at Camp Bon Spaulding. Mr. lingle, the aditor of the Lafayotte Courier, made the presentation speech on behalf of the ladies. An Arrval from Nashville. The Louisville spurnal of the 9th instant says : Mr. A. B. Barker, the well-known railroad agent, arrived from Nahville, Tennessee, last evening, having left that plee on Saturday, the 23d instant. It will be remembered that Gow Harris, of Ten- nessee, made a squisition a few months ago for thirty thousand mp and additional arms. The call met with no response whatever, and the authorities were compelled a draft in order to fill the re- restition. The york of drafting commonced in Nashville the dayf his departure. He estimates thinumber of rebel troops between Nashville and Boving Green at twenty-eight thou- sand ince soldiers in the sate defi- ciency in the matte of arms. Many of them, too, are ill, and he this there are fully three thou- sand ine soldiers have been so accustomed to that sort of neglect, the they do not expect to receive remuneration for heir services, baing but too glad if they can obtain afficient subsistence to keep their soula and bodies teatner. Mr. Barker washmiliar with many of the boys who left this cirk then the re her heir histories down there. He says that Blanton Duncan has follen hoid desraver in the re her histories down there. He is the they have the rest and part the soule and bodies teatner.	as colonel, could not be present to accompany his noble wife in performing this work of loyalty and humanity. Anomalous Position of Missouri. The admission of Missouri into the Southern Con- federacy, so far as the acts of the rebels can accom- plish it, will lead to several complications. Here- tofore General Price has levied war on the United States exclusively in the name of the State of Missouri, and his sympathizers have claimed that they were still citizens of the Union. But now the aspect of affairs is changed, and Missouri presents the anomalous picture of a State under four different governing powers, being governed according to the occupation of the military authorities, by Jeff Davis and Claib Jackson, where the upperhand. A Rebel View of the Campaign in Mis- souri. The Memphis Avalanche of December 4 publishes the following article in regard to the campaign in Missouri. Our readers will readily detect, and cor- ract for themselves. Its humerous erroneous state- ments: The war in Missouri has taken a sudden and ex- traordinary turn. But a few days ago General Price's army was retreating, as if it intended to evacuate the State, the greater portion of which was in the military action of the Federals, and Fremont's army was retreating, as if in hot pur- suit of Price. It was loudly vaunted by the Lin- coln forces that the Federal army was sets be given up for the time to the undisputed control of the Federals. But, just as the two arme as mean almost in sight of each other, and a battle sceme almost in sight of each other, and a battle sceme almost in sight of each other, and a battle sceme almost in sight	and are now convinced of the rashness and folly of their course, and are anxious to return to their homes. He says that so far as he has observed, the rebels are well clothed and fed, and are anxious for a fight. He has frequently heard the wish express- ed that the war was ended, though most of them are led to believe that the Southern cause is a rightcous one, and they would searcely consent to terms of peace which did not include the recogni- tion of the Southern Confederacy. THE MASON AND SLIDELL AFFAIR. REPORT OF CAPTAIN WILKES. WHY HE DID NOT SEIZE THE TRENT. HIS ORDERS TO LIEUTENANT FAIRFAX. Capt. Wilkes' Letter to the Secretary of the Navy on the Arrest of Mason and Slidell. The following is the interesting report of Capt. Wilkes, assigning his reasons for the arrest of Messrs. Mason and Slidell: U.S. STEAMER SAN JACINTO,] At Sea, Nov. 16. } SIN : In my despatch by Commander Taylor I confined myself to the reports of the movements of this ship and the facts connected with the capture of Messrs. Mason, Slidell, Eustis, and Macfarland, as I intended to write you particularly relative to the reasons which induced my action in making these prisoners. When I heard at Cienfugges, on the south side of Cuba, of these or mainser is not the south side of Cuba, and that they were at Havana, and	march westwardly with a large force, for the dou- ble purpose of making a reconnoissance and to se- cure forage. Accordingly, at an early hour on Friday last, the Second brigade set out under com- mand of General George F. Meade, of your city, accompanied by Captain Samuel Ringwalt, quar- termaster of the brigade, in charge of a large num- ber of transportation wagons. Scouts were sent out in advance, and although the line of march, in many places, was on a narrow road and deep ra- vincs hemmed in by almost impenetrable forests, our troops met with no resistance, and failed to see the most remotesign of the enemy. The soldiers were in excellent condition, and enger for battle, and therefore felt somewhat disappointed. The farms in this section have generally been deserted, the males having joined the rebet army, and those remaining at home are in an almost destitute condi- tion. Many of the inhabitants are sick and unable to procure medical attendance, and are obliged to give up all the luxuries and many of the neces- saries of life on account of their inability to pass the lines of either army. The particular plantation, however, to which our expedition was directed was an exception to the general rule. It is located a mile north of the Leesburg turnpike, about three miles from Dranes- ville, and belonged to a man named Guangell, ong of the most wealthy, aristocratic, and notorious Se- cessionists in Eastern Virginia. Gunnell was par- ticularly noted for his persecution of citizens claim-
Engravings, Picture and Photograph Frames, Oil Paint- tugs. The isrgest and most elegant assoriment in the contry. A rare opportunity is now offered to make pury abases in this line For Ceah, at remarkably Low Prices EARLE'S GALLERRIES, jy9-tr S16 OHESTNUT Street. TRESH MINCED MEA'T. The subscriber begs leave to inform the public that he is again prepared to offer his justly celebrated NE PLUS ULTRA MINCED MEAT, In large or small quantities, Orders through De- spatch Post will be punctually attended to. JOSHUA WRIGHT, SPRING GABDEN and FBANKLIN Street, no13-2m Philadelphia. COAL OIL! OOAL OIL! GEORGE W. WOOTTEN, 35 SOUTH SECOND STREET, AGENT FOR THE NORTH AMERICAN OIL COMPANY. MANUFACTUBERS OF COAL OIL, AND BE- FINELS OF COAL AND CARBON OILS.	14 SOUTH FBONT AND 35 LETITIA STREET, OFFER FOR SALM BROWN AND BLEACHED SHEETINGS, SHIRTINGS, DRILLS, JEANS, SILECIAS, CANTON FLANNELS, FROM THE MASSACHUSETTS, GBEAT FALLS LACONIA, LYMAN, EVENETT, DWIGHT, LOWELL, CABOT, IPSWICH, CHICOPEE, and HAMPDEN, BABTLET MILLS. LIKEWISE, A FULL ASSORTMENT OF SHAWLS, BEAVER CLOTHS, TRICOTS, CASSIMERES, FLANNELS, TWEEDS, BLANKETS, AND ARMY GOODS, FROM THE WASHINGTON (LATE BAT STATE,) AND OTHER WILLS. ODES, MON THE WASHINGTON (LATE BAT STATE,) AND OTHER MILLS. ODES, MON THE WASHINGTON (LATE BAT STATE,) AND OTHER MILLS. MON THE WASHINGTON (LATE BAT STATE,) MON THE WASHINGTON (LATE BAT STATE,) AND OTHER MILLS. MON THE WASHINGTON (LATE BAT STATE,) MON THE WASHING	Green-centre Long Shawls. Two-faced Long Shawls. EYRE & LANDELL, de9 FOURTH and ARCH. BLACK CLOTH FOR CLOAKS. Esquimax Beaver Gloths. 6-4 Stout Elack Docekins. Hudson Bay Seal Skins. Hudson Bay Seal Skins. New designe, handsome colorings, nearly four yards wids. SCARLET FRENOH FLANNELS, Twilled and plain, of extra qualities, suitable for rheematic underwar. LOW-PRICED DE LAINES. New designe, constantly arriving, of rich printed Mouseline De Laines. SHARPLESS BROTHEBS, de7 CHESTNUT and EIGHTH Streets. CHESTNUT and EIGHTH Streets. Men's fine Dress Cloths. Men's fine Mores Coon ABD, no7 NINTH and MARKET Streets. FLANNELS. COOPER & CONABD, NINTH and MARKET streats. FANCY CASSIMERES. Of every grade and style, from 62c to $1.50 per yard. Black Cassimeres, some extra fine lots. COOPER & CONARD, no7 NINTH and MARKET Streets.	delphia, we know one Amphytrion at least— a man of letters and of wealth—who seems to have an intuitive knowledge of the art of adapting his wine to his viands, and both to the season. This man ought to have lived in France, where his fine judgment and correct taste, (no pun meant here,) would have an ample field. Had he flourished in the time of Louis XIV., we believe that he would have gone into mourning for the untimely self-martyrdom of Vatel ! The carte at the Rocher de Cancale, which we described in a former article, exhibits a greater variety of wines than does that at the Grand Vatel. For instance, at the Rocher, you may choose out of thirty-seven red, thir- ty-one white, and twelve foreign wines. At the Grand Vatel only fifty different kinds of wine may be had. Out of these, believe us, a reasonable man may make a choice which would satisfy even the severe taste of an Api- cius or Luculus—indeed, more than satisfy it, for the Romans, with all their wealth, had few wines, and apparently very little discrimi- nation in using them. At the supper of Glau- cus, (in " the Last Days of Pompaii,") the drinks were diluted wine sparingly mixed with honey, fifty-year old Chian cooled with snow, and Lesbian favored with rosin; and at the famous feast of Diomed, though the cutsine embraced " all the delicacies of the	Kossuth, extelling the Secession movement, and hoping that the European lovers of freedom will extend their sympathies to the South. An elegant fla was presented by the Louisville Indies to Gen. Korrison yesterday, at Camp Bon Spaulding. Mr. lingle, the aditor of the Lafayotte Courier, made the presentation speech on behalf of the ladies. An Arrval from Nashville. The Louisville ournal of the 9th instant says : Mr. A. B. Barker, the well-known railroad agent, arrived from Nahville, Tennessee, last evening, having left that plee on Saturday, the 23d instant. It will be remembered that Gow Harris, of Ten- nessee, made a equisition a few months ago for thirty thousand mp and additional arms. The call met with no response whatever, and the authorities were compelled a draft in order to fill the re- cretificant. The york of drafting commonced in Nashville the day f his departure. He estimates thinumber of rebel troops between Nashville and Boving Green at twenty-eight thou- sand five hundred ick soldiers in Nashville alone. No attention is given to the paymant of the troops, and the soldiers hye been so accustomed to that sort of neglect, the they do not expect to receive remuneration for heir services, baing but too glad if they can obtain afficient subsistence to keep their soula and bodies teatner. Mr. Barker washmiliar with many of the boys who left this direr, having given up the pursuit after milary fame and adopted gambling	as colonel, could not be present to accompany his noble wife in performing this work of loyalty and humanity. Anomalous Position of Missouri. The admission of Missouri into the Southern Con- federacy, so far as the acts of the rebels can accom- plish it, will lead to several complications. Here- tofore General Price has levied war on the United States exclusively in the name of the State of Missouri, and his sympathizers have claimed that they were still citizens of the Union. But now the aspect of affairs is changed, and Missouri presents the anomalous picture of a State ander four different governing powers, being governed according to the occupation of the military authorities, by Jeff Davis and Claib Lackson, where the rebels are in power, and by President Lincoln and Governor Gamble, where the Unionists have the upperhand. A Rebel View of the Campaign in Mis- souri. The Memphis Avalanche of December 4 publishes the following article in regard to the campaign in Missouri. Our readers will readily detect, and cor- reat for themsalvas. its humerous erroneous state- ments: The war in Missouri has taken a sudden and ex- traordinary turn. But a few days ago General Price's army was retreating, as if it intended to evacuate the State, the greater portion of which was in the military occupation of the Federals, and Fremont's army was pushing on, as if in hot pur- suit of Price. It was loudly vaunted by the Lin- coln forces that the Federal army was sagesfy seeking battle with the Missourians. It looked very much, indeed, as if Missourians. It looked very much, indeed, as if Aussourians. It looked was in the military occupation of the Federals. But just as the two armies came almost in sight of each other, and a battle seemed imminent, Fre- mont was superseded, and his successor, Gen. Hun- ter, ordered a retreat to St. Louis-leaving Sireel.	and are now convinced of the rashness and folly of their course, and are anxious to return to their homes. He says that so far as he has observed, the rebels are well clothed and fed, and are anxious for a fight. He has frequently heard the wish express- ed that the war was ended, though most of them are led to believe that the Southern cause is a rightcous one, and they would searcely consent to terms of peace which did not include the recogni- tion of the Southern Confederacy. THE MASON AND SLIDELL AFFAIR. REPORT OF CAPTAIN WILKES. WHY HE DID NOT SEIZE THE TRENT. HIS ORDERS TO LIEUTENANT FAIRFAX. Capt. Wilkes' Letter to the Secretary of the Navy on the Arrest of Mason and Slidell. The following is the interesting report of Capt. Wilkes, assigning his reasons for the arrest of Mesers. Mason and Slidell: U.S. STEAMER SAN JACINTO, } SIN : In my despatch by Commander Taylor I confined myself to the reports of the movements of this ship and the facts connected with the capture of Mesers. Mason, Slidell, Eustis, and Macfarland, as I intended to write you particularly relative to the reasons which induced my action in making these prisoners. When I heard at Cienfuegos, on the south side of Cuba, of these commissioners having landed on the Island of Cuba, and that they were at Havana, and would depart in the English steamer of the 7th of	march westwardly with a large force, for the dou- ble purpose of making a reconnoissance and to se- cure forage. Accordingly, at an early hour on Friday last, the Second brigade set out under com- mand of General George F. Meade, of your city, accompanied by Captain Samuel Ringwalt, quar- termaster of the brigade, in charge of a large num- ber of transportation wagons. Scouts were sent out in advance, and although the line of march, in many places, was on a narrow road and deep ra- vines hemmed in by almost impenetrable forests, our troops met with no resistance, and failed to see the most remotesign of the enemy. The soldiers were in excellent condition, and eager for battle, and therefore felt somewhat disappointed. The farms in this section have generally been deserted, the males having joined the rebel army, and those remaining at home are in an almost destitute condi- tion. Many of the inhabitants are sick and unable to procure medical attendance, and are obliged to give up all the luxuries and many of the neces- saries of life on account of their inability to pass the lines of either army. The particular plantation, however, to which our expedition was directed was an exception to the general rule. It is located a mile north of the Leesburg turnpike, about three miles from Dranes- ville, and belonged to a man named Gunnell, one of the most wealthy, aristocratic, azd notorious Se- cessionists in Eastern Virginia. Gunnell was par- ticularly noted for his persecution of citizens claim- ing to be loyal, and was the terror of the neighbor- hood before our gallant Ponnsylvania Reserves took possession of the sacred soil of Virginia. His farm, however, has been very highly cuttivated
Ingravings, Picture and Photograph Frames, Oil Paint- tugs. The largest and most elegant assoriument in the country. A rare opportunity is now offered to make pury abases in this line For Ceach, at remarkably Low Prices EARLE'S GALLERIES. jrot B16 OHESTNUT Street. TRESH MINCED MEAT. The subscriber begs leave to inform the public that he is again prepared to offer his justly celebrated NE PLUS ULTRA MINCED MEAT, In large or small quantities. Orders through De- spatch For the punctually attended to. SPRING GABDEN and FBANKLIN Street, nois-2m Philadelphia. COAL OIL! COAL OIL! GEORGE W. WOOTTEN, as south SECOND STREET, AGENT FOR THE NORTH AMERICAN OIL COMPANY. MANUFACTUBERS OF COAL OIL, AND BE- FINERS OF COAL AND CABBON OILS. WM. F. JOHNSTON, President, GEO. OGDEN, Secretary.	14 SOUTH FBONT AND 35 LETITIA STREET, OFFER FOR BALM BROWN AND BLEACHED SHEETINGS, SHIRTINGS, DRILLS, JEANS, SILECIAS, CANTON FLANNELS, VEOR THE MASSACHUSETTS, GBEAT FALLS LACONIA, LYMAN, EVERETT, DWIGHT, LOWELL, CABOT, IPSWICH, CHICOPEE, and HAMPDEN, BASDETMENT OF SHAWLS, BEAVER CLOTHS, TRICOTS, CASSIMERES, FLANNELS, TWEEDS, BLANKETS, AND ARMY GOODS, THOM THE WASHINGTON (LATE BAY STATE,) AND OTHER MILLS. DOI-300 SHIPLEY, HAZARD, & HUTCHINSON, NO. 117 CHESTNUT STREET, O OM MISSION M BOHANTS FOR THE BALK OF	Green-centre Long Shawls. Two-faced Long Shawls. EYRE & LANDELL, deg FOURTH and ARCH. BLACK CLOTH FOR CLOAKS. Esquimax Beaver Cloths. 6-4 Stout Black Docekins. Hudson Bay Seal Skins. Hudson Bay Seal Skins. New designs, handsome colorings, nearly four yards wide. Scallet FRENOH FLANNELS, New designs, constantly arruing, of rich printed Mousoline D Laines. SHARPLESS BROTHEES, de7 CHESTNUT and EIGHTH Streets. Men's fine Dress Cloths. Men's fine Streets. FLANNELS— Yard wide, fine white extra at 33 conts. Shaker Flamels, warranted genuine. COOPEB & CONARD, NINTH and MARKET Streets. FANCY CASSIMERES— Of every grade and style, from 62c to $1.50 per yard. Black Cassimeres, some extra fine lots. DRESS GOODS.	delphia, we know one Amphytrion at least- a man of letters and of wealth-who seems to have an intuitive knowledge of the art of adapting his wine to his viands, and both to the season. This man ought to have lived in France, where his fine judgment and correct taste, (no pun meant here,) would have an ample field. Had he flourished in the time of Louis XIV., we believe that he would have gone into mourning for the untimely self-martyrdom of Vatel ! The carte at the Rocher de Cancale, which we described in a former article, exhibits a greater variety of wines than does that at the Grand Vatel. For instance, at the Rocher, you may choose out of thirty-seven red, thir- ty-one white, and twelve foreign wines. At the Grand Vatel only fifty different kinds of wine may be had. Out of these, believe us, a reasonable man may make a choice which would satisfy even the severe taste of an Api- cius or Lucullus-indeed, more than satisfy it, for the Romans, with all their wealth, had few wines, and apparently very little discrimi- nation in using them. At the supper of Glau- CuS, (in "the Last Days of Pompeii,") the drinks were diluted wine sparingly mixed with honey, fifty-year old Chian cooled with snow, and Lesbian favored with rosin; and at the famous feast of Diomed, though the cusine embraced " all the delicacies of the season," the guests were actually put off with	Kossuth, extolling the Secession movement, and hoping that the European lovers of freedom will extend their sympathies to the South. An elegant fla was presented by the Louisville ladies to Gen. Korrison yesterday, at Camp Bon Spaulding. Mr. ingle, the editor of the Lafayotte Courier, made the presentation speech on behalf of the ladies. An Arrval from Nashville. The Louisville purnal of the 9th instant says : Mr. A. B. Barker, the well-known railroad agent, arrived from Nashville, Tennessee, last evening, having left that plee on Saturday, the 23d instant. It will be remerisered that Gov. Harris, of Ten- messee, made a Aquisition a few months ago for thirty thousand mp and additional arms. The coll met with no respose whatever, and the authorities were compelled a draft in order to fill the re- guissiview. The york of drafting commonced in Nashville and Boving Green at twenty-eight thou- sand budly clothed and that there is a great defi- ciency in the matt- of arms. Many of them, too, are ill, and he thiks there are fully three thou- sand the soldiers hye been so accustomed to that sort of neglect, this they do not expect to receive remuneration for heir services, being but too glad if they can obtain afficient subsistence to keep their soula and bodian they do not expect to receive remuneration for heir services, being but too glad if they can obtain afficient subsistence to keep their soula and bodian discont subsistence to keep their soula and bodian discont subsistence to keep their soula and bodian genisodes in their histories down there. He says that Blanton Dungan has fallen hate disgraceren there, having given up the pursuit after milary fame and adopted gambling as a profession.	As colonel, could not be present to accompany his noble wife in performing this work of loyalty and humanity. Anomalous Position of Missouri. The admission of Missouri into the Southern Con- federacy, so far as the acts of the rebels can accom- plish it, will lead to several complications. Here- tofore General Price has levied war on the United States exclusively in the name of the State of Missouri, and his sympathizers have claimed that they were still citizens of the Union. But now the aspect of affairs is changed, and Missouri presents the anomalous picture of a State under four different governing powers, being governed according to the occupation of the military authorities, by Jeff Davis and Claib Jackson, where the upperhand. A Rebel View of the Campaign in Mis- souri. The Memphis Avalanche of December 4 publishes the following article in regard to the campaign in Missouri. Our readers will readily detect, and cor- rect for themselves. Its humerous erroneous state- ments: The war in Missouri has taken a sudden and ex- traordinary turn. But a few days ago General Price's army was retreating, as if it intended to evacuate the State, the greater portion of which was in the military occupation of the Federals, and Fremont's army was pushing on, as if in hot pur- suit of Price. It was loudly vaunted by the Lin- coln forces that the Federal army was state in the military occupation of the Federals, and Fremont's army was pushing on, as if in hot pur- setting battle with the Missourians. It looked very much, indeed, as if Missourians to be given up for the time to the undisputed control of the Federals. But, just as the two armies came almost in sight of each other, and a battle seemed imminent, Fre- mont was superseded, and his successor, Gen. Hun- ter, ordered a retreat to St. Louis-leaving Sigel, with a portion of his forges, to cover the rear, he	and are now convinced of the rashness and folly of their course, and are anxious to return to their homes. He says that so far as he has observed, the rebels are well clothed and fed, and are anxious for a fight. He has frequently heard the wish express- ed that the war was ended, though most of them are led to believe that the Southern cause is a rightcous one, and they would searcely consent to terms of peace which did not include the recogni- tion of the Southern Confederacy. THE MASON AND SLIDELL AFFAIR. REPORT OF CAPTAIN WILKES. WHY HE DID NOT SEIZE THE TRENT. HIS ORDERS TO LIEUTENANT FAIRFAX. Capt. Wilkes' Letter to the Secretary of the Navy on the Arrest of Mason and Slidell. The following is the interesting report of Capt. Wilkes, assigning his reasons for the arrest of Mesers. Mason and Slidell: U.S. STEAMER SAN JACINTO, } SIM : In my despatch by Commander Taylor I confined myself to the reports of the movements of this ship and the facts connected with the capturg of Mesers. Mason, Slidell, Eustis, and Macfarland, as I intended to write you particularly relative to the reasons which induced my action in making these prisoners. When I heard at Cienfuegos, on the south side of Cuba, of these commissioners having landed on the Island of Cuba, and that they were at Havana, and would depart in the English steamer of the 7th of November, I determined all the authorities on interma-	march westwardly with a large force, for the dou- ble purpose of making a reconnoissance and to se- cure forage. Accordingly, at an early hour on Friday last, the Second brigade set out under com- mand of General George F. Meade, of your city, accompanied by Captain Samuel Ringwalt, quar- termaster of the brigade, in charge of a large num- ber of transportation wagons. Scouts were sent out in advance, and although the line of march, in many places, was on a narrow road and deep ra- vines hemmed in by almost impenetrable forests, our troops met with no resistance, and failed to see the most romotesign of the enemy. The soldiers were in excellent condition, and enger for battle, and therefore felt somewhat disappointed. The farms in this section have generally been deserted, the males having joined the rebet army, and those remaining at home are in an almost destilute condi- tion. Many of the inhabitants are sick and unable to procure medical attendance, and are obliged to give up all the luxuries and many of the neces- saries of life on account of their inability to pass the lines of either army. The particular plantation, however, to which our expedition was directed was an exception to the general rule. It is located a mile north of the Leesburg turnpike, about three miles from Dranes- ville, and belonged to a man named Gunnell, one of the most wealthy, aristocratic, axd notorious Se- cessionists in Eastern Virginia. Gunnell was par- ticularly noted for his persecution of citizens claim- ing to be loyal, and was the terror of the neighbor- nood before our gallant Pennsylvania Reserves took possession of the sacred soil of Virginia. His farm, however, has been very highly cultivated and its surroundings indicate that he was an expe-
