The New York Evening Post, of this evening, says: The general construction placed on the audien return of Lieutenant General Scott in Wall street, is in the direction of peaceable negotiation on the Trent affair. Some private letters from well-mivised source in Wash-Some private letters from well-advised source, in Washington this merning represent that certain interviews between Lord Lyons and Mr. Seward, immediately after the affair, and their respective letters to London at that time, based on the disavowal of the knowledge of our Government that such a capture was to take place, and of all purpose to insult the British flag, have delayed the presentation of the peremptory demand of the English Government which came out a few days since by the Europa. Further advices from London will therefore probably be awaited. Meanwhile, we are told through the Arago's news, that the inference had already been crown in London that the affair might not have been an intentional insult, and the funds rose in percent, on the arrival of the Niegara. 2 New York Stock Exchange-Dec. 21. CITY ITEMS "THANKSGIVING IN WAR."-This is the title a sermon preached by the Rev. Henry A. Boardman D. D., on Thanksgiving Day, which we have received in pamphlet form. Its distinguished author says that, under existing national circumstances, if the question of in-stituting a Day of Thanksgiving were now first raised, miliation might be more appropriate. But to omit such an annual service, after it has made for itself a fixed place in our calendar, he held, would be a repreach alike to our able and conservative living divines, and what he says upon any question is, therefore, looked for with interest by the public. Among the points presented in this admirable discourse, as special grounds of national thanksgiving, the following are enumerated and respectively considered: "That in respect to our most valued rights and privileges, the war has not molested us;" "that so Constitution, even in the face of the civil war;" another he finds "in the stimulus this war has given to the huhead, he says: "It puts our young men upon a training which will now ish their manly virtues. It inculcates, a no moralist could, lessons of economy, of moderation, o thy and benevolence." Another ground for thanksgiving shown our cause." For reasons which he sets forth, he believes firmly "that this contest will result in re-HENRY WARD BEECHER'S SALUTATORY AS Editor-in-Chief of "The Independent."-From the current number of The Independent, we learn (what has already been stated, in part, in our notice of Mr. Beechthat paper has, within the present week, been assumed and purposes of the paper will remain unchanged: that great cardinal doctrines of religion that are substanzially held in common by the Congregationa Orthodox Churches of New England, and by the Preshyterian Churches of our whole land;" that it will be devoted to has promotion of vital godliness rather than sectorianism, and that he will assume the liberty of meddling with svery question which agitates the civil or Christian community according to his best discretion. Mr. Boscher expresses his estimate of the editorial profession by 88ying that it has, with the progress of popular intelligence, assumed an importance second to no other, and that he who knows the scope and power of the pross need desire to higher office than the editorial.

BEAUTIFUL GOODS FOR PRESENTS .- Messrs. Witters & Co., No. 35 North Eighth street, corner of libert, offer a very beautiful assortment of Fanc Goods, suitable for presents. There are many things of taste and utility in their display which strike us as common-sense articles for presents. Their prices, moreover, are lower than the same goods can be bought at

PURE LIQUORS FOR MEDICINAL PURPOSES Mr. C. H. Mattson, dealer in fine groceries, Arch and Tenth streets, has now on hand a superior article of fine old Brandy for medicinal purposes; also, the finest quality of Madeira, of the celebrated "Bual" brand, highly recommended by physicians. The best Groceries, in every conceivable variety, can always be obtained at Mr. Mattson's. His preparations for the holidays are on the largest scale. CHOICE GRAPES .- Among the delicacies to and Arch streets, are some choice Almeria Grapes, which he has just imported. The bunches are large and the fruit luscious, and he sells them at the low price of 38 cents per pound. We know of no more acceptable present, to the taste, than this delicious fruit. A SHORT WAR .- General McClellan, the Commander-in-Chief of the Union forces, is said to have repeated, recently, a former declaration, "that the war would be short, though it probably might be desperate, and that he saw the way clearly through to success in conjutering the rebellion." In the meantime, the wellknown Fashioner and Clothier, Granville Stokes, 609 Chestnut street, will continue to sell, at war prices, his extensive stock of well-made winter garments, which are superior in fit, fabric, and fashion to those manufactured elsewhere. THE FESTIVE SEASON .- " Christmas comes but once a year," and he deserves to be treated with proper respect when he does come. Everybody should have a turkey, plum-pudding, and mince-pie on the festive occasion, and every gentleman and youth in the land should don a full suit from the Brown Stor Clothing Hall of Rockhill & Wilson, Nos. 603 and 605 Chestnut street, above Sixth, in honor of the day. While civilians are thus attired, we would like to see every soldier in the service of the Union clad in a substantial and comfortable uniform from the same popular THE TRENT AFFAIR !- "The plot thickens." Now it is rumored " Mason and Slidell must be given up, with an apology, or fight." This, if true, as the prizefighters would say, "means mischief." Now, again, we hear that the letter of the old hero, Scott, will much appeace the British lion, and, on second thought, he will "fear to make a mess of it." Then, again, we hear that Seward has made it all right." We would like to know what right is, even if Seward has made it so. We think Wilkes made it "all right," Everything, in fact, is a exciting, now-a-days, in the papers, that it is feared that the business advertisements of such establishments as Charles Stokes' "One-Price" Clothing Store, under the Continental," may be overlooked. FOR CHRISTMAS.-Silver-Plated Tea-sets $20 to $75. Silver-Plated Castors-$4 to $25.
