THE LATE STORM.—The storm which pro valled on Friday night and during the better (or worse) portion of Saturday, although drearier and distinalier than any other storm that has visited 1967, did leas in the way of damage than reason-able people had expected. Between ten and eleven o'clock on Friday night, a gale struck the ship Wyoming, lying at Walnat-street wharf, with considerable violence; where-upon her stern cable parted, and ahe sweng around with suspicious intentions. Fortunstely, however, one of her fenders striking the pier below pre-vented any more serious collision. A new cable was got out, and the vessel, being secured tem-porarily, was hauled back to her first position after darbreak. In the Twenty-fourth ward the wind was equally demonstrative. A number of signs, some of them rather heavy, were torn from their fastenings, and earried around promisonouly for a while. In the Delaware, the tide rose to an unwonted height, as though ewelling with indignation at the

In the Delaware, the tide rose to an unwonted height, as though swelling with indignation at the furn of muncicpal affairs, but nothing serious came of it. In the Schuylkill, the water rose to within a foot of the wharf-tops; more than this, it bure on its turgit bosom countless cates of ice, just of con-venient size for handling. So, at several points on the was ide of the river, foc-slides wore let down into the water, and crowds of men, all mufiled up, gathered the floating cakes with hooke, gleaning a rich harvest. We saw several cart-hoads of the "redeemed" ice piled up on several of the wharves below the Wire Bridge.

REPETITION OF A VAN GOTT SWINDLE.—A day or two since, a man dressed in the garb of a soldier called at the residence of Mr. Howarth, in the castern part of the First ward, some distance below the navy yard, and stated that a son of his 'Mr. H.) belonging to Baxter's Fire Zouaves was fulled in battle with fifteen others; and their bodies 'would be at the Baltimore depot that night or next 'morning. The story gained currency, and many persons were thrown into the most intense excite-ument and sorrow. The fellow who pat this report into circulation said that he was deputed to see that the bodies of his slain comrades were properly delivered to the relatives. All he had to pay was only two dollars, as freight on each body. This sum was handed to him by Mr. Howarth, and the swindler agreed to hime thr. H. at the depot, to 'hand the body over to him. He has not since been steen.

ACCIDENTAL FIRE.—On Saturday morning, shout 5 o'clock, a fire occurred in the building at No. 403 north Front street, owned by Mr Sanuel Stevenson, and occupied as a tenant house by several families. The first floor on the front was occupied as a shop by an old woman, named Mary Ann Reed. The finnes originated in this apart-ment, from a spart from a condle in the hands of a little grandson of Mrs. Reed, who had been sent by her into the shop to obtain some medicine. The flow was not aware he had set fire to the place, and the flames were not discovered until about an hour afterwards, by the family who occupied the second story. This family wore nearly suffocated by the dense smoke, and made a narrow escape with their lives. The shop, with all its contents, was entirely destroyed. Mrs. Reed's loss is about $50, upon which there is no insurance. ACCIDENTAL FIRE .- On Saturday morning,

DEATH OF A PROMISING YOUNG MAN .- On DEATH OF A PROMISING YOUNG MAN. --On Friday evening, Henry Clay West, aged twonly years, son of George E. West, residing at the oor-ner of Third and Christian streets, died suddenly. He was walking across the street, near Third and Carpeter, when he felt something arise in his throat. There was no pain accompanying it. He coughed up a large quantity of blood. Several persons went to his assistance, and he died shortly after reaching his home. He was an estimable young man, of much promise. Nearly all Mr. West's children have died just about the time of their maturity. In this, his last sudden bereave-ment, he has the sympathy of a wide-spread circle of friends. From - There is a fair demand for the better grades. Salting the Streets. EDITOR OF PRESS : As the question in reference to salting the streets is the subject of much discussion, I would respectfully suggest whether much of the complaint in regard to it might not be remedied by the rails at each of the orossings, and keep-ing them open, so as to have a free passage for the slueb, without so much inconvenience to foot pas sengers. It does not seem to me that it would be asking too much to require this of them, and that they should have some one go over their respective roads, whose duty it should be to keep the crossings free, either in this or some other manner.

Yours respectfully, Philada, Jan. 25, 1862. A SUBSCRIBER. FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

AN ALLEOED HOTEL THIEY.—Before Alder-man Beitler, on Saturday, a young man, named Charles Thompson, was charged with the larcony of two valuable coats from the La Pierre House. The acoused is believed to have been engaged in opei fating at several hotels, where he has been hoarding for a few days. His baggage was found at his last bearding-house, and searched. No clothing was found; but numerous pairs of gloves and stockings, and about a dozen pairs of spectacles, fell into the hands of the police. Thompson was committed, in default of $1,800 bail, for a further hearing to-mor-row afternoon, at 2 o'clock. He is a man of pre-possessing appearance, and very gentlemanly in h's manners. He represent himself as a naval officer, and wears a vest with brase buttons.