Ingravings, Picture and Photograph Frames, Oil Paint- tugs. The isrgest and most elegant assoriment in the country. Arare opportunity is now offered to make pury elesses in this line For Ceah, at remarkably Low Prices EARLE'S GALLERIES. 170-tr 816 OHESTNUT Street. The subscriber begs leave to inform the public that he is again prepared to offer his justly celebrated NE PLUS ULTRA MINCED MEAT, In large or small quantities. Orders through Do- gratch Post will be punctually sitended to. JOSHUA WRIGHT, SPRING GABDEN and FBANKLIN Street, no13-2m Philadelphia. COAL OIL! COAL OIL! GEORGE W. WOOTTEN, 35 SOUTH SECOND STBEET, AGENT FOR THE NORTH AMERICAN OIL COMPANY. MANUFACTUBERS OF COAL OIL, AND BE- FINERS OF COAL AND CABON OILS. WM. F. JOHNSTON, President, GEO. OGDEN, Secretary. Also, Agent for BEERS, JUDSON, & BEERS, Patent Glass Comes for Lamps, and wholesale dealor in Dith-	14 SOUTH FBONT AND 35 LETITIA STREET, OFFER FOR SALM BROWN AND BLEACHED SHEETINGS, SHIRTINGS, DRILLS, JEANS, SILECIAS, CANTON FLANNELS, FROM THE MASSACHUSETTS, GBEAT FALLS LACONIA, LYMAN, EVENETT, DWIGHT, LOWELL, CABOT, IPSWICH, CHICOPEE, and HAMPDEN, BABTLET MILLS. LIKEWISH, A FULL ASSORTMENT OF SHAWLS, BEAVER CLOTHS, TRICOTS, CASSIMERES, FLANNELS, TWEEDS, BLANKETS, AND ARMY GOODS, FROM THE WASHINGTON (LATE BAT STATE,) AND OTHER WASHINGTON (LATE BAT STATE,) OM MILSSION M BOHANTE FOR THE WASHINGTON, NO. 117 CHESTNUT STREET, O MM ISSION M BOHANTE FOR THE SALK OF PHILLADEL PHILA-MADE	Green-centre Long Shawls. Two-faced Long Shawls. EYRE & LANDELL, deg FOURTH and ARCH. BLACK CLOTH FOR CLOAKS. Esquimax Beaver Cloths. 6-4 Stout Black Doekins. Hudson Bay Seal Skins. Hudson Bay Seal Skins. Signal States and Sources. New designs, handsome colorings, nearly four yards wide. SCARLET FRENOH FLANNELS, New designe. constantly arruing, of rich printed Mouseline De LAINES. New designe. constantly arruing, of rich printed Mouseline De LAINES. New designe. Constantly Arruing, of rich printed Mouseline De LAINES. Men's heavy Overcoatings. Men's deast of the skins at 38 conts. Staker Flannels, warranted genuins. COOPER & CONABD, NINTH and MARKET Streets. FO f every grade and stile, from 62c to $1.50 per yard. Black Cassimeres, some extra fine lots. DRESS GOODS. Reps, Merinces, Poplins, Delaines, &c. Black Foylins, Merincea, Belaines, &conABD, COOPER & CONABD, Black Foylins, Merincea, Belaines, &conABD, COOPER & CONABD, Black Foylins, Merincea, Belaines, &conABD, Black Foylins, Merincea, Belaines, &conABD, COOPER & CONABD, COOPER & CONABD, Black Foylins, Merincea, Belaines, &conABD, COOPER & CONABD, Black Foylins, Merincea, Belaines, &conABD, Black Foylins, Merincea, Belaines, &conABD, CONABD.	delphia, we know one Amphytrion at least— a man of letters and of wealth—who seems to have an intuitive knowledge of the art of adapting his wine to his viands, and both to the season. This man ought to have lived in France, where his fine judgment and correct taste, (no pun meant here,) would have an ample field. Had he flourished in the time of Louis XIV., we believe that he would have gone into mourning for the untimely self-martyrdom of Vate! The carte at the Rocher de Cancale, which we described in a former article, exhibits a greater variety of wines than does that at the Grand Vatel. For instance, at the Rocher, you may choose out of thirty-seven red, thir- ty-one white, and twelve foreign wines. At the Grand Vatel only fifty different kinds of wine may be had. Out of these, believe us, a reasonable man may make a choice which would satisfy even the severe taste of an Api- cius or Luculus—indeed, more than satisfy it, for the Romans, with all their wealth, had few wines, and apparently very little discrimi- nation in using them. At the supper of Glau- cus, (in "the Last Days of Pompaii,") the drinks were diluted wine sparingly mixed with honey, fifty-year old Chian cooled with snow, and Lesbian favored with rosin; and at the famous feast of Diomed, though the cusine embraced "all the delicacies of the season," the guests were actually put off with wine-and-water. Yet it is the custor, ereated	Kossuth, extolling the Secession movement, and hoping that the European lovers of freedom will extend their sympathies to the South. An elegant fla was presented by the Louisville ladies to Gen. Korrison yesterday, at Camp Bon Spaulding. Mr. lingle, the editor of the Lafayotte Courier, made the presentation speech on behalf of the ladies. An Arrval from Nashville. The Louisville survial of the 9th Instant says : Mr. A. B. Barker the well-known railroad agent, arrived from Nashville, Tennessee, last evening, having left that plee on Saturday, the 23d instant. It will be remerbered that Gov. Harris, of Ten- nessee, made a squisition a few months ago for thirty thousand mp and additional arms. The call met with no respose whatever, and the authorities were compelled a draft in order to fill the re- striction. The jork of drafting commenced in Nashville and Boving Green at twenty-eight thou- sand. He assuresus that they are missenably fod and badly clothed and that there is a great defi- ciency in the matte of arms. Many of them, too, are ill, and he thiks there are fully three thou- sand five hundred ok soldiers in Nashville alone. No attention is given to the payment of the troops, and the soldiers hy been so accustomed to that sort of neglect, the they are to great to receive remuneration for heir services, being but too glad if they can obtain afficient subsistence to keep their souls and hodies teather. Mr. Barker washmilier with many of the boys who left this cit and joined the rebel army, and relates some aning episodes in their histories down there. He says that Blanton Duncan has fallen into disgrace we there, having given up the pursuit after millary fame and adopted gambling as a profession.	As colonel, could not be present to accompany his noble wife in performing this work of loyalty and humanity. Anomalous Position of Missouri. The admission of Missouri into the Southern Con- federacy, so far as the acts of the rebels can accom- plish it, will lead to several complications. Here- tofore General Price has levied war on the United States exclusively in the name of the State of Missouri, and his sympathizers have claimed that they were still citizens of the Union. But now the aspect of affairs is changed, and Missouri presents the anomalous picture of a State underfour different governing powers, being governed according to the occupation of the military authorities, by Jeff Davis and Claib Lackson, where the rebels are in power, and by President Lincoln and Governor Gamble, where the Unionists have the upperhand. A Rebel View of the Campaign in Mis- souri. The Memphis Avalanche of December 4 publishes the following article in regard to the campaign in Missouri. Our readers will readily detect, and cor- reat for thamslevas. its numerous erroneous state- ments: The war in Missouri has taken a sudden and ex- traordinary turn. But a few days ago General Price's army was retreating, as if it intended to evacuate the State, the greater portion of which was in the military occupation of the Federals, and Fremont's army was publing on, as if in hot pur- suit of Price. It was loudly vaunted by the Lin- coln forces that the Federal army was stagerly seeking battle with the Missourians. It looked very much, indeed, as if Missourians. It looked very much, indeed, as if Missourians. It looked is the related, as if the courd by the Lin- coln forces that the seemed imminent, Fre- mont was superseded, and his successor, Gen. Hun- ter, ordered as retreat to St. Louis—leaving Sigel, with a portion of his forces, to cover the rear, he being the greatest general in a retreat in the whole Federal army. Gen. Price batty pursuing the Tar.	and are now convinced of the rashness and folly of their course, and are anxious to return to their homes. He says that so far as he has observed, the rebels are well clothed and fed, and are anxious for a fight. He has frequently heard the wish express- ed that the war was ended, though most of them are led to beliave that the Southern cause is a righteous one, and they would scarcely consent to terms of peace which did not include the recogni- tion of the Southern Confederacy. THE MASON AND SLIDELL AFFAIR. REPORT OF CAPTAIN WILKES. WHY HE DID NOT SEIZE THE TRENT. HIS ORDERS TO LIEUTENANT FAIRFAX. Capt. Wilkes' Letter to the Secretary of the Navy on the Arrest of Mason and Slidell. The following is the interesting report of Capt. Wilkes, assigning his reasons for the arrest of Mesers. Mason and Slidel: U.S. STEAMER SAN JACINTO, } SIN : In my despatch by Commander Taylor I confined myself to the reports of the movements of the search solution of the facts connected with the capture of Mesers. Mison and Slidell, Eustis, and Macfarland, as I intended to write you particularly relative to the reasons which induced my action in making these prisoners. When I heard at Cienfuegos, on the south side of Guba, of these commissioners having landed on the Island of Cuba, and that they were at Havana, and would depart in the English steemer of the 7th of November, I determined to intercept them, and arrefully examined all the authorities on interna- tional law to which I had access, viz.: Kent, Wheaton, Vattel, besides various decisions of Sir ender the various decisions of Sir	march westwardly with a large force, for the dou- ble purpose of making a reconnoissance and to se- cure forage. Accordingly, at an early hour on Friday last, the Second brigade set out under com- mand of General George F. Meads, of your city, accompanied by Captain Samuel Ringwalt, quar- termaster of the brigade, in charge of a large num- ber of transportation wagons. Scouts were sent out in advance, and although the line of march, in many places, was on a narrow road and deep ra- vines hemmed in by almost impenetrable forests, our troops met with no resistance, and failed to see the most remotesign of the enemy. The soldiers were in excellent condition, and enger for battle, and therefore felt somewhat disappointed. The farms in this section have generally been deserted, the males having joined the rebet army, and those remaining at home are in an almost destitute condi- tion. Many of the inhabitants are sick and unable to procure medical attendance, and are obliged to give up all the luxuries and many of the neces- saries of life on account of their inability to pass the lines of either army. The particular plantation, however, to which our expedition was directed was an exception to the general rule. It is located a mile north of the Leesburg turnpike, about three miles from Dranes- ville, and belonged to a man named Gunnell, one of the most wealthy, aristocratic, axd notorious Se- cessionists in Eastern Virginia. Gunnell was par- ticularly noted for his persecution of citizens claim- ing to be loyal, and was the terror of the neighbor- nood before our gallant Pennsylvania Reserves took possession of the sacred soil of Virginia. His farm, however, has been very highly cultivated and its surroundings indicate that he was an expe- rienced agriculturist. His mansion was left in
Ingravings, Picture and Photograph Frames, Oil Paintings. The isargest and most elegant assortiment in the country. A rare opportunity is now offered to make pury elasses in this line For Ceah, at remarkably Low Prices EARLE'S GALLERRES. jy9-tf S16 OHESTNUT Street. The subscriber begs leave to inform the public that he is again prepared to offer his justly celebrated NE PLUS ULTRA MINCED MEAT, In large or small quantities. Orders through Despite Forst will be punctually strended to. JOSHUA WRIGHT, SPRING GABDEN and FBANKLIN Street, no13-2m Philadelphia. COAL OIL! OOAL OIL! GEORGE W. WOOTTEN, SS SOUTH SECOND STREET, AGENT FOR THE NORTH AMERICAN OIL COMPANY. MANUFACTUBERS OF COAL OIL, AND EE- FINERS OF COAL AND CARBON OILS. WM. F. JOHNSTON, President, GEO. OGDEN, Secretary. Also, Agent for BEERS, JUDSON, & BEERS, Patent Glass Cones for Lamps, and wholesale dealor in Dith- ridge's Patent Cval (fire-proof) and Eastern Fint-Glass	14 SOUTH FBONT AND 35 LETITIA STREET, OFFER FOR BALM BROWN AND BLEACHED SHEETINGS, SHIRTINGS, DRILLS, JEANS, SILECIAS, CANTON FLANNELS, VEOR THE MASSACHUSETTS, GBEAT FALLS LACONIA, LYMAN, EVERETT, DWIGHT, LOWELL, CABOT, IPSWICH, CHICOPEE, and HAMPDEN, BASDETMENT OF SHAWLS, BEAVER CLOTHS, TRICOTS, CASSIMERES, FLANNELS, TWEEDS, BLANKETS, AND ARMY GOODS, THOM THE WASHINGTON (LATE BAY STATE,) AND OTHER MILLS. DOI-300 SHIPLEY, HAZARD, & HUTCHINSON, NO. 117 CHESTNUT STREET, O OM MISSION M BOHANTS FOR THE BALK OF	Green-centre Long Shawls. Two-faced Long Shawls. EYRE & LANDELL, de9 FOURTH and ARCH. BLACK CLOTH FOR CLOAKS. Esquimax Beaver Cloths. 6-4 Stout Black Doekins. Hudson Bay Seal Skins. Hudson Bay Seal Skins. Signal Skins. Hudson Bay Seal Skins. Hudson Bay Seal Skins. New designs, handsome colorings, nearly four yards wide. SCARLET FRENCH FLANNELS, New designs. constantly arruing, of rich printed Mouseline De LAINES. New designs. constantly arruing, of rich printed Mouseline De Laines. SCARLET BLACK CLOTHS. Men's heavy Overcoatings. Men's heav Overcoatings. Men's heaves over	delphia, we know one Amphytrion at least— a man of letters and of wealth—who seems to have an intuitive knowledge of the art of adapting his wine to his viands, and both to the season. This man ought to have lived in France, where his fine judgment and correct taste, (no pun meant here,) would have an ample field. Had he flourished in the time of Louis XIV., we believe that he would have gone into mourning for the untimely self-martyrdom of Vatel ! The carte at the Rocher de Cancale, which we described in a former article, exhibits a greater variety of wines than does that at the Grand Vatel. For instance, at the Rocher, you may choose out of thirty-seven red, thir- ty-one white, and twelve foreign wines. At the Grand Vatel only fifty different kinds of wine may be had. Out of these, believe us, a reasonable man may make a choice which is or Luculus—indeed, more than satisfy it, for the Romans, with all their wealth, had few wines, and apparently very little discrimi- nation in using them. At the supper of Glau- cus, (in "the Last Days of Pompeii,") the drinks were diluted wine sparingly mixed with honey, fifty-year old Chian cooled with snow, and Lesbian favored with rosin; and at the Amous feast of Diomed, though the cusine embraced " all the delicacies of the season," the guests were actually put off with season," the guests were actually put off with season," the lask of the luxurious living of	Kossuth, extolling the Secession movement, and hoping that the European lovers of freedom will extend their sympathies to the South. An elegant fly was presented by the Louisville ladies to Gen. Korrison yesterday, at Camp Bon Spaulding. Mr. lingle, the aditor of the Lafayotte Courier, made the presentation speech on behalf of the ladies. An Arrval from Nashville. The Louisville ournal of the 9th instant says : Mr. A. B. Barker the well-known railroad agent, arrived from Nahville, Tennessee, last evening, having left that ploe on Saturday, the 23d instant. It will be remethered that Gov. Harris, of Ten- nessee, made a Aquisition a few months ago for thirty thousand mp and additional arms. The call met with no respose whatever, and the authorities were compelled a draft in order to fill the re- guisition. The ork of drafting commonced in Nashville and Boving Green at twenty-eight thou- send. He assures that they are miserably fad and badly clothed and that there is a great defi- ciency in the math of arms. Many of them, too, are ill, and he thiks there are fully three thou- send five hundred ek soldiers in Nashville alone. No attention is givn to the payment of the troops and the soldiers hve been so accustomed to that sort of neglect, the they do not expect to receive remuneration for heir services, being but too glad if they can obtain afficient subsistence to keep their sola and bodies teathar. Mr. Barker washmiliar with many of the boys who left this citand joined the rebel army, and relates some amulag episodes in their histories down there. He washmiliar with Banon Duncan has fallen into disgraceven there, having given up the pursuit after miliary fame and adopted gambling as a profession.	As colonel, could not be present to accompany his noble wife in performing this work of loyalty and humanity. Anomalous Position of Missouri. The admission of Missouri into the Southern Con- federacy, so far as the acts of the rebels can accom- plish it, will lead to several complications. Here- tofore General Price has levied war on the United States exclusively in the name of the State of Missouri, and his sympathizers have claimed that they were still citizens of the Union. But now the aspect of affairs is changed, and Missouri presents the anomalous picture of a State under four different governing powers, being governed according to the occupation of the military authorities, by Jeff Davis and Claib Jackson, where the rebels are in power, and by President Lincoln and Governor Gamble, where the Unionists have the upperhand. A Rebel View of the Campaign in Mis- souri. The Memphis Avalanche of December 4 publishes the following article in regard to the campaign in Missouri. Our readers will readily detect, and cor- ract for themselves. Its humerous erroneous state- ments: The war in Missouri has taken a sudden and ex- traordinary turn. But a few days ago General Price's army was retreating, as if it intended to evacuate the State, the greater portion of which was in the Missouri of the Federals, and Fremont's army was pushing on, as if in hot pur- suit of Price. It was loudly vaunted by the Lin- coln forces that the Faderal army was to be given up for the time to the undisputed control of the Federals. But , just as the two afmice came almost in sight of each other, and a battle seeme almost in sight of each other, and a battle seeme almost in sight of each other, and a battle seeme almost in sight of each other, and a battle seeme almost in sight of each other, net a battle seeme almost in sight of each other, net a battle seeme almost in sight of each other, net a battle seeme almost in sight of each other, net a could pursuing the Ten- tonic general. The reason assigned for this soulden	and are now convinced of the rashness and folly of their course, and are anxious to return to their homes. He says that so far as he has observed, the rebels are well clothed and fed, and are anxious for a fight. He has frequently heard the wish express- ed that the war was ended, though most of them are led to believe that the Southern cause is a rightcous one, and they would scarcely consent to terms of peace which did not include the recogni- tion of the Southern Confederacy. THE MASON AND SLIDELL AFFAIR. REPORT OF CAPTAIN WILKES. WHY HE DID NOT SEIZE THE TRENT. HIS ORDERS TO LIEUTENANT FAIRFAX. Capt. Wilkes' Letter to the Secretary of the Navy on the Arrest of Mason and Slidell. The following is the interesting report of Capt. Wilkes, assigning his reasons for the arrest of Mesers. Mason and Slidell: U.S. STEAMER SAN JACINTO, } SIM : In my despatch by Commander Taylor I confined myself to the reports of the movements of this ship and the facts connected with the capture of Mesers. Mason, Slidell, Eustis, and Macfarland, as I intended to write you particularly relative to the reasons which induced my action in making these prisoners. When I heard at Cjenfuegos, on the south side of Cuba, of these commissioners having landed on the Island of Cuba, and that they were at Havana, and would depart in the English steamer of the of the of November, I determined to intercept them, and would depart in the English steamer of the of the of November, I determined at the uthorities on interna- tional law to whieh I had access, viz. : Kont, Wheaton, Vattel, besides various decisions of Sir When Cott, and other judges of the Admirally	march westwardly with a large force, for the dou- ble purpose of making a reconnoissance and to se- cure forage. Accordingly, at an early hour on Friday last, the Second brigade set out under com- mand of General George F. Meade, of your city, accompanied by Captain Samuel Ringwalt, quar- termaster of the brigade, in charge of a large num- ber of transportation wagons. Scouts were sent out in advance, and although the line of march, in many places, was on a narrow road and deep ra- vines hemmed in by almost impenetrable forests, our troops met with no resistance, and failed to see the most remotesign of the enemy. The soldiers were in excellent condition, and enger for battle, and therefore felt somewhat disappointed. The farms in this section have generally been deserted, the males having joined the robel army, and those remaining at home are in an almost destitute condi- tion. Many of the inhabitants are sick and unable to procure medical attendance, and are obliged to give up all the luxuries and many of the neces- saries of life on account of their inability to pass the lines of either army. The particular plantation, however, to which our expedition was directed was an exception to the general rule. It is located a mile north of the Leesburg turnpike, about three miles from Dranes- ville, and belonged to a man named Gunnell, one of the most wealthy, aristocratic, axd notorious Se- cessionists in Eastern Virginia. Gunnell was par- ticularly noted for his persecution of citizens claim- ing to be loyal, and was the terror of the neighbor- hood before our gallant Pennsylvania Reserves took possession of the sacred soil of Virginia. His farm, however, has been very highly cultivated and its surroundings indicate that he was an expe- rienced agriculturist. His massion was left in charge of an aged sister and a few slaves some two months ago, while Gunnell himself and his most
Ingravings, Picture and Photograph Frames, Oil Paint- tugs. The isrgest and most elegant assoriument in the country. Arare opportunity is now offered to make pury elesses in this line For Ceach, at remarkably Low Prices EARLE'S GALLERRIES. 190-tf S16 OHESTNUT Street. The subscriber begs leave to inform the public that he is again prepared to offer his justly celebrated NE PLUS ULTRA MINCED MEAT, In large or small quantities. Orders through De- orated Fost will be punctually attended to. SPRING GARDEN and FBANKLIN Street, NOSHUA WRIGHT, SPRING GARDEN and FBANKLIN Street, NOIS-2m Philadelphia. COAL OIL! COAL OIL! GEORGE W. WOOTTEN, 35 SOUTH SECOND STBEET, AGENT FOB THE NORTH AMERICAN OIL COMPANY. MANUFACTUBERS OF COAL OIL, AND RE- FINELS OF COAL AND CARBON OILS. WM. F. JOHNSTON, President, GEO. OGDEN, Secretary. Also, Agent for BEERS, JUDSON, & BEERS, Patont Glass Cones for Lamps, and wholesale dealor in Dith- ridge's Patent Cval (fire-proof) and Esstern Fint-Glass Chimmeys, Lamps, &c. Burners to burn Coal Oil with- out Chimmeys.	14 SOUTH FBONT AND 35 LETITIA STREET, OFFER FOR SALM BROWN AND BLEACHED SHEETINGS, SHIRTINGS, DRILLS, JEANS, SILECIAS, CANTON FLANNELS, FROM THE MASSACHUSETTS, GBEAT FALLS LACONIA, LYMAN, EVERETT, DWIGHT, LOWELL, CABOT, IPSWICH, CHICOPEE, and HAMPDEN, BARTLET MILLS. LIKEWISE, A FULL ASSORTMENT OF SHAWLS, BEAVER CLOTHS, TRICOTS, CASSIMERES, FLANNELS, TWEEDS, BLANKETS, AND ARMY GOODS, THOM THE WASHINGTON (LATE BAY STATE,) AND OTHER MILLS. OM MISSION M BOHANTE FOR THE SALE OF PHILADEL.PHIA-MADE GOODS. SE28-6m	Green-centre Long Shawls. Two-faced Long Shawls. EVRE & LANDELL, deg FOURTH and ARCH. BLACK CLOTH FOR CLOAKS. Esquimax Beaver Cloths. 6-4 Stout Black Doeskins. Hudson Bay Seal Skins. Hudson Bay Seal Skins. New designs, handsome colorings, nearly four yards wide. Scaller FRENOH FLANNELS, New designs, constantly arruing, of rich printed Mousoline De Laines. Scaller FRENOH FLANNELS, New designs, constantly arruing, of rich printed Mousoline De Laines. SHARPLESS BROTHEES, de7 CHESTNUT and EIGHTH Streets. Men's fine Dress Cloths. Men's differ white extra at 33 conts. Shaker Flamels, warranted genuine. COOPEB & CONABD, not NINTH and MARKET Streets. FANCY CASSIMERES- Of every grade and style, from 62c to $1.50 per yard. Black Cassimeres, some extra fine lots. DRESS GOODS. Repa, Merinocs, Poplins, Delaines, &c. COOPEB & CONABD, not NINTH and MARKET Streets. DRESS GOODS. Repa, Merinocs, Poplins, Delaines, &c. Black Foplins, Merinora, Belaines, &c. COOPEB & CONABD, not NINTH and MARKET Streets. DRESS GOODS. Repa, Merinocs, Poplins, Delaines, &c. Black Foplins, Merinora, Belaines, &c. COOPEB & CONABD, not NINTH and MARKET Streets. DRESS GOODS. Repa, Merinocs, Poplins, Delaines, &c. COOPEB & CONABD, not NINTH and MARKET Streets. DRESS GOODS. Repa, Merinocs, Poplins, Delaines, &c. Black Foplins, Merinora, Belaines, &c. COOPEB & CONABD, not NINTH and MARKET Streets. DRESS How	delphia, we know one Amphytrion at least— a man of letters and of wealth—who seems to have an intuitive knowledge of the art of adapting his wine to his viands, and both to the season. This man ought to have lived in France, where his fine judgment and correct taste, (no pun meant here,) would have an ample field. Had he flourished in the time of Louis XIV., we believe that he would have gone into mourning for the untimely self-martyrdom of Vatel ! The carte at the Rocher de Cancale, which we described in a former article, exhibits a greater variety of wines than does that at the Grand Vatel. For instance, at the Rocher, you may choose out of thirty-seven red, thir- ty-one white, and twelve foreign wines. At the Grand Vatel only fifty different kinds of wine may be had. Out of these, believe us, a reasonable man may make a choice which would satisfy even the severe taste of an Api- cius or Luculus—indeed, more than satisfy it, for the Romans, with all their wealth, had few wines, and apparently very little discrimi- nation in using them. At the supper of Glau- cus, (in "the Last Days of Pompeii,") the drinks were diluted wine sparingly mixed with honey, fifty-year old Chian cooled with snow, and Lesbian favored with rosin; and at the famous feast of Diomed, though the cusine embraced "all the delicacies of the season," the guests were actually put off with -wine-and-water. Yet it is the custom, created by ignorance, to talk of the luxurious living of the Romans. Unfortunate and benighted, though victorious race, not one mother's son	Kossuth, extolling the Secession movement, and hoping that the European lovers of freedom will extend their sympathies to the South. An elegant fla was presented by the Louisville ladies to Gen. Korrison yesterday, at Camp Bon Spaulding. Mr. lingle, the editor of the Lafayotte Courier, made the presentation speech on behalf of the ladies. An Arrval from Nashville. The Louisville survial of the 9th Instant says : Mr. A. B. Barker, the well-known railroad agent, arrived from Nashville, Tennessee, last evening, having left that plee on Saturday, the 23d instant. It will be remerbered that Gov. Harris, of Ten- nessee, made a squisition a few months ago for thirty thousand mp and additional arms. The call met with no respose whatever, and the authorities were compelled a draft in order to fill the re- striction. The jork of drafting commenced in Nashville and Boving Green at twenty-eight thou- sand. He assuresus that they are missenably fod and badly clothed and that there is a great defi- ciency in the matte of arms. Many of them, too, are ill, and he thiks there are fully three thou- sand five hundred ok soldiers in Nashville alone. No attention is given to the payment of the troops, and the soldiers hy been so accustomed to that sort of neglect, the they are to great to receive remuneration for heir services, being but too glad if they can obtain afficient subsistence to keep their souls and hodies teather. Mr. Barker washmilier with many of the boys who left this cit and joined the rebel army, and relates some aning episodes in their histories down there. He says that Blanton Duncan has fallen into disgrace we there, having given up the pursuit after millary fame and adopted gambling as a profession.	As colonel, could not be present to accompany his noble wife in performing this work of loyalty and humanity. Anomalous Position of Missouri. The admission of Missouri into the Southern Con- federacy, so far as the acts of the rebels can accom- plish it, will lead to several complications. Here- tofore General Price has levied war on the United States exclusively in the name of the State of Missouri, and his sympathizers have claimed that they were still citizens of the Union. But now the aspect of affairs is changed, and Missouri presents the anomalous picture of a State under four different governing powers, being governed according to the occupation of the military authorities, by Jeff Davis and Claib Jackson, where the rebels are in power, and by President Lincoln and Governor Gamble, where the Unionists have the upperhand. A Rebel View of the Campaign in Mis- souri. The Memphis Acalanche of December 4 publishes the following article in regard to the campaign in Missouri. Our readers will readily detect, and cor- reat for thamselwas. Its humerous erroneous state- ments: The war in Missouri has taken a sudden and ex- traordinary turn. But a few days ago General Price's army was retreating, as if in intended to evacuate the State, the greater portion of which was in the military occupation of the Federals, and Fremont's army was pushing on, as if in hot pur- suit of Price. It was loudly vaunted by the Lin- coln forces that the Federal army was to be given up for the time to the undisputed control of the Federals. But just as the two armies came almost in sight of each other, and a battle scened imminent, Fre- mont was superseded, and his successor, Gen. Hum- ter, ordered a retreat to St. Louis-leaving Sigel, with a portion of his forces, to cover the rear, he being the greatest general in a rotreat in the whole Federals. The reason assigned for this suden retrograde movement is, that Gen. Hunter's army is to participate in the grand expedition down the	and are now convinced of the rashness and folly of their course, and are anxious to return to their homes. He says that so far as he has observed, the rebels are well clothed and fed, and are anxious for a fight. He has frequently heard the wish express- ed that the war was ended, though most of them are led to believe that the Southern cause is a righteous one, and they would scarcely consent to terms of peace which did not include the recogni- tion of the Southern Confederacy. THE MASON AND SLIDELL AFFAIR. REPORT OF CAPTAIN WILKES. WHY HE DID NOT SEIZE THE TRENT. HIS ORDERS TO LIEUTENANT FAIRFAX. Capt. Wilkes' Letter to the Secretary of the Navy on the Arrest of Mason and Slidell. The following is the interesting report of Capt. Wilkes, assigning his reasons for the arrest of Mesers. Mason and Slidell: U. S. STEAMER SAN JACHNEO, } At Sea, Nov. 16. Stn : In my despatch by Commander Taylor I confined myself to the reports of the movements of the stats. Mason, Slidell, Eustis, and Macfariand, as I intended to write you particularly relative to the reasons which induced my action in making these prisoners. When I heard at Cienfuegos, on the south side of Guba, of these comments during landed on the Island of Cuba, and that they were at Havana, and would depart in the English steamer of the 7th of November, I determined to the intercept them, and would depart in the English steamer of the 7th of in ship alt he failing and the failing indeed on the Island of Cuba, and that they were at Havana, and would depart in the English steamer of the 7th of invo, when I heard at Cienfuegos, on the south side of fue of these commissioners having landed on the Island of Cuba, and that they were at Havana, and would depart in the English steamer of the 7th of invoember, I determined to intercept them, and orrefully examined all the authorities on interna- tional law to which I had access, viz. : Kent, Wheaton, Vattel, besides various decisions of Str Wm. Scott, and other judges of the Admiralty for in nutries and the faiter seap	march westwardly with a large force, for the dou- ble purpose of making a reconnoissance and to se- cure forage. Accordingly, at an early hour on Friday last, the Second brigade set out under com- mand of General George F. Meade, of your city, accompanied by Captain Samuel Ringwalt, quar- termaster of the brigade, in charge of a large num- ber of transportation wagons. Scouts were sent out in advance, and although the line of march, in many places, was on a narrow road and deep ra- vines hemmed in by almost impenetrable forests, our troops met with no resistance, and failed to see the most remotesign of the enemy. The soldiers were in excellent condition, and enger for battle, and therefore felt somewhat disappointed. The farms in this section have generally been deserted, the males having joined the robel army, and those remaining at home are in an almost destitute condi- tion. Many of the inhabitants are sick and unable to procure medical attendance, and are obliged to give up all the luxuries and many of the neces- saries of life on account of their inability to pass the lines of either army. The particular plantation, however, to which our expedition was directed was an exception to the general rule. It is located a mile north of the Leesburg turnpike, about three miles from Dranes- ville, and belonged to a man named Gunnell, one of the most wealthy, aristocratic, axd notorious Se- cessionists in Eastern Virginia. Gunnell was par- ticularly noted for his persecution of citizens claim- ing to be loyal, and was the terror of the neighbor- hood before our gallant Pennsylvania Reserves took possession of the sacred soil of Virginia. His farm, however, has been very highly cultivated and its surroundings indicate that he was an expe- rienced agriculturist. His massion was left in charge of an aged sister and a few slaves some two months ago, while Gunnell himself and his most valuable slaves were transferred to the rebel ser-
Ingravings, Picture and Photograph Frames, Oil Paint- tugs. The isrgest and most elegant assoriment in the contry. A rare opportunity is now offered to make pury elesses in this line For Ceah, at remarkably Low Prices EARLE'S GALLERRIES. 170-07 816 OHESTNUT Street. The subscriber begs leave to inform the public that he is again prepared to offer his justly celebrated NE PLUS ULTRA MINCED MEAT, In large or small quantities. Orders through Do- gratch Post will be punctually sitended to. JOSHUA WRIGHT, SPRING GABDEN and FBANKLIN Street, no13-2m Philadelphia. COAL OIL! COAL OIL! GEORGE W. WOOTTEN, 35 SOUTH SECOND STREET, AGENT FOR THE NORTH AMERICAN OIL COMPANY. MANUFACTUBERS OF COAL OIL, AND BE- FINERS OF COAL AND CABON OILS. WM. F. JOHNSTON, President, GEO. OGDEN, Secretary. Also, Agent for BEERS, JUDSON, & BEERS, Patont Glass Comes for Lamps, and wholesale dealor in Dith- ridge's Patont Cval (fre-proof) and Eastern Fint-Glass Champeys. Cash buyers or prompt payers are respectfully invited	P j4 SOUTH FBONT AND 35 LETITIA STREET, OFFER FOR SALM BROWN AND BLEACHED SHEETINGS, SHIRTINGS, DRILLS, JEANS, SILECIAS, CANTON FLANNELS, VEON THE MASSACHUSETTS, GBEAT FALLS LACONIA, LYMAN, EVERETT, DWIGHT, LOWELL, CABOT, IPSWICH, CHICOPEE, and HAMPDEN, BARTLET MILLS. LIKEWISE, A FULL ASSORTMENT OF SHAWLS, BEAVER CLOTHS, TRICOTS, CASSIMERES, FLANNELS, TWEEDS, BLANKETS, AND ARMY GOODS, THOM THE WASHINGTON (LATE BAY STATE,) AND OTHER MILLS. ON MIDSION M BOHANTE FOR THE SALE OF PHILADEL PHIA-MADE GOOD S. SE28-6m FURS.	Green-centre Long Shawls. Two-faced Long Shawls. EYRE & LANDELL, deg FOURTH and ARCH. BLACK CLOTH FOR CLOAKS. Esquimax Beaver Cloths. 6-4 Stout Black Doekins. Hudson Bay Seal Skins. Hudson Bay Seal Skins. Seal Stans. Hudson Bay Seal Skins. Hudson Bay Seal Skins. New designs, handsome colorings, nearly four yards wide. SCARLET FRENOH FLANNELS, New designs. constantly arruing, of rich printed Mouseline De LAINES. New designe. constantly arruing, of rich printed Mouseline De LAINES. New designe. Constantly arruing, of rich printed Mouseline De LAINES. Men's heavy Overcoatings. Men's deast of the skins at 38 conts. Staker Flannels, warranted genuins. COOPER & CONARD. NINTH and MARKET Streets. FO f every grade and style, from 62c to $1.50 per yard. Black Cassimeres, some extra fine lots. DRESS GOODS. Reps. Merinces, Poplins, Delaines, &c. Black Foylins, Merincea, Belaines, &c. COOPER & CONARD. NINTH and MARKET Streets. DRESS GOODS. Reps. Merinces, Poplins, Delaines, &c. Black Foylins, Merincea, Belaines, &c. COOPER & CONARD. NINTH and MARKET Streets. CLOAKS— Baady made or made to order, COPER & CONARD.	delphia, we know one Amphytrion at least— a man of letters and of wealth—who seems to have an intuitive knowledge of the art of adapting his wine to his viands, and both to the season. This man ought to have lived in France, where his fine judgment and correct taste, (no pun meant here,) would have an ample field. Had he flourished in the time of Louis XIV., we believe that he would have gone into mourning for the untimely self-martyrdom of Vatel ! The carte at the Rocher de Cancale, which we described in a former article, exhibits a greater variety of wines than does that at the Grand Vatel. For instance, at the Rocher, you may choose out of thirty-seven red, thir- ty-one white, and twelve foreign wines. At the Grand Vatel only fifty different kinds of wine may he had. Out of these, believe us, a reasonable man may make a choice which would satisfy even the severe taste of an Api- cius or Luculus—indeed, more than satisfy it, for the Romans, with all their wealth, had few wines, and apparently very little discrimi- nation in using them. At the supper of Glau- cus, (in "the Last Days of Pompeii,") the drinks were diluted wine sparingly mixed with honey, fifty-year old Chian cooled with snow, and Lesbian favored with rosin; and at the famous feast of Diomed, though the cusine embraced "all the delicacies of the season," the guests were actually put off with -wine-and-water. Yet it is the custom, created by ignorance, to talk of the luxurious living of the Romans. Unfortunate and benighted, though victorious race, not one mother's son of them ever tasted that modern Nepenthe—	Kossuth, extelling the Secession movement, and hoping that the European lovers of freedom will extend their sympathies to the South. An elegant fla was presented by the Louisville Indies to Gen. Korrison yesterday, at Camp Bon Spaulding. Mr. lingle, the editor of the Lafayotte Courier, made the presentation speech on behalf of the ladies. An Arrval from Nashville. The Louisville spurnal of the 9th instant says : Mr. A. B. Barker, the well-known railroad agent, arrived from Nashville, Tennessee, last evening, having left that plee on Saturday, the 23d instant. It will be remembered that Gov. Harris, of Ten- nessee, made a squisition a few months ago for thirty thousand mp and additional arms. The call met with no response whatever, and the authorities were compelled a draft in order to fill the re- restitions. The fork of drafting commenced in Nashville the dayf his departure. He estimates thinumber of rebel troops between Nashville and Boving Green at twenty-eight thou- sand the souldiers in Nashville alone. No attention is givn to the paymant of the troops and the soldiers in to the paymant of the troops and the soldiers in to the paymant of the troops and the soldiers in to the paymant of the too sand five hundred ok soldiers in Nashville alone. No attention is givn to the paymant of the boys who left this citpand joined the rebel army, and relates some amung episodes in their histories down there. He says that Blanton Duncan has fallen hoid disgraceren there, having given up the pursuit after millary fame and adopted gambling as a profession.	As colonel, could not be present to accompany his noble wife in performing this work of loyalty and humanity. Anomalous Position of Missouri. The admission of Missouri into the Southern Con- federacy, so far as the acts of the rebels can accom- plish it, will lead to several complications. Here- tofore General Price has levied war on the United States exclusively in the name of the State of Missouri, and his sympathizers have claimed that they were still citizens of the Union. But now the aspect of affairs is changed, and Missouri presents the anomalous picture of a State under four different governing powers, being governed according to the occupation of the military authorities, by Jeff Davis and Claib Jackson, where the rebels are in power, and by President Lincoln and Governor Gamble, where the Unionists have the upperhand. A Rebel View of the Campaign in Mis- souri. The Memphis Avalanche of December 4 publishes the following article in regard to the campaign in Missouri. Our readers will readily detect, and cor- seat for themsalwas. Its humerous erroneous state- ments: The war in Missouri has taken a sudden and ex- traordinary turn. But a few days ago General Price's army was retreating, as if i intended to evacuate the State, the greater portion of which was in the military occupation of the Federals, and Fremont's army was pushing on, as if in hot pur- suit of Price. It was loudly vaunted by the Lin- coln forces that the Federal army was tagesfip seeking battle with the Missouri and the sources of the seeking battle with the Missouri and the source of the federals. But, just as the two armies came almost in sight of each other, and a battle seemed imminent, Fre- mont was superseded, and his successor, Gen. Hum- ter, ordered a retreat to St. Louis-leaving Sigel, with a portion of his forces, to cover the rear, he being the greatest general in a retreat in the whole Federal army, Gen. Price boty pursuing the Tea- tonic general. The reason assigned for this sudden retrograde movement is, that Gen Hunt	and are now convinced of the rashness and folly of their course, and are anxious to return to their homes. He says that so far as he has observed, the rebels are well clothed and fed, and are anxious for a fight. He has frequently heard the wish express- ed that the war was ended, though most of them are led to believe that the Southern cause is a rightcous one, and they would searcely consent to terms of peace which did not include the recogni- tion of the Southern Confederacy. THE MASON AND SLIDELL AFFAIR. REPORT OF CAPTAIN WILKES. WHY HE DID NOT SEIZE THE TRENT. HIS ORDERS TO LIEUTENANT FAIRFAX. Capt. Wilkes' Letter to the Secretary of the Navy on the Arrest of Mason and Slidell. The following is the interesting report of Capt. Wilkes, assigning his reasons for the arrest of Mesers. Mason and Slidell: U.S. STEAMER SN JACINTO,] SIM : In my despatch by Commander Taylor I confined myself to the reports of the movements of this ship and the facts connected with the capturg of Mesers. Mason, Slidell, Eustis, and Masfariand, as I intended to write you particularly relative to the reasons which induced my action in making these prisoners. When I heard at Cienfuegos, on the south side of Cuba, of these commissioners during landed on the Island of Cuba, and that they were at Havana, and would depart in the English steamer of the 7th of November, I determined to intercept them, and would depart in the English steamer of the 7th of November, I determined to intercept them, and would depart in the English steamer of the 7th of November, I determined to intercept them, and would depart in the English steamer of the 7th of November, I determined to intercept them, and would depart in the English steamer of the 7th of November, I determined to intercept them, and would depart in the English steamer of the 7th of November, I determined to intercept them, and would depart in the English steamer of the 7th of November, I determined to intercept them, and would depart in the English steamer of the 7th of November, I	march westwardly with a large force, for the dou- ble purpose of making a reconnoissance and to se- cure forage. Accordingly, at an early hour on Friday last, the Second brigade set out under com- mand of General George F. Meade, of your city, accompanied by Captain Samuel Ringwalt, quar- termaster of the brigade, in charge of a large num- ber of transportation wagons. Scouts were sent out in advance, and although the line of march, in many places, was on a narrow road and deep ra- vines hemmed in by almost impenetrable forests, our troops met with no resistance, and failed to see the most remotesign of the enemy. The soldiers were in excellent condition, and enger for battle, and therefore felt somewhat disappointed. The farms in this section have generally been deserted, the males having joined the rebet army, and those remaining at home are in an almost destitute condi- tion. Many of the inhabitants are sick and unable to procure medical attendance, and are obliged to give up all the luxuries and many of the neces- saries of life on account of their inability to pass the lines of either army. The particular plantation, however, to which our expedition was directed was an exception to the general rule. It is located a mile north of the Leesburg turnpike, about three miles from Dranes- ville, and belonged to a man named Gunnell, one of the most wealthy, aristocratic, azd notorious Se- cessionists in Eastern Virginia. Gunnell was par- ticularly noted for his persecution of citizens claim- ing to be loyal, and was the terror of the neighbor- nood before our gallant Pennsylvania Reserves took possession of the sacred soil of Virginia. His farm, however, has been very highly cultivated and its surroundings indicate that he was an expa- rienced agriculturist. His mansion was left in charge of an aged sister and a few shaves some two months ago, while Gunnell himself and his most view. The furniture was of the most costly and
Ingravings, Picture and Photograph Frames, Oil Paint- tugs. The isrgest and most elegant assoriument in the country. Arare opportunity is now offered to make pury elesses in this line For Ceach, at remarkably Low Prices EARLE'S GALLERRIES. 190-17 Stoot Street. The subscriber begs leave to inform the public that he is again prepared to offer his justic celebrated NE PLUS ULTRA MINCED MEAT, In large or small quantities. Orders through De- orated Fost will be punctually attended to. JOSHUA WRIGHT, SPRING GARDEN and FBANKLIN Street, nol3-2m Philadelphia. COAL OIL! COAL OIL! GEORGE W. WOOTTEN, 35 SOUTH SECOND STBEET, AGENT FOB THE NORTH AMERICAN OIL COMPANY. MANUFACTUBERS OF COAL OIL, AND BE- FINERS OF COAL AND CABON OILS. WM. F. JOHNSTØN, President, GEO. OGDEN, Secretary. Also, Agent for BEERS, JUDSON, & BEERS, Patont Glass Cones for Lamps, and wholesale dealor in Dith- ridge's Patont Cval (fire-proof) and Esstern Fint-Glass Chimmeys, Lamps, &c. Burners to burn Coal Oil with- out Chimmeys. Cash Buyers or prompt payers are respectfully invited to examine our stock. NOI-	14 SOUTH FBONT AND 35 LETITIA STREET, OFFER FOR SALM BROWN AND BLEACHED SHEETINGS, SHIRTINGS, DRILLS, JEANS, SILECIAS, CANTON FLANNELS, FROM THE MASSACHUSETTS, GBEAT FALLS LACONIA, LYMAN, EVERETT, DWIGHT, LOWELL, CABOT, IPSWICH, CHICOPEE, and HAMPDEN, BARTLET MILLS. LIKEWISE, A FULL ASSORTMENT OF SHAWLS, BEAVER CLOTHS, TRICOTS, CASSIMERES, FLANNELS, TWEEDS, BLANKETS, AND ARMY GOODS, THOM THE WASHINGTON (LATE BAY STATE,) AND OTHER MILLS. OM MISSION M BOHANTE FOR THE SALE OF PHILADEL.PHIA-MADE GOODS. SE28-6m	Green-centre Long Shawls. Two-faced Long Shawls. EVRE & LANDELL, deg FOURTH and ARCH. BLACK CLOTH FOR CLOAKS. Esquimax Beaver Cloths. 6-4 Stout Black Doeskins. Hudson Bay Seal Skins. Hudson Bay Seal Skins. New designs, handsome colorings, nearly four yards wide. Scaller FRENOH FLANNELS, New designs, constantly arruing, of rich printed Mousoline De Laines. Scaller FRENOH FLANNELS, New designs, constantly arruing, of rich printed Mousoline De Laines. SHARPLESS BROTHEES, de7 CHESTNUT and EIGHTH Streets. Men's fine Dress Cloths. Men's differ white extra at 33 conts. Shaker Flamels, warranted genuine. COOPEB & CONABD, not NINTH and MARKET Streets. FANCY CASSIMERES- Of every grade and style, from 62c to $1.50 per yard. Black Cassimeres, some extra fine lots. DRESS GOODS. Repa, Merinocs, Poplins, Delaines, &c. COOPEB & CONABD, not NINTH and MARKET Streets. DRESS GOODS. Repa, Merinocs, Poplins, Delaines, &c. Black Foplins, Merinora, Belaines, &c. COOPEB & CONABD, not NINTH and MARKET Streets. DRESS GOODS. Repa, Merinocs, Poplins, Delaines, &c. Black Foplins, Merinora, Belaines, &c. COOPEB & CONABD, not NINTH and MARKET Streets. DRESS GOODS. Repa, Merinocs, Poplins, Delaines, &c. COOPEB & CONABD, not NINTH and MARKET Streets. DRESS GOODS. Repa, Merinocs, Poplins, Delaines, &c. Black Foplins, Merinora, Belaines, &c. COOPEB & CONABD, not NINTH and MARKET Streets. DRESS How	delphia, we know one Amphytrion at least— a man of letters and of wealth—who seems to have an intuitive knowledge of the art of adapting his wine to his viands, and both to the season. This man ought to have lived in France, where his fine judgment and correct taste, (no pun meant here,) would have an ample field. Had he flourished in the time of Louis XIV., we believe that he would have gone into mourning for the untimely self-martyrdom of Vatel ! The carte at the Rocher de Cancale, which we described in a former article, exhibits a greater variety of wines than does that at the Grand Vatel. For instance, at the Rocher, you may choose out of thirty-seven red, thir- ty-one white, and twelve foreign wines. At the Grand Vatel only fifty different kinds of wine may he had. Out of these, believe us, a reasonable man may make a choice which would satisfy even the severe taste of an Api- cius or Luculus—indeed, more than satisfy it, for the Romans, with all their wealth, had few wines, and apparently very little discrimi- nation in using them. At the supper of Glau- cus, (in "the Last Days of Pompaii,") the drinks were diluted wine sparingly mixed with honey, fifty-year old Chian cooled with snow, and Lesbian favored with rosin; and at the famous feast of Diomed, though the eusine embraced "all the delicacies of the season," the guests were actually put off with —wine-and-water. Yet it is the custom, ereated by ignorance, to talk of the luxurious living of the Romans. Unfortunate and benighted, though victorious race, not one mother's son of them ever tasted that modern Nepenthe— a tumbler of whisky-punch. For the matter	Kossuth, extolling the Secession movement, and hoping that the European lovers of freedom will extend their sympathies to the South. An elegant fla was presented by the Louisville ladies to Gen. Korrison yesterday, at Camp Bon Spaulding. Mr. lingle, the editor of the Lafayotte Courier, made the presentation speech on behalf of the ladies. An Arrval from Nashville. The Louisville outrial of the 9th Instant says : Mr. A. B. Barker, the well-known railroad agent, arrived from Nashville, Tennessee, last evening, having left that plee on Saturday, the 23d instant. It will be remerbered that Gov. Harris, of Ten- nessee, made a squisition a few months ago for thirty thousand mp and additional arms. The call met with no respose whatever, and the authorities were compelled a draft in order to fill the re- gainstition. The jork of drafting commenced in Nashville and Boving Green at twenty-eight thou- sand. He assuresus that they are missenably fod and badly clothed and that there is a great defi- ciency in the matte of arms. Many of them, too, are ill, and he thiks there are fully three thou- sand five hundred ok soldiers in Nashville alone. No attention is given to the payment of the troops, and the soldiers hye been so accustomed to that sort of neglect, the they do not expect to receive remuneration for heir services, being but too glad if they can obtain afficient subsistence to keep their souls and hodies teather. Mr. Barker washmilier with many of the boys who left this cit, and joined the rebel army, and relates some aming episodes in their histories down there. He says that Blanton Duncan has fallen into disgrace went there, having given up the pursuit after millary fame and adopted gambling as a profession.	As colonel, could not be present to accompany his noble wife in performing this work of loyalty and humanity. Anomalous Position of Missouri. The admission of Missouri into the Southern Con- federacy, so far as the acts of the rebels can accom- plish it, will lead to several complications. Here- tofore General Price has levied war on the United States exclusively in the name of the State of Missouri, and his sympathizers have claimed that they were still citizens of the Union. But now the aspect of affairs is changed, and Missouri presents the anomalous picture of a State under four different governing powers, being governed according to the occupation of the unionists have the upperhand. A Rebel View of the Campaign in Mis- souri. The Memphis Acalanche of December 4 publishes the following article in regard to the campaign in Missouri. Our readers will readily detect, and cor- reat for themsalvas. Its numerous erroneous state- ments: The war in Missouri has taken a sudden and ex- traordinary turn. But a few days ago General Price's army was retreating, as if it intended to evacuate the State, the greater portion of which was in the military occupation of the Federals, and Fremoti's army was pushing on, as if in hot pur- suit of Price. It was loudly vaunted by the Lin- coln forces that the Federal nemy was to be given up for the time to the undisputed control of the Federals. But just as the two armies came almost in sight of each other, and a battle scened imminent, Fre- mont was superseded, and his successor, Gen. Hun- ter, ordered a retreat to St. Louis-leaving Sigel, with a portion of his forces, to cover the rear, he being the greatest general in a retreat in the whole Federals. This change of programme puts an entirely new face on Missouri affairs. It liberates Missouri from	and are now convinced of the rashness and folly of their course, and are anxious to return to their homes. He says that so far as he has observed, the rebels are well clothed and fed, and are anxious for a fight. He has frequently heard the wish express- ed that the war was ended, though most of them are led to beliave that the Southern cause is a righteous one, and they would scarcely consent to terms of peace which did not include the recogni- tion of the Southern Confederacy. THE MASON AND SLIDELL AFFAIR. REPORT OF CAPTAIN WILKES. WHY HE DID NOT SEIZE THE TRENT. HIS ORDERS TO LIEUTENANT FAIRFAX. Capt. Wilkes' Letter to the Secretary of the Navy on the Arrest of Mason and Slidell. The following is the interesting report of Capt. Wilkes, assigning his reasons for the arrest of Mesers. Mason and Slidell: U. S. STEAMER SAN JACHTO, } SIN : In my despatch by Commander Taylor I confined myself to the reports of the movements of the states were going on the south side of Mesers. Mason, Slidell, Eustis, and Macfarland, as I intended to write you particularly relative to the reasons which induced my action in making these prisoners. When I heard at Cienfuegos, on the south side of Guba, of these commercide with the captury of Mesers. Mason, Slidell, Eustis, and Macfarland, as I intended to write you particularly relative to the reasons which induced my action in making these prisoners. The I heard at Cienfuegos, on the south side of Guba, of these commercide with the captury of Mesers. Mason, Slidell, Eustis, and Macfarland, as I intended to write you particularly relative to the reasons which induced my action in making these prisoners. The Governments of Great Britain, France, and spain, having issued proclamations that the Con- federate States were viewed, considered, and treet.	march westwardly with a large force, for the dou- ble purpose of making a reconnoissance and to se- cure forage. Accordingly, at an early hour on Friday last, the Second brigade set out under com- mand of General George F. Meade, of your city, accompanied by Captain Samuel Ringwalt, quar- termaster of the brigade, in charge of a large num- ber of transportation wagons. Scouts were sent out in advance, and although the line of march, in many places, was on a narrow road and deep ra- vines hemmed in by almost impenetrable forests, our troops met with no resistance, and failed to see the most romotosign of the enemy. The soldiers were in excellent condition, and enger for battle, and therefore felt somewhat disappointed. The farms in this section have generally been deserted, the males having joined the robel army, and those remaining at home are in an almost destitute condi- tion. Many of the inhabitants are sick and unable to procure medical attendance, and are obliged to give up all the luxuries and many of the neces- saries of life on account of their inability to pass the lines of either army. The particular plantation, however, to which our expedition was directed was an exception to the general rule. It is located a mile north of the Leesburg turnpike, about three miles from Dranes- ville, and belonged to a man named Gungell, one of the most wealthy, aristocratio, axd notorious Se- cessionists in Eastern Virginia. Gunnell was par- ticularly noted for his persecution of citizens claim- ing to be loyal, and was the terror of the neighbor- hood before our gallant Ponnsylvania Reserves took possession of the sacred soil of Virginia. His farm, however, has been very highly cultivated and its surroundings indicate that he was an expa- rienced agriculturist. His massion was left in charge of an aged sister and a few slaves some two months ago, while Gunnell himself and his most valuable slaves were transferred to the rebel ser-
Ingravings, Picture and Photograph Frames, Oil Paint- tugs. The isrgest and most elegant assoriment in the contry. A rare opportunity is now offered to make pury elesses in this line For Ceah, at remarkably Low Prices EARLE'S GALLERRIES. 170-07 816 OHESTNUT Street. The subscriber begs leave to inform the public that he is again prepared to offer his justly celebrated NE PLUS ULTRA MINCED MEAT, In large or small quantities. Orders through Do- gratch Post will be punctually sitended to. JOSHUA WRIGHT, SPRING GABDEN and FBANKLIN Street, no13-2m Philadelphia. COAL OIL! COAL OIL! GEORGE W. WOOTTEN, 35 SOUTH SECOND STREET, AGENT FOR THE NORTH AMERICAN OIL COMPANY. MANUFACTUBERS OF COAL OIL, AND BE- FINERS OF COAL AND CABON OILS. WM. F. JOHNSTON, President, GEO. OGDEN, Secretary. Also, Agent for BEERS, JUDSON, & BEERS, Patont Glass Comes for Lamps, and wholesale dealor in Dith- ridge's Patont Cval (fre-proof) and Eastern Fint-Glass Champeys. Cash buyers or prompt payers are respectfully invited	P j4 SOUTH FBONT AND 35 LETITIA STREET, OFFER FOR SALM BROWN AND BLEACHED SHEETINGS, SHIRTINGS, DRILLS, JEANS, SILECIAS, CANTON FLANNELS, VEON THE MASSACHUSETTS, GBEAT FALLS LACONIA, LYMAN, EVERETT, DWIGHT, LOWELL, CABOT, IPSWICH, CHICOPEE, and HAMPDEN, BARTLET MILLS. LIKEWISE, A FULL ASSORTMENT OF SHAWLS, BEAVER CLOTHS, TRICOTS, CASSIMERES, FLANNELS, TWEEDS, BLANKETS, AND ARMY GOODS, THOM THE WASHINGTON (LATE BAY STATE,) AND OTHER MILLS. ON MIDSION M BOHANTE FOR THE SALE OF PHILADEL PHIA-MADE GOOD S. SE28-6m FURS.	Green-centre Long Shawls. Two-faced Long Shawls. EYRE & LANDELL, deg FOURTH and ARCH. BLACK CLOTH FOR CLOAKS. Esquimax Beaver Cloths. 6-4 Stout Black Doekins. Hudson Bay Seal Skins. Hudson Bay Seal Skins. Seal Stans. Hudson Bay Seal Skins. Hudson Bay Seal Skins. New designs, handsome colorings, nearly four yards wide. SCARLET FRENOH FLANNELS, New designs. constantly arruing, of rich printed Mouseline De LAINES. New designe. constantly arruing, of rich printed Mouseline De LAINES. New designe. Constantly arruing, of rich printed Mouseline De LAINES. Men's heavy Overcoatings. Men's deast of the skins at 38 conts. Staker Flannels, warranted genuins. COOPER & CONARD. NINTH and MARKET Streets. FO f every grade and style, from 62c to $1.50 per yard. Black Cassimeres, some extra fine lots. DRESS GOODS. Reps. Merinces, Poplins, Delaines, &c. Black Foylins, Merincea, Belaines, &c. COOPER & CONARD. NINTH and MARKET Streets. DRESS GOODS. Reps. Merinces, Poplins, Delaines, &c. Black Foylins, Merincea, Belaines, &c. COOPER & CONARD. NINTH and MARKET Streets. CLOAKS— Baady made or made to order, COPER & CONARD.	delphia, we know one Amphytrion at least— a man of letters and of wealth—who seems to have an intuitive knowledge of the art of adapting his wine to his viands, and both to the season. This man ought to have lived in France, where his fine judgment and correct taste, (no pun meant here,) would have an ample field. Had he flourished in the time of Louis XIV., we believe that he would have gone into mourning for the untimely self-martyrdom of Vatel ! The carte at the Rocher de Cancale, which we described in a former article, exhibits a greater variety of wines than does that at the Grand Vatel. For instance, at the Rocher, you may choose out of thirty-seven red, thir- ty-one white, and twelve foreign wines. At the Grand Vatel only fifty different kinds of wine may be had. Out of these, believe us, a reasonable man may make a choice which would satisfy even the severe taste of an Api- cius or Luculus—indeed, more than satisfy it, for the Romans, with all their wealth, had few wines, and apparently very little discrimi- nation in using them. At the supper of Glau- cus, (in " the Last Days of Pompeii,") the drinks were diluted wine sparingly mixed with honey, fifty-year old Chian cooled with snow, and Lesbian favored with rosin; and at the famous feast of Diomed, though the cusine embraced " all the delicacies of the season," the guests were actually put off with wine-and-water. Yet it is the custom, created by ignorance, to talk of the luxurious living of the Romans. Unfortunate and benighted, though victorious race, not one mother's son of them ever tasted that modern Nepenthe a tumbler of whisky-punch. For the matter of that, it is almost unknown to French ap-	Kossuth, extelling the Secession movement, and hoping that the European lovers of freedom will extend their sympathies to the South. An elegant fla was presented by the Louisville ladies to Gen. Korrison yesterday, at Camp Bon Spaulding. Mr. lingle, the aditor of the Lafayotte Courier, made the presentation speech on behalf of the ladies. An Arrval from Nashville. The Louisville surral of the 9th instant says : Mr. A. B. Barker, the well-known railroad agent, arrived from Nashville, Tennessee, last evening, having left that plee on Saturday, the 23d instant. It will be remerhered that Gov. Harris, of Ten- nessee, made a squisition a few months ago for thirty thousand mp and additional arms. The call met with no response whatever, and the authorities were compelled a draft in order to fill the re- restition. The fork of drafting commenced in Nashville and Boving Green at twenty-eight thou- send. The sources us that they are missrably fad and badly clothed and that there is a great defi- ciency in the matte of arms. Many of them, too, are ill, and be thick there are fully three thou- send five hundred ick soldiers in Nashville alone. No attention is givn to the paymant of the troops, and the soldiers have been so accustomed to that sort of neglect, the they do not expect to receive remuneration for heir services, being but too glad if usy can obtain afforient subsistence to keep their souls and bodies teather. Mr. Barker washmiliar with many of the boys who left this cittand joined the rebel army, and relates some amang episodes in their histories down there. He says that Blanton Duncan has fallen hat disgrace on theor, having given up the pursuit after millary fame and adopted gambling as a profession.	As colonel, could not be present to accompany his noble wife in performing this work of loyalty and humanity. Anomalous Position of Missouri. The admission of Missouri into the Southern Con- fideracy, so far as the acts of the rebels can accom- plish it, will lead to several complications. Here- tofore General Price has levied war on the United States exclusively in the name of the State of Missouri, and his sympathizers have claimed that they were still citizens of the Union. But now the aspect of affairs is changed, and Missouri presents the anomalous picture of a State under four different governing powers, being governed according to the occupation of the military authorities, by Jeff Davis and Claib Jackson, where the rebels are in power, and by President Lincoln and Governor Gamble, where the Unionists have the upperhand. A Rebel View of the Campaign in Mis- souri. The Memphis Avalanche of December 4 publishes the following article in regard to the campaign in Missouri. Our readers will readily detect, and cor- ract for themselves, its humerous erroneous state- ments: The war in Missouri has taken a sudden and ex- traordinary turn. But a few days ago General Price's army was retreating, as if it intended to evacuate the State, the greater portion of which was in the Missouri of the Federals, and Fremont's army was pushing on, as if in hot pur- suit of Price. It was loudly vaunted by the Lin- coln forces that the Faderal army was control of the Federals. But, just as the two afines came almost in sight of each other, and a battle seemed imminent. Fre- mont was superseded, and his successor, Gen. Hun- ter, ordered a retreat to St. Louis-leaving Sigel, with a portion of his forçes, to cover the frear, he being the greatest general in a retreat in the whole Federal. The reason assigned for this sudden retrograde movement is, that Gen. Hunter's army is to participate in the grand expedition down the Missispipi.	and are now convinced of the rashness and folly of their course, and are anxious to return to their homes. He says that so far as he has observed, the rebels are well clothed and fed, and are anxious for a fight. He has frequently heard the wish express- ed that the war was ended, though most of them are led to beliave that the Southern cause is a righteous one, and they would scarcely consent to terms of peace which did not include the recogni- tion of the Southern Confederacy. THE MASON AND SLIDELL AFFAIR. REPORT OF CAPTAIN WILKES. WHY HE DID NOT SEIZE THE TRENT. HIS ORDERS TO LIEUTENANT FAIRFAX. Capt. Wilkes' Letter to the Secretary of the Navy on the Arrest of Mason and Slidell. The following is the interesting report of Capt. Wilkes, assigning his reasons for the arrest of Mesers. Mason and Slidell: U.S. STEAMER SAN JACHTO, } SIN : In my despatch by Commander Taylor I confined myself to the reports of the movements of the reasy with the response of the capture of Mesers. Mason, Slidell, Eustis, and Macfariand, as I intended to write you particularly relative to the reasons which induced my action in making these prisoners. When I heard at Cienfuegos, on the south side of Guba, of these commissioners having landed on the Island of Cuba, and that they were at Havana, and would depart in the English steamer of the 7th of Sina law to which I had access, viz. : Kent, When I heard at Cienfuegos, on the south side of Guba, of these commissioners having landed on the Island of Cuba, and that they were at Havana, and would depart in the English steamer of the 7th of Sin engrand and the facts connected with the capture of Meseria Mason, Slidell, Eustis, and Macfariand, as I intended to write you particularly relative to the reasons which induced my action in making these prisoners. The Governments of Great Britain, France, and spain, having issued proclamations that the Con- federate States were viewed, considered, and treat- d as belligerents, and knowing that the ports of	march westwardly with a large force, for the dou- ble purpose of making a reconnoissance and to se- cure forage. Accordingly, at an early hour on Friday last, the Second brigade set out under com- mand of General George F. Meads, of your city, accompanied by Captain Samuel Ringwalt, quar- termaster of the brigade, in charge of a large num- ber of transportation wagons. Scouts were sent out in advance, and although the line of march, in many places, was on a narrow road and deep ra- vines hemmed in by almost impenetrable forests, our troops met with no resistance, and failed to see the most remotesign of the enemy. The soldiers were in excellent condition, and enger for battle, and therefore felt somewhat disappointed. The farms in this section have generally been deserted, the males having joined the rebel army, and those remaining at home are in an almost destitute condi- tion. Many of the inhabitants are sick and unable to procure medical attendance, and are obliged to give up all the luxuries and many of the neces- stries of either army. The particular plantation, however, to which our expedition was directed was an exception to the general rule. It is located a mile north of the Leesburg turnpike, about three miles from Dranes- ville, and belonged to a man named Gunnell, one of the most wealthy, aristocratic, and notorious Se- cessionists in Eastern Virginia. Gunnell was par- ticularly noted for his persecution of citizens claim- ing to be loyal, and was the torror of the neighbor- hood before our gallant Pennsylvania Reserves took possession of the sacred soil of Virginia. His farm, however, has been very highly cultivated and ils surroundings indicate that he was an expe- rienced agriculturist. His mansion was left in charge of an aged sister and a few slaves some two months ago, while Gunnell himself and his most valuable slaves were transferred to the robel ser- vice. The furniture was of the most costly and huxurious character, the cellars were stocked with the choicest liquors, and the larder containe
Ingravings, Picture and Photograph Frames, Oil Paintings, The isagest and most elegant assortiment in the puntry. Arare opportunity is a worffered to make pury elasses in this line For Ceah, at remarkably Low Prices EARLE'S GALLERRIES, 19-47 FRESH MINCED MEAT, The subscriber begs leave to inform the public that he is again prepared to offer his justly celebrated NE PLUS ULTRA MINCED MEAT, In large or small quantities. Orders through Despite Forst will be punctually strended to. JOSHUA WRIGHT, Street, nol3-2m COAL OIL! COAL OIL! GEORGE W. WOOTTEN, SS SOUTH SECOND STREET, AGENT FOE THE NORTH AMERICAN OIL COMPANY. MANUFACTUBERS OF COAL OIL, AND BE- FINERS OF COAL AND CARBON OILS. WM. F. JOHNSTON, President, GEO. OGDEN, Secretary. Also, Agent for BEERS, JUDSON, & BEERS, Patent Glass Cones for Lamps, and wholesale dealer in Dith- Glass Cones for Lamps, and wholesale dealer in Dith- Glass Cones for Lamps, and wholesale dealer in Dith- Glass Cones for Lamps, and wholesale dealer in Dith- Glass Cones for Lamps, and wholesale dealer in Dith- Glass Cones for Lamps, and wholesale dealer in Dith- Glass Cones for Lamps, and wholesale dealer in Dith- Glass Cones for Lamps, and wholesale dealer in Dith- Glass Cones for Lamps, and wholesale dealer in Dith- Glass Cones for Lamps, and wholesale dealer in Dith- Glass Cones for Lamps, and wholesale dealer in Dith- Glass Cones for Lamps, and wholesale dealer in Dith- Cath Duyers or prompt payers are respectfully invited or examine our stock.	P j4 SOUTH FBONT AND 35 LETITIA STREET, OFFER FOR SALM BROWN AND BLEACHED SHEETINGS, SHIRTINGS, DRILLS, JEANS, SILECIAS, CANTON FLANNELS, VEON THE MASSACHUSETTS, GBEAT FALLS LACONIA, LYMAN, EVERETT, DWIGHT, LOWELL, CABOT, IPSWICH, CHICOPEE, and HAMPDEN, BARTLET MILLS. LIKEWISE, A FULL ASSORTMENT OF SHAWLS, BEAVER CLOTHS, TRICOTS, CASSIMERES, FLANNELS, TWEEDS, BLANKETS, AND ARMY GOODS, THOM THE WASHINGTON (LATE BAY STATE,) AND OTHER MILLS. ON MIDSION M BOHANTE FOR THE SALE OF PHILADEL PHIA-MADE GOOD S. SE28-6m FURS.	Green-centre Long Shawls. Two-faced Long Shawls. EYRE & LANDELL, deg FOURTH and ARCH. BLACK CLOTH FOR CLOAKS. Esquimax Beaver Cloths. 6-4 Stout Elack Docekins. Hudson Bay Scal Skins. Hudson Bay Scal Skins. March Elack Docekins. Hudson Bay Scal Skins. Hudson Bay Scal Skins. Hudson Bay Scal Skins. To TO M A N V E L O U R S, Plain dark colors and figures. Bieh printed Epinglines. Woven styles Regt, very cheap. INFORTED BALMORALS, New designs, handsome colorings, nearly four yards wids. SCARLET FRENCH FLANNELS, Twilled and plain, of extra qualities, suitable for rhenmatic underwear. LOW-PRICED DE LAINES. New designs, constantly arriving, of rich printed Mousciline De Laines. SHARPLESS BROTHERS, Men's heavy Overcoatings. Men's heavy Overcoatings. Def Stroets. Def S	delphia, we know one Amphytrion at least- a man of letters and of wealth-who seems to have an intuitive knowledge of the art of adapting his wine to his viands, and both to the season. This man ought to have lived in France, where his fine judgment and correct taste, (no pun meant here,) would have an ample field. Had he flourished in the time of Louis XIV., we believe that he would have gone into mourning for the untimely self-martyrdom of Vatel ! The carte at the Rocher de Cancale, which we described in a former article, exhibits a greater variety of wines than does that at the Grand Vatel. For instance, at the Rocher, you may choose out of thirty-seven red, thir- ty-one white, and twelve foreign wines. At the Grand Vatel only fifty different kinds of wine may be had. Out of these, believe us, a reasonable man may make a choice which would satisfy even the severe taste of an Api- cius or Luculus-indeed, more than satisfy it, for the Romans, with all their wealth, had few wines, and apparently very little discrimi- nation in using them. At the supper of Glau- cus, (in "the Last Days of Pompaii,") the drinks were diluted wine sparingly mixed with honey, fifty-year old Chian cooled with snow, and Lesbian favored with rosin; and at the famous feast of Diomed, though the cusine embraced "all the delicacies of the season," the guests were actually put off with wine-and-water. Yet it is the custom, created by ignorance, to talk of the luxurious living of the Romans. Unfortunate and benighted, though victorious race, not one mother's son of them ever tasted that modern Nepenthe- a tumbler of whisky-punch. For the matter of that, it is almost unknown to French ap- petite itself. [Before these articles are ended.	Kossuth, extelling the Secession movement, and hoping that the European lovers of freedom will extend their sympathies to the South. An elegant fly was presented by the Louisville ladies to Gen. Korrison yesterday, at Camp Bon Spaulding. Mr. lingle, the aditor of the Lafayotte Courier, made the presentation speech on behalf of the ladies. An Arrval from Nashville. The Louisville ournal of the 9th instant says : Mr. A. B. Barker the well-known railroad agent, arrived from Nahville, Tennessee, last evening, having left that ploe on Saturday, the 23d instant. It will be remethered that Gov. Harris, of Ten- nessee, made a Aquisition a few months ago for thirty thousand mp and additional arms. The call met with no respose whatever, and the authorities were compelled a draft in order to fill the re- ganistics. The ork of drafting commonced in Nashville and Boving Green at twenty-eight thou- send. He assures that they are miserably fad and badly clothed and that there is a great defi- ciency in the matt of arms. Many of them, too, are ill, and he thiks there are fully three thou- send five hundred ek soldiers in Nashville alone. No aftention is given to the payment of the troops, and the soldiers hve been so accustomed to that sort of neglect, the they do not expect to receive remuneration for beir services, being but too glad if they can obtain afficient subsistence to keep their souls and bodies teather. Mr. Barker washmiliar with many of the boys who left this citiand joined the rebel army, and relates some aming episodes in their histories down there. He sys that Blanton Duncan has fallen hat disgrace we there, having given up the pursuit after miliary fame and adopted gambling as a profession. AFFAIRS II THE SOUTHWEST. The following its are gleaned from full files of New Orleans papeito the 26th contains the following "talk on 'change :' Saturday was deted to the war elements, and toogh the streets i general were crowed to ex- ers the face of (roundel twere devented to ex- ers the face of (roundel tweer	As colonel, could not be present to accompany his noble wife in performing this work of loyalty and humanity. Anomalous Position of Missouri. The admission of Missouri into the Southern Con- federacy, so far as the acts of the rebels can accom- plish it, will lead to several complications. Here- tofore General Price has levied war on the United States exclusively in the name of the State of Missouri, and his sympathizers have claimed that they were still citizens of the Union. But now the aspect of affairs is changed, and Missouri presents the anomalous picture of a State under four different governing powers, being governed according to the occupation of the military authorities, by Jeff Davis and Claib Jackson, where the rebels are in power, and by President Lincoln and Governor Gamble, where the Unionists have the upperhand. A Rebel View of the Campaign in Mis- souri. The Memphis Acalanche of December 4 publishes the following article in regard to the campaign in Missouri. Our readers will readily detect, and cor- reat for themselves. Its humerous erroneous state- ments: The war in Missouri has taken a sudden and ex- traordinary turn. But a few days ago General Price's army was retreating, as if in intended to evacuate the State, the greater portion of which was in the military occupation of the Federals, and Fremont's army was retreating, as if in hot pur- suit of Price. It was loudly vaunted by the Lin- coln forces that the Federal army was to be given up for the time to the undisputed control of the Federals. But, just as the two armies came almost in sight of each other, and a battle scened imminent, Fre- mont was superseded, and his successor, Gen. Hum- ter, ordered a retreat to St. Louis-leaving Sigel, with a portion of his forces, to cover the rear, he being the greatest general in a rotreat in the whole Federal army, Gen. Price hoty pursuing the Tea- tonic general. The reason assigned for this sudden retrograde movement is, that Gen. Hunter's army is to participate in the grand expedition down the Mi	and are now convinced of the rashness and folly of their course, and are anxious to return to their homes. He says that so far as he has observed, the rebels are well clothed and fed, and are anxious for a fight. He has frequently heard the wish express- ed that the war was ended, though most of them are led to beliave that the Southern cause is a righteous one, and they would scarcely consent to terms of peace which did not include the recogni- tion of the Southern Confederacy. THE MASON AND SLIDELL AFFAIR. REPORT OF CAPTAIN WILKES. WHY HE DID NOT SEIZE THE TRENT. HIS ORDERS TO LIEUTENANT FAIRFAX. Capt. Wilkes' Letter to the Secretary of the Navy on the Arrest of Mason and Slidell. The following is the interesting report of Capt. Wilkes, assigning his reasons for the arrest of Mesers. Mason and Slidell: U.S. STEAMER SAN JACINTO, } SIN : In my despatch by Commander Taylor I confined myself to the reports of the movements of the starts. Slidell, Eustis, and Macfarland, as I intended to write you particularly relative to the reasons which induced my action in making these prisoners. When I heard at Cienfuegos, on the south side of Guba, of these commissioners having landed on the Island of Cuba, and that they were at Havana, and would depart in the English steamer of the 7th of Sing land the first sconneeted with the capturg of Mesers. Mason and the heard at Cienfuegos, on the south side of Guba, of these commissioners having landed on the Island of Cuba, and that they were at Havana, and would depart in the English steamer of the 7th of arefully examined all the authorities on interna- tional law to which I had access, viz. : Kent, Wheat Internal end their reaponsibilities. The Governments of Great Britain, France, and Spain, having issued proclamations that the Con- federate States were viewed, considered, and treat- ed as belligerents, and knowing that the ports of Great Britain, France, Spain, and Hollamd, in the	march westwardly with a large force, for the dou- ble purpose of making a reconnoissance and to se- cure forage. Accordingly, at an early hour on Friday last, the Second brigade set out under com- mand of General George F. Meade, of your city, accompanied by Captain Samuel Ringwalt, quar- termaster of the brigade, in charge of a large num- ber of transportation wagons. Scouts were sent out in advance, and although the line of march, in many places, was on a narrow road and deep ra- vines hemmed in by almost impenetrable forests, our troops met with no resistance, and failed to see the most romotosign of the enemy. The soldiers were in excellent condition, and enger for battle, and therefore felt somewhat disappointed. The farms in this section have generally been deserted, the males having joined the robet army, and those remaining at home are in an almost destitute condi- tion. Many of the inhabitants are sick and unable to procure medical attendance, and are obliged to give up all the luxuries and many of the neces- saries of life on account of their inability to pass the lines of either army. The particular plantation, however, to which our expedition was directed was an exception to the general rule. It is located a mile north of the Leesburg turnpike, about three miles from Dranes- ville, and belonged to a man named Gunnell, one of the most wealthy, aristocratio, axd notorious Se- cessionists in Eastern Virginia. Gunnell was par- ticularly noted for his persecution of citizens claim- ing to be loyal, and was the terror of the neighbor- hood before our gallant Pennsylvania Reserves took possession of the sacred soil of Virginia. His farm, however, has been very highly cultivated and its surroundings indicate that he was an expe- rienced agriculturist. His mansion was left in charge of an aged sister and a few slaves some two months ago, while Gunnell himself and his most valuable slaves were transferred to the rebel ser- vice. The furniture was of the most costly and huxurious character, the cellars were st
Ingravings, Picture and Photograph Frames, Oil Paintings, The isergest and most elegant assoriument in the printy. A rare opportunity is now offered to make pary elasses in this line for Ceach, at remarkably Low Prices EARLE'S GALLERRIES, 19-07 The Subactive Dega leave to Inform the public that is is again prepared to offer his justly celebrated. The subactive Dega leave to Inform the public that is again prepared to offer his justly celebrated. The subactive Dega leave to Inform the public that is again prepared to offer his justly celebrated. The subactive Dega leave to Inform the public that is again prepared to offer his justly celebrated. NE PLUS ULTRA MINCED MEAT, In large or small quantifies. Orders through Deepated Fost will be punctually attended to. SOSHUA WRIGHT, BERN, BANKLIN Street, No13-2m COAL OIL! COAL OIL! GEORGE W. WOOTTEN, Street, Dils-2m COAL OIL! COAL OIL COMPANY. MANUFACTUBERS OF COAL OIL, AND BEFINERS OF COAL AND CARBON OILS. WM. F. JOHNSTØN, President, GEO. OGDEN, BEERS, Patent Glass Cones for Lamps, and wholesale dealor in Dithridge's Patent Cval (fire-proof) and Eastern Film-Glass Chimmeys, Lamps, &c. Burners to burn Coal Oil without Chimneys. Corrusponded to the summers are respectfully invited to camine our stock. DOILL.	P 54 SOUTH FBONT AND 35 LETITIA STREET, OFFER FOR BALM BROWN AND BLEACHED SHEETINGS, SHIRTINGS, DRILLS, JEANS, SILECIAS, CANTON FLANNELS, VEON THE MASSACHUSETTS, GBEAT FALLS LACONIA, LYMAN, EVEBETT, DWIGHT, LOWELL, CAHOOPEE, and HAMFDEN, BARTLEY MILLS. LIKEWISH, A FULL ASSORTMENT OF SHAWLS, BEAVER CLOTHS, TRICOTS, CASSIMERES, FLANNELS, TWEEDS, BLANKETS, AND ARMY GOODS, THOM THE WASHINGTON (LATH BAY STATE,) AND OTHER MILLS. OM MISSION M BOHANTS FOR MISSION M BOHANTS JOA THE BALK OF PHILADELLPHIA-MADE GOOD DS. 523-6m FURS. FURS. FURS. FURS. CURSY COMMINGTION FURST STATES COMMENTERS (CONSTRUCTS) COMMINENT COMMINGTON (LATH BAY STATE,) COMMINGTON M BOHANTS FURS. FURS. FURS. COMMINGTON M BOHANTS STATES (CONSTRUCTS) COMMINENT COMMINGTON (LATH BAY STATE,) COMMINGTON M BOHANTS STATES (CONSTRUCTS) COMMINGTON M BOHANTS STATES (CONSTRUCTS) COMMINGTON M BOHANTS COMMINGTON CONSTRUCTS COMMINGTON M BOHANTS COMMINGTON M	Green-centre Long Shawls. Two-faced Long Shawls. EYRE & LANDELL, deg FOURTH and ARCH. BLACK CLOTH FOR CLOAKS. Esquimax Beaver Cloths. 6-4 Stout Black Doekins. Hudson Bay Seal Skins. Hudson Bay Seal Skins. State of the printed Epinglines. Woven styles Reps, very cheap. Hudsons, handsome colorings, nearly four yards wids. SCARLET FRENOH FLANNELS, Twilled and plain, of extra qualities, suitable for rhomatic underwaar. LOW-PRICED DE LAINES. New designe, constantly arriving, of rich printed Mouseline De Laines. Men's fine Dres Cloths. Men's fine Dress Cloths. Men's fine Dress Cloths. Men's fine press Cloths. Men's fine press Cloths. Staker Flannels, warranted genuine. COOPER & CONARD, NINTH and MARKET Streets. FANCY CASSIMERES- Of every grade and style, from 62c to $1.50 per yard. Black Cassimeres, some extra fine lots. DRESS GOODS. Repa, Merinoes, Poplins, Delaines, &c. Black Cassimeres, poplins, Delaines, &c. Black Poplins, Merinoca, Relaines, &c. Black Poplins, Merinoca, COOPER & CONARD, no7 NINTH and MARKET Streets. MACKEREL, HERRING, SHAD, SALMON, &cBOO blis Mees Nos. 1. 2, and 8	delphia, we know one Amphytrion at least— a man of letters and of wealth—who seems to have an intuitive knowledge of the art of adapting his wine to his viands, and both to the season. This man ought to have lived in France, where his fine judgment and correct taste, (no pun meant here,) would have an ample field. Had he flourished in the time of Louis XIV., we believe that he would have gone into mourning for the untimely self-martyrdom of Vatel ! The carte at the Rocher de Cancale, which we described in a former article, exhibits a greater variety of wines than does that at the Grand Vatel. For instance, at the Rocher, you may choose out of thirty-seven red, thir- ty-one white, and twelve foreign wines. At the Grand Vatel only fifty different kinds of wine may be had. Out of these, believe us, a reasonable man may make a choice which would satisfy even the severe taste of an Api- cius or Luculus—indeed, more than satisfy it, for the Romans, with all their wealth, had few wines, and apparently very little discrimi- nation in using them. At the supper of Glau- cus, (in "the Last Days of Pompaii,") the drinks were diluted wine sparingly mixed with honey, fifty-year old Chian cooled with snow, and Lesbian favored with rosin; and at the famous feast of Diomed, though the cusine embraced "all the delicacies of the season," the guests were actually put off with wine-and-water. Yet it is the custom, created by ignorance, to talk of the luxurious living of the Romans. Unfortunate and benighted, though victorious race, not one mother's son of them ever tasted that modern Nepenthe- a tumbler of whisky-punch. For the matter of that, it is almost unknown to French ap- petite itself. [Before these articles are ended, we shall tell our readers how to make it :	Kossuth, extelling the Secession movement, and hoping that the European lovers of freedom will extend their sympathies to the South. An elegant fla was presented by the Louisville Indies to Gen. Korrison yesterday, at Camp Bon Spaulding. Mr. lingle, the aditor of the Lafayotte Courier, made the presentation speech on behalf of the ladies. An Arrval from Nashville. The Louisville spurnal of the 9th instant says : Mr. A. B. Barker, the well-known railroad agent, arrived from Nahville, Tennessee, last evening, having left that plee on Saturday, the 23d instant. It will be remembered that Gov. Harris, of Ten- nessee, made a squisition a few months ago for thirty thousand mp and additional arms. The call met with no response whatever, and the authorities were compelled a draft in order to fill the re- cruisticor. The fork of drafting commonced in Nashville the dayf his departure. He estimates thinumber of rebel troops between Nashville and Boving Green at twenty-eight thou- sand the sources us that they are miserably fad and badly clothed and that there is a great defi- ciency in the matte of arms. Many of them, too, are ill, and he this there are fully three thou- sand five hundred ick soldiers in Nashville alone. No attention is given to the paymant of the toops, and the soldiers have been so accustomed to that sort of neglect, the they do not expect to receive remuneration for heir services, being but too glad if they can obtain afficient subsistence to keep their soula and bodies teather. Mr. Barker washmiliar with many of the boys who left this citzen do joined the rebel army, and relates some aming episodes in their histories down there. He says that Blanton Duncan has fallen hied disgraceren there, having given up the pursuit after miliary fame and adopted gambling as a profession.	As colonel, could not be present to accompany his noble wife in performing this work of loyalty and humanity. Anomalous Position of Missouri. The admission of Missouri into the Southern Con- fideracy, so far as the acts of the rebels can accom- plish it, will lead to several complications. Here- tofore General Price has levied war on the United States exclusively in the name of the State of Missouri, and his sympathizers have claimed that they were still citizens of the Union. But now the aspect of affairs is changed, and Missouri presents the anomalous picture of a State under four different governing powers, being governed according to the occupation of the military authorities, by Jeff Davis and Claib Jackson, where the rebels are in power, and by President Lincoln and Governor Gamble, where the Unionists have the upperhand. A Rebel View of the Campaign in Mis- souri. The Memphis Avalanche of December 4 publishes the following article in regard to the campaign in Missouri. Our readers will readily detect, and cor- ract for thamselves. Its humerous erroneous state- ments: The war in Missouri has taken a sudden and ex- traordinary turn. But a few days ago General Price's army was retreating, as if it intended to evacuate the State, the greater portion of which was in the military occupation of the Federals, and Fremont's army was pushing on, as if in hot pur- suit of Price. It was loudly vaunted by the Lin- coln forces that the Faderal army was to be given up for the time to the undisputed control of the Federals. But, just as the two arms and and states very much, indeed, as if Missouri was to be given up for the time to the undisputed control of the Federals. But, just as the two arms are almost in sight of each other, and a battle sceme almost in sight of each other, and a battle sceme almost in sight of each other, and a battle sceme almost in sight of each other, and a battle sceme almost in sight of each other, and a battle sceme almost in sight of each other, and a battle sceme almost in sight of each o	and are now convinced of the rashness and folly of their course, and are anxious to return to their homes. He says that so far as he has observed, the rebels are well clothed and fed, and are anxious for a fight. He has frequently heard the wish express- ed that the war was ended, though most of them are led to believe that the Southern cause is a rightcous one, and they would searcely consent to terms of peace which did not include the recogni- tion of the Southern Confederacy. THE MASON AND SLIDELL AFFAIR. REPORT OF CAPTAIN WILKES. WHY HE DID NOT SEIZE THE TRENT. HIS ORDERS TO LIEUTENANT FAIRFAX. Capt. Wilkes' Letter to the Secretary of the Navy on the Arrest of Mason and Slidell . The following is the interesting roport of Capt. Wilkes, assigning his reasons for the arrest of Mesers. Mason and Slidell: U.S. SPEAMER SAN JACINTO, } SIN : In my despatch by Commander Taylor I confined myself to the reports of the movements of this ship and the facts connected with the captury of Mesers. Mason, Slidell, Eustis, and Macfarland, as I intended to write you particularly relative to the reasons which induced my action in making these prisoners. When I heard at Cienting states and the facts and would depart in the English steamer of the 7th of November, I determined to intercept them, and would depart in the English steamer of the Or the of cuba, of these commissioners having landed on the Island of Cuba, and that they were at Havana, and would depart in the English steamer of the 7th of November, I determined to intercept them, and carefully cramined all the authorities on interma- tional law to which I had access, viz. : Kont, Wheaton, Vattel, besides various decisions of Sir Ym. Scott, and other judges of the Admiralty Court of Great Britain, which bore upon the rights of neutrals and that they were at Havana, and would depart in the courted visits on interface as beligerents, and knowing that the Con- federate States were viewed, considered, and treat- ed as beligerents, and knowing that the Con-	march westwardly with a large force, for the dou- ble purpose of making a reconnoissance and to se- cure forage. Accordingly, at an early hour on Friday last, the Second brigade set out under com- mand of General George F. Meade, of your city, accompanied by Captain Samuel Ringwalt, quar- termaster of the brigade, in charge of a large num- ber of transportation wagons. Scouts were sent out in advance, and although the line of march, in many places, was on a narrow road and deep ra- vines hemmed in by almost impenetrable forest, our troops met with no resistance, and failed to see the most remotesign of the enemy. The soldiers were in excellent condition, and enger for battle, and therefore felt somewhat disappointed. The farms in this section have generally been deserted, the males having joined the robet army, and those remaining at home are in an almost destitute condi- tion. Many of the inhabitants are sick and unable to procure medical attendance, and are obliged to give up all the luxuries and many of the neces- saries of life on account of their inability to pass the lines of either army. The particular plantation, however, to which our expedition was directed was an exception to the general rule. It is located a mile north of the Leesburg turnpike, about three miles from Dranes- ville, and belonged to a man named Gungell, one of the most wealthy, aristorratio, azd notorious Se- cessionists in Eastern Virginia. Gunnell was par- ticularly noted for his persecution of citizens claim- ing to be loyal, and was the terror of the neighbor- hood before our gallant. Pennsylvania Reserves took possession of the sacred soil of Virginia. His farm, however, has been very highly cultivated and his surroundings indicate that he was an expe- rienced agriculturist. His mansion was left in charge of an aged sister and a few slaves some two months ago, while Gunnell himself and his most valuable slaves were transferred to the robel ser- vice. The furniture was of the most costly and luxurious character, the cellars were st
Ingravings, Picture and Photograph Frames, Oil Paintings, The isagest and most elegant assortiment in the puntry. Arare opportunity is a worffered to make pury elasses in this line For Ceah, at remarkably Low Prices EARLE'S GALLERRIES, 19-47 FRESH MINCED MEAT, The subscriber begs leave to inform the public that he is again prepared to offer his justly celebrated NE PLUS ULTRA MINCED MEAT, In large or small quantities. Orders through Despite Forst will be punctually strended to. JOSHUA WRIGHT, Street, nol3-2m COAL OIL! COAL OIL! GEORGE W. WOOTTEN, SS SOUTH SECOND STREET, AGENT FOE THE NORTH AMERICAN OIL COMPANY. MANUFACTUBERS OF COAL OIL, AND BE- FINERS OF COAL AND CARBON OILS. WM. F. JOHNSTON, President, GEO. OGDEN, Secretary. Also, Agent for BEERS, JUDSON, & BEERS, Patent Glass Cones for Lamps, and wholesale dealer in Dith- Glass Cones for Lamps, and wholesale dealer in Dith- Glass Cones for Lamps, and wholesale dealer in Dith- Glass Cones for Lamps, and wholesale dealer in Dith- Glass Cones for Lamps, and wholesale dealer in Dith- Glass Cones for Lamps, and wholesale dealer in Dith- Glass Cones for Lamps, and wholesale dealer in Dith- Glass Cones for Lamps, and wholesale dealer in Dith- Glass Cones for Lamps, and wholesale dealer in Dith- Glass Cones for Lamps, and wholesale dealer in Dith- Glass Cones for Lamps, and wholesale dealer in Dith- Glass Cones for Lamps, and wholesale dealer in Dith- Cath Duyers or prompt payers are respectfully invited or examine our stock.	P 14 SOUTH FBONT AND 35 LETITIA STREET, OFFER FOR BALM BROWN AND BLEACHED SHEETINGS, SHIRTINGS, DRILLS, JEANS, SILECIAS, CANTON FLANNELS, VEON THE MASSACHUSETTS, GBEAT FALLS LACONIA, LYMAN, EVEBETT, DWIGHT, LOWELL, OABOT, IFSWICH, CHICOPEE, and HAMPDEN, BARTIET MILLS. LIKEWISS, A FULL ASSORTMENT OF SHAWLS, BEAVER CLOTHS, TRICOTS, CASSIMERES, FLANNELS, TWEEDS, BLANKETS, AND ARMY GOODS, THOM THE WASHINGTON (LATE BAY STATE,) AND OTHER MILLS. OM MISSION M BOHANTS JOA THE SALE OF PHILADELLPHIA-MADE GOODS. SE28-6m FURS. FURS! GEORGE F. WOMRATH, NOS. 415 AND 417 ABCH STREET, HAS NOW OPEN	Green-centre Long Shawls. Two-faced Long Shawls. EYRE & LANDELL, deg FOURTH and ARCH. BLACK CLOTH FOR CLOAKS. Esquimax Beaver Gloths. 6-4 Stout Elack Docekins. Hudson Bay Seal Skins. Hudson Bay Seal Skins. Sources. Here Printed Epinglines. Hoven styles Reps, very cheap. Woren styles Reps, very cheap. Hurober ED BalMOBALS, New designs, handsome coloring, nearly four yards wide. SCARLET FRENCH FLANNELS. Twilled and plain, of extra qualities, suitable for rhenmatic underwaar. LOW-PRICED DE LAINES. New designs, constantly arriving, of rich printed Mouseline De Laines. HARPLESS BROTHEBS, de7 CHESTNUT and EIGHTH Streets. COOPER & CONARD, NOT NINTH and MARKET Streets. FLANNELS- Yard wide, fine white extra at 33 conts. Shaker Flannels, warranted genuine. COOPER & CONARD, NINTH and MARKET Streets. FANCY CASSIMERES- Of every grade and style, from 62c to $1.50 per yard. Black Cassimeres, some extra fine lots. DRESS GOODS. Reps, Merinocs, Polains, Delainos, &c. Black Stoplins, Delainos, &c. Black Stoplins, Delainos, &c. Black Stoplins, Merinocs, Belainos, &c. Black Stoplins, Merinocs, Delainos, &c. Black Joulins, Merinocs, Joulins, Delainos, &c. Black Joulins, Merinocs, Joulins, Benbarins, &c. COOPERE & CONARD, no7 NINTH and MARKET Streets. MACKEREL, HERRING, SHAD, SALMON, &c3.000 bis Mess Nos. 1, 2, and 3 Lours areas, Intermetic, Interes, Interested Scondered Ack	delphia, we know one Amphytrion at least- a man of letters and of wealth-who seems to have an intuitive knowledge of the art of adapting his wine to his viands, and both to the season. This man ought to have lived in France, where his fine judgment and correct taste, (no pun meant here,) would have an ample field. Had he flourished in the time of Louis XIV., we believe that he would have gone into mourning for the untimely self-martyrdom of Vatel ! The carte at the Rocher de Cancale, which we described in a former article, exhibits a greater variety of wines than does that at the Grand Vatel. For instance, at the Rocher, you may choose out of thirty-seven red, thir- ty-one white, and twelve foreign wines. At the Grand Vatel only fifty different kinds of wine may be had. Out of these, believe us, a reasonable man may make a choice which would satisfy even the severe taste of an Api- cius or Luculus-indeed, more than satisfy it, for the Romans, with all their wealth, had few wines, and apparently very little discrimi- nation in using them. At the supper of Glan- Cus, (in "the Last Days of Pompeii,") the drinks were diluted wine sparingly mixed with honey, fifty-year old Chian cooled with snow, and Lesbian favored with rosin; and at the famous feast of Diomed, though the cussine embraced "all the delicacies of the season," the guests were actually put off with -wine-and-water. Yet it is the custom, created by ignorance, to talk of the luxurious living of the Romans. Unfortunate and benighted, though victorious race, not one mother's son of them ever tasted that modern Nepenthe- a tumbler of whisky-punch. For the matter of that, it is almost unknown to French ap- petite itself. [Before these articles are ended, we shall tell our readers how to make it : private instruction on liberal terms, if the	Kossuth, extelling the Secession movement, and hoping that the European lovers of freedom will extend their sympathies to the South. An elegant fla was presented by the Louisville ladies to Gen. Korrison yesterday, at Camp Bon Spaulding. Mr. lingle, the aditor of the Lafayotte Courier, made the presentation speech on behalf of the ladies. An Arrval from Nashville. The Louisville surnal of the 9th instant says : Mr. A. B. Barker the well-known railroad agent, arrived from Nashville, Tennessee, last evening, having left that plee on Saturday, the 23d instant. It will be remerhered that Gov. Harris, of Ten- nessee, made a Aquisition a few months ago for thirty thousand mp and additional arms. The call met with no response whatever, and the authorities were compelled a draft in order to fill the re- quisition. The fork of drafting commenced in Nashville and Boving Green at twenty-eight thou- send. He assures that they are miserably fad and badly clothed and that there is a great defi- ciency in the matte of arms. Many of them, too, are ill, and he thiks there are fully three thou- send five hundred ok soldiers in Nashville alone. No attention is givn to the paymant of the troops, and the soldiers have been so accustomed to that sort of neglect, the they do not expect to receive remuneration for heir services, being but too glad if they can obtain afficient subsistence to keep their souls and bodies teather. Mr. Barker washmilier with many of the boys who left this cittant joined the rebel army, and relates some aming episodes in their histories down there. He says that Blanton Duncan has fallen into disgraceven there, having given up the pursuit after milistry fame and adopted gambling as a profession. AFFAIRS II THE SOUTHWEST. The following itas are gleaned from full files of New Orleans papeito the 26th ult. The New Or- leans Crescent of the 26th contains the following "talk on 'ohange:' Saturday was deted to the war elements, and though the streets i general were cowded to ex- cess, the fing of Croudel	As colonel, could not be present to accompany his noble wife in performing this work of loyalty and humanity. Anomalous Position of Missouri. The admission of Missouri into the Southern Con- federacy, so far as the acts of the rebels can accom- plish it, will lead to several complications. Here- tofore General Price has levied war on the United States exclusively in the name of the State of Missouri, and his sympathizers have claimed that they were still citizens of the Union. But now the aspect of affairs is changed, and Missouri presents the anomalous picture of a State under four different governing powers, being governed according to the occupation of the military authorities, by Jeff Davis and Claib Jackson, where the rebels are in power, and by President Lincoln and Governor Gamble, where the Unionists have the upperhand. A Rebel View of the Campaign in Mis- souri. The Memphis Acalanche of December 4 publishes the following article in regard to the campaign in Missouri. Our readers will readily detect, and cor- reat for themselves. Its humerous erroneous state- ments: The war in Missouri has taken a sudden and ex- traordinary turn. But a few days ago General Price's army was retreating, as if it intended to evacuate the State, the greater portion of which was in the military occupation of the Federals, and Fremont's army was pushing on, as if in hot pur- suit of Price. It was loudly vaunted by the Lin- coln forces that the Federal army was to be given up for the time to the undisputed control of the Federals. But, just as the two armies came almost in sight of each other, and a battle scened imminent, Fre- mont was superseded, and his successor, Gen. Hum- ter, ordered a retreat to St. Louis-leaving Sigel, with a portion of his forces, to cover the rear, he being the greatest general in a rotreat in the whole Federal army, Gen. Price hoty pursuing the Tea- tonic general. The reason assigned for this sudden retrograde movement is, that Gen. Hunter's army is to participate in the grand expedition down	and are now convinced of the rashness and folly of their course, and are anxious to return to their homes. He says that so far as he has observed, the rebels are well clothed and fed, and are anxious for a fight. He has frequently heard the wish express- ed that the war was ended, though most of them are led to beliave that the Southern cause is a righteous one, and they would scarcely consent to terms of peace which did not include the recogni- tion of the Southern Confederacy. THE MASON AND SLIDELL AFFAIR. REPORT OF CAPTAIN WILKES. WHY HE DID NOT SEIZE THE TRENT. HIS ORDERS TO LIEUTENANT FAIRFAX. Capt. Wilkes' Letter to the Secretary of the Navy on the Arrest of Mason and Sindell. The following is the interesting roport of Capt. Wilkes, assigning his reasons for the arrest of Mesers. Mason and Slidel: U.S. STEAMER SAN JACINTO, J Sin : In my despatch by Commander Taylor I confined myself to the reports of the movements of this ship and the facts connected with the capturg of Messif. Mason, Slidell, Ematis, and Maofarland, as I intended to write you particularly relative to the reasons which induced my action in making these prisoners. When I heard at Clenging landed on the Istand of Cuba, and that they were at Havana, and would depart in the English steamer of the 7th of November, I determined to intercept them, and carefully cramined all the authorities on interna- tional law to which I had access, viz. : Kent, Wheaton, Vattel, besides various decisions of Sir Wm. Scott, and other judges of the Admiratly Court of Great Britain, which bore upon the rights of nourals and thair raponsibilities. The Governments of Great Britain, France, and Spain, having issued proclamations that the Con- federate States were viewed, considered, and treat- ed as beligerents, and knowing that the ports of firent Britain, France, Spain, and Holland, in the they were admitted to all the courtesies and that they were admitted to all the courtesies and that they were admitted to all the courtesies and that they were admi	march westwardly with a large force, for the dou- ble purpose of making a reconnoissance and to se- cure forage. Accordingly, at an early hour on Friday last, the Second brigade set out under com- mand of General George F. Meade, of your city, accompanied by Captain Samuel Ringwalt, quar- termaster of the brigade, in charge of a large num- ber of transportation wagons. Scouts were sent out in advance, and although the line of march, in many places, was on a narrow road and deep ra- vines hemmed in by almost impenetrable foreets, our troops met with no resistance, and failed to see the most remotensign of the enemy. The soldiers were in excellent condition, and enger for battle, and therefore felt somewhat disappointed. The farms in this section have generally been deserted, the males having joined the robel army, and those remaining at home are in an almost destitute condi- tion. Many of the inhabitants are sick and unable to procure medical attendance, and are obliged to give up all the luxuries and many of the neces- saries of life on account of their inability to pass the lines of either army. The particular plantation, however, to which our expedition was directed was an exception to the general rule. It is located a mile north of the Leesburg turnpike, about three miles from Dranes- ville, and belonged to a man named Gunnell, one of the most wealthy, aristocratic, and notorious Se- cessionists in Eastern Virginia. Gunnell was par- ticularly noted for his persecution of eitizens claim- ing to be loyal, and was the terror of the neighbor- hood before our gallant Pennsylvania Reserves took possession of the sacred soil of Virginia. His farm, however, has been very highly cultivated and its surroundings indicate that he was an expe- rienced agriculturist. His mansion was left in charge of an aged sister and a few slaves some two months ago, while Gunnell himself and his most valuable slaves were transferred to the robel ser- vice. The furniture was of the most costly and huurious character, the cellars were sl
Ingravings, Picture and Photograph Frames, Oil Paintings, The isergest and most elegant assoriument in the printy. A rare opportunity is now offered to make pary elasses in this line for Ceach, at remarkably Low Prices EARLE'S GALLERRIES, 19-07 The Subactive Degs Isave to Inform the public that is is again prepared to offer his justly celebrated. The subactive Degs Isave to Inform the public that is again prepared to offer his justly celebrated. The subactive Degs Isave to Inform the public that is again prepared to offer his justly celebrated. The subactive Degs Isave to Inform the public that is again prepared to offer his justly celebrated. NE PLUS ULTRA MINCED MEAT, In large or small quantifies. Orders through Despect Post with Despectation of the print of the subactive of the subacti	P 14 SOUTH FBONT AND 35 LETITIA STREET, OFFER FOR BALK BROWN AND BLEACHED SHEETINGS, SHIRTINGS, DRILLS, JEANS, SILECIAS, CANTON FLANNELS, DRILLS, JEANS, SILECIAS, CANTON FLANNELS, DRINCS, JEANS, SILECIAS, CANTON FLANNELS, NEON THE MASSACHUSETTS, GBEAT FALLS LACONIA, LYMAN, EVEBETT, DWIGHT, LOWELL, CHICOPEE, and HAMPDEN, BABTLET MILLS. LIEEWISS, A FULL ASSOETMENT OF SHAWLS, BEAVER CLOTHS, TRICOTS, CASSIMERES, FLANNELS, TWEEDS, BLANKETS, AND ARMY GOODS, THOM THE WASHINGTON (LATE BAY STATE,) AND OTHER MILLS. MON THE WASHINGTON (LATE BAY STATE,) AND OTHER MILLS. MON MISSION M BOHANTS FOR THE BALE OF PHILADELPHIA-MADE GOOD DS. 1528-5m FURS. FURS! FURS! GEORGE F, WOMRATH, NOS. 415 AND 417 ABCH STREET, NOS.	Green-centre Long Shawls. Two-faced Long Shawls. EYRE & LANDELL, deg FOURTH and ARCH. BLACK CLOTH FOR CLOAKS. Esquimax Beaver Cloths. 6-4 Stout Black Doekins. Hudson Bay Seal Skins. Hudson Bay Seal Skins. New designs, handsome colorings, nearly four yards wide. Scallet FRENOH FLANNELS, New designs, constantly arruing, of rich printed Mousoline De Laines. Starp FICED DE LAINES. New designs, constantly arruing, of rich printed Mousoline De Laines. Hen's fine Dress Cloths. Men's fine Dress Cloths. DOPEB & CONABD, NOT NINTH and MARKET Streets. DRESS GOODS. Repa, Merinoca, Poplins, Delaines, &c. Black Cassimercs, some extra fine lots. COOPEB & CONABD, not NINTH and MARKET Streets. DRESS GOODS. Repa, Merinoca, Poplins, Delaines, &c. Black Foplins, Merinora, Bealins, Bombagines, &c. COOPEB & CONABD, not NINTH and MARKET Streets. MACKEREL, HERRING, SHAD, SALMON, &cS.OOD bib Mess Nos. 1, 2, and 3 LACKEBEL, large, medium, and small, in assorted acoge of choice, Iste-coungt, fat fab. GOOD bibs. New Haifar, Eastport, and Labred or Her-	delphia, we know one Amphytrion at least— a man of letters and of wealth—who seems to have an intuitive knowledge of the art of adapting his wine to his viands, and both to the season. This man ought to have lived in France, where his fine judgment and correct taste, (no pun meant here,) would have an ample field. Had he flourished in the time of Louis XIV., we believe that he would have gone into mourning for the untimely self-martyrdom of Vatel ! The carte at the Rocher de Cancale, which we described in a former article, exhibits a greater variety of wines than does that at the Grand Vatel. For instance, at the Rocher, you may choose out of thirty-seven red, thir- ty-one white, and twelve foreign wines. At the Grand Vatel only fifty different kinds of wine may be had. Out of these, believe us, a reasonable man may make a choice which would satisfy even the severe taste of an Api- cius or Luculus—indeed, more than satisfy it, for the Romans, with all their wealth, had few wines, and apparently very little discrimi- nation in using them. At the supper of Glau- cus, (in "the Last Days of Pompeii,") the drinks were diluted wine sparingly mixed with honey, fifty-year old Chian cooled with snow, and Lesbian favored with rosin; and at the famous feast of Diomed, though the cusine embraced "all the delicacies of the season," the guests were actually put off with wine-and-water. Yet it is the custom, created by ignorance, to talk of the luxurious living of the Romans. Unfortunate and benighted, though victorious race, not one mother's son of them ever tasted that modern Nepenthe— a tumbler of whisky-punch. For the matter of that, it is almost unknown to French ap- petite itself. [Before these articles are ended, we shall tell our renders how to make it : private instruction on liberal terms, if the company be as good as the whisky must be. For our own part, we use Andy Craig's mix-	Kossuth, extelling the Secession movement, and hoping that the European lovers of freedom will extend their sympathies to the South. An elegant fla was presented by the Louisville ladies to Gen. Korrison yesterday, at Camp Bon Spaulding. Mr. lingle, the aditor of the Lafayotte Courier, made the presentation speech on behalf of the ladies. An Arrval from Nashville. The Louisville spurnal of the 9th Instant says :	As colonel, could not be present to accompany his noble wife in performing this work of loyalty and humanity. Anomalous Position of Missouri. The admission of Missouri into the Southern Con- federacy, so far as the acts of the rebels can accom- plish it, will lead to several complications. Here- tofore General Price has levied war on the United States exclusively in the name of the State of Missouri, and his sympathizers have claimed that they were still citizens of the Union. But now the aspect of affairs is changed, and Missouri presents the anomalous picture of a State under four different governing powers, being governed according to the occupation of the military authorities, by Jeff Davis and Claith Jackson, where the rebels are in power, and by President Lincoln and Governor Gamble, where the Unionists have the upperhand. A Rebel View of the Campaign in Mis- souri. The Memphis Avalanche of December 4 publishes the following article in regard to the campaign in Missouri. Our readers will readily detect, and cor- reat for themselves. Its humerous erroneous state- ments: The war in Missouri has taken a sudden and ex- traordinary turn. But a few days ago General Trice's army was retreating, as if i intended to evacuate the State, the greater portion of which was in the military occupation of the Federals, and Fremont's army was pushing on, as if in hot pur- suit of Price. It was loudly vaunted by the Lin- coln forces that the Federal army was sagesfy seeking battle with the Missourians. It looked very much, indeed, as if Missouri was to be given up for the time to the undisputed control of the Federals. But, just as the two similes came almost in sight of each other, and a battle sceemed imminent, Fre- mont was superseded, and his successor, Gen. Hun- ter, ordered a retreat to St. Louis—leaving Sigel, with a portion of his forces, to cover the rear, he being the greatest general in a retreat in the whole Federal army, Gen. Price hotly pursuing the Ten- tonic general. The reason assigned for this sudden retro	and are now convinced of the rashness and folly of their course, and are anxious to return to their homes. He says that so far as he has observed, the rebels are well clothed and fed, and are anxious for a fight. He has frequently heard the wish express- ed that the war was ended, though most of them are led to beliave that the Southern cause is a righteous one, and they would scarcely consent to terms of peace which did not include the recogni- tion of the Southern Confederacy. THE MASON AND SLIDELL AFFAIR. REPORT OF CAPTAIN WILKES. WHY HE DID NOT SEIZE THE TRENT. HIS ORDERS TO LIEUTENANT FAIRFAX. Capt. Wilkes' Letter to the Secretary of the Navy on the Arrest of Mason and Sindell. The following is the interesting roport of Capt. Wilkes, assigning his reasons for the arrest of Messrs. Mason and Slidell: U.S. STEAMER SAN JACINTO, } SIR : In my despatch by Commander Taylor I confined myself to the reports of the movements of this ship and the facts connected with the capturg of Messrs. Mason, Slidell, Eustis, and Macfarland, as I intended to write you particularly relative to the reasons which induced my action in making these prisoners. When I heard at Cienfueges, on the south side of Cuba, of these commissioners having landed on the Island of Cuba, and that they were at Havana, and would depart in the English steamer of the 7th of November, I determined to intercept them, and carefully cramined all the authorities on interna- tional law to which I had access, viz. : Kont, Wheaton, Vattel, besides various decisions of Sir Yum. Scott, and other judges of the Admiralty Court of Great Britain, which bore upon the rights of neutrals and their responsibilities. The Governments of Great Britain, France, and they were admitted to all the courtesies and pro- federate States were viewed, considered, and treat- ed as beligerents, and knowing that the ports of fireta Britain, Krance, Spain, and Hollsnd, in the West Indies, were open to their vessels, and that they were admitted to all the courtesies an	march westwardly with a large force, for the dou- ble purpose of making a reconnoissance and to se- cure forage. Accordingly, at an early hour on Friday last, the Second brigade set out under com- mand of General George F. Meade, of your city, accompanied by Captain Samuel Ringwalt, quar- termaster of the brigade, in charge of a large num- ber of transportation wagons. Scouts were sent out in advance, and although the line of march, in many places, was on a narrow road and deep ra- vines hemmed in by almost impenetrable forests, our troops met with no resistance, and failed to see the most remotesign of the enemy. The soldiers were in excellent condition, and enger for battle, and therefore felt somewhat disappointed. The farms in this section have generally been deserted, the males having joined the robel army, and those remaining at home are in an almost destitute condi- tion. Many of the inhabitants are sick and unable to procure medical attendance, and are obliged to give up all the luxuries and many of the neces- saries of life on account of their inability to pass the lines of either army. The particular plantation, however, to which our expedition was directed was an exception to the general rule. It is located a mile north of the general rule. It is located a mile north of the general rule. It is located a mile north of the general rule. It is located so in our of the neghbor- nood before our galiant Pennsylvania Reserves took possession of the sacred soil of Virginia. His farm, however, has been very highly cultivated and its surroundings indicate that he was an expe- rienced agriculturist. His mansion was left in charge of an aged sister and a few slaves some two months ago, while Gunnell himself and his most valuable slaves were transferred to the robel ser- vice. The furniture was of the most costly and huxurious character, the cellars were stocked with the choicest liquors, and the larder contained all the delicacies of a well-appointed household. The barm was filled to overflowing with hay and gra
Infravings, Picture and Photograph Frames, Oil Paintings, The inergest and most elegant assoriument in the primers. Arare opportunity is a wonfered to make pary insees in this line for Ceah, at remarkably Low Prices. EARLE'S GALLERRES, July Content of the primer of the second of t	P 14 SOUTH FBONT AND 35 LETITIA STREET, OFFER FOR BALM BROWN AND BLEACHED SHEETINGS, SHIRTINGS, DRILLS, JEANS, SILECIAS, CANTON FLANNELS, VEON THE MASSACHUSETTS, GBEAT FALLS LACONIA, LYMAN, EVEBETT, DWIGHT, LOWELL, OABOT, IFSWICH, CHICOPEE, and HAMPDEN, BARTIET MILLS. LIKEWISS, A FULL ASSORTMENT OF SHAWLS, BEAVER CLOTHS, TRICOTS, CASSIMERES, FLANNELS, TWEEDS, BLANKETS, AND ARMY GOODS, THOM THE WASHINGTON (LATE BAY STATE,) AND OTHER MILLS. OM MISSION M BOHANTS JOA THE SALE OF PHILADELLPHIA-MADE GOODS. SE28-6m FURS. FURS! GEORGE F. WOMRATH, NOS. 415 AND 417 ABCH STREET, HAS NOW OPEN	Green-centre Long Shawls. Two-faced Long Shawls. EYRE & LANDELL, deg FOURTH and ARCH. BLACK CLOTH FOR CLOAKS. Esquimax Beaver Cloths. 6-4 Stout Black Doekins. Hudson Bay Seal Skins. Hudson Bay Seal Skins. New designs, handsome colorings, nearly four yards wids. SCARLET FRENOH FLANNELS. Twilled and plain, of extra qualities, suitable for rhomatic underwasr. LOW-PRICED DE LAINES. New designs, constantly arriving, of sich printed Mouseline De Laines. SHARPLESS BROTHEES, de7 CHESTNUT and EIGHTH Streets. COOPER & CONARD, Men's fine Dress Cloths. Men's fine press Cloths. Men's fine press Cloths. Men's fine press Cloths. Staker Flannels, warranted genuine. COOPER & CONARD, NINTH and MARKET Streets. FANCY CASSIMERES- Of every grade and style, from 62c to $1.50 per yard. Black Cassimeres, some extra fine lots. DRESS GOODS. Repa, Merinoca, Polaines, &c. Black Cassimeres, poplins, Delaines, &c. COOPER & CONARD, not NINTH and MARKET Streets. MACKEREL, HERRING, SHAD, SALMON, &cSJOO blas Mess Nos. 1, 2, and 3 LACKEREL, HERRING, SHAD, SALMON, &cSJOO blas Mess Nos. 1, 2, and 3 LACKEREL, HERRING, SHAD, SALMON, &cSJOO blas Mess Nos. 1, 2, and 3 LACKEREL, harge, medium, and smail, in assorted skages of choice, late-cought, fat fah. 5,000 blas. New Hailtax, Essiort, and Labredor Her- Ing, of choice mailties.	delphia, we know one Amphytrion at least- a man of letters and of wealth-who seems to have an intuitive knowledge of the art of adapting his wine to his viands, and both to the season. This man ought to have lived in France, where his fine judgment and correct taste, (no pun meant here,) would have an ample field. Had he flourished in the time of Louis XIV., we believe that he would have gone into mourning for the untimely self-martyrdom of Vatel ! The carte at the Rocher de Cancale, which we described in a former article, exhibits a greater variety of wines than does that at the Grand Vatel. For instance, at the Rocher, you may choose out of thirty-seven red, thir- ty-one white, and twelve foreign wines. At the Grand Vatel only fifty different kinds of wine may be had. Out of these, believe us, a reasonable man may make a choice which would satisfy even the severe taste of an Api- cius or Luculus-indeed, more than satisfy it, for the Romans, with all their wealth, had few wines, and apparently very little discrimi- nation in using them. At the supper of Glau- cus, (in "the Last Days of Pompeii,") the drinks were diluted wine sparingly mixed with honey, fifty-year old Chian cooled with snow, and Lesbian favored with rosin; and at the famous feast of Diomed, though the cusine embraced "all the delicacies of the season," the guests were actually put off with wine-and-water. Yet it is the custom, created by ignorance, to talk of the luxurious living of the Romans. Unfortunate and benighted, though victorious race, not one mother's son of them ever tasted that modern Nepenthe- a tumbler of whisky-punch. For the matter of that, it is almost unknown to French ap- petite itself. [Before these articles are ended, we shall tell our renders how to make it : private instruction on liberal terms, if the company be as good as the whisky must be. For our own part, we use Andy Craig's mix- ture of three famous Scottish distillations.]	Kossuth, extelling the Secession movement, and hoping that the European lovers of freedom will extend their sympathies to the South. An elegant fla was presented by the Louisville Indies to Gen. Korrison yesterday, at Camp Bon Spaulding. Mr. lingle, the aditor of the Lafayotte Courier, made the presentation speech on behalf of the ladies. An Arrval from Nashville. The Louisville spurnal of the 9th instant says :	As colonel, could not be present to accompany his noble wife in performing this work of loyalty and humanity. Anomalous Position of Missouri. The admission of Missouri into the Southern Con- federacy, so far as the acts of the rebels can accom- plish it, will lead to several complications. Here- tofore General Price has levied war on the United States exclusively in the name of the State of Missouri, and his sympathizers have claimed that they were still citizens of the Union. But now the aspect of affairs is changed, and Missouri presents the anomalous picture of a State under four different governing powers, being governed according to the occupation of the military authorities, by Jeff Davis and Claib Jackson, where the rebels are in power, and by President Lincoln and Governor Gamble, where the Unionists have the upperhand. A Rebel View of the Campaign in Mis- souri. The Memphis Acalanche of December 4 publishes the following article in regard to the campaign in Missouri. Our readers will readily detect, and cor- reat for themsalwas. its humerous erroneous state- ments: The war in Missouri has taken a sudden and ex- traordinary turn. But a few days ago General Price's army was retreating, as if in intended to evacuate the State, the greater portion of which was in the military occupation of the Federals, and Fremont's army was pushing on, as if in hot pur- suit of Price. It was loudly vaunted by the Lin- coln forces that the Federal army was to be given up for the time to the undisputed control of the Federals. But, just as the two armies came almost in sight of each other, and a battle scened imminent, Fre- mont was superseded, and his successor, Gen. Hum- ter, ordered a retreat to St. Louis-leaving Sigel, with a portion of his forces, to cover the rear, he being the greatest general in a retreat in the whole Federal army, Gen. Price hoty pursuing the Tea- tonic general. The reason assigned for this sudden retrograde movement is, that Gen. Hunter's army is to participate in the grand expedition down	and are now convinced of the rashness and folly of their course, and are anxious to return to their homes. He says that so far as he has observed, the rebels are well clothed and fed, and are anxious for a fight. He has frequently heard the wish express- ed that the war was ended, though most of them are led to beliave that the Southern cause is a righteous one, and they would scarcely consent to terms of peace which did not include the recogni- tion of the Southern Confederacy. THE MASON AND SLIDELL AFFAIR. REPORT OF CAPTAIN WILKES. WHY HE DID NOT SEIZE THE TRENT. HIS ORDERS TO LIEUTENANT FAIRFAX. Capt. Wilkes' Letter to the Secretary of the Navy on the Arrest of Mason and SIIdell. The following is the interesting report of Capt. Wilkes, assigning his reasons for the arrest of Mesers. Mason and Slidell: U.S. STEAMER SAN JACINTO, J. Srs : In my despatch by Commander Taylor I confined myself to the reports of the making these prisoners. When I heard at Cienfuegos, on the south side of Guba, of these commissioners having landed on the Isiand of Cuba, and that they were at Havana, and would depart in the English steamer of the 7th of fues and are induced my action in making these prisoners. The Governments of Great Britain, France, and so fuest on the secience the moder in the restront which I had access, viz.: Kent, When I heard at Cienfuegos, on the south side of Guba, of these commissioners having landed on the Island of Cuba, and that they were at Havana, and would depart in the English steamer of the 7th of restroners. The Governments of Great Britain, France, and Spain, having issued proclamations that the Con- federate States were viewed, considered, and treat- ed as belligerents, and knowing that the ports of Great Britain, France, Spain, and Holland, in the West Ladies, were open to their vessels, and that they were admitted to all the courtesies and pro- tection vessels of the United States received, every sid and attention being given them, proved clearity that they asted upon this	march westwardly with a large force, for the dou- ble purpose of making a reconnoissance and to se- cure forage. Accordingly, at an early hour on Friday last, the Second brigade set out under com- mand of General George F. Meade, of your city, accompanied by Captain Samuel Ringwalt, quar- termaster of the brigade, in charge of a large num- ber of transportation wagons. Scouts were sent out in advance, and although the line of march, in many places, was on a natrow road and deep ra- vines hemmed in by almost impenetrable forests, our troops met with no resistance, and failed to see the most romotesign of the enemy. The soldiers were in excellent condition, and enger for battle, and therefore felt somewhat disappointed. The farms in this section have generally been deserted, the males having joined the robel army, and those remaining at home are in an almost destitute condi- tion. Many of the inhabitants are sick and unable to procure medical attendance, and are obliged to give up all the luxuries and many of the neces- saries of life on account of their inability to pass the lines of either army. The particular plantation, however, to which our expedition was directed was an exception to the general rule. It is located a mile north of the Leesburg turnpike, about three miles from Dranes- ville, and belonged to a man named Gunnell, one of the most wealthy, aristocratic, and notroinus Se- cessionists in Eastern Virginia. Gunnell was par- ticularly noted for his persecution of citizens claim- ing to be loyal, and was the terror of the neighbor- hood before our gallant Pennsylvania Reserves took possession of the sacred soil of Virginia. His farm, however, has been very highly cultivated and its surroundings indicate that he was an expe- rienced agriculturist. His mansion was left in charge of an aged sister and a few slaves some two months ago, while Gunnell himself and his most valuable slaves were transferred to the robel ser- vice. The furniture was of the most costly and huxurious charactor, the cellars were st
Ingravings, Picture and Photograph Frames, Oil Paintings, The isergest and most elegant assoriument in the publicy. A rare opportunity is now offered to make pury issues in this line for Ceach, at remarkably Low Prices EARLE'S GALLERRIES, 19-07 The Subactive Ceach, at remarkably Low Prices EARLE'S GALLERRIES, 19-07 The subactive Degs leave to inform the public that is ignin prepared to offer his justic celebrated. NE PLUS ULTRA MINCED MEAT, In large or small quantities. Orders through Deeperture Posses leave to inform the public that is again prepared to offer his justic celebrated. NE PLUS ULTRA MINCED MEAT, In large or small quantities. Orders through Deeperture Posses and FBANKLIN Street, no13-2m COAL OIL! COAL OIL! GEORGE W. WOOTTEN, Street, No13-2m COAL OIL! COAL OIL COMPANY. MANUFACTUBERS OF COAL OIL, AND REFINERS OF COAL AND CABBON OILS. WM. F. JOHNSTØN, President, GEO. OGDEN, Secretary. Also, Agent for BEERS, JUDSON, & BEERS, Patont Glass Cones for Lamps, and wholesale dealor in Dithridge's Patont Cval (fire-proof) and Eastern Finte-Glass Chimmeys, Lamps, &c. Burners to burn Coal Oil without Chimmeys. Construction of the supply this Standard (fire-proof) and Eastern Finte-Glass Chimmeys, Lamps, &c. Burners to burn Coal Oil without Chimmeys. As buyers or prompt payers are respectfully invited to and the finte-flass Chimmeys, Lamps, and wholesale dealor in Dithridge's Patont Cval (fire-proof) and Eastern Finte-Glass Chimmeys. Construction of the supply this Standard ILLUMINATING OIL CAP PLUS (DI L.) We are now prepared to supply this Standard ILLUMINATING OIL LAP GREATLY REDUCED PRICKS.	P 14 SOUTH FBONT AND 35 LETITIA STREET, OFFER FOR BALM BROWN AND BLEACHED SHEETINGS, SHIRTINGS, DRILLS, JEANS, SILECIAS, CANTON FLANNELS, DRILLS, JEANS, SILECIAS, CANTON FLANNELS, DEOX THE MASSACHUSETTS, GBEAT FALLS LACONIA, LYMAN, EVERETT, OWELL, CHICOPEE, and HAMPDEN, BLANKETS, AND ARMY GOODS, TOS HAWLS, BEAVER CLOTHS, TRICOTS, CASSIMERES, FLANNELS, TWEEDS, BLANKETS, AND ARMY GOODS, THOM THE WALLS. OTHER MILLS. ON MISSION (LATE BAY STATE,) OTHER MILLS. OM MISSION M BOHANTS PON THE WALLS. OM MISSION M BOHANTS SOM THE SALL OF PHILADEL PHILA-MADE GOOD DS. TELES. CURSI FURS. GEORGEE F. WOMBATH, NOS. 415 AND 417 ABCH STREET, HAS NOW OPEN A FULL ASSORTMENT OF	Green-centre Long Shawls. Two-faced Long Shawls. EYRE & LANDELL, deg FOURTH and ARCH. BLACK CLOTH FOR CLOAKS. Esquimax Beaver Cloths. 6-4 Stout Elack Docekins. Hudson Bay Seal Skins. Hudson Bay Seal Skins. Street Course and Egures. Reich printed Epinglines. Woren styles Reps, very cheap. IMPORTED BALMORALS, New designs, handsome colorings, nearly four yacds wide. SCARLET FRENCH FLANNELS, Twilled and plain, of extra qualities, suitable for rhenmail cunderwar. LOW-PRICED DE LAINES. New designe, constantly arriving, of rich printed Mousoline De Laines. BHARPLESS BROTHERS, de7 CHESTNUT and EIGHTH Streets. I ADIES' BLACK CLOTHS. Men's fine Dress Cloths. Men's fine Dress Cloths. Men's fine Dress Cloths. Men's fine Dress Cloths. Scance Streets. FLANNELS- Yard wide, fine white extra at 33 conts. Shaker Flannels, warranted genuine. COOPER & CONARD, not NINTH and MARKET streets. DRESS GOODS. Reps, Merinocs, Poplins, Delaines, 4c. COOPER & CONARD. not NINTH and MARKET streets. DRESS GOODS. Reps, Merinocs, Poplins, Delaines, 4c. COOPER & CONARD. not NINTH and MARKET Streets. GROCERIES. MACKEREL, HERBING, SHAD, SALMON, &c3.000 bbls Mess Nos. 1, 2, and 3 LACKEBREL, large, medium, and anall, in assorted exerges of choice, lato-caught, fat fish. 6,000 bolts. New Hallfax, Eastport, and Labredor Her- Ings. GROUERIES. MACKEREL, HERBING, SHAD, SALMON, &c3.000 bbls Mess Nos. 1, 2, and 3 LACKEBREL, large, medium, and anall, in assorted exerges of choice qualities. GOODER & CONARD. GOODER & CONARD. GOODER & CONARD. GOODER & CONARD. GOODER & CONARD. MINTH and MARKET Streets. MACKEREL, HERBING, SHAD, SALMON, &c3.000 bbls Mess Nos	delphia, we know one Amphytrion at least- a man of letters and of wealth-who seems to have an intuitive knowledge of the art of adapting his wine to his viands, and both to the season. This man ought to have lived in France, where his fine judgment and correct taste, (no pun meant here,) would have an ample field. Had he flourished in the time of Louis XIV., we believe that he would have gone into mourning for the untimely self-martyrdom of Vatel ! The carte at the Rocher de Cancale, which we described in a former article, exhibits a greater variety of wines than does that at the Grand Vatel. For instance, at the Rocher, you may choose out of thirty-seven red, thir- ty-one white, and twelve foreign wines. At the Grand Vatel only fifty different kinds of wine may he had. Out of these, believe us, a reasonable man may make a choice which would satisfy even the severe taste of an Api- cius or Luculus-indeed, more than satisfy it, for the Romans, with all their wealth, had few wines, and apparently very little discrimi- nation in using them. At the supper of Glau- cus, (in "the Last Days of Pompaii,") the drinks were diluted wine sparingly mixed with honey, fifty-year old Chian cooled with snow, and Lesbian favored with rosin; and at the famous feast of Diomed, though the cusine embraced "all the delicacies of the season," the guests were actually put off with wine-and-water. Yet it is the custom, ereated by ignorance, to talk of the luxurious living of the Romans. Unfortunate and benighted, though victorious race, not one mother's son of them ever tasted that modern Nepenthe a tumbler of whisky-punch. For the matter of that, it is almost unknown to French ap- petite itself. [Before these articles are ended, we shall tell our renders how to make it : private instruction on liberal terms, if the company be as good as the whisky must be. For our own part, we use Andy Craig's mix- ture of three famous Scottish distillations.] In the heart of Burgundy reposes the pros-	Kossuth, extelling the Secession movement, and hoping that the European lovers of freedom will extend their sympathies to the South. An elegant fly was presented by the Louisville ladies to Gen. Korrison yesterday, at Camp Bon Spaulding. Mr. lingle, the aditor of the Lafayotte Courier, made the presentation speech on behalf of the ladies. An Arrval from Nashville. The Louisville ournal of the 9th instant says : Ar. A. B. Barker the well-known railroad agent, arrived from Nahville, Tennessee, last evening, having left that plee on Saturday, the 23d instant. It will be remembered that Gow. Harrie, of Ten- nessee, made a Aquisition a few months ago for thirty thousand mp and additional arms. The call met with no response whatever, and the authorities were compelled a draft in order to fill the re- pressive. The york of drafting commonced in Nashville the day full separture. He estimates thinumber of rebel troops between Nashville and Boving Green at twenty-eight thou- send. He assures that they are miserably fed and badly clothed and that there is a great defi- ciency in the matte of arms. Many of them, too, are ill, and he thiks there are fully three thou- sand five hundred ick soldiers in Nashville alone. No attention is givn to the payment of the troops, and the soldiers hye been so accustomed to that sort of neglect, thi they do not expect to receive remuneration for heir services, being but too glad if they can obtain afficient subsistence to keep their soule and bodies tethere. Mr. Barker washmilier with many of the boys who left this cittand joined the rebel army, and relates some aming episodes in their histories down there. He sys that Blanton Duncan has fallen hed disgraveren there, having given up the pursuit after milary fame and adopted gambling as a profession. AFFAIRS 11 THE SOUTHWEST. The following itas are gleaned from full files of New Orleans pape; to the 25th contains the following "talk on 'change:' Saturday was deteed to the war elements, and though the stroets i general were cound	As colonel, could not be present to accompany his number wife in performing this work of loyalty and humanity. Anomalous Position of Missouri. The admission of Missouri into the Southern Con- fideracy, so far as the acts of the rebels can accom- plich it, will lead to several complications. Here- tofore General Price has levied war on the United States exclusively in the name of the State of Missouri, and his sympathizers have claimed that they were still citizens of the Union. But now the aspect of affairs is changed, and Missouri presents the anomalous picture of a State under four different governing powers, being governed according to the occupation of the military authorities, by Jeff Davis and Claib Jackson, whare the upperhand. A Rebel View of the Campaign in Mis- gouer, and by President Lincoln and Governor Gamble, where the Unionits have the upperhand. A Rebel View of the Campaign in Mis- souri. The Memphis Accalanche of December 4 publishes the following article in regard to the campaign in Missouri. Our readers will readily detect, and cor- reat for thamsalwas. Its humerous erroneous state- ments: The war in Missouri has taken a sudden and ex- traordinary turn. But a few days ago General Price's army was retreating, as if it intended to evacuate the State, the greater portion of which was in the military occupation of the Federals, and Fremont's army was retreating on, as if in hot pur- suit of Price. It was loudly vaunted by the Lin- coln forces that the Federal anny was asserty seeking battle with the Missourians. It looked very much, indeed, as if Missouri was to be given up for the time to the undisputed control of the Federal army, Gen. Price holty pursuing the Tea- tonic general. The reason assigned for this sudden ret, ordered a retreat to St. Louis-leaving Sigel, with a portion of his forces, to cover the rear, he being the greatest general in a retreat in the Whole Federal army, Gen. Price holty pursuing the Tea- tonic general. The reason assigned for this sudden rise of the site were concen	and are now convinced of the rashness and folly of their course, and are anxious to return to their homes. He says that so far as he has observed, the rebels are well clothed and fed, and are anxious for a fight. He has frequently heard the wish express- ed that the war was ended, though most of them are led to believe that the Southern cause is a righteous one, and they would scarcely consent to terms of peace which did not include the recogni- tion of the Southern Confederacy. THE MASON AND SLIDELL AFFAIR. REPORT OF CAPTAIN WILKES. WHY HE DID NOT SEIZE THE TRENT. HIS ORDERS TO LIEUTENANT FAIRFAX. Capt. Wilkes' Letter to the Secretary of the Navy on the Arrest of Mason and Sildell. The following is the interesting report of Capt. Wilkes, assigning his reasons for the arrest of Mesers. Mason and Slidell: U.S. STEAMER SAN JACINTO, } SIR : In my despatch by Commander Taylor I confined myself to the reports of the movements of this ship and the facts connected with the captury of Mesers. Mason, Slidell, Eustis, and Macfarland, as I intended to write you particularly relative to the reasons which induced my action in making these prisoners. When I heard at Cjenfuegos, on the south side of Outa, of these commissioners having landed on the Island of Cuba, and that they were at Havana, and would depart in the English steamer of the 7th of November, I determined to intercept them, and carefully examined all the authorities on interna- tional law to which I had access, viz. : Kent, When I heard at Cjenfuegos, on the south side of Forba, of these commissioners having landed on the Island of Cuba, and that they were at Havana, and would depart in the English steamer of the 7th of November, I determined to intercept them, and carefully examined all the authorities on interna- tional law to which I had access, viz. : Kent, When I heard at Cjenfuegos, on the south side of Forba, of these commissioners having landed on the rights of neutrals and thair reaponsibilitis. The Governments of Great Britain, France	march westwardly with a large force, for the dou- ble purpose of making a reconnoissance and to se- cure forage. Accordingly, at an early hour on Friday last, the Second brigade set out under com- mand of General George F. Meade, of your city, accompanied by Captain Samuel Ringwalt, quar- termaster of the brigade, in charge of a large num- ber of transportation wagons. Scouts were sent out in advance, and although the line of march, in many places, was on a narrow road and deep ra- vinces hemmed in by almost imponetrable forests, our troops met with no resistance, and failed to see the most remotosign of the enemy. The soldiers were in excellent condition, and eager for battle, and therefore felt somewhat disappointed. The farms in this section have generally been deserted, the males having joined the rebel army, and those remaining at home are in an almost destitute condi- tion. Many of the inhabitants are sick and unable to proture medical attendance, and are obliged to give up all the luxuries and many of the neces- saries of life on account of their inability to pass the lines of either army. The particular plantation, however, to which our expedition was directed was an exception to the general rule. It is located a mile north of the Leesburg turnpike, about three miles from Dranes- ville, and belonged to a man named Gunnell, ong of the most weality, aristocratic, axd notorious Se- cessionists in Eastern Virginia. Gunnell was par- ticularly noted for his persecution of citizens claim- ing to be loyal, and was the terror of the noighbor- hood before our gallant Pennsylvania Reserves tok possession of the sacred soil of Virginia. His farm, however, has been very highly cultivated and its surroundings indicate that he was an expa- rienced agriculturist. His mansion was left in charge of an ged sister and a few slaves some two months ago, while Gunnell himself and his most valuable slaves were transferred to the robel ser- vice. The furniture was of the inset costly and luxurious charactor, the cellars were st
Ingravings, Picture and Photograph Frames, Oil Paintings, The isagest and most elegant assortiment in the publicy. A rare opportunity is avoidered to make pury elases in this line For Ceah, at remarkably Low Prices EARLE'S GALLERRES, 19-47 The Subscriber begs (save to inform the public that is again prepared to offer his justly celebrated. The subscriber begs (save to inform the public that is again prepared to offer his justly celebrated. NE PLUS ULTRA MINCED MEAT, In farge or small quantities. Orders through lossister for will be punctually statended to. DOSHUA WRIGHT, Street, no13-2m Philadelphia. COAL OIL! OOAL OIL! GEORGE W. WOOTTEN, Street, no13-2m Philadelphia. COAL OIL! COAL OIL COMPANY. Manufactubers of COAL OIL, AND RE-FINERS OF COAL AND CARBON OILS. WM. F. JOHNSTON, President, GEO. OGDEN, Secretary. Also, Agent for BEERS, JUDSON, & BEERS, Patont folge's Patent Cval (fine-proof) and Eastern Fine.Glass Chimmeys, Lamps, &c. Burners to burn Coal Oil without Chimmeys. Cash Bures or prompt payers are respectfully invited examine our stock. Cash Dury or proper to supply this BANDAED HILUMINATING OIL AP Agent FINELS DEPLOY of this CASH PLANER CASH PRICES. CASH PLANER CASH PRICED PRICES. CALLER A CO., Soure AGENTE.	14 SOUTH FBONT AND 35 LETITIA STREET, OFFER FOR BALM BROWN AND BLEACHED SHEETINGS, SHIRTINGS, DRILLS, JEANS, SILECIAS, CANTON FLANNELS, VEOR THE MASSACHUSETTS, GBEAT FALLS LACONIA, LYMAN, EVERETT, DWIGHT, LOWELT, CHICOPEE, BAG HAMPDEN, BABTLET MILLS. LIEEWISH, A FULL ASSORTMENT OF SHAWLS, BEAVER CLOTHS, TRICOTS, CASSIMERES, FLANNELS, TWEEDS, BLANKETS, AND ARMY GOODS, THOM THE WASHINGTON (LATE BAY STATE,) AND OTHER MILLS. MOS. THE WASHINGTON (LATE BAY STATE,) OM MISSION M BOHANTS JOB THE BALL OF PHILADEL PHIA-MADE GOOD DS. SEZE-6m FURS. GEORGEE F. WOMRATH, NOS. 415 AND 417 ABCH STREET, HAS NOW OPEN A FULL ASSORTMENT	Green-centre Long Shawls. Two-faced Long Shawls. EYRE & LANDELL, deg FOURTH and ARCH. BLACK CLOTH FOR CLOAKS. Esquimax Beaver Cloths. 6-4 Stout Elack Docekins. Hudson Bay Seal Skins. Hudson Bay Seal Skins. Street Course and Egures. Reich printed Bpinglines. Woren styles Reps, very cheap. IMPORTED BALMORALS, New designs, handsome colorings, nearly four yacds wide. SCARLET FRENCH FLANNELS, Twilled and plain, of extra qualities, suitable for rhenmail cunderwar. LOW-PRICED DE LAINES. New designe, constantly arriving, of rich printed Mousoline De Laines. BHARPLESS BROTHERS, de7 CHESTNUT and EIGHTH Streets. I ADIES' BLACK CLOTHS. Men's fine Dress Cloths. Men's fine Dress Cloths. Men's fine Dress Cloths. Men's fine Dress Cloths. Scance Streets. FLANNELS- Yard wide, fine white extra at 33 conts. Shaker Flannels, warranted genuine. COOPER & CONARD, not NINTH and MARKET streets. DRESS GOODS. Reps, Merinocs, Poplins, Delaines, 4c. COOPER & CONARD. not NINTH and MARKET streets. DRESS GOODS. Reps, Merinocs, Poplins, Delaines, 4c. COOPER & CONARD. not NINTH and MARKET Streets. GROCERIES. MACKEREL, HERBING, SHAD, SALMON, &c3.000 bbls Mess Nos. 1, 2, and 3 LACKEBREL, large, medium, and anall, in assorted exerges of choice, lato-caught, fat fish. 6,000 bolts. New Hallfax, Eastport, and Labredor Her- Ings. GROUERIES. MACKEREL, HERBING, SHAD, SALMON, &c3.000 bbls Mess Nos. 1, 2, and 3 LACKEBREL, large, medium, and anall, in assorted exerges of choice qualities. GOODER & CONARD. GOODER & CONARD. GOODER & CONARD. GOODER & CONARD. GOODER & CONARD. MINTH and MARKET Streets. MACKEREL, HERBING, SHAD, SALMON, &c3.000 bbls Mess Nos	delphia, we know one Amphytrion at least- a man of letters and of wealth-who seems to have an intuitive knowledge of the art of adapting his wine to his viands, and both to the season. This man ought to have lived in France, where his fine judgment and correct taste, (no pun meant here,) would have an ample field. Had he flourished in the time of Louis XIV., we believe that he would have gone into mourning for the untimely self-martyrdom of Vatel ! The carte at the Rocher de Cancale, which we described in a former article, exhibits a greater variety of wines than does that at the Grand Vatel. For instance, at the Rocher, you may choose out of thirty-seven red, thir- ty-one white, and twelve foreign wines. At the Grand Vatel only fifty different kinds of wine may he had. Out of these, believe us, a reasonable man may make a choice which would satisfy even the severe taste of an Api- cius or Luculus-indeed, more than satisfy it, for the Romans, with all their wealth, had few wines, and apparently very little discrimi- nation in using them. At the supper of Glau- cus, (in "the Last Days of Pompaii,") the drinks were diluted wine sparingly mixed with honey, fifty-year old Chian cooled with snow, and Lesbian favored with rosin; and at the famous feast of Diomed, though the cusine embraced "all the delicacies of the season," the guests were actually put off with wine-and-water. Yet it is the custom, ereated by ignorance, to talk of the luxurious living of the Romans. Unfortunate and benighted, though victorious race, not one mother's son of them ever tasted that modern Nepenthe a tumbler of whisky-punch. For the matter of that, it is almost unknown to French ap- petite itself. [Before these articles are ended, we shall tell our renders how to make it : private instruction on liberal terms, if the company be as good as the whisky must be. For our own part, we use Andy Craig's mix- ture of three famous Scottish distillations.] In the heart of Burgundy reposes the pros-	Kossuth, extelling the Secession movement, and hoping that the European lovers of freedom will extend their sympathies to the South. An elegant fly was presented by the Louisville ladies to Gen. Korrison yesterday, at Camp Bon Spaulding. Mr. lingle, the aditor of the Lafayotte Courier, made the presentation speech on behalf of the ladies. An Arrval from Nashville. The Louisville ournal of the 9th instant says : Ar. A. B. Barker the well-known railroad agent, arrived from Nahville, Tennessee, last evening, having left that plee on Saturday, the 23d instant. It will be remembered that Gow. Harrie, of Ten- nessee, made a Aquisition a few months ago for thirty thousand mp and additional arms. The call met with no response whatever, and the authorities were compelled a draft in order to fill the re- pressive. The york of drafting commonced in Nashville the day full separture. He estimates thinumber of rebel troops between Nashville and Boving Green at twenty-eight thou- send. He assures that they are miserably fed and badly clothed and that there is a great defi- ciency in the matte of arms. Many of them, too, are ill, and he thiks there are fully three thou- sand five hundred ick soldiers in Nashville alone. No attention is givn to the payment of the troops, and the soldiers hye been so accustomed to that sort of neglect, thi they do not expect to receive remuneration for heir services, being but too glad if they can obtain afficient subsistence to keep their soule and bodies tethere. Mr. Barker washmilier with many of the boys who left this cittand joined the rebel army, and relates some aming episodes in their histories down there. He sys that Blanton Duncan has fallen hed disgraveren there, having given up the pursuit after milary fame and adopted gambling as a profession. AFFAIRS 11 THE SOUTHWEST. The following itas are gleaned from full files of New Orleans pape; to the 25th contains the following "talk on 'change:' Saturday was deteed to the war elements, and though the stroets i general were cound	As colonel, could not be present to accompany his number wife in performing this work of loyalty and humanity. Anomalous Position of Missouri. The admission of Missouri into the Southern Con- fideracy, so far as the acts of the rebels can accom- plich it, will lead to several complications. Here- tofore General Price has levied war on the United States exclusively in the name of the State of Missouri, and his sympathizers have claimed that they were still citizens of the Union. But now the aspect of affairs is changed, and Missouri presents the anomalous picture of a State under four different governing powers, being governed according to the occupation of the military authorities, by Jeff Davis and Claib Jackson, whare the upperhand. A Rebel View of the Campaign in Mis- gouer, and by President Lincoln and Governor Gamble, where the Unionits have the upperhand. A Rebel View of the Campaign in Mis- souri. The Memphis Accalanche of December 4 publishes the following article in regard to the campaign in Missouri. Our readers will readily detect, and cor- reat for thamsalwas. Its humerous erroneous state- ments: The war in Missouri has taken a sudden and ex- traordinary turn. But a few days ago General Price's army was retreating, as if it intended to evacuate the State, the greater portion of which was in the military occupation of the Federals, and Fremont's army was retreating on, as if in hot pur- suit of Price. It was loudly vaunted by the Lin- coln forces that the Federal anny was asserty seeking battle with the Missourians. It looked very much, indeed, as if Missouri was to be given up for the time to the undisputed control of the Federal army, Gen. Price holty pursuing the Tea- tonic general. The reason assigned for this sudden ret, ordered a retreat to St. Louis-leaving Sigel, with a portion of his forces, to cover the rear, he being the greatest general in a retreat in the Whole Federal army, Gen. Price holty pursuing the Tea- tonic general. The reason assigned for this sudden rise of the site were concen	and are now convinced of the rashness and folly of their course, and are anxious to return to their homes. He says that so far as he has observed, the rebels are well clothed and fed, and are anxious for a fight. He has frequently heard the wish express- ed that the war was ended, though most of them are led to beliave that the Southern cause is a righteous one, and they would scarcely consent to terms of peace which did not include the recogni- tion of the Southern Confederacy. THE MASON AND SLIDELL AFFAIR. REPORT OF CAPTAIN WILKES. WHY HE DID NOT SEIZE THE TRENT. HIS ORDERS TO LIEUTENANT FAIRFAX. Capt. Wilkes' Letter to the Secretary of the Navy on the Arrest of Mason and Sindell. The following is the interesting roport of Capt. Wilkes, assigning his reasons for the arrest of Messrs. Mason and Slidell: U. S. STEAMER SAN JACINTO, } SIN : In my despatch by Commander Taylor I confined myself to the reports of the movements of this ship and the facts connected with the capturg of Messrs. Mason, Slidell, Eustis, and Macfarland, as I intended to write you particularly relative to the reasons which induced my action in making these prisoners. When I heard at Clenfuegos, on the south side of Guba, of these commissioners having landed on the Island of Guba, and that they were at Havana, and would depart in the English steamer of the 7th of November, I determined to intercept them, and carofully examined all the authorities on interna- tional law to which I had access, viz. : Kent, Wheaton, Vattel, besides various decisions of Sir Yum. Scott, and other judges of the Admiralty Court of Great Britain, which bore upon the rights of neutrals and their reaponsibilities. The Governments of Great Britain, France, and Spain, having issued proclamations that the Con- federate States were viewed, considered, and treat- ed as beligerents, and knowing that the ports of Great Britain, France, Spain, and Holland, in the West Indies, were open to their vessels, and that they were admitted to all the courtesies and	march westwardly with a large force, for the dou- ble purpose of making a reconnoissance and to se- cure forage. Accordingly, at an early hour on Friday last, the Second brigade set out under com- mand of General George F. Meade, of your city, accompanied by Captain Samuel Ringwalt, quar- termaster of the brigade, in charge of a large num- ber of transportation wagons. Scouts were sent out in advance, and although the line of march, in many places, was on a narrow road and deep ra- vinces hemmed in by almost impenetrable forests, our troops met with no resistance, and failed to see the most remotosign of the enemy. The soldiers were in excellent condition, and eager for battle, and therefore felt somewhat disappointed. The farms in this section have generally been deserted, the males having joined the rebel army, and those remaining at home are in an almost destitute condi- tion. Many of the inhabitants are sick and unable to proture medical attendance, and are obliged to give up all the luxuries and many of the neces- saries of life on account of their inability to pass the lines of either army. The particular plantation, however, to which our expedition was directed was an exception to the general rule. It is located a mile north of the Leesburg turnpike, about three miles from Dranes- ville, and belonged to a man named Gunnell, one of the most weality, aristocratic, axd notorious Se- cessionists in Eastern Virginia. Gunnell was par- ticularly noted for his persecution of citizens claim- ing to be loyal, and was the terror of the neighbor- hood before our gallant Pennsylvania Reserves tok possession of the sacred soil of Virginia. His farm, however, has been very highly cuttivated and its surroundings indicate that he was an expa- rienced agriculturist. His mansion was left in charge of an aged sister and a few shares some two months ago, while Gunnell himself and his most valuable slaves were transferred to the robel ser- vice. The furniture was of the most costly and luxurious charactor, the cellars were st

